| Trans. Chlote, those locks of raren hair. Chlote af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christmas, A Recruit at. Davis. Christmas is here. Christmas is here. Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.  Christmas is here.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colanel Garter of Cortersville. Smith. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Columbus' Voyage to America. Robertson. 5.2003. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2701. Come, worldy Greek. 6.2701. Come, worldy Greek. 6.2701.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Trans. Chiose, those locks of raven hair. Chiose, those locks of raven hair. Chiose of Friends. Chiose of Friends. Chiose of Friends. Chiose of Friends. Chi-stan Idea of Gad, The. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Christian Year, The. Christian Fren, The. Christian's Escape. Christians, A Recruit at. Christian's Farrar. Christ, The Intention of. Christian's Farrar. Christ, The Intention of. Christian's Farrar.  Christ, The Intention of. Christian's Farrar.  11. 5261. 4. 1765. 4. 1765. 4. 1765. 4. 1765. 4. 1765. 5. 2103. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 17 | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19. 9111. Colonel Carter of Cortersville. Smith. 19. 9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13. 8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11. 4902. Columbus' Voyage to America. Robertson. 5. Come control Come down, O daughter. 3. 1080. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3. 1105. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, two thy Greek. 11. 5117. Come, two thy Greek. 15. Charles the Ealth and Louis XI.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Trans. Chiose, those locks of raven hair. Chiose, those locks of raven hair. Chiose of Friends. Chiose of Friends. Chiose of Friends. Chiose of Friends. Chi-stan Idea of Gad, The. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Christian Year, The. Christian Fren, The. Christian's Escape. Christians, A Recruit at. Christian's Farrar. Christ, The Intention of. Christian's Farrar. Christ, The Intention of. Christian's Farrar.  Christ, The Intention of. Christian's Farrar.  11. 5261. 4. 1765. 4. 1765. 4. 1765. 4. 1765. 4. 1765. 5. 2103. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 1765. 6. 17 | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19. 9111. Colonel Carter of Cortersville. Smith. 19. 9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13. 8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11. 4902. Columbus' Voyage to America. Robertson. 5. Come control Come down, O daughter. 3. 1080. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3. 1105. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, two thy Greek. 11. 5117. Come, two thy Greek. 15. Charles the Ealth and Louis XI.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Trans. Chloe, those locks of raren hair. Chloe af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Escape. Christian's Escape. Said Ray                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.8604. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11.4902. Columbus' Voyage to America. Robertson. 5.2003. Come down, O daughter. 5.2003. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, listen to another song. 6.2701. Come, tro with me and be my lore. 6.2701. Come, worlhy Greek. 6.2701. Coming Itoma. Runeberg. 4.1698. Common Lot. The. 3,1239.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Trans. Chloe, those locks of raren hair. Chloe af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Escape. Christian's Escape. Said Ray                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.8604. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11.4902. Columbus' Voyage to America. Robertson. 5.2003. Come down, O daughter. 5.2003. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, listen to another song. 6.2701. Come, tro with me and be my lore. 6.2701. Come, worlhy Greek. 6.2701. Coming Itoma. Runeberg. 4.1698. Common Lot. The. 3,1239.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Trans. Chloe, those locks of raren hair. Chloe af Friends. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. Chars of Angels. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Christian Sear, The. Keble. Christian Sear, The. Christian Sear, The. Christian Sear, The. Christian Sear, The. Christian Sear, The Charbe. Christ, The Imitation of. Christ, The Imitation of. Christ, The fife of. Christ, The fif | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Columbus' Voyage to America. Robertson. 5.2003. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7963. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, liten to another song. 11.5117. Come, liten to another song. 6.2701. Come, worldy Greek. 6.2701. Coming Houta. Runeberg. 11.8318. Common Lot, The. 3.1239. Companions of John Henry Newman.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Trans. Chloe, those locks of raren hair. Chloe af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Fiscape. Rae. Christ, The funtation of. A Kempis. Christ, The fifte of. Farrar.  20. 927. 21. 105. 22. 546. 4. 1765. 22. 546. 4. 1765. 23. 106. 24. 1765. 24. 1765. 25. 106. 26. 1765. 27. 3224. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Come and Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7963. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1005. Come, liten to another song. 11.5117. Come, worldy Greek. 6.2701. Coming Houta. Runeberg. 11.5318. Common Lot, The. 3.1239. Common Sense. Palne. 31.239. Companions of John Henry Newman. Nowman. Nowman. 11.5154.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Trans. Chloe, those locks of raren hair. Chloe af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Fiscape. Rae. Christ, The funtation of. A Kempis. Christ, The fifte of. Farrar.  20. 927. 21. 105. 22. 546. 4. 1765. 22. 546. 4. 1765. 23. 106. 24. 1765. 24. 1765. 25. 106. 26. 1765. 27. 3224. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Come and Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7963. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1005. Come, liten to another song. 11.5117. Come, worldy Greek. 6.2701. Coming Houta. Runeberg. 11.5318. Common Lot, The. 3.1239. Common Sense. Palne. 31.239. Companions of John Henry Newman. Nowman. Nowman. 11.5154.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Trans. Chloe, those locks of raren hair. Chloe af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Fiscape. Rae. Christ, The funtation of. A Kempis. Christ, The fifte of. Farrar.  20. 927. 21. 105. 22. 546. 4. 1765. 22. 546. 4. 1765. 23. 106. 24. 1765. 24. 1765. 25. 106. 26. 1765. 27. 3224. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. 927. 20. | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8604. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel's Come Colonel |
| Trans. Chiose, those locks of raven hair. Chloce at Friends. Pilpay. CHOIMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Tear, The. Keble. Christian Tear, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christ, The limitation of. A Kempis. Christ, The limitation of. A Kempis. Christ, The life of. Farrar. Christ, who by his Passion delivered us fram Heil, Of. Chronolcle. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pilmy's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Columbus' Voyage to America. Robertson. 5.2003. Come control of Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, live with me and be my love. 6.2901. Come, Live with me and be my love. 6.2901. Come, Live with me and be my love. 6.2701. Come, too thy Greek. COMINES, PHILIPPE DE. Charles the Bold and Louis XI. 4. 1898. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11. 5318. Common Sense. Palne. 11. 4919. Companions of John Henry Newman. 12. 5154. Company, The White. Dayle. 4. 1814. Company, The White. Dayle. 4. 1814. Compensation. Emersan. 15. 7105. Commensation. Leonidas. 2.545.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Trans. Chiose, those locks of raven hair. Chloce at Friends. Pilpay. CHOIMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Tear, The. Keble. Christian Tear, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christ, The limitation of. A Kempis. Christ, The limitation of. A Kempis. Christ, The life of. Farrar. Christ, who by his Passion delivered us fram Heil, Of. Chronolcle. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pilmy's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Columbus' Voyage to America. Robertson. 5. Come control of Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, liten to another song. 11.5117. Come, two thy Greek. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, two thy Greek. 6.2701. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11.5318. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11.5318. Company Homa. 11.514. Company, The White. Dayle. 4.1514. Company, The White. Dayle. 4.1514. Compensation. Emersan. 15.7105. Compensation. Emersan. 15.7105. Compensation. Lecoldas. 2.545. Completat Angler, The. Walton. 6.2590. Compliments to the Fair Sex. 2.545.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Trans. Chloe, those locks of raren hair. Chloe af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Yes. Plany. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christian's Fasape. Rae. Christ, The Imitation of. A Keinpis. Christ, The Iffe of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, Who by his Passion delivered us fram Hell, Of. Chronole. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Vesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CIOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3. 1105. Come, lira with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, lira with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, lira with me and be my lore. 6. 2701. Come, worldy Greek. 6. 2701. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11. 5318. Common Lot, The. 3. 1239. Common Lot, The. 3. 1239. Common Sense. Palne. 11. 4919. Companions of John Henry Newman. 11. 5154. Company, The White. Dayle. 4. 1514. Compensation. Emersan. 15. 7105. Compleat Angler, The. Walton. 2. 545. Compleat Angler, The. Walton. 2. 545. Componenses of the Constitutian.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Trans. Chiese those locks of raren hair. Chloce at Friends. Pilpay. CHOIMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Fee, Keble. Christian's Passion Christ. Christian's Passion delivered us fram Hell, Of. Chronlele. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Vesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CIOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Consultacy. Sees on Catiline's Consultacy.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.8664. Colonial America. Bancroft. 11. 4902. Colonial America. Bancroft. 11. 4902. Colonial America. Bancroft. 11. 4902. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come, liter to another song. 11. 5117. Come, torothy Greek. 6. 2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6. 2701. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11. 5318. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11. 5318. Common Sense. Palne. 11. 4919. Company, The White. Dayle. 4. 1514. Company, The White. Dayle. 4. 1514. Compensation. Emersan. 15. 7105. Compensation. Emersan. 15. 7105. Compensation. Emersan. 15. 7105. Compensation. Emersan. 15. 515. Compensation. Em |
| Trans. Chiese those locks of raren hair. Chloce at Friends. Pilpay. CHOIMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Fee, Keble. Christian's Passion Christ. Christian's Passion delivered us fram Hell, Of. Chronlele. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Vesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CIOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Consultacy. Sees on Catiline's Consultacy.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11.4902. Come down, O daughter. 2003. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3. 1105. Come, lira with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, lira with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, lira with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, lira with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, lira with me nead be my lore. 6. 2901. Come toot thy Greek. Come toot thy Greek. Come toot thy Greek. Come toot thy Greek. Come toot the Garden. 11. 5117. Come toot the Greek. 11. 4919. Companions of John Henry Newman. 11. 5154. Companions of John Henry Newman. 11. 5154. Company, The White. Dayle. 4. 1514. Compensation. Emersan. 15. 7105. Compleat Angler, The. Walton. 6. 2590. Compleat Angler, The. Walton. 6. 2590. Compleat Compositions of the Constitution. Webster. 2005.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Trans. Chiose, those locks of raven hair. Chloce at Friends. Pilpay. CHOIMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christ, The Imitation of. A Kempis. Christ, The Imitation of. A Kempis. Christ, The Ideo of. Farrar. Christ, who by his Passion delivered us fram Hell. Of. Chronolcle. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pilmy's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Scorates. CIOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy, Cid, The Poem of my. Cid, The, Cornelle.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.266. Colonial America. Bancroft. 11. 4902. Colonial America. Bancroft. 11. 4902. Colonial America. Bancroft. 3. 1030. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come, lice with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, lice with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, torchly Greek. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11. 5117. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11. 5318. Common Lot, The. 3. 1239. Common Sense. Palne. 11. 4919. Company, The White. Dayle. 4. 1514. Compensation. Emersan. 15. 7105. Complemensation. Emersan. 15. 7105. Complements to the Fair Sex. 2. 545. Complements to the Fair Sex. 19. 8831. Webster. 19. 8831. Webster. 11. 5263.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of rareh hair. Chlose af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Yondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The Friends. Christ, The Initation of. A Keinpis. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. COERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Poem of my.  | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me land be my lore. 6.2901. Come state last of the ages. 15.517. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me land be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come state last of the ages. 11.518. Complements to the Falle. 11.518. Complements to the Falle. 15.105. Complements to the Falle Sex. 2.545. Complements to the Falle Sex. 2.545. Complements to the Falle Sex. 19.8831. Complements in War Time. Jennings, Trans. Concellation with America. Burke. 15.6919.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of rareh hair. Chlose af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Yondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The Friends. Christ, The Initation of. A Keinpis. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. COERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Poem of my.  | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me land be my lore. 6.2901. Come state last of the ages. 15.517. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me land be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come state last of the ages. 11.518. Complements to the Falle. 11.518. Complements to the Falle. 15.105. Complements to the Falle Sex. 2.545. Complements to the Falle Sex. 2.545. Complements to the Falle Sex. 19.8831. Complements in War Time. Jennings, Trans. Concellation with America. Burke. 15.6919.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of rareh hair. Chlose af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Yondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The Friends. Christ, The Initation of. A Keinpis. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. COERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Poem of my.  | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel and Bancroft. 11.4902. Come and Come into the garden, Mand. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Mand. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, to distinct me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, to distinct me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, to distinct me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, to distinct me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, to distinct me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, to distinct me and be  |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of rareh hair. Chlose af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Yondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The Friends. Christ, The Initation of. A Keinpis. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. COERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Poem of my.  | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11.4902. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, live with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tout My Greek. 4.1691. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11.5318. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11.5318. Components of John Henry Newman. 14.919. Company, The White. Dayle. 4.1614. Company, The White. Dayle. 4.1614. Components to the Fair Sex. 2.545. Complements to the Fair Sex. 2.545. Complements to the Fair Sex. 19.8831. Complements to |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of raren hair. Chloce af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Yondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christ, The function of. A Keinpis. Christ, The fifte of. Farrar. Christ, The fifte of. Farrar. Christ, Who by his Passion delivered us fram Hell, Of. Chronole. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pilny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Vesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CIOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy, Cid, The Poem of my. Cid, The Cornelle. Charen Poet and Portraits from the History of the Recellion and Civil Wars in England.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.9246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13. 8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13. 8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 14. 4092. Colonel Col |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of raven hair. Chlose at Friends. Pilpay. Chlose of Friends. Pilpay. CHOIMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian's Escape. Rae. Christ, The Imitation of. A Kempis. Christ, The fifte of. Farrar. Christ, who by his Passion delivered us fram Hell. Of. Chronolce. Froiseart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pilmy's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Scorates. CIOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Cornelle. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Cornelle. Charendon, LORD. Scenes and Portraits from the History of the Rchellion and Civil Wars in Eng- land. CLARENDON, LORD. Scenes and CLARETIE. JULES. How Brichan.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 18.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.266. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel and the Colonel and Colonel and Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, lico with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Common Lot, The. 3.1339. Common Lot, The. 3.1339. Common Sense. Palne. 11.4919. Common Sense. Palne. 11.4919. Common Sense. Palne. 11.514. Complat Angler, The. Walton. 6.2500. Complatants to the Fair Sex. 2.545. Complements and the my Time. Jennings. Trans. Combilation with America. Barke. 15.6919. and Cregan's Legacy. Lever. 11.5119. onders of Life, The. 71.501. ONE, HELEN GRAY. Evening 19.911. onfersion found in a Prison in the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of raren hair. Chlose of Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Christian Year, The Great Christ, The life of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Chronelde. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Vesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Foom of my. Cid, The Foom of my. Cid, The Cornelle. Charendon, LORD. Scenes and Portraits from the History of the Rehellion and Civil Wars in Eng- land. CLARETIE, JULES, How Brichan- tean largest sayed the Emperor.  18, 8551.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel Carter of Cortersville. Smith. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Colonel Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 11.4902. Come into the garden, Mand. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Mand. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Mand. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2001. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. 6.2001. Come, tirc with me and be my lore. |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of raren hair. Chlose of Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Christian Year, The Great Christ, The life of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Christ, The fife of. Farrar. Chronelde. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Vesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Foom of my. Cid, The Foom of my. Cid, The Cornelle. Charendon, LORD. Scenes and Portraits from the History of the Rehellion and Civil Wars in Eng- land. CLARETIE, JULES, How Brichan- tean largest sayed the Emperor.  18, 8551.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Carter of Cartersville. Smith. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 18.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.8664. Colanial America. Bancroft. 11.4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 19.8664. Colonel's Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come, listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, use the last of the ages. 3.1105. Come, listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, use the me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, use the me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, use the me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, listen to another song. 11.5117. Come, use the listen sea. 11.5117. Come, use the listen sea. 11.5119. Componition of John Henry Newman. 11.514. Company, The White. Dayle. 4.1514. Componition of John Henry Newman. 11.514. Componition of John Henry Newman. 11.514. Componition of John Henry Newman. 12.545. Compleat Angler, The. Walton. 6.2900. Completant Angler, The. Walton. 6.2900. Completant St. Ceaser. 15.5105. Componition with America. Burke. 15.6919. and Cregan's Legacy. Lever. 11.5119. confession, The. Valern. 19.9191. onfession found in a Prison in the Time of Charles the Second. 7.8313.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Trans. Chloice of Friends. Pilpay. CHOIMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christ, The Imitation of. A Keinpis. Christ, The Imitation of. A Keinpis. Christ, The Iffe of. Farrar. Christ, The Iffe of. Farrar. Christ, Who by his Passion delivered us fram Hell, Of. Tram. Pliny's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Yesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Foem of my. Cid, The. Cornelle. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Cornelle. Charendon, Lord. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The. Cornelle. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The. Cornelle. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Con Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The. Cornelle. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Con Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The. Cornelle. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Con Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The. Cornelle. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The. Cornelle. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Charendon, Marcus Tullius. Con Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy.  | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11. 4902. Colonel Breretan's Aunty. 11. 4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11. 4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11. 4902. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3. 1105. Come, liten to another song. 11. 5117. Come, torith me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with Meeters. 11. 5117. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11. 5318. Complements ton the Fair Sex. 2. 545. Componises of the Constitution. 19. 8531. Complements to the Fair Sex. 2. 545. Componises of the Constitution. 19. 8531. Complements to the Fair Sex. 19. 8531. Complements to  |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of raren hair. Chlose af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Christian Year, The. Christian Year, The. Christian Year, The Gife of Farrar. Christ, The life of, Farrar. Christ, Who by his Passion delivered us fram Hell, Of. Chronlele. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pilmy's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Vesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Poem of my. Cid, The Cornelle. Charendon, LORD. Scenes and Portraits from the History of the Rehellion and Civil Wars in England. CLARENDON, LORD. Scenes and Portraits from the History of the Rehellion and Civil Wars in England. CLARETIE, JULES. How Bichanteau almost saved the Emperor. CLAREND, WILBERFORCE, Trans. A Ghazel of Halz. CLASKE, H. WILBERFORCE, Trans. A Ghazel of Halz.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 13.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brnsh. 14.902. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17.7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3.1005. Come, lire to another song. 11.5117. Come, torolly Greek. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come, Lire with me and be my lore. 6.2901. Come into the Bold and Louis XI. 4.1514. Lill 4.1514. |
| Trans. Chlose, those locks of raren hair. Chlose af Friends. Pilpay. CHOLMONDELEY, MARY. From "Sir Charles Danvers." Charns of Angels. Vondel. Christian Idea of Gad, The. Clarke. Christian Year, The. Keble. Christian Year, The. Christian Year, The. Christian Year, The. Christian Year, The Gife of Farrar. Christ, The life of, Farrar. Christ, Who by his Passion delivered us fram Hell, Of. Chronlele. Froissart. CHURCH, ALFRED, Trans. Pilmy's Descriptian of the Great Eruption of Vesuvius. Church Gate, At the. Thackersy. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHURCH, F. J., Trans. The Trial of Socrates. CHOERO, MARCUS TULLIUS. On Old Age. Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cid, The Poem of my. Cid, The Cornelle. Charendon, LORD. Scenes and Portraits from the History of the Rehellion and Civil Wars in England. CLARENDON, LORD. Scenes and Portraits from the History of the Rehellion and Civil Wars in England. CLARETIE, JULES. How Bichanteau almost saved the Emperor. CLAREND, WILBERFORCE, Trans. A Ghazel of Halz. CLASKE, H. WILBERFORCE, Trans. A Ghazel of Halz.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Colonel Breretan's Aunty. Bnnner. 19.911. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.246. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 19.8664. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11. 4902. Colonel Breretan's Aunty. 11. 4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11. 4902. Colonel's Opera Cloak, The. Brish. 11. 4902. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come into the garden, Maud. 17. 7953. Come is the last of the ages. 3. 1105. Come, liten to another song. 11. 5117. Come, torith me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with me and be my lore. 6. 2901. Come, liten with Meeters. 11. 5117. Coming Homa. Runeberg. 11. 5318. Complements ton the Fair Sex. 2. 545. Componises of the Constitution. 19. 8531. Complements to the Fair Sex. 2. 545. Componises of the Constitution. 19. 8531. Complements to the Fair Sex. 19. 8531. Complements to  |

| WAY BAGB                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Tot 5100                                                                                                                                               |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| VOL. PAGE.Confessions of an English Optum-Eater.                                                                                                                                                                | CRISPUS, CAIUS SALLUSTIUS, VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                  |
| De Quincey. 14. 6727.                                                                                                                                                                                               | The Conspiracy of Catiline. 2. 810. CROCKETT, SAMUEL RUTHER-FORD. From "The Stickit Minis-                                                             |
| Confessions of Con Cregan, The. Lever. 11. 5119.                                                                                                                                                                    | CROCKETT, SAMUEL RUTHER-                                                                                                                               |
| CONINGTON, JOHN, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                             | FORD. From "The Stickit Minis-                                                                                                                         |
| The Cyclops described by Virgil. 1. 325. Dido in Love. 1. 342.                                                                                                                                                      | ter." 18. 8414.Cræsus, The Story of. Herodotns. 2. 516.                                                                                            |
| Dido in Love. 1. 842.Consolation of Philosophy, The. Boe-                                                                                                                                                       | Cresus, The Story of. Herodotns. 2. 516.CROLY, GEORGE. The Seventh                                                                                 |
| thius. 8.1337.                                                                                                                                                                                                      | I rangue of raypt. 1. 62.                                                                                                                              |
| Conspiracy against Clinker, The. Smol-                                                                                                                                                                              | Cromwell, Oilver. Carlyie. 6. 2353.                                                                                                                    |
| lêtt 9. 8954.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Cromwell's Return from Ircland in1650, Marvell. 6. 2850.                                                                                           |
| Conspiracy against the Portuguese,The. Camoeus. 5. 2257.                                                                                                                                                        | Crossing of the Alps. The Livy. 2 791                                                                                                                  |
| Conspiracy of Catiline, The. Eallnst. 2. 810.                                                                                                                                                                       | Crossing of the Alps, The. Livy. 2. 791.Crossing the Bar. Tennyson. 16. 7596.                                                                      |
| Constitution, Compromises of the.                                                                                                                                                                                   | CROSS, MARIAN EVANS. Arlon. 2. 514. Two Lovers. 14. 6368.                                                                                              |
| Webster. 19. 8831.                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Crossing of the Alps, The. Livy. 2. 791. Crossing the Bar. Tennyson. 16, 7596, CROSS, MARIAN EVANS. Arion. 2. 514, Two Lovers. From "Pomola." 5. 2024, |
| Constitution, Incoherence of the Objections to the. Madison. 11. 4946.                                                                                                                                              | From "Romola." 5. 2024. Crowd and Company, The. Herrick. 7. 8859.                                                                                      |
| tions to the. Madison. 11. 4946. Consnelo. Sand. 11. 5222.                                                                                                                                                          | Crown, On the. Demosthenes. 2. 780.                                                                                                                    |
| Contentedness in all Estates and Acci-                                                                                                                                                                              | Crown, On the. Demosthenes. 2. 780. Crushing of Italian Freedom, The.                                                                                  |
| dents. Taylor. 7. 2334.                                                                                                                                                                                             | Eymonds. 6. 2463.                                                                                                                                      |
| Contention of Achilles and Agamem-non. Homer. 1. 193.                                                                                                                                                           | Cachallin and Ferdish at the Ford, The Fight of. 3. 1031.                                                                                              |
| Contentment. Holmes. 14. 6369.                                                                                                                                                                                      | Cnchnliin's Woolng of Eimer. 3. 1030.                                                                                                                  |
| Contentment. Sa'di. 4. 1577                                                                                                                                                                                         | I Chehniin Tha Death of X 7003                                                                                                                         |
| Convenient Parinerslip, A. Anon. 2. 544                                                                                                                                                                             | Culprit Fay, The. Drake. 15. 7047.CUMMINS, MARIA S. From "The                                                                                      |
| Conversion by the Law of Contraries.                                                                                                                                                                                | Lamplighter." 14. 6399.                                                                                                                                |
| Convict in the Marshes, The Dickons, 17, 7992.                                                                                                                                                                      | Cho of Water, The. Younge. 1. 21.                                                                                                                      |
| Boccaccio. 4, 1711.Convict in the Marshes, The. Dickens, 17, 7992.COOKE, ROSE TERRY. Ann Potter'sLesson. 19, 6972.                                                                                      | Cures for Love. Crates. 2. 549.                                                                                                                        |
| Lesson. 19. 6972.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Curing a Fever by its Canse. Margaret of Navarre. 5. 2146.                                                                                             |
| Cook's Death, Capt. Kippis. 9. 4379.COOPER, JAMES FENIMORE.Henry Wharton's Escape. 15. 6994.                                                                                                                | of Navarre. 5. 2146. Curio, An Epistle to. Akenside. 8. 3533.                                                                                          |
| Henry Wharton's Escape. 15. 6994.                                                                                                                                                                                   | CURTIS, GEORGE WILLIAM, From                                                                                                                           |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                        |
| COORNHERT, DIRK. True Liberty. 6. 2685.Copies de Manrique. Manrique. 4. 1927.                                                                                                                                   | CUPTIUS, ERNST. Influence of Greece on its People. 10. 4756.                                                                                           |
| COORNHERT, DIRK. True Liberty. C. 2635. Coplas de Manrique. Manrique. 4. 1927. COPPÉE, FRANÇOIS. Died at Sea. 18. 8433. Copperfield at Echool. Dickens. 17. 6927.                                                   | CURZON, ROBERT. The Legend of                                                                                                                          |
| Copperfield at School. Dickens. 17, 7997.                                                                                                                                                                           | King Solomon and the Hoopees. 3. 1241.                                                                                                                 |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Cyclops, The. Virgil. 1. 325. Cyclops in Love, The. Theocritus. 1. 333.                                                                                |
| CORNEILLE, PIERRE. The Cid. 7, 2005.Corelcan Vendetta, A. Mérimée. 11, 5249.Count Alarcos and the Infanta Sollsa.                                                                                           | Cypress and ity. 8. 1878.                                                                                                                              |
| Count Alarcos and the Infanta Sollsa.                                                                                                                                                                               | Cyriac Skinner, Sonnet to. Milton. C. 2882.                                                                                                            |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Cyriae this three years' day. 6. 2582. Cyril and Cecilia. Mrs. Hungerford. 17. 8096.                                                                   |
| Count of Moute Cristo, The. Dumes, 13, 6321.                                                                                                                                                                        | Cyrus, The Expedition of. Xenophon. 2. 712.                                                                                                            |
| County Ball, The. Patmore. 11. 5340.                                                                                                                                                                                | Deffeddie Me Weintele & Baro                                                                                                                           |
| Country Churchyard, Elegy in a. Gray. 9. 3941.Country Party, A. Mallock. 16. 7541.                                                                                                                              | Daffodils, To. Herrick. 7. 2359.Damon and Pythlas, The Story of.                                                                                   |
| Courage. Clough. 16, 7523.                                                                                                                                                                                          | 10 nge. 1. 141.                                                                                                                                        |
| Courtin', The. Lowell. 17. 7857. Courtship, Mr. Collins'. Ansten. 12. 5556. Cousin Pons. De Balzac. 17. 7817. COWLEY ARPHAIA                                                                                        | Damon who plied the Undertaker's                                                                                                                       |
| Courtship, Mr. Collins'. Austen. 12, 5556.Cousin Pons. De Balzac, 17, 7817.                                                                                                                                     | Trade. 2. 544. Damsel of the Laurel, The. Petrarch. 4. 1723.                                                                                           |
| CO II III I ADIIAII ANI.                                                                                                                                                                                            | DANA, B. H. A Brutal Captain. 18, 6122.DANIEL, SAMUEL. Ulysses and the                                                                             |
| A Supplication. 6.2653                                                                                                                                                                                              | DANIEL, SAMUEL. Ulyases and the                                                                                                                        |
| Poetry as a Mistress. 6. 2552. COWPER, WILLIAM.                                                                                                                                                                     | Eiren. 6. 2701. DANTE, ALIGHIERI.                                                                                                                      |
| A Review of Schools. 9, 4357.                                                                                                                                                                                       | His Pitiful Song. 4. 1700.                                                                                                                             |
| Letter to Rev. John Newton. 13, 6298.                                                                                                                                                                               | Of Beauty and Duty. 4. 1699.                                                                                                                           |
| The Diverting History of John Glinin, 10, 4423.                                                                                                                                                                     | The Inferno. 4. 1657.  Dante and Virgil in the Shades. Dante. 3. 1095.                                                                                 |
| Supposed Lines of Alexander Selkirk. 8, 2510The Diverting History of John Glipin. 10, 4423.COZZENS, FREDERICK SWART-WOUT, Living in the Country. 15, 7233.CRABBE GEORGE Strolling Players 10, 4537. | Dante beseecheth Death for Beatrice's                                                                                                                  |
| CRARRE GEORGE Stroller Planes 15, 7233.                                                                                                                                                                             | Lue. Dante. 4, 1693.                                                                                                                                   |
| The Brothers.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Dante, On a Portrait of, by Giotto. Lowell. 4.1702.                                                                                                    |
| Orangemphicock, 10 & Swallow fining                                                                                                                                                                                 | DARMESTETER, MME. The Wise                                                                                                                             |
| ing under the Eaves at. Carlyle. 16. 7501.CRAIGMYLE, ELIZABETH, Trans.                                                                                                                                          | Woman. 11, 4597.                                                                                                                                       |
| Lenore. 0 Axir)                                                                                                                                                                                                     | DARWIN, CHARLES. The Descent of Man. 13, 5931.                                                                                                         |
| CRANCH, CHRISTOPHED DEADER                                                                                                                                                                                          | DASENT, GEORGE, Trans. Tales                                                                                                                           |
| The Old Apple Woman. 19.9053.CRANE, STEPHEN. The Veteran. 19.8650.                                                                                                                                              | from the Fjeld. 16, 7921. DAUDET, ALPHONSE.                                                                                                            |
| Cranford, Gaskell. 13. 6236.                                                                                                                                                                                        | A Bookkeeper. 17. 8239.                                                                                                                                |
| ORGATORD, PRANCIS MARION.                                                                                                                                                                                           | A Midnight Party in the Marais. 17, 8248.                                                                                                              |
| CRAWFORD, JOHN M. Trans From                                                                                                                                                                                        | A Story of Algiers. 17. 8242.Tartarin of Tarascon. 20. 9511.                                                                                       |
| Colone as City                                                                                                                                                                                                      | The Monkey. 17, 8236.                                                                                                                                  |
| France Sylvestre Bonnard, The.                                                                                                                                                                                      | David Copperfield. Dickens. 17, 7997.                                                                                                                  |
| Crime, The Shadow of a. Caine. 20. 9407.                                                                                                                                                                            | DA VINCI, LEONARDO. Invention or Composition in Painting. 5, 2052.                                                                                     |
| 11.0001.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | o. composition in I sinting. 0, 2002.                                                                                                                  |

| DAVIS, REBECCA HARDING. Ba.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Demoralization after Waterloo, Beyle, 20, 9386                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ÷  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| lacchi Brothers. 20, 9583                                                                                                                                                                                                         | . [11631U34116.NES. Off the Grown. 9 780                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | •  |
| DAVIS, RICHARD HARDING, A                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Departure for Byria, The. De Laborde 19 1990                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | ١. |
| Recruit at Christmas. 20, 9441                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Departure from France, Mary of Scota.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |    |
| Davit Lunan's Political Reminiscences. 12. 8540                                                                                                                                                                                   | De Brantôme 5 2219. Depending upon Others. Hall 12. 5550.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |    |
| Dawn, Hymn to the. Monler-Williams, 1. 15.                                                                                                                                                                                        | DE QUINCEY, THOMAS, Confessions                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | •  |
| Day of wrath, behold that day. 4. 1002                                                                                                                                                                                            | of an Opium-Eater 14, 6727.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |    |
| Day of wrath! the day that endeth. 4.1611                                                                                                                                                                                         | Description of the Great Francisco 13, 5931.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | ٠  |
| Days of Bruce, The. Aguiler. 11, 6319. D'AZEGLIO, MASSIMO TAPA- BELLII. Recollections. 20, 9302. Deacon's Masterphyse, The. Holmes. 24, 9302.                                                                                     | Vesuvius. Pliny the Younger. 3, 1039.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |    |
| EELLI. Recollections. 20, 9505                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Desert, After In the. Pringle. 8 3545.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |    |
| Descon's Marterplece, The. Holmes. 20, 2302.                                                                                                                                                                                      | I Desert. A Passion in the. Da Raizae. 19 here                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |    |
| Deaf Housekeeper, On a. 2. 547.                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |    |
| Dear and Only Love, My. Graham. 8. 3777.                                                                                                                                                                                          | Destruction of Pompell, The Lytton, 3 1044,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | •  |
| Desiribed, The. 11000. 11, 8954.                                                                                                                                                                                                  | I Desiruction of Sennacherib, The Byron 18, 8311                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |    |
| Death, Hymn to. Monier-Williams. 1. 16. Death of a Son, The. From the Ra-                                                                                                                                                         | Destruction of the Athenians at Syra-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |    |
| Inavana. 1. 117.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | cnse, The. Thueydiles. 2. 698.Detective Police, The. Dickens. 14. 6561.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | •  |
| Death of Barnler. De Goncourt, 18, 8724.                                                                                                                                                                                          | Devil and his Works. The. Luther. 5. 2319.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |    |
| Death of Captain Cook, Kippis. 9, 4859.                                                                                                                                                                                           | Devil's Decoy; or, The Red Fishermen.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |    |
| Death of Cuchullin, The. 8. 1033.Death of Dora, The. Dickens. 17. 8003.                                                                                                                                                       | Pried, 16. 7487. Devil's Drive, The. Byron. 18. 5869.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | •  |
| Death of King Lear, The. Shakespeare. 6, 2572.                                                                                                                                                                                    | Dialogue from Plate, A. Dobson. 2, 697.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |    |
| Death of Nelson, The. Mahan. 10, 4742.                                                                                                                                                                                            | Devil's Drive, The. Byron. 13, 5869. Dialogue of the Dead, A. Barbauld. 2, 697. Dialogue of the Dead, A. Barbauld. 1, 189.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |    |
| Death of Nelson, The. Bouthey. 14, 6665. Death of Radzivill, The. Bienklewicz. 8, 5683.                                                                                                                                           | Dialogue to the Memory of Mr. Alexan-der Pope, A. Dobson. 8. 8469.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |    |
| Death of Ready and Rescue of the Sea-                                                                                                                                                                                             | Diary. Lyelyn. 7, 3351.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |    |
| Death of Ready and Reseuc of the Sea-graves. Marryal. 12, 5788.Death of Blenzi, The. Lytton. 4, 1725.                                                                                                                     | Dirty. 1 cpys. 1. 5524.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |    |
| Death of Rienzi, The. Lytton. 4, 1725. Death of the Children of Usnsch, Tho. 3, 1017.                                                                                                                                             | Diary. Wilhelmine. 10, 4405.   Diary. D'Arblay. 10, 4899.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |    |
| Death, of thee do I make my moon. 5, 2158.                                                                                                                                                                                        | I DIBDIN, CHARLES.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |    |
| Death of the Flowers, The. Bryant. 15. 6993.                                                                                                                                                                                      | Grioving's a Folly. 10. 4528.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |    |
| Death of the Prince Imperial, The.                                                                                                                                                                                                | Grioving a a Folly. 10, 4529,   Honesty in Tatters. 10, 4520.   Nature and Naney. 10, 4530.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |    |
| Forbes. 18, 8379. Death of the Frincess, The. Flaubert, 19, 9161,                                                                                                                                                                 | Nature and Nancy. 10. 4530. Poor Jack. 10. 4525.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |    |
| Death, since I find not one. 4. 1093.                                                                                                                                                                                             | The Sailer's Maxim. 10, 4527.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |    |
| Death, The Hour of. Hemans. 12.5765.                                                                                                                                                                                              | The Standing Teast. 10, 4580.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |    |
| Death, since I find not one.  Death, The Hour of Hemans. Death, The Net of Doyle.  Death, The Net of Doyle.  Death, There is no. McCreery Death's Valley. Whitman.  DE BANVILLE, THEODORE.  Ballade of the Mysterious Host of the | Yo, Heave, Ho 1 10. 4526.  Dick cannot blow his nose. 2. 543.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |    |
| Death's Valley. Whitman. 18. 8392.                                                                                                                                                                                                | Dick Turpla's Escape. Ainsworth. 8. 3714.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |    |
| DE BANVILLE, THEODORE.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Dick cannot blow his nose. Dick Turpin's Uscape. Ainsworth. DIOKENS, CHARLES. A Tale of Two Clues. C. Constitution of the control of the cont |    |
| Ballade of the Mysterious Host of the Forest. 19, 9218,                                                                                                                                                                           | A Tale of Two Cities. 10. 4659. Copperfield at School. 17. 7997.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |    |
| Forest. 19, 9218, To the Lost Children. 19, 9219.                                                                                                                                                                                 | Doineboys Hall. 18. 55 (1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |    |
| Debate in Pandemonium, The, Milton, 7, 5226.                                                                                                                                                                                      | Martin Chuzzlewit. 15. 7177.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |    |
| Deblt and Credit. Froytag. 16. 7700.                                                                                                                                                                                              | Mr. Pickwick's Adventure with theMiddle-aged Lady in Yellow Curl                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |    |
| Debit and Credit. Freytag. 16, 7700. Decadence of Spain, The. Macaulay. S. 8439. "Decameron," Stories from the. Boc-                                                                                                              | Paners 12, 5615.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |    |
| egecio. 4. 1703.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | The Boy at Mugby. 17, 8055.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |    |
| Declainatory Pleader, On a. Lucilius. 2. 554.                                                                                                                                                                                     | The Clock Case. 7. 3313. The Convict in the Marshes. 17. 7992.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |    |
| Declaration of Independence, The. Jef-ferson. 15. 6944.                                                                                                                                                                       | The Death of Dora. 17. 8003.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |    |
| Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire.                                                                                                                                                                                             | The Detective Police. 14. 6561.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |    |
| Gibbon. 4. 1457. De Contempta Mundl. De Morlais. 4. 1611.                                                                                                                                                                         | Dicies and Sayings of the Philosophers,Epilogue to the. Caxton. 4. 1942.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |    |
| Dec. The Sands of Kingsley, 13, 6235. i                                                                                                                                                                                           | DIDEROT, DENIS. The Sch analysis                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |    |
| Deep in the shady sadness. 1. 367. Defeat of the Armada, The. Kingsley. 6. 2712.                                                                                                                                                  | of a Parasito. 9, 4021.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |    |
| Deep in the shady sadness.  Defeat of the Armsda, The. Kingsley.  G. 2712.  Defeat of the Galatians, The. Pau-                                                                                                                    | Dido in Love, Virgil.       1. 342.         Dido, Virgil's.       1. 360.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |    |
| Bulia. 2. 779.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Died at Sea. Connec. 18, 5458.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |    |
| Defence for Women, A. Herrick, 7. 3358.                                                                                                                                                                                           | Dies Irw. St. Thomas. 4, 1607. Dinners. Meredith. 16, 7765.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |    |
| DEFOE, DANIEL. The Footprint on the Sand. 8. 8512.                                                                                                                                                                                | Discord. Luther. 5. 2322.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |    |
| The Footprint on the Sand.  The Plague of London.  8. 8512. 6. 2802.                                                                                                                                                              | Discord. Lutter. 5. 2322. Discoveries; or, Explorata. Johnson. 6. 2784. Dismemberment of the United States, The. Bright. 20. 9723.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |    |
| DEKKER, EDUARD DOUWES, Tag 1                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Dismemberment of the United States,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |    |
| Story of Saidjah and Adinda. 20. 9193. DEKKER, THOMAS. Angelo and                                                                                                                                                                 | DISRAULI, BENJAMIN, Lothair                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |    |
| DEKKER, THOMAS. Angelo and Dorothea. 6. 2581.                                                                                                                                                                                     | becomes of Age. 11, 5351.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |    |
| DE LABORDE, M. The Departure for                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Infernal Marriage, The. 3 1439.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |    |
| Syria. 19. 8920.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Dissertation upon Roast Pig. A. Lamb. 12, 5587.Distinguishing Characteristics of Euro-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |    |
| DELAND, MARGARET. Elizabeth. 19. 8833. DE L'ISLE, ROUGET. The Marsell-                                                                                                                                                            | pean Civilization. Guizot. 13, 5179.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |    |
| laise. 19. 5919. /                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Diver, The. Schiller. 4, 1660.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |    |
| DeliverancoWentworth, Trial of. Mackie 11. 4882.                                                                                                                                                                                  | Diverting Bist. of John Glipin. Cowper. 10. 4423,DOBELL, SYDNEY How's my Boy' 16. 7686.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |    |
| Deluge, The. Sienklewicz 8, 3683.Demeanor in Church. Herbert. 7, 3360.                                                                                                                                                        | DOBSON, HENRI AUSTIN. & CHEP-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |    |
| Democracy and Women. Tocqueville. 15.7242.                                                                                                                                                                                        | ter of Froissart, 4, 1756.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |    |

| VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                        | DYTER BAROTTES A TEST                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DOBSON, HENRY AUSTIN.                                                                                             | DUDEVANT, BARONESS. A Musi-                                                                                                                                                                            |
| A THIND HE HOLL I LLIVE VIE.                                                                                      | cal Adventure. 11, 5222                                                                                                                                                                                |
| A Dialogue to the Memory of Mr. Alexander Pope. 8.3469.                                                           | Duel, The. Sheridan. 9. 4316                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Alexander Pope. 8. 3469. The Prayer of the Swine to Circe. 2. 501.                                                | Duke of Buckingham, The. Dryden. 7.8378Duke of Guise and Henry II., The.                                                                                                                           |
| The Prayer of the Swine to Circe. 2. 501.  Dr. Heidezger's Experiment. Haw-                                       | Dunas. 5. 2115                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| thorne. 11. 7932.  DODGE, MARY MAPES. The Insan-                                                                  | DUMAS, ALEXANDRE, FILS. Camille and Armand. 19. 8536.                                                                                                                                                  |
| ity of Cain. 20. 9466.                                                                                            | DIWAS ALEXANDER PEPE                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|                                                                                                                   | DUMAS, ALEXANDRE, PERE.Athos, Porthos, and Aramis. 7. 2921                                                                                                                                         |
| Dog of Flanders, A. Onids. 16. 7765.  Dog that dropped the Substance for the                                      | Cagliostro's Predictions. 10. 4610                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Shadow, The. Fontaine. 7. 8103.                                                                                   | From "The Count of Monte Cristo." 18, 6321.                                                                                                                                                            |
|                                                                                                                   | The Duke of Guise and Henry II. 5. 2115.                                                                                                                                                               |
| Dogs, Our. Brown. DOLE, HELEN B., Trans.                                                                          | The Duke of Guise and Henry II. 5. 2115.The Fate of Mordaunt. 7. 2944.                                                                                                                             |
| An Ancient Mariner. 13. 8434.                                                                                     | The Man in the Iron Mask. 7. 2954.                                                                                                                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                   | The Fate of Mordaunt. 7. 2944 The Man in the Iron Mask. 7. 2264 DU MAURIER, GEORGE. The Goal                                                                                                           |
| DOLD MATHER HASKELL. The                                                                                          | 1 of Life. 16 7555                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Close of a Rainy Day. 19. 9203. DOLE, NATHAN HASKELL, Trans.                                                      | DUNCAN, SARA JEANNETTE.From "An American Girl in Lon-don."                                                                                                                                     |
| DOLE, NATHAN HASKELL, Trans.                                                                                      | From "An American Girl in Lon-                                                                                                                                                                         |
| A Bookkeeper. 17. 8239.                                                                                           | don." 15. 7200.                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| A Fatal Step. 19. 9137.                                                                                           | DUNDEE, LORD VISCOUNT. Me-                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 4 Midnight Party in the Marais. 17, 8243.                                                                         | moirs. 8 8789                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| A Story of Algiers. 17. S243.                                                                                     | Dutch Lullaby. Field. 19, 9092                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Love by the Ocean. 19. 9002.                                                                                      | Datch Poetry, Early. Bowring. 4, 1804.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| A Story of Algiers. 17. S243. Love by the Ocean. 19. 9092. The Huns at Belchenau. 3. 1977.                        | Dutch Lullaby.         Field.         19, 9092           Dutch Poetry.         Early.         Bowring.         4, 1804           DUTT.         TORU.         Trans.         To Pépa.         18, 6773. |
| The Monkey. 11. 8236.                                                                                             | What the Swallows say. 18 8775                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Doll's House, A. Ibsen. 16. 7777.                                                                                 | Duty. Ode to. Wordsworth. 17, $930.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Doll's House, A. Ibsen. 16. 7777.Dolly Dialogues, The. Hope. 17. 8912.                                        | Dyer's Story, The. Hockley. 18, 8291.                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Domestic Servant, The Old Scottish.                                                                               | Dying Gladiator, The. Byron. 2, 778.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Ramsay. 12. 5498.  DONNE, JOHN. The Undertaking. 6. 2830.                                                         | Dying Man in his Garden, The, Sewell. 8, 3429.                                                                                                                                                         |
| DONNE, JOHN.                                                                                                      | T                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| The Undertaking. 6. 2830.                                                                                         | Each and All. Emerson. 10. 7510.Eagle & Assembly of Animals, The. Gay. 8, 3482.                                                                                                                    |
| Valediction, forbidding Mourning. 6, 2530.                                                                        | Eagle & Assembly of Animals, The. Gay. 8, 3482.                                                                                                                                                        |
| Don Quixote and Sancho, Cervantes. 5, 2263.                                                                       | Larly Duich Poetry. Bowring. 4, 1894.                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Don't you remember siceet Alice? 20.9443.                                                                         | Early Life of Benjamin Franklin.                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Doomed to Live. De Balzac. 13, 5550. Dorothy in the Garret. Trowbridge. 10, 450.                                  | Franklin. 15, 6360.                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Dorothy in the Griter. Trownridge. 10, 45%.                                                                       | Earthly Paradise, The. Morris. 18. 5916.                                                                                                                                                               |
| Dotheboys Hall. Dickens. 13. 5977.                                                                                | Earthly Paradise, The. Morris. 18.5916.EASTMAN, SAMUEL C. Trans.Nihilist Circles in Russia. 18.526.                                                                                            |
| DOWDEN, EDWARD. Characteristics of Elizabethan Lit. Intro. to Vol. vi.                                            | Nihilist Circles in Russia. 18, 8526.                                                                                                                                                                  |
|                                                                                                                   | EBERS, GEORG. The Olympic                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Downfall and Death of King Edipus,                                                                                | Games, 2. 504,                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| The. Sophocles. 2. 613. Down swept the chill wind. 3. 1203. DOYLE, ARTHUR CONAN.                                  | Echo Club, The. Taylor. 19, 6259.EDGEWORTH, MARIA. The Lim.                                                                                                                                        |
| DOYLE ARTHUR COXAN                                                                                                | erick Gioves. 11. 5077.                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Mich Clarke. 8. 3655.                                                                                             | Education. Spencer. 16, 7573.                                                                                                                                                                          |
| The Net of Death. 17. S169.                                                                                       | Education. Spencer. 16, 1513.EDWARDS, JONATHAN. The Free-                                                                                                                                          |
| The White Company. 4. 1814.                                                                                       | l nom of the visu 11 4995                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Death on the Bank of Spain A. Mitchell 90 0651                                                                    | EGGLESTON, EDWARD. Separa-                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Dragon in his Den, The. Wister. 20, 9667. Dragon of Wantley, The. Wister. 20, 9667. DRAKE, JOSEPH RODMAN.         | tism and the Scrooby Church. 11, 4963.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Dragon of Wantley, The. Wister. 20, 9667.                                                                         | tism and the Scrooby Church. 11. 4963.Egyptian Princess, An. Ebers. 2. 504.                                                                                                                        |
| DRÄKE, JOSEPH RODMAN.                                                                                             | Egyptians, Manners and Customs of                                                                                                                                                                      |
| The American Fizz.                                                                                                | _ the. Rollin. 1. 65.                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| The Culprit Fay. 15. 7047.                                                                                        | Egypt, the Seventh Plague of. Croly. 1. 82.                                                                                                                                                            |
| Drawn by the annual call. 10, 4577. DRAYTON, MICHAEL. Love's Vitality. 6, 2753. The Battle of Agincourt. 4, 1510. | Eighteenth-Century Life, Sketches of.                                                                                                                                                                  |
| DEAYTOS, MICHAEL.                                                                                                 | Ecott. 10. 4580.Elmer, Cuchullin's Woolng of. 8. 1030.                                                                                                                                             |
| Love's Vitality. 6, 2783.                                                                                         | Eimer, Cuchullin's Woolng of. 8, 1020.Ekkehard. Von Scheffel. 3, 1377.                                                                                                                             |
| The Battle of Agincourt. 4. 1810.                                                                                 | Ekkehard. Von Scheffel. 3. 1877.Election, A Hungarian. Fötvös. 11. 5203.                                                                                                                           |
| Dream Inic. Milenen. 14. 044.                                                                                     | Election, A Hungarian. Ectvos. 11.5203.Elegy in a Country Churchyard. Gray. 9.8941.                                                                                                                |
| Dream of Eugene Aram, The. Hood. 14, 6707.                                                                        | ELIOT, GEORGE. Arion. 9. 514.                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Drink to me only with thine eyes. 6, 2732. Dropping Well, Legend of the. Miller. 11, 5162.                        | Elegy in a Country Churchyard. Gray. 9. 8941.ELIOT, GEORGE. Arion. 9. 8941.From "Romola." 5. 2024.                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                   | Two Lovers. 14. 6363.                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| DRUMMOND, HENRY. Growth. 13, 5888.                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Drunkard, Confessions of a. Lamb. 14. 6701.                                                                       | Elizabeth and Amy Robsart, Scott. 6, 2497.                                                                                                                                                             |
| DRYDEN, JOHN.                                                                                                     | Elizabeth and Lady Catherine. Ansten. 12, 5564.                                                                                                                                                        |
| Alexander's Feast; or, The Power of                                                                               | Eliza's Escape. Stowe. 19. 8813.                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Music. 2. 764.                                                                                                    | Elizabeth and Amy Robert. Scott. 6, 2497. Elizabeth and Lady Catherine. Ansten. 12, 5564. Eliza's Escape. Stowe. 19, 5513. Ellen at the Farm. Warner. 15, 7022.                                        |
| Three English Politicians. 7. 2376.                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| DRYDEN, JOHN, Trans. From "Lucretius." 2. 936.                                                                    | Compensation. 15, 1105.                                                                                                                                                                                |
| From "Lucretius." 2. 035.                                                                                         | Each and All. 16, 7510.  Friendship. 17, 7573.                                                                                                                                                         |
| Juvenal's Tenth Satire. 3, 1129.                                                                                  | Friendship. 17. 7573.                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| The Story of Acis, Polyphemus, and Galatea.                                                                       | Emperor Frederick the Second, The.                                                                                                                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                   | Freeman. 4. 1650.Emperor and the Pope, The. Plumptre. 3. 1139.                                                                                                                                     |
| Due D'Enghien, The Murder of the.Lanfrey. 10, 4701.                                                           | Emperor and the Pope, The. Plumptre. 3, 1139.Emperor's Daughter, Ballad of the. 5, 2295.                                                                                                           |
| DUCHTES THE CONTROL TO THE                                                                                        | Encomlum on Flies. Lucian. 2, 953.                                                                                                                                                                     |
| DUCHESS, THE. Cyril and Cecilia. 17. 8/20.                                                                        | Encounter with Indians, An. Harrison, 20, 9556.                                                                                                                                                        |
| Duchess of Mals, The Webster. 6, 2772. Duchess Wooing, The Webster. 6, 2772.                                      | Encounter with Indians, An. Harrison, 20, 9550.Endeavors of Mankind to get rid of                                                                                                                  |
| Duchess' Wooing, The. Webster. 6, 2772.                                                                           | their Burdens. Addison. 8, 3476.                                                                                                                                                                       |
|                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                        |

| 1                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                          |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| England during the Early Crusades.                                                                                                                                            | Function Monda Wistons of Tools 18 0469                                                                                                  |
| Hume. 8, 1425.                                                                                                                                                                | European Morals, History of. Lecky. 18, 8462.Eutychus many portraits made. 2, 545.                                                   |
| England, History of, Von Ranke 6, 2648.                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                          |
| England, Illistory of Civilization in.                                                                                                                                        | 1 10000. 10.0848.                                                                                                                        |
| Buckle. 20, 9353.                                                                                                                                                             | Evelina. Burney. 10. 4385                                                                                                                |
| England, History of the Rebellion andCivil Wars in. Hyde. 6, 2831.                                                                                                        | EVELYN, JOHN. Notes from Diary. 7, 8351.                                                                                                 |
| England in Henry VIII.'s Time.                                                                                                                                                | Evening Primroses. Conc. 18, S696, EVERETT, EDWARD. That Gentle-                                                                         |
| Froude. 6. 2133.                                                                                                                                                              | man. 15, 7225.                                                                                                                           |
| England, Notable Men and Sayings of.                                                                                                                                          | Excelento Balade of Charitie, An.                                                                                                        |
| Fuller. 7. 8295.England Six Hundred Years Ago, Vil-                                                                                                                       | Chatterton. 9. 4269. Execution of Lady Jano Groy, The.                                                                                   |
| lago Ilfo in. Jessopp.  England Without and Within. Whito. 19, 8937. Ingland, Worthles of, The. Fniler. English History, Episodes of. Humo. English History, Three Phases of. | Ainsworth 6 9474                                                                                                                         |
| England Without and Within. White, 19, 8937.                                                                                                                                  | Exequy. King. 9, 3945.                                                                                                                   |
| Lingland, Worthics of, The. Fuller. 7, 8295.                                                                                                                                  | Expedition of Cyrus, The. Xenophon. 2, 712.                                                                                              |
| English History, Episodes of. Humo. 3, 1416.                                                                                                                                  | Expedition of Humphrey Clinker.Smollett. 9, 3984.                                                                                    |
| English History, Three Phases of.Green. 6, 2515.                                                                                                                          | I Experiences of Candide. Voltaire. 9, 4018.                                                                                             |
| Englishman, The. Stocle. 8, 8507.                                                                                                                                             | Experiment in Housekeeping, The                                                                                                          |
| English People, Short History of the                                                                                                                                          | Little Women's, Alcott. 20, 9433,                                                                                                        |
| Green. 15. 6926.ENGLISH, THOMAS DUNN. Ben                                                                                                                                 | Explorata: or, Discoveries. Jonson. 6. 2784.                                                                                             |
| Bolt. 20, 9443,                                                                                                                                                               | Fables, Gay. S. 8491.                                                                                                                    |
| ENSOR, LAURA, Trans. Death of                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                          |
| Barnier. 18, 8724. Envy. 2, 652.                                                                                                                                              | Fables, Pilpay. 4. 1765.Faculties, Epictetus, 8. 1819.                                                                               |
| Envy. Bacon. 2. 632. 6, 2619.                                                                                                                                                 | Faculties. Epictetus, 8. 1819. Facric Queone, Tho. Spenser. 6. 2789. Fair as the scaling heart.                                          |
| - Enru is vile but plays a useful part. 2. 152.                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                          |
| Eothen, Kinglake, 11, 5125.                                                                                                                                                   | Fair Daffodils, we weep to see. 7. 3859.                                                                                                 |
| Eothen. Kinglake. 11, 525,EOTYOS, BARON JOZSEF. A Ilnn-garian Election. 11, 5203,                                                                                     | Fair Daffodils, we weep to see. 7. 8859. Fair Flower of fiften springs. 5. 2216. FAIRFAX, EDWARD, Trans. God- frey of Boulogne. 4. 1459. |
| EPICTETUS. Maxims. 8, 1318.                                                                                                                                                   | frey of Boulogne. 4. 1469.                                                                                                               |
| Enigrama (Greek). 2. 553.                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                          |
| Epiloguo to the Dictes and Sayings of                                                                                                                                         | ! Fair Ines. Hood. 18. 6263.                                                                                                             |
| the Philosophers. Caxton. 4. 1942.Episodes in a Life of Adventure.                                                                                                        | Fair pleages of a fruitful tree. 7. 8358,Fair sons you're wasting. 5. 2161.                                                          |
| Oliphant. 16, 7597.                                                                                                                                                           | Fair stood the wind for France. 4. 1811.                                                                                                 |
| Episodes of English History. Humc. 8, 1416.Episodes of the French Rovolution.                                                                                             | Faithful friends! It lies I know. 16,7832.                                                                                               |
| Carlyle, 10, 4671.                                                                                                                                                            | Faithful unto Death. Yonge. 1. 141.Faithful unto Death. Yonge. 2. 688.                                                               |
| Enistic to Curio, An. Akenside. 8 8888.                                                                                                                                       | i Falcon. The Boccaccio. 4, 1719.                                                                                                        |
| Epistolæ Ho-Elianæ, Howell. 8, 8781.                                                                                                                                          | FALCONER, LANCE. Cecilia de                                                                                                              |
| England on dimself. Amon. 5, 2163,                                                                                                                                            | Ridel, 17. 8220.                                                                                                                         |
| Enitable on Vanbruch, Swift, 2, 553.                                                                                                                                          | Fall of Palmyra, The. Ware. 8. 1846.Fall of the House of Usher, The. Poc. 12. 5789.                                                  |
| Epithalamium, Catulina, 2, 923.                                                                                                                                               | raistan and the Princo. Shakespeare. 6.2604.                                                                                             |
| ERASMUS, DESIDERIUS. The Ap-                                                                                                                                                  | Familiar Colioquies. Erasmus. 5. 2926.Familiar Faces, The Old. Lamb. 17. 8203.                                                       |
| parition. 5, 2326. ERCILLA, ALONZO DE. The Arau-                                                                                                                              | Farewell Address of George Washing-                                                                                                      |
| cans. 6, 2454. 1                                                                                                                                                              | Farewell Address of George Washing-ton, President, to the People of theUnited States. 15. 6948.                                  |
| ERORMAN-CHATRIAN. Fritz and Suzel. 11. 5084                                                                                                                                   | United States. 15. 6948. Far in a wild unknown to public view. 8. 3501.                                                                  |
| Errolitheus Swinlinrne. 13.5870 l                                                                                                                                             | Farmer's Wife and the Raven, The.                                                                                                        |
| Erio Railway Scandal, The. Adams. 19, 1850.                                                                                                                                   | Gay. 8. 3486                                                                                                                             |
| Escape, The. Gray. 16. 7714. Escape of the Lovers, The. De                                                                                                                    | FARRAR, FREDERICE WILLIAM. Pilate and the Crucifixion. 16, 7797.                                                                         |
| Gobineau. 20. 9484.                                                                                                                                                           | The Literature of Religious Criticism,                                                                                                   |
| Esmond's Friends and Foes. Thack-                                                                                                                                             | Intro. to Vol. vii.                                                                                                                      |
| eray. 8. 3444. Essay on Anger. Bacon. 14. 6168.                                                                                                                               | Faster, faster. 1. 257.Fast in its prison walls of earth. 16, 7894.                                                                  |
| Essay on Man. Popo. 8. 8462. 1                                                                                                                                                | Fatal Nuptials, The. Sue. 16, 7414.Fatal Step, A., Tolstoi. 19, 9187.                                                                |
|                                                                                                                                                                               | Fatal Step, A. Tolstoi. 19. 9187.                                                                                                        |
| Essays. Montaigne. 5. 2222.Essays. Johnson. 9. 4145.                                                                                                                      | Fate. Spaulding. 19. 8812.Fate of Mordaunt, The. Dnmas. 7. 2944.                                                                     |
| Essays. Johnson. 9.4145.Essays. Schopenhauer. 16.7529.                                                                                                                    | Fates, The Spinning of the, Catulins, 2, 921,                                                                                            |
| Essays, Classical. Myers. 1, 829.                                                                                                                                             | Father Damon and Ruth Leigh, War-                                                                                                        |
| Essays, Schopenhauer. 16. 7529. Essays, Classical. Myers. 1. 329. Essays from "Belcaro." Lee. 17. 8275. 16. 7318                                                              | ner, 19. 9026.Faults and Foibles of Women. 2. 546.                                                                                   |
| Essays of Sin. The. Colcridge. 17, 7846.                                                                                                                                      | Faust. Gotthe. 11. 5022.                                                                                                                 |
| Thomas God. An Orocle concerning the 2 540 1                                                                                                                                  | Faustus, Marlowe, 6, 2481.                                                                                                               |
| Ethics of the Herolo Age. Gladstone. 20, 9359.                                                                                                                                | FAWGETT, EDGAR. Vesta. 20, 9854.Feasts saliate; stars distress. 11, 5843.                                                            |
| Ethics of the Herolo Age. Gindstone. 20, 9359. Ethics of the Herolo Age. Gindstone. 20, 9359. Peton College, Ode on a Distant Prospect of. Gray. 13, 6015                     | Feathertop. Hawthorne. 14. 6424.                                                                                                         |
| Eugeno Aram's Dream. Hood. 14. 6707.                                                                                                                                          | Feathertop. Hawthorne. 14. 6424.February 27, 1757, Account of all thatpassed on the Night of. Stevenson, 9. 4082.                |
| Eugene Aram, The Trial of. Lytton. 14, 6672. Euphnes and his England. Lyly. 6, 2782.                                                                                          | passed on the Night of Stevenson, 9, 4082.Feminino Subtlety, Of, 1, 476.                                                             |
| ETRIPIDES Medea. 2. 626.                                                                                                                                                      | FÉNELON, FRÂNCOIS DE SALIG-                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                               | NAU DE LA MUTHE. THE                                                                                                                     |
| Characteristics of. Guizot. 18, 6179.                                                                                                                                         | Story of Ali-Bey, the Persian. 7. 3074.                                                                                                  |

| TOL PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | VOL. PAGE                                                                                                                                |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| FERDAUSI, Rustam and Akwan Dev. 4. 1592.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Footprint on the Sand, The. Defoe. 8, 2512                                                                                               |
| PERGUSON, SIR SAMUEL, Trans. How Setanta, the Hero of the Tain,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | FORBES, ARCHIBALD.                                                                                                                       |
| How Setanta, the Hero of the Tain.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Our Parish Murderer. 14, 6719                                                                                                            |
| received the name of Cuchnilin,the Hound of Cullan. 8. 1626.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | The Theeth of the Deluce Imperial 10 6070                                                                                                |
| the Hound of Cullan. 3. 1626.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | The Death of the Prince Imperial. 15, 8373  Forest, The. Jonson. 6, 2732  Forest Hymn. Bryant. 17, 8165  Forester Aira Verland. 15, 6722 |
| The Death of the Children of Usnach. 2. 1017.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Forest Hymn, Bryant, 17, 8166                                                                                                            |
| The Death of the Children of Usnach. 2. 1017.FERRIER, SUSAN. Miss Pratt: A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Forgotten Airs. Verlaino. 15, 8732                                                                                                       |
| Character Sketch. 12, 5604.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Forms and Fables, Persian. Mslcolm. 18, 6150                                                                                             |
| Pasing Rollar 16 7773                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Fort Stanwix, St. Leger's Advance                                                                                                        |
| Fettered Nightingale, The. Bowring. 4. 1895. FEUILLET, OCTAVE. Romance of a Poor Young Man. 16. 7444.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _ upon. Fiske. 11, 4973                                                                                                                  |
| FEUILLET, OCTAVE. Romance of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | upon, Fiske. 11, 4972Fortune's Fool, Hawthorne, 20, 9693                                                                             |
| a Poor Young Man. 16, 7444.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | FOSS, SAMUEL WALTER. The                                                                                                                 |
| Veyer, Chring a. by its Cause. Margaret                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Carven Name. 17, 8252                                                                                                                    |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | FOTHERGILL, JESSIE. The First                                                                                                            |
| FIELD, EUGENE. Dotch Lullaby. 19, 9932.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Violin. 20.9789                                                                                                                          |
| Little Boy Blue. 19. 9031.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Frank Course Chr. Olfabana 4 1707                                                                                                        |
| PIPINING HENRY.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | FOX, JOHN, Jr. On Hell-fer-Sartain Creek. 18. 8763                                                                                       |
| Adventures of Tom Jones. 9. 4119.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Creek. 19. 8763                                                                                                                          |
| The Genial Jokes of the Eighteenth                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Fragolette, Laboulage. 19,9693                                                                                                           |
| Century. 9, 3271.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | FRANCE, ANATOLE. The Story of                                                                                                            |
| FIELDS, JAMES THOMAS. Thack-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Clémentine. 20, 9407                                                                                                                     |
| eray. 19, 8946.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | France, Rustic Life in. Theoriet. 18, 8553                                                                                               |
| Piter Veres Réconcer 10 4740                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | France, Rustic Life in. Theoriet. 18,8%8France, The Old Régime in. Talne. 10,4725                                                    |
| Fight about the Isles of Azores, A Re-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN. Antobi-                                                                                                              |
| port of the Truth about the. 6, 2512.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ography. 15, 6960                                                                                                                        |
| Fight about the Isles of Azores, A Report of the Truth about the.  C. 2512.  Fight of Cuchullin and Ferdish at the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ography. 15, 6360Frederick the Great and his Court.                                                                                  |
| Ford, The. 3. 1031.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Mühlbach, 9, 4999.                                                                                                                       |
| Fight with a Cannon, A. Hugo. 13, 5549.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Frederick the Second, The Emperor.                                                                                                       |
| Fight with a Cannon, A. Hugo. 13. 5539. Fight with the Bear, The. Parker. 20. 2473.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Freeman. 4. 1650                                                                                                                         |
| File No. 118. Gaboriau. 18. 5631.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Freedom of the Will, The. Edwards. 11, 4996.                                                                                             |
| FINCH, FRANCIS MILES.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | FREEMAN, EDWARD A.                                                                                                                       |
| Enthen Hele 11 4024                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Review of John Foster Kirk's                                                                                                             |
| Nathan Hale. 11. 4234. The Blue and the Gray. 15. 7310.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | "Charles the Bold." 4, 1953.                                                                                                             |
| Finding of Wineland, the Good, The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | The Emperor Frederick the Second. 4. 1650.                                                                                               |
| Reaves, Trans. 10. 4503.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | The Emperor Frederick the Second. 4. 1650 FREILIGRATH, FEEDINAND. The                                                                    |
| The Blue and the Gray.  Finding of Wineland, the Good, The.  Ecores, Trans.  FINLAY, GEORGE. Periods of Greek                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Specter Caravan. 19, 9125.                                                                                                               |
| History after the Conquest of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Specter Caravan. 19, 2128. French Revolution, Episodes of the.                                                                           |
| Greece. 10. 4767.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Carlyle. 10, 4571.                                                                                                                       |
| Fire God. To the. Monler-Williams. 1, 13,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | French Revolution, Mistakes, Methods,                                                                                                    |
| Fire, The Ordeal by. Villari. 5. 2010. Firm of Girdlestone, The. Doyle. 17. 8169.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | and Crimes of the. Burke. 10.4642.                                                                                                       |
| Firm of Girdlestone, The. Doyle. 17. 8160.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | French Traits. Brownell. 16, 7633, FRERE, JOHN HOOKHAM, Trans.                                                                           |
| First Violin, The. Fothergill. 20. 9729.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | FRERE, JOHN HOOKHAM, Trans.                                                                                                              |
| Fisher Boy Urashima, The. Chamber-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Epithalamium. 2, 923,                                                                                                                    |
| First Violin, The. Fothergill. 20. 9739. Fisher Boy Urashima, The. Chamber- lziu, Trans. 16. 7362.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | From the "Knights" of Aris-                                                                                                              |
| Fisher Lassie, The. Björnson. 18, 8362.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                          |
| Fisher Lassie, The. Björnson. 16, 8362, FISKE, JOHN. St. Leger's Advance                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | The Monks and the Giants. 8. 1163. FREYTAG, GUSTAV. In the Tolls. 16. 7709.                                                              |
| upon Fort Stanwix. 11, 4973.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | FREYTAG, GUSTAV. In the Tolls. 16, 7700.                                                                                                 |
| FITZGERALD, EDWARD, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Friend Fritz. Unitrian. 11. 1994.                                                                                                        |
| Ascaying Agamemnon. 2. 33.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Friends in Council. Helps. 16, 7521.                                                                                                     |
| Rnbáiyát of Ómar Khayyám. 3. 969.The Downfall and Death of King Œdi-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Friendship. Emerson. 17. 7578. Friend 1 with a poor man's straits. 2. 955                                                                |
| The Downfall and Death of King (Edi-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Friend with a poor man's straits. 2, 955                                                                                                 |
| pus. 2. 613.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Frithiof and Ingeborg. Tegner. 11. 5154                                                                                                  |
| Fitz-James and Roderick Dhu. Scott. 12, 5450.Fjeld, Tales from the. Ashjörnsen. 16, 7321.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Frithiof's Eaga. Tegner. 11, 5126.Fritz and Suzel. Erckman-Chatrian. 11, 5031.                                                       |
| Field, Tales from the. Ashjörnsen. 16, 7321.Flauders, A Dog of. Oulda. 16, 7765.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Fritz and Suzel Erckman-Chatrian. 11. 5031.                                                                                              |
| Flauders, A. Dog of. Oulds. 16, 7765.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Frog, The Jumping. Clemens. 14. 6'52.                                                                                                    |
| FLAUBERT, GUSTAVE. The Death of the Princess. 19. 9151.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Froissart, A Chapter of. Dobson. 4, 1756.                                                                                                |
| of the Princess. 19. 9151.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | FROISSART, JEAN. The Battle of Otterbonrne. 4, 1725.                                                                                     |
| FLETCHER, JOHN. Prayers before Battle. 6. 2778.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                          |
| Prayers before Battle. 6. 2778.Philaster. 6. 2525.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | From the first circle I descended thus. 4, 1691. From the madding crowd. 14, 6509.                                                       |
| Flies Freeminm on Tuelen 9 652                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | From the moist meadow. 8. 3551.                                                                                                          |
| Files, Encommon. Lucian. 2, 933. Filight. Caiverly. 16, 7733. Flodden, The Battle of. Scott. 14, 6316. Flower, Fruit, and Thorn Pieces. Bichter. 16, 7234. Flowers of Eyil. Baudelaire. 18, 6547. Flowers, The Death of the.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | From the sea's deep hollow. 2. 1456.                                                                                                     |
| Flodden, The Battle of Scott. 14 6516                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | From out the South the genial breezes 1 61                                                                                               |
| Flower, Fruit, and Thorn Pieces, Pichter, 16, 7224.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | From out the South the genial breezes. 1. 64. From water they have cut us off. 3. 1231.                                                  |
| Flowers of Evil. Bandelaire. 18, 8547.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | FROUDE JAMES ANTHONY, Eng-                                                                                                               |
| Flowers, The Death of the. Bryant. 15. 6993.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | land in Henry VIII.'s Time. 6, 2423.                                                                                                     |
| Folly of Fools. Lucian. 2, 550.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | From water they have cut us off. Eng. 2. 1231. FEOUDE, JAMES ANTHONY. England in Henry VIII.'s Time. FEOUDE, JAMES ANTHONY, Trans.       |
| FONTAINE, JEAN DE LA.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Vineta, 3, 1456.                                                                                                                         |
| The Carter in the Mire. 7. 2103.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | FULLER, THOMAS. Notable Men                                                                                                              |
| The Dog that dropped the Substance                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Vineta. 8.1456. FULLER, THOMAS. Notable Men and Sayings of England. 7. 2295. Frueral Oration on Henrietta, Duchess                       |
| 107 LLe Sh240W, 7, 2105, 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Finneral Oration on Henrietta, Duchess                                                                                                   |
| The Lion going to War. 7. 2107.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | DI Officials. Dossiet.                                                                                                                   |
| The Seacock compisining to Juno. 7. 3106.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Funeral Speech of Pericles. Thucy dides. 1. 412.                                                                                         |
| The Peacock complaining to Juno. 7. 3106. The Star seeing Himself in the Water. 7. 2107. Footbally Program Mitter of Charles and Charles a | 0.mont.m #447777                                                                                                                         |
| then the same and the same                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | GABORIAU, ÉMILE. The Brothers. 18, 8631.Goddy, The. Birauger. 10, 4739.Galainans, The Defeat of the. Pansanias. 2, 779           |
| FURTER STREET Tasks                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Granger, The Defeat of the Personics 9 579                                                                                               |
| Fost Pages, and Sertants of every de-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | GALDOS, BENITO PEREZ. Re-                                                                                                                |
| gree. 4. 1517.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | GALDOS, BENITO PEREZ. Re-ligion and Love. 20, 9346                                                                                   |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                          |

| TOL PAGE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | •                                                                                                                                                                |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| GALTON, FRANCIS. Checks to the                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | GOETHE, JOHANN WOLFGANG. VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                              |
| Increase of Genins. 13, 8502                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Vanitas. 16, 7580.                                                                                                                                               |
| Gambler's Luck. Hoffmann. 16. 7367.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Walpurgis Night. 11, 5022.                                                                                                                                       |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Wilhelm and the Dramatic Company. 10, 4567.                                                                                                                      |
| GARDENER, HELEN HAMILTON.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Wilhelm begins his Apprenticeship. 10. 4551.                                                                                                                     |
| The Union Guide. 20. 9671.                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Goethe's Correspondence with a Child.                                                                                                                            |
| Garland and the Girdle, The. Angelo. 5. 2051. GARNETI, CONSTANCE, Trans. A                                                                                                                                                                            | Brentano. 11, 5032.                                                                                                                                              |
| Men of Greet Projects                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | GOGOL, NIKOLAI V. An Involun-                                                                                                                                    |
| Man of Great Projects. 18, 8712. GARNETT, RICHARD. Napoleon's                                                                                                                                                                                         | tary Impostor. 19. 9165. Gold Bug, The. Poe. 15. 7123.                                                                                                           |
| GARNETT, RICHARD. Napoleon's Sangaree. 18. 8314.                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                  |
| On the Use and Value of Anthologies.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Golden Age, The Return of the Virgil. 8, 1105.Golden Apples, The. Morris. 13, 5916.                                                                          |
| Intro. to Vol. i.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Golden Fleece, The. Hawthorne, 1, 875                                                                                                                            |
| Sonnets. 16, 8289.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Golden Apples, The Morris.  Golden Fleece, The Hawthorne.  1. $75. Golden House, The Warner.  Golden House, The Warner.  Golden Paign of Wonter Van Twiller     |
| The Poison Maid. 14, 6755.                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                  |
| GARRISON, WILLIAM LLOYD.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | The. Irving. 15. 6826.                                                                                                                                           |
| Liberty. 18. S536.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Gold Room, The. Taylor. 19, 8969.                                                                                                                                |
| GASKELL, ELIZABETH C. Cranford, 18, 6236.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | GOLDSMITH, OLIVER. Marlow takes Mr. Hardcastle's House                                                                                                           |
| Gatherer of Simples, A. Wilkins. 19, 9055                                                                                                                                                                                                             | for an Inn. 9. 4186.                                                                                                                                             |
| GAUTIER, THEOPHILE.  An Adventure with Brigands. 16, 7469.                                                                                                                                                                                            | The Deserted Village. 9. 4209.                                                                                                                                   |
| An Adventure with Brigands. 16, 7469. What the Swallows Say. 18, 8755.                                                                                                                                                                                | The Deserted Village. 9. 4269. The Traveler; or, A Prospect of So-                                                                                               |
| GAY, JOHN Sweet William's Fare-                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ciety. 18. 6169.                                                                                                                                                 |
| well to Blackeyed Susan. 8, 2606.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | The Vicar of Wakefield and his Family. 9. 4188.                                                                                                                  |
| The Eagle and Assembly of Animals. 8, 3482. The Farmer's Wife and the Rayen. 8, 8486.                                                                                                                                                                 | Go, Lovely Rose. Waller. 8. 8855.                                                                                                                                |
| The Farmer's Wife and the Raven. 8. 8486.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | GONCOURT, E. and J. DE. Death of                                                                                                                                 |
| The Gardener and the Hog. 8, 3487.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Barnier. 15. 5124.                                                                                                                                               |
| The Lion and the Cub. S. 8485.                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                  |
| The Mother, the Nurse, and the Fairy. 8, 3481.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Good-Humored Club, The. Steele. 5. 3602,Good Shepherd, The. Do Vega. 7. 3078.GOODWIN, MAUD WILDER. Pe-                                                   |
| The Pajoter. 8. 3483. The Turkey and the Ant. 8. 3487.                                                                                                                                                                                                | GOODWIN, MAUD WILDER. Pe-                                                                                                                                        |
| GEIBEL, EMANUEL, In April. 11, 5209.1                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | nelope goes to Confr. 11. 4518.                                                                                                                                  |
| Gellia, your mirror's falss. 2. 547.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Go patter to lubbers and swabs. 10. 4525.                                                                                                                        |
| General Power of National Taxation.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Gorgon's Head, The. Hawthorne. 2. 481.GOSSE, EDMUND. The Appreciation                                                                                        |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | GOSSE, EDMUND. The Appreciation                                                                                                                                  |
| Genial Jokes of the Eighteenth Century,                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Grace before Meat. Lamb. 16. 7813.                                                                                                                               |
| The, Fielding, 9. S971.                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Gradatim, Holland. 13. 5597.                                                                                                                                     |
| George Borrow and the Publisher.Borrow. 18, 5700.                                                                                                                                                                                                 | of Pottrs. Intro. to Vol. viliGrace b fore Steat. Lamb. 16. 7813.Gradatim, Holland. 13. 5597.GRAHAM, JAMES.                                          |
| Cormonia Enthapiana The Arnal 10 470E l                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MY DESTRICT ONLY DOVE. 0. 8111.                                                                                                                                  |
| Gesta Romanorum. 1. 476.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | GRAHAM, JOHN. Memolrs. 8. 8759.                                                                                                                                  |
| Gesta Romanorum. 3, 1105.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | GRAHAM, JOHN. Memoirs. 8. 8789.Grammar and Medicine. Agathias. 2. 544.Grammont, Adventures of Count.                                                     |
| Ghazal, A. Hafiz. 5. 2152.                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Grammont, Adventures of Count.                                                                                                                                   |
| Giant Despair. Bunyan. 8. 8421.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Hamilton. 7, 3187,Grasshopper, The. Lovelace. 7, 3407.                                                                                                       |
| GIBBON, EDWARD.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Grashopper, The. Lovelace. 7. 3407. GRAY, MAXWELL. The Escape. 16. 7714. GRAY, THOMAS. Elecy in a Country Churchyard. 9. 5941. Ode on a Distant Prospect of Eton |
| Autobiography. 10, 4003. The Capture of Jerusalem. 4, 1457.                                                                                                                                                                                           | GRAY, THOMAS.                                                                                                                                                    |
| Giffs. Legarits.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Elegy in a Country Churchyard. 9. 8941.                                                                                                                          |
| Gifts. Lazarus.  GILBERT, WILLIAM S. The Yarn of the "Nancy Bell."  GI Blas, The Adventures of. Le Bare. 8. S586.                                                                                                                                     | Ode on a Distant Prospect of Eton                                                                                                                                |
| the "Nanger Rell " 12 6190 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Couere. 12. 6013.                                                                                                                                                |
| Gil Blas, The Adventures of. La Sage. 8. 8566.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Ode on the Spring. 17. 8089.Great Britain towards her AmericanColonies, True Policy of. Burke. 15. 6919.                                                 |
| Girondists, Last Night and Execution of the. De Lamartine. 10, 4650,                                                                                                                                                                                  | Colonies, True Policy of. Burke. 15. 6919.                                                                                                                       |
| of the. De Lamartine. 10, 4650. Gire me a son. 8, 3481.                                                                                                                                                                                               | Great Captain, The. Tourgee. v. 2703.                                                                                                                            |
| Give us a song. 20, 9385.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Great Expectations. Dickons. 17. 7992.                                                                                                                           |
| Gladistor, The Dying. 2. 778. Gladistors, The. Whyte-Melville. 3. 1273. GLADSTONE, WILLIAM EWART.                                                                                                                                                     | Greatness of Athens, The. Thucydides. 1. 412. Great Queen, is this a place for thee? 7. 2989.                                                                    |
| Gladiators, The. Whyte-Melville, 8, 1273.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Great Queen, is this a place for thee f 7. 2059.Great Stone Fsce, The. Hawthorne. 18. 5898.Great Stone of Eardls, The. Stockton. 19. 9105.               |
| GLADSTONE, WILLIAM EWART.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Freat Stone of Eardis, The. Stockton. 19. 9105.                                                                                                                  |
| Ethics of the fictors Age. 20. 9359.1                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | irecian Sanset, A. Byron. 2, 575.                                                                                                                                |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Fredan Urn, Odo on a. Aeats. 2. 144.                                                                                                                             |
| "Gnlistan" of Sa'di. 4, 1574. Glooms of the live-oaks. 20, 9533.                                                                                                                                                                                      | Greece and Rome. Shelley. 2. 790.                                                                                                                                |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | rreces and some. Shelley. 2. 490. Freece, Indianoce of. Curtius. 10. 4755. Freece, The Last Two Oracles of. 2. 540. Speece, The Last Two Oracles of. 2. 540.     |
| Glory of Athens, The. Milton. 2 931.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Greece, The Isles of. Byron. 2. 555.Greece, The Last Two Oracles of. 2. 540.                                                                                 |
| Glory of the Imperfect, The. Palmer. 17. 8197.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Freece under the Romans. Finlay. 10. 4767.                                                                                                                       |
| Goal of Life, The. Du Maurier. 16, 7555.                                                                                                                                                                                                              | reek Anthology, Wit and Satire of the. 2. 541.                                                                                                                   |
| GOBINEAU, JOSEPH A. DE. The Escape of the Lovers. 20.9484.                                                                                                                                                                                            | reek History after the Conquest of                                                                                                                               |
| Glory of Attens, The. Milton. 2 951. Glory of the Imperiect, The. Palmer. 17. 5197. Gosl of Life, The. Du Maurier. 16. 7555. GOBINEAU, JOSEPH A. DE. The Escape of the Lovers. 20. 9484. Godfrey of Boulogne. Tasso. 4.1469. Godd Mandach Herm to the | Freek Anthology, Wit and Satire of the. 2. 541. Freek History after the Conquest of Greece. Finlay.  10. 4767.                                                   |
| God Merodach, Hymn to the. 1. 65.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | reer niving. Phiskin. 1. 430.                                                                                                                                    |
| God of our fathers. 19, 6322.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | reck, The Splendor of. Myers. 1. 529.                                                                                                                            |
| God of our fathers. 19, 8922 GGod prosper long our noble king. 4, 1753 GGod sare our gracious king. 19, 8921 G                                                                                                                                | reek Wit. 1. 305,                                                                                                                                                |
| God save our gracious king. 19 5921. God save the King. Carey. 19 5921. G                                                                                                                                                                             | reck Wit. 1. 805,REEN, JOHN RICHARD.The Independence of America. 15, 6326.                                                                               |
| God save the King. Carey. 19. 8321.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | The Independence of America. 15, 6326.                                                                                                                           |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Three Phases of English History. 6, 2545.Freen Mountain Boys, The. Thompson. 15, 1985.                                                                       |
| God's life, Sir. 11. 5141. God, The Christian Idea of. Clarke. 11. 5284. G                                                                                                                                                                            | reen Mountain Boys, The. Thompson. 15, 1985.Fret chers made ours Host. 4. 1803.                                                                              |
| Goothe and Bettins. Lewes. 11 tags   G                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ret chers made ours Host, 4. 1803,                                                                                                                               |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                  |

| Vol. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | VOL PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                    |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Grettis Saca. The Morns and Mag-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Happy Valler, The Johnson. 9, 4154.HARDY, THOMAS. From "Under                                                                                                            |
| nuscon, TransGREY, LADY JANE. Amsworth. 6. 2474.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | HARDY, THOMAS. From "Under                                                                                                                                                   |
| GREY, LADY JANE. Amsworth. 6, 2474. Gridiron, The. Lover 13, 6057.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | the Greenwood Tree." 14. 6378.Harold & William the Conqueror. Hume. 3. 1416.                                                                                             |
| Grieving's a Folly D'bin 10, 4528.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Harp, take my bosom's burthen. 2. 1019.                                                                                                                                      |
| Gridron, The. Lover 13, 6057. Grieving's a Folly D'blin 10, 4528. GRIFFITH, R. T. H., Trans. Zulaikha. 5, 2155. Grigstof's Stathon Riley 19, 9104. GROTE, GEO. The Battle of Leuctra. 10, 4761.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Harp, take my bosom's burthen. 2, 1019.  HAERIS, JOEL CHANDLER. Sto- ries of Uncle Bemus. 15, 8765.  HAERISON, MRS. BURTON. An Fracounter with Indians. 20, 9556.            |
| GROTE, GEO. The Battle of Letters 10, 4761                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | ries of Uncle Remus. 15, 8765.HABBISON, MRS. BURTON. An                                                                                                                  |
| GROTH, KLAUS. Old Busum. 3, 1455.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Encounter with Indians. 20, 9556.                                                                                                                                            |
| Growth, Drawmond, 12 5888                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | IBACIC, FEANOS DEEL.                                                                                                                                                         |
| Guenn. Howard. 18. 2006.GUESI, LADY CHARLOTTE. Mana-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Her Letter.         15, 7222.           The Heathen Chines.         16, 7865.                                                                                                |
| wya inu the son of Liyr. 2. 1693.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | The Outcasts of Policy Flat. 20, 9305.                                                                                                                                       |
| GUINEY, LOUISE IMOGEN. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | The Rise of The Short Story. Int. Vol.xv. Hatchet, The Lost. Rabelais. 5. 2210.                                                                                              |
| Puppy A Portrait. GUIZOT, FRANÇOIS. Distinguish-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Hatchet, The Lost, Rabelais. 5, 2210. Haunted Palace, The. Poe. 15, 7122. Have you heard of the wonderful one-hore shay? 20, 2012.  Have you heard the posts tell 1 5, 5732. |
| ing Characteristics of European                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Have you heard of the wonderful 20,9212.                                                                                                                                     |
| Civilization. 13. 6179.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Have you not heard the poets tell? 19, 6752.                                                                                                                                 |
| Gulistan. Sa'di. 4. 1574. Gulliver, An Ancient. 2. 578                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | HAWEIS, HUGH REGINALD.                                                                                                                                                       |
| Gulliver's Travels. Swift.  6. 2547.  Gustavus Adolphus, The Times of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Street Music. 18, 8319.HAWKER, MARY ELIZABETH.                                                                                                                           |
| Gustavus Adolphus, The Times of Topelius. 7. 2021.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | HAWKER, MARY ELIZABETH.Cecilis de Noël 17. 8220.                                                                                                                         |
| GUTHRIE, THOMAS ANSTEY. An                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Cecilis de Noël 17. 8220.HAWKINS, ANTHONY HOPE. TheDolly Dialogues. 17. 8012.                                                                                        |
| Undergraduate's Aunt. 13, 6043.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Herribara Taiba Pontard 5 2215.                                                                                                                                              |
| Gwenhidwy, The Oppression of. Pez-cock. 3, 1001.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | IIA II THOILIE, OUBILIEIT ZONILLED                                                                                                                                           |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | FoolHAWTHORNE, NATHANIEL. 20. 9695.                                                                                                                                      |
| HAECKEL, ERNST HEINRICH.Scenery and Life in Ceylon. 20, 9592.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Circe's Palace. 1. 232.                                                                                                                                                      |
| Scenery and Life in Ceylon. 20, 9599.HAFIZ (Shems-ed-Din-Muhammad).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Dr. Heiderger's Experiment. 17. 7982.                                                                                                                                        |
| A Ghazal. 5, 2152.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Feathertop. 14, 6424.From "The Scarlet Letter." 15, 7053.Roger Malvin's Burisl. 12, 5767.                                                                            |
| Meditations. 5. 2154.HAGGARD, HENRY BIDER The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 1 Dones Maleinia Dreial 32 State.                                                                                                                                            |
| Adventure in the Cave. 17. S111.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | The Gorgon's Head. 2. 451. The Great Stone Face. 13, 5593.                                                                                                                   |
| Hail, Arielidee, Rhetorie's great pro-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | The Great Stone Face. 13. 5593.                                                                                                                                              |
| fester. 2. 543.Hail, Mother Earth, lie light on him. 2. 553.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | HAY, JOHN. Jim Bludso. 19, 9119.HAYLEY, WILLIAM, Trans. The                                                                                                              |
| Hail, ruddy Webas, golden goddess 1. 15.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Articans. U. 2402.                                                                                                                                                           |
| Hall to thee, Mithe epirit. 12.553.Haji Babs and the Etolen Money. Mo-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Hayne, Webster's Reply to. Webster. 15. 1201.                                                                                                                                |
| rier. 11. 5100.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | versition of Anthors. 11, 5000.                                                                                                                                              |
| HAKLUYT, PICHARD. A Reportof the Truth of the Fight about the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | "Headlong Hall." Pescock. 12, 5575.Health, A. Pinkney. 11, 4954.                                                                                                         |
| 19165 Of Azores. 6, 2012.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | HEARN, LAFCADIO. Jinjutsu. 16. 6511.Heart of England. The. White. 19. 8237.                                                                                              |
| HALE, EDWARD EVERETT. The Skeleton in the Closet. 20, 9291.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Heart of England, The. White, 19.833.Heart, The. Mack. 19.8453.                                                                                                          |
| HALLS A, HODO TO, Occasiona Dec                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Mear vie sieages.                                                                                                                                                            |
| tina. 17. 7914.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                              |
| HALIBURTON, THOMAS CHAND-LEP. Sam Ellek and the Nova                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Heaven is not reached.  Heaven is not reached.  He Gireth His Beloved Sleep. Browning. 17, 7572.  Heigh-hol daisies and buttercups.  16, 7647.                               |
| Scotians. 15. 7156.Halifax, Shaftesbury and. Macaulay. 7, 2269.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Heigh-hol datetes and buttercups. 16.7617.HEINE, HEINBICH. The Brocken-                                                                                                  |
| HALL, MRS. SAMUEL CARTER.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 1 have 11, 5307.                                                                                                                                                             |
| Depending upon Others. 12. 5550. HALLECK, FITZ-GREENE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | He jests at scars. 5, 2005.                                                                                                                                                  |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | He lay upon his dying bed. 11, 4915.Hell-fer-Sarisin. Fox. 18, 8763.                                                                                                     |
| Marco Bozzaris. 17. 7941.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | HELPS, ARTHUR.                                                                                                                                                               |
| Hamelin Town's in Brunewick. 5, 230.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Thoughts in the Cloister and the Crowd. 17.7501.                                                                                                                             |
| Marco Bozzaris. 15, 7018. Marco Bozzaris. 15, 7021. Hamelin, The Pied Piper of. Browning. 5, 2000. Hamelin Tourn's in Erunewick. 5, 2000. HAMLETON, PHILIP GILBEET. The Power of Time. HAMILTON, ALEXANDER. General Power of National Taxation. 11, 4241.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Unrezsonable Claims in Social Affec-                                                                                                                                         |
| HAMILTON, ALEXANDER.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | tions and Relations. 16, 7521. HEMANS, FELICIA D.                                                                                                                            |
| General Power of National Taxation, 11, 4941.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Carobianes 10.400.                                                                                                                                                           |
| General Power of National Taxation, 11, 4241.  Powers conferred by New Constitution in Regard to National Forces, 11, 4225.  HAMILTON, COUNT ANTHONY.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | The Hour of Death. 12. 5100. The Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers 15. 6825.                                                                                                    |
| HAMILTON, COUNT ANTHONY.  Adventures of Count Grammont. 7. 8187.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | The Hour of Death. 12, 5765. The Isading of the Pilgrim Fathers 15, 6825. Heman's Ma. Brown. 17, 6154. Heman's Ma. Brown. 17, 6154.                                          |
| Hismlet in the Churchward, Shake-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Hence, loathed Melancholy. 6. 2274.                                                                                                                                          |
| spears. 6. 2575. Hand of Lincoln The Stadman 19 6621                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Hence, tain, deluding Joye. 6. 2578.Henrietta. Duchess of Orleans, Funeral                                                                                               |
| Taractura in the contract of t | Oration on. Bossuet. 7. 2079.                                                                                                                                                |
| Harribal as Strategist and Soldier                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Oration on. Bossuet. 7. 2079. HENRY, PATRICK. Address before the Convention of Delegates, March                                                                              |
| Livy. 2. 791.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 74 7777                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Livy. 2. 791. Happy Life, A. Martial 1. 110. Happy Life, A. Wotton. Happy the rice is busy schemes. 2. 667.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Henry Wharton's Escape. Cooper. 15.694. "Heptameron." Stories from the. Mar-                                                                                                 |
| Happy the man in buey schemes. 2. 952.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | garet of Navarre. 5, 2102.                                                                                                                                                   |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                              |

| yar nia                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | -                                                                                                                                            |                |                         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------|-------------------------|
| Hersclitus and Democritus, Satire on.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Hither thou com'et                                                                                                                           |                | PAGE3368            |
| Prior. 2, 65                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | I HOBBES, THOMAS. Of the Liberty                                                                                                             | y              |                         |
| HERBERT, GEORGE. Demeanor in Church. 7. 836                                                                                                                                                                                                           | of Subjects.                                                                                                                                 | 7.             | 3388                    |
| Sweet Day, so Cool. 7, 829                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                              | 10.a       | 8291                    |
| Herbert, The Life of Mr. George.Walton. 7.836                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Life in the Fifth Century.                                                                                                                   | 3.             | 1153                    |
| Horoules The Labora of 1. 86                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | THE THE TENT OF THE TOTAL                                                                                                                    |                | 7867                    |
| Here bathed the Graces. 2. 60                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Holiday, A. Allingham.                                                                                                                       | 20.            | 73679331            |
| Here, Charmian, take my bracelets. 19, 914                                                                                                                                                                                                            | HOLLAND, J. G. Gradatim.                                                                                                                     | 18.            | . 5597                  |
| Hereditary Genios. Galton. 18, 850                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | From "The Autocrat of the Break                                                                                                              | _              |                         |
| Here in this gutter let mo dio. 10. 474Here lies sweet Isabell in bed. 12. 547                                                                                                                                                                    | WILDELM, Gampler's Luck. Holday, A. Allingham. HOLLAND, J. G. Gradatim. HOLMES, OLIVER WENDELL. From "The Autocrat of the Break fist Table." | 14.            | 6937.                   |
| Man Lotton Marto 15 700                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 1 110 1155 11611,                                                                                                                            | 20.            | 6917.9302.          |
| Hermit, Tho. Parnoll.  HEINODOTUS. The Story of Cresus.  Heros at Troy. The. Shakespeare.  Heros at Troy. The. Shakespeare.  1. 17  Horole Age, Ethics of the. Gladstone.  20. 935  Herolsm in Housekeeping. Carlyle.  HERON. MATILDA. Trans. Camillo | The One-Hoss Shay. Holy Living. Taylor. HOMER.                                                                                               | 7.             | 8854.                   |
| Heroos at Troy, The. Shakespeare. 1. 170                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Dido in Loro.                                                                                                                                | 1.             | 342.                    |
| Horoic Age, Ethics of the. Gladatone. 20, 935;                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Odyssous and the Princess Nansicaa.                                                                                                          | 1.             | 277.                    |
| HERON, MATILDA, Trans. Camillo                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                              | 1.             | 818.                    |
| HERON, MATILDA, Trans. Camillo and Armand. 18, 8530                                                                                                                                                                                                   | The Contention of Achilles and Aga-                                                                                                          |                |                         |
| HERRICK, ROBERT,A Defenso for Women. 7.835:                                                                                                                                                                                                       | inemnon.                                                                                                                                     | 1.             | 193.                    |
| Beauty and Dress. 17. 7930                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | The parting of Odyssens and Calypso. Homor and his Translators. Arnold. Homer. Chapman's. On First Looking                                   | 1.             | 264.145.            |
| Delight in Disorder. 7. 8859Julia. 17. 7930                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Homer, Chapman's, On First Looking                                                                                                           | •              |                         |
| 7 0050                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Into. Keats. Homer On Translations of Tennyson.                                                                                              | 1.             | 224.224.            |
| To Discours 7 235                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Homer, Translations of. Butcher and                                                                                                          |                |                         |
| To Daffodils 7. 8353                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Lang.                                                                                                                                        | 1,             | 810.                    |
| To Keep a Truo Lent. 7. 3337To the Virgius to Make Much of                                                                                                                                                                                        | 'i Sheller.                                                                                                                                  | 1.             | 88.                     |
| Time. 1. 8335                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Honesty in Tatters. Dibdin.                                                                                                                  | 10.            | 4529.                   |
| Hervé Riel. Browning. 7. 8320                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Honor and Desert. Petmore. Honoria. Patmoro. HOOD, THOMAS.                                                                                   | 11.            | 5341.5338.          |
| HEYWOOD, THOMAS. Pack Clouds away. 6. 2711                                                                                                                                                                                                            | HOOD, THOMAS.                                                                                                                                |                |                         |
| HIGGINSON, THOMAS WENT-                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Fair Ines.                                                                                                                                   | 14.            | 6707.62 63 . |
| WORTH, Women and Men. 16, 7511High as the sun. 8, 1453                                                                                                                                                                                            | I Remember, I Remember                                                                                                                       | 18             | arra                    |
| High on a throne. 7.8226                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | I Remember, I Remember. The Bridge of Sighs. The Deathbed.                                                                                   | 12.            | 5572.6054.6094. |
| High Tido on the Coast of Lincolnshire. Ingelow. 17. 8008                                                                                                                                                                                             | The Story of 'Lorn Light.                                                                                                                    | 18.            | 6094.                   |
| Wigh scalls and hugs the hody may                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | HOPE, ANTHONY. The Dolly Dis-                                                                                                                |                | 8012.                   |
| confine. 18, $536  Hls Duty. Thenet. 20, 9450                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Hope, The Pleasures of. Campbell.HORACE.                                                                                                 | 12.            | 5400.                   |
| His Mother's Service to Our Lady. Villou. 5. 2158.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Alaklas                                                                                                                                      |                | 962,                    |
| His Pulful Song Dante. 4, 1700*                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Book III., Ode 1. Book III., Ode 2. Book III., Ode 3. Book III., Ode 5. Gharitable Jndgments.                                                | cicio.         | 956                     |
| Historio Doubts relativo to NapoleonBuonaparte. Whateley. 20. 9400.Historie of King Arthur, The. Malory. 3. 1179                                                                                                                              | Book III., Ode 2.                                                                                                                            | 2.             | 958.                    |
| Historie of King Arthur, The. Malory. 3. 1179                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Book III., Odo 5.                                                                                                                            | 2.             | 959.961.            |
| of Rolinghroke. 8, 3791.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Charitable Judgments.                                                                                                                        | 2.             | 967.                    |
| History of a Montanti of Bread. Macc. 18, 8483.                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                              | 2.             | 956.965.            |
| History of Civilization in England.Buckle. 20, 9355.                                                                                                                                                                                              | To Mæcenas.To Thallarchus.                                                                                                               | 2.             | 955.                    |
| Buckle. 20, 9355.History of England. Von Ranke. 6, 2673.                                                                                                                                                                                          | Horatian Ode, An. Marvell.Horatins. Macaulay.                                                                                            | 1.             | 850.438.            |
| History of England. Von Ranke. 6, 2678,History of Enropean Morals. Lecky. 18, 8462,History of Football in England. Shear-                                                                                                                     | Horn of Roland, The. O'Hogan, Trans. Horns to bulls wise Nature lends. HOUGHTON, RICHARD MILNES, LORD. Lady Moon.                            | 8. 1           | 438.410.            |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | HOUGHTON, RICHARD MILNES                                                                                                                     | 1.             | 109.                    |
| History of Franco. Michelet. 7, 3153, History of Greece, Curtins. 10, 4756, History of John Bull, The. Arbnthnot. 8, 8598, History of Napoleon, Tho. Lanfrey. 10, 4701. History of New York, Knickerbocker's.                                         | LORD. Lady Moon. 1 Hours in a Library. Stephen. Hours of Exercise in the Alps. Tyndall, 1 Honse of Usher, The Fall of the. Poe. 1            | 6. 7           | 749.                    |
| History of Greece, A. Grote. 10. 4761.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Hours in a Library, Stephen.                                                                                                                 | 2. 5:9. 3: | 765.918             |
| History of John Bull, The. Arbnthnot. 8, 8593.History of Napoleon, Tho. Lanfrey. 10, 4701.                                                                                                                                                        | Honrs of Exercise in the Alps. Tyndall, 1Honse of Usher, The Fall of the. Poe. 1HOWARD, BLANCHE WILLIS.                              | 6. 70          | 509.                    |
| Ristory of New York, Knickerbocker's.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | HOWARD. BLANCHE WILLIS.                                                                                                                      | 2, 57          | 189.                    |
| 17 ting,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | The Washerwomen. 1                                                                                                                           | 8. 86          | 566. ·                  |
| McCarthy, 20, 9686.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | How Brichantean almost saved theEmperor. Claretie.                                                                                       | 8. 85          | 181.                    |
| History of Rome, Mommsen. 10, 4769.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | How does the water come down. 1                                                                                                              | 2. 55          | S4.                     |
| History of the Decline and Fall of theRoman Empire. Gibbon. 10, 4603.                                                                                                                                                                             | How does the water come down.  HOWE, JULIA WARD. Battle Hymn of the Republic.                                                                | 5. TS          | 307.                    |
| Roman Empire. Gibbon. 10, 4603. History of the Rebellion and Civil Wars in England. Hyde. 6, 2831.                                                                                                                                                    | HOWELL, JAMES. The Monarchy                                                                                                                  |                |                         |
| History of the Romans under the                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | of Spain.HOWELLS, WILLIAM DEAN. April                                                                                                    | 8. 87          | 51.                     |
| History of the Romans under theEmpire, Merivale. 10, 4776                                                                                                                                                                                         | Hopes. 18                                                                                                                                    | 3. 85          |                         |
| History of the United States. Bancroft. 11, 4902History of the United States.                                                                                                                                                                     | How Gunther went to Issland to woo                                                                                                           | s. 84   | 55.                     |
| MacMaster 10. 4715.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | How Gunther went to Issland to woo Branhild. Lettsom, Trans.                                                                                 | 1. 15          | 40.                     |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                              |                |                         |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | VOL. FAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| How happy is he born. Vol. PAGE. 6. 2539.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Hyon became a Nun. Dear. 14, 6377.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| How happy is he born. 6. 2539. HOWITT, MARY. The Spider and the                                                                                                                                                                                           | Ignatins Loyola, Hughes. 5, 2367.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Fly. 11. 5097.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| HOWITT, WILLIAM The Wind in a                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | I have done one braver thing. 6. 2830.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Frolic. 18. 8334.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | I have had playmates. 17. £293.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Howl, howl, howl! 6, 2572.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Theard the sounding of the midnight                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Hom little recks it schere men lie 15 7319.                                                                                                                                                                                                               | hour. 20. 9284.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| How long, hard Prodice, am I to kneel? 2. 517.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | I know a maiden fair to see. 14. 6499.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| kneel? 2. 517.How say we have no clothes? 11. 5263.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | I know Cythera long is desolate. 19, 9219. I leaned out of window. 16, 7647.                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| How say its hare no clothes? 11. 5263.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | I leaned out of scindow. 16. 7647. 11iad, The. Homer. 1. 193.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| How Setanta, the Hero of the Tain, re-ceived the Name of Cuchollin, the                                                                                                                                                                               | I'll hunt for dangers. 11. 5312.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Hound of Cullan. 3, 1026.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Ill thoughts breed fear. 13. 5871.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| How sleep the brave. Collins. 8. 3791.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Illustrations of Universal Progress.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| How's my Boy? Dobell. 16, 7056.                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Spencer. 16, 7561.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Huddling they came. 2. 501.Hndibras. Bntler. 7. 3839.                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Imitation as a Factor in Nation-Making. Bagehot. 19, 6899.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Huddbras. Batter. 7. 3839. HUGHES, THOMAS. From "Tom Brown's School Days." 13. 5935. HUGHES, REV. THOMAS. Igna-                                                                                                                                           | Bagehot. 19. 8899. Imitation of Christ, The. A Kempis. 5. 2103.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Brown's School Days." 19. 5955.                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Imitation of Christ, The. A Kempis. 5. 2103.Imperfect, The Glory of the. Palmer. 17. 8197.                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| HUGHES, REV. THOMAS. Igna-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Impressions of Russia, Brandes. 18, 8526.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| tins Loyola and his Work. 5. 2367.                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Imprisonment, Pellico. 11. 5094.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| HUGO, VICTOR.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | I'm sitting alone by the fire. 15. 7223.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| A Fight with a Cannon 18, 5849.                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | In an umbrageous tale the seniors                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| The Bell-Ringer of Notro Dame. 5. 2059.Huldah the Prophetess. Wiggin. 20. 9538.                                                                                                                                                                       | meet. 6. 2457. In April. Gelbel. 11. 5202.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Human Abstract, The. Blake. 10. 4456.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | In April. Geibel. 11. 5202.Inangural Address. Carlyle. 18. 5345.                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| HIME DATTE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Inangural Address, Second. Lincoln. 15. 7288.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Huldah the Prophetess. Wiggin. 20, 9533. Human Abstract, The. Blake. HUME, DAVID. Episodes of English History. 3, 1416.                                                                                                                                   | In a calley, centuries ago. 18. 8501.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| The excited.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | In blossoms the Wistaria tree to-day, 16, 7864.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Hungarisa Election, A. Edtrös. 11.5293.HUNGERFORD, MRS. MARGARET.                                                                                                                                                                                     | In candent ire the colar eplendor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| HUNGERFORD, MRS. MARGARET.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | flames. 14, C357.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Cyra and Cecurs. 11. ev.v.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Incoherence of the Objectious to the Constitution. Madison. 11, 4946.                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Hunger, perhaps, may cure your love. 2. 549.                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Independence of America. The. Green, 15, 6226.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Huns at Reichenau, The. Von Scheffel. 8. 1377.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Independence of America, The. Green. 15, 6926.Independence, The Declaration of.                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Huuter and the Wolf. The. Pilosy. 4. 1777.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Jefferson. 15, 6944.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Hunter from Greece, The. Bowring. 4. 1504.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Indian Air, Lines to au. Shelley. 17, 8218. Indians and the Whites, The. Roose-                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| HUNT LEHIN                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | relt. 11. 4955.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Angling. 6. 2005.A Non. 14. City.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | velt. 11. 4950.Iudians, An Encounter with. Harrison. 20. 9556.                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| A Nnn. 14. Civit. Huntsman, The. Chateanbriand. 10. 4689.                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Indolence, The Castle of, Thomson, 8, 8506.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Huntsman, The Wild. Scott. 9, 4007.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | l Indea Tiela beather of the ana. of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Husband and Wife. Patmore. 11. 5342.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | fire. 1. 12. Inferno, The. Dante. 8. 1098.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Husband and his Wife, A. Pilpay. 4. 1776.Husband, The Restoration of a. Reade. 8. 3697.                                                                                                                                                               | fire. 1, 12 Inferno, The. Dante. 8, 1098, Inferno, The. Dante. 4, 1687. Inferno, The. Dante. Cur-                                                                                                                                                                                |
| HUXLEY, THOMAS HENRY, The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Jufinence of Greece on its People. Cur-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Husband and his Wife, A. Pipay. 4. 1716. Husband, The Restoration of a. Reade. 8. 3607. HUXLEY, THOMAS HENRY, The Investigation of Life. 19. 8459.                                                                                                        | tius. 10.4756.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| min to romen summy area frances.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | INGELOW, JEAN. Songs of Seven. 15, 7644. The High Tide on the Coast of Lin-                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Keble. 11. 5151.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | The High Tide on the Coast of Lin-colnshire. 17. 8003.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Hymn of Apollo. Shelley. 18. 8312.Hymn to the God Merodach. 1. 65.                                                                                                                                                                                    | Ingoldshy Abbey is fair to see. 4. 1514.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Hypen To The Moon, Homer's Sheller, 18, 8313.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Involdaby Lerenda, Barham. 12.5523.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Hymn To The Moon, Homer's. Epelley. 18. 8313.Hyperion. Keats. 1. 357.                                                                                                                                                                                 | Ingoldsby Legends. Barham. 16, 7517.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Hyperion. Keats.Hypocrite Unmasked, The. Molière. 1. 357.7. 8172.                                                                                                                                                                                 | Ingoldsby Penance, The. Barham. 4.1506.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Inheritance, The. Ferrier. 12, 5001.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| I adore thee as much as the raults of night. 15.8547.                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Ingoldeby Abbey is fair to see. 4. 1514. Ingoldeby Legends. Barham. 12. 5593. Ingoldeby Legends. Barham. 16. 7517. Ingoldeby Penance, The. Barham. 4. 1506. Inheritance, The. Ferrier. 12. 5604. In Hilding's manor, broad and fair, 11. 5186. In holy meetings, there a man may |
| I am dying, Egypt, dying. 2. 913.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| I am monarch of all I surrey. 8. 8510.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| I arise from dreams of thee. 17. 8218.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Inland Voyage, An. Stevenson. 13. 6099. In lowly date, fast by a river's side. 8. 3506.                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| IBSEN, HENRIK. Nora's Resolve. 16, 7777.  I care not for the idle state. 11, 5076.                                                                                                                                                                        | In lowly date, fast by a river's side. 8. 3395. In Marget's Garden. MacLaren. 19. 9068. In Memoriam, Tennyson. 17. 7515.                                                                                                                                                         |
| I. Catherine, am. a. Donalas horn. 4, 1836.                                                                                                                                                                                                               | In Marget's Garden. MacLaren. 19.9068. In Memoriam, Tennyson. 17.7515. In other men we faults can epy. 8.3487.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Ichabod. Whittier. 13. 5552.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | I in other men ite jaulis can ppy. 8. 3491.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 1 Communed thus. 8, 3553.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Insanity of Cain, The. Dodge. 20. 9465.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Ideal Arab Heroine, An. 3. 1240. Idle Thoughts of an Idle Fellow.                                                                                                                                                                                         | Insomnia, Thomson. 20, 9254.Inspector General, The. Gogol. 19, 9165.                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Idle Thoughts of an Idle Fellow.  Jerome. 18.8429.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | "Institutes of the Christian Religion."                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| I'd "read" three hours 2 607                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Prefatory Address to the. Calvin. 5. 2353.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| I'd "read" three hours. 2. 697. Idu believe in Freedom's cause. 15. 7285.                                                                                                                                                                                 | The Parameter The December 90 9511                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| If all the world and love were young. 6.2902.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | In tathered old elippers. 18. 8360. In Temptation. Wesley. 11. 5003.                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| If a reteran author had wished to                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | in Tempiation, Wester.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 4, boy, thy thoughts of me were kind. 11. 6261.                                                                                                                                                                                                           | In the beginning there was neither. 1. 16. In the beginning was the Word. 5. 1955.                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| engage. 2. 662. If, boy, thy thoughte of me were kind. 11. U261. If ear thee, ancient Mariner. 2. 5861. If Aghling for his dear returnal soil 1. 474                                                                                                      | I In the arreness of our tallers. 12. 300 i.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| If I have singed in ast                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | In the last low cottage. 11.45%.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| of a teleran duthor had wished to engage. 2. 662. If, boy, thy thoughts of me neere kind. 11. 1261. I fear thee, ancient Mariner. 12. 5851. If Mohing for his dear paternal coil. 1. 474. If I have sinved in act. 17. 7848. If the Coy to one. 11. 4354. | In the low-raftered garret. 10. 4869. In the midet of our laughter. 10. 4789.                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| If that bold one of Shirae, 5.2172.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | In the midway of this our mortal life. 4. 1639.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

| Vol. bear                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| In the sweet solllude of this calm place. 7, 2005                                                                             | Jane Eyre's Fortunes. Bronte. 13. 6265.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| In the Tolls, Freetag, 18 7-86                                                                                                | Jane Eyre's Fortunes. Bronte. 13. 6265.Japaneso Poems. Chamberlain, Trans. 16. 7362.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| in the lear 13. Reuter. 11. Sola                                                                                              | Jean and Bettina. Halevy. 17. 7014.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| intimations of Ininortality. Words.                                                                                           | JEBB, RICHARD CLAVERHOUSE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Worth. 12 5429                                                                                                                | Pindar.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Into the Breach. Shakespeare. 6. 2606                                                                                         | LIFFEPSON THOUSE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| invention or Composition in Painting.                                                                                         | The Character of Washington. 15. 6963. The Declaration of Independence. 15. 6944.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Da Vinci. 5, 2052                                                                                                             | The Declaration of Independence. 15, 6944.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Investigation of Life, The. Huxley. 18, 8489                                                                                  | (DERIVINGO, WILLIAM, IIANS.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Investing Sky, Hymn to the. Monler-                                                                                           | A Challenge. 11. 5261.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Williams.                                                                                                                     | Comrades in War Time. 11. 5263.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Invincible Armada, The. Schiller. 6, 2072                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| In Virgo now the sultry sun did shrene. 9, 4200                                                                               | The Absent Husband. 11. 5262.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Involuntary Impostor, An. Gogol. 19, 9165,In Xanadu did Kubla Khan. 16, 7850.                                             | JEROME, JEROME K. On being Hard Up. JERPOLD, DOUGLAS. 18. 8429.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|                                                                                                                               | Hard Up. 18, 8429.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| I picked and picked the mouse cors. 11, 5262I prithec send me back my heart. 6, 2903,                                     | Mrs. Caudle's Umbrella Lecture. 18, 6054.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| I Promessi Sposi. Manzoni. 5. 2398                                                                                            | Mr. Caudie has lent Five Pounds to a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| lean indeed is come with all his mass a con-                                                                                  | Friend. 12, 5661.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Ireland, A Tour in. Young. 9. 4330.                                                                                           | Jerusalem delivered. Tasso. 4. 1469.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| I Remember, I Remember. Hood. 13 6336.                                                                                        | Jerusalem delivered. Tasso. 4. 1469.Jerusalem, The Capturo of. Gibbon. 4. 1457.Jerusalem, The Last Journey to.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Irma's Remorso. Auerbach. 19, 9182                                                                                            | Jernsalem, The Last Journey to.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| IRVING, WASHINGTON.                                                                                                           | I Renan. 18, 6472.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Knickerbocker's History of New York, 15, 682;                                                                                 | JESSOPP, AUGUSTUS. Villago Life                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Reflections on the Moslem Domina.                                                                                             | in England Six Hundred Tears Ago. 4. 1624.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| tion in Spain 3, 1936                                                                                                         | Jests, Footo, 9. 4228.Jesus, lover of my soul. 11. 5003.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| The Alhambra, 3, 1236                                                                                                         | Jesus, lorer of my soul. 11, 5003. Jesus, The Character of. Bushnell. 11, 5251. Jesus, The Life of. Renan. 18, 8472.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| The Golden Reign of Wouter Van                                                                                                | Jesus, The Character of. Bushnell. 11, 5251.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Twiller. 15. 68:0.                                                                                                            | Jesus, The Life of. Renan. 18, 8472.Jeweled Drinking Cup. Stoddard. 19, 8858.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Twiller. 15. 68:0. Is a Black Woman one of the Fair Sext Meleager. 2. 149. Luid to be robe to fiel                            | JEWETT, SARAH ORNE. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Box? Meleager. 2. 649.                                                                                                        | Bowden Reunion. 18. 8783.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 2 some to net unen some jetter 3, 1239                                                                                        | Josephus, 10, 4782.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| I said "To-morrow!" 18, 8724.  I saw him once before. 15, 6917.                                                               | Liow of Malta, The. Marlowe. 6, 2491-95.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| I saw him once before. 15. 6917. I seorn and shun the rabble's noise. 2, 956.                                                 | Lin Ringso. Hav. IV. 1119.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| I scorn and shun the rabble's noise. 2, 956. I shall sol fa you. 6, 2791.                                                     | Jujutsu. Hearn. 18, 8511.  Joan of Arc, Trial and Death of.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| I shall sot fa you.  I slag not lore of ladies.  6. 2701.  6. 2455.                                                           | Joan of Arc, Trial and Death of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| I sing of Pope. S. 3469.                                                                                                      | Michelet. 7. 8158.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| I sing the love of a Provençal maid. 18, 8458.                                                                                | Jocular Oratory. Qointilian. 2. 915. John Bull, The History of. Arbuthnot. 8. 8593, John Bull and his Island. O'Rell. 14. 6500.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| I sleep and rest, my heart makes monn, 16, rais                                                                               | John Bull, The History of. Arbuthnot, 8, 8593,John Bull and his Island. O'Rell. 14, 6500.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Isle of Triboulen, Tho. Duinas 18, 6326, Isles of Greeco, The. Byron. 2, 555.                                                 | John Gilpin, The Diverting History of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Isles of Greeco, The. Byron. 2, 555.                                                                                          | Cowper. 10. 4423.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| In this a fact to keep. 7. 3357.                                                                                              | John Ridd and the Doones. Blackmore. 8 3629.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 1 11000 in Fenice. 5, 2057.                                                                                                   | John Halifax, Gentleman, Mulock. 16, 7735.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Istar, The Adventures of Smith. 1. I. Italian Freedom, The Crushing of.                                                       | John Ridd and the Doones. Blackmore, 8, 3629.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Italian Freedom, The Crushing of.                                                                                             | Liohnson, Dr., Remunscences of, 1905                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Bymonds. 6. 2163.                                                                                                             | 1 10011 9.4224.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Italian Literature, De Stock. 12, 5412, Italian Novellsta, The. Lando, 5, 2135, Italian Practical Joking. Boecaccio. 4, 1793. | Johnson, Dr. Birrell. 9. 4251.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Italian Practical Joking. Boecaccio. 4, 1793.                                                                                 | JOHNSON, DR. SAMUEL. Essays. 9, 4145.The Happy Valley. 9, 4154.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| ttalian Renaissance, The. Symonds. 6, 2163, Italy, On Leaving. Ochleuschiager. 18, 8517.                                      | The Happy Valley. 9. 4164.  Johnson, Rossiter. Ninety-nine in the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Italy, On Leaving. Ochleuschinger. 18, 8517.                                                                                  | Shade. 15. 7157.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| It has pained me in the heart. 3, 1450,                                                                                       | I Talan at the Westernth Lantury The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Il is an ancient Mariner. 12, 5361                                                                                            | JONES, SIR WILLIAM, Trans. A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| It little profits that an idle king.                                                                                          | JONES, SIR WILLIAM, Trans. A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| I traveled through a land of men. 10, 4483,                                                                                   | Gistal of Halls.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| It was not then a poet's dream. 11. 5152                                                                                      | JONSON, BEN.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| It was on a Morn.       11, 5066.         Ivanhoe, Scott.       4, 1518.                                                      | Explorata; or, Discoveries. 6. 2784. To Cella. 6. 2782.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Ivanhoe. Scott. 4. 1518. Pre set my heart upon nothing you see. 16. 7580.                                                     | To Cella. 6. 2132. To the Memory of Shakespears. 6. 2616                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| lvry, The Battle of. Macaulay. 5. 2317.                                                                                       | Joseph Andrews. Fielding. 9, 8971.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| I wandered in the forest. 17. 8252.                                                                                           | JOSEPHUS, FLAVIUS, The Jewish                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| I wish I kenned my Moggle's mind. 16. 7321                                                                                    | War. 10. 4102.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 200.0022                                                                                                                      | Towns Intime Amiel 16, 7664.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Jackdaw of Rheims. Barham 16. 7517.                                                                                           | Journal of the Plague Year. Defec. 6. 2802.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Jack Hazard and the Chatfords. Trow-                                                                                          | Journal of the Plague Year. Defee. 6. 2802.JOWETT, BENJAMIN, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| bridge. 20. 9422.                                                                                                             | The Destruction of the Athenians at                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| JACKSON, HELEN HUNT. Spinning 18, 8676.                                                                                       | Syracuse. 2. 698.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| James 1, of Scots, 20th February, 1437.                                                                                       | The Greatness of Athens. 1. 412.  Joy. Garnett. 18. 6290.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Rossetti. 4. 1836.                                                                                                            | The state of the s |
| JAMES, HENRY. The Romance ofCertain Old Ciothes. 18. 8677.                                                                | JUDD, SYLVESTER. Margaret goes to Meeting 11. 5298.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| The Future of the Novel. Intro. to                                                                                            | to Meeting 11. 5298.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Vol. xiv.                                                                                                                     | Julia Herrica. 11. 1850.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| JAMES, H. R., Trans. The Vanity of                                                                                            | Inline Cæsar. Shakespeare. 2, 849.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Vol. xiv.  JAMES, H. R., Trans. The Vanity of Fortnne's Gifts. Boethius. 3. 1837.                                             | Jumping Frog. The. Clemens. 14. 0553. UNIUS Letters 9. 4280.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| JAMI. Zulaikha. 5. 2155.                                                                                                      | UNIUS Letters 9. 4280.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|                                                                                                                               | Just for a handful of silver. 13. 5883.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|                                                                                                                               | Ъ                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |

| TOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | TOL PAGE                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Justina's Temptation. Calderon. 7. 2003.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | LA FONTAINE, see Fontaine.                                                                                                                                                                        |
| JUVENALIS, DECIMUS JUNIUS.  The Tenth Satire.  3. 1120.                                                                                                                                                                                              | Lalla Rookh, Moore, 12, 5485.                                                                                                                                                                     |
| The Tenth Satire. 3. 1120.Juventus Mondi. Gladstone. 20, 9350.                                                                                                                                                                                   | LAMARTINE, ALPHONSE MARIELOUISDE. Last Night and Execu-                                                                                                                                       |
| 29, 8000,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | tion of the Girondists. 10. 4650.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Kai Khorrau sat in a garden. 4. 1592.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | LAMB, CHARLES.                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Kalee's Shrine. Allen. 16, 7750.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | A Dissertation upon Roast Pig. 12. 5557.                                                                                                                                                          |
| Kalevala, From the. Crawford, Trans. 7.2051.Kandshar, The Lovers of. De Gobl-                                                                                                                                                                    | Confessions of a Drunkard. 14. 6761.                                                                                                                                                              |
| nean. 20.9454.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Grace before Meat. 16, 7213.Letter to Thomas Manning. 13 6306.                                                                                                                                |
| KEATS, JOHN. Hyperion. 1, 207.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Letter to Thomas Hanning. 13 6306. The Old Familiar Faces. 17, 8203.                                                                                                                              |
| Ode on a Grecian Urn. 2, 744.                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Lamb. Charles. Birrell. 12, 5594.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| On First 1908102 1809 Chanman's                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | The Old Familiar Faces. 17, 8200, Lamb, Charles, Birrell. 12, 5594, LAMBERT, TALLMADGE A., Trans.                                                                                                 |
| Homer. 1. 224.Robin Hood. 14. 6519.                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 10 directors. 2. vol.                                                                                                                                                                             |
| The Triumph of Bacchus 1, 426.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Lament of a Discarded Wife. Jennings,Trans. 11. 5262.                                                                                                                                         |
| KEBLE, JOHN, Hymn for Fourth                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Lamplighter, The. Commins. 15, 6309.                                                                                                                                                              |
| Sunday after Tribity. 11, 5151.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Lamplighter, The. Commins. 15, 6399.LAMSON, MARION, Trans. Died at                                                                                                                            |
| Keen your undrest familiar style. 11, 5249.KEMPIS, THOMAS A. The Imita-                                                                                                                                                                          | Sea. 18, 8453.                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| tion of Christ. 5, 2163.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers in NewEngland, The. Hemans. 15, 6525.                                                                                                                          |
| Kenigratia, Beatl. 6 9/97                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | England, The. Hemans. 15, 6525,LANDO, ORTENSIO. A Lover of                                                                                                                                    |
| KEY, FRANCIS SCOTT. The State                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 1 Idea. 5.2135.                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | LANDOR, WALTER SAVAGE.                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Kidnapped. Stevenson. 14. 6557.King Arthur, The Historic of, Malory. 2, 1179.                                                                                                                                                                    | Achilles and Helena. 1. 224.Menelaus and Helen at Troy. 1. 229.                                                                                                                               |
| King Dathy's Death. Mangan. 3. 1013.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Thrasymedes end Ennoc. 2. 728.                                                                                                                                                                    |
| KING, HENRY, Execut. 9 2015                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Virgit Dido. 1. 30).                                                                                                                                                                              |
| King Lear, The Death of. Shakespeare. 6, 2572.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | LANE-POOLE, STANLEY, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                       |
| King Lear, The Death of Shakespeare. 6, 2572.Kingmaker, Warwick the. Oman. 5, 1245.King of Denmark's Elde. Norton. 16, 7039.                                                                                                                 | Mohammed's Writings. 3, 1217.LANFREY, PIERRE. The Murder of                                                                                                                                   |
| King of Denmark's Elde. Oman. 5, 1915. King of Denmark's Elde. Norton. 16, 7029. KINGSLAKE, ALEXANDER WILL LIAM. Lady Hester Standape. 11, 5125. KINGSLEY, CHARLES. The Defeat of the Armsds. 6, 5719.                                               | the Due D'Enchien. 10, 4701.                                                                                                                                                                      |
| LIAM. Lady Hester Stanhope. 11, 5125.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | LANG, ANDREW. The Odyssey. 1. 313.                                                                                                                                                                |
| KINGSLEY, CHARLES.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | l Pistalaŭ 1. aul.                                                                                                                                                                                |
| The Defeat of the Armada. 6, 2712. The Sands of Dec. 13, 625.                                                                                                                                                                                        | The Song of Phracia. 1. 277.                                                                                                                                                                      |
| The Three Fishers. 13, 6131.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | The Song of Physicia. 1. 277. LANG, ANDREW, Trans. Augustin and Nicolete. 4. 1564.                                                                                                                |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Legend of Curzon. 3, 1241.King's Tragedy, The. Rossetti. 4, 1836.                                                                                                                                                                                | Forest. 19. 9218.Odysseus and the Princess Nansicas. 1. 277.                                                                                                                                  |
| King Yudhisthirz answers the Yaksha's                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Odrasena describea his Adventure                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Ling Science and the Hospoes, The Legend of Curzon.  King's Tracedy, The. Rosseitt. 4. 1836.  King Yudhisthira answers the Yaksha's  Kipfly Rudyard. 1. 111.                                                                                         | with the Cyclops. 1. 213. Ronsard to his Young Mistress. 5. 2216.                                                                                                                                 |
| Recessional to con                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Honsard to his Young Mistress. 5. 2216. The Cyclops in Love. 1. 223.                                                                                                                              |
| Hecessional.  RIPPIS, A. Captain Cook's Death.  EIRE, ELLEN WARNER (OLNEY).  The Story of a Silk Dress (OLNEY).                                                                                                                                      | The Cyclops in Love. 1. 233. The Love of Achilles. 1. 341.                                                                                                                                        |
| KIRK, ELLEN WARNER (OLNEY).                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | The Parting of Odysseus and Calypso. 1. 264.                                                                                                                                                      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | The Love of Achilles.  1. 341. The Parting of Odysseus and Calypso. 1. 264. The Rose. 5. 2217. To the Lost Children. 19. 9219.                                                                    |
| Carroll. 10 rest                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | LANIEE, SIDNEY. The Marshes of                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Knickerbocker's History of New York                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Glynn. 20. 9553.                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Irving. 15, 6326, Knight and his Squire, The. Bowring. 4, 1565, Knights, The. Aristophanes, 2, 664, Knights, The. Aristophanes, 2, 662.                                                                                                              | Leocoon, The. Lessing. 9. 4170.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Knight and his Squire, The. Bowring. 4, 1865.Knights, The. Aristophanes. 2, 644.                                                                                                                                                                 | La Pezu de Chagrin. Balzac. 17. 6204.Laputa. A Voyage to. Swift. 8. 8547.                                                                                                                     |
| Knights, The. Aristophanes, 2, 652.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | LARCOM, LUCY, Hannah binding                                                                                                                                                                      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Know then thyself. 8, 2462.  Know Thyself. Epicteins. 8, 2462.  Know Thyself. Epicteins. 2, 1212.  Korsu, The. Mohammed. 2, 1217.  Kostopekin, The White Wolf of. Camp-                                                                              | Lars Porsena of Clusium. 1. 449. Lars o' Gowrie, The. Nairne. 16, 7819. L'Assommoir. Zola. 19, 9003. Last Days of Pompell, The. Lytton. 2, 1044. Last Journey to Jerusalem, The. Renan. 18, 8472. |
| Korzu, The. Mohammed. 2. 1217.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | L'Assommoir, Zola. 19, 9003.                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Rostopchin, The White Wolf of Camp-                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Last Days of Pompell, The. Lytton. 3. 1044.                                                                                                                                                       |
| 13. 07/4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Last Journey to Jerusalem, The. Renan. 18, 8472.Last Leaf. The. Holmes. 15, 6317.                                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Last Night and Execution of the Gi-                                                                                                                                                               |
| LABORDE, M. DE. The Departure for                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | l rondists. Lamartine. 10.4550.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Syria. 19. 8320.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Last of the Barons, The. Lytton. 5. 1951.Last of the Tribunes. The. Lytton. 4. 1725.                                                                                                          |
| LABOULAYE, EDOUARD PENE 1. 202.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Last Time at M'Gurk's. Barlow. 19. 9220.                                                                                                                                                          |
| LEFEBVRE DE. Fragolette. 19, 9000.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 1.0 T   WO   1700   PE   11   12   12   12   12   12   12   1                                                                                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Latter-day Warnings. Holmes. 14, 6332. Laughter, The Physiology of. Spencer. 16, 7551. Launching of the Ship, The. Long-                                                                          |
| Zij 9347,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Laugher, the Physiology of Epencer, 10, 1051.                                                                                                                                                     |
| Ladies of England, The. Lyly. 6, 2782. Ladis and Lasses. Barrie. 12, 532.                                                                                                                                                                            | TA'1007 10. 0140.                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Lady Hester Stanhope, Kingslake, 11. 5125,                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Laurel, The Damsel of the. Petrarch. 4, 1723.                                                                                                                                                     |
| Lady of Heaven and earth. 16, 7749.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Tamilates The Dome of the Parker 90 9478                                                                                                                                                          |
| Ledy Hester Stanhope. Kingelske. 11. 5125. Ledy Woon. Houghton. 16. 7749. Ledy of Heaten and earth. 5. 2153. Ledy of the Leak, The. Scott. 12. 5450. Ledy of the Load The. Vis. 19. 5450.                                                            | Lay of Maceroni, The. Taylor. 19. 8964.                                                                                                                                                           |
| Laiv's Cor. Paluciant Winderille. 4, 1806.                                                                                                                                                                                                           | LAZARUS, EMMA. Gins. 19. 9048.                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Delay, Upon 2. Rudnus 2. 557.                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Lead, kindly Light. 11. 5161.LEARNED, WALTER, Trans. The                                                                                                                                      |
| Lady of Houghton. 16, 7792. Lady of Hazen and earth. 5, 2133. Lady of the Lake, The. Scott. Lady of the Land, The. Mandeville. 4, 1806. Lady's Coy, Reductant, "Unamorous" Delay, Upon 2. Ruding. 2, 547. Lady's Looking-glass, The. Prior. 8, 3591. | Gadey. 10. 4720.                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

| VAL PAGE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 1                                                                                                                                                      |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Learning. Luther. 5. 2322.Leave him here on the ground. 7. 2993.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Light of her Countenance, The.                                                                                                                         |
| Leave him here on the ground. 7. 2998.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Boyesen. 19. 8906.                                                                                                                                     |
| Leaves have their time to fail. 12.0765.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                        |
| Leaves not green but red and gold. 18, 8775.LECKY, WILLIAM EDWARD                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                        |
| LECKY, WILLIAM EDWARD                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Lily in n Crystal, The. Horrick. 7, 3855.                                                                                                              |
| HARTPOLE. Morality Independ-ent of Utility. 18.8462.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Lily in n Crystal, The. Horrick. 7. 8855. Limerick Gloves, The. Edgoworth. 11. 5077. Limitations of Pictorial Art, The.                                |
| ent of Utility. 18. 8462.LEE, VERNON. Essays from "Bel-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Limitations of Pictorial Art, The                                                                                                                      |
| caro." 17. 8275.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 9, 4170.                                                                                                                                               |
| Legacy, Con Cregan's, Lover. 11. 5119.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Lincoln, Abraham. Brooks. 15, 7291.                                                                                                                    |
| Legacy, Con Cregan's, Lever. 11, 5119.LE GALLIENE, RICHARD. A Bal-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | numeri Address as room                                                                                                                                 |
| lad of London. 18. 8710.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Lincoln, The Hand of, Stedman. 19, 8884.                                                                                                               |
| Legend of King Solomon and the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Lincoln, The Hand of, Stedman. 19, 8884.LINDSEY, WILLIAM, And EveryOne a Winner. 17, 8082.                                                     |
| Hoopoes, Curzon, 8, 1241.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | One a Winner. 17, 8032.                                                                                                                                |
| Legend of Palestino and West Kent, A. Barbam. 4. 1506.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Lines on Leaving Italy. Ochlenschiager, 18. 8517.                                                                                                      |
| Barham. 4. 1506. Legend of the Dropping Well. Miller. 11. 5162.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Lines to an Indian Air. Shelley. 17. 8218.                                                                                                             |
| Lemminkainen, full of joyance. 7. 8032.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Lion and the Cub, The. Gay. 8. 3455.Lion going to War, The. Fontaine. 7. 3107.                                                                     |
| Lenore. Bürger. 9. 4809.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Lines to an Indian Air. Shelley. 17, 8218. Lion and the Cub, The. Gay. 6, 8455. Lion going to War, The. Fontaine. 7, 8107. L'ISLE, ROUGET DE. The Mar- |
| Lerians, Tho. 2, 559.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 1 semmse 19, 8919                                                                                                                                      |
| LE SAGI, ALAIN RENÉ. Advon-tures of Gil Blas. 8, 3566.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | I Literary Ristory of the American Poyo.                                                                                                               |
| tures of Gil Blas. 8, 2566.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | lution. Tyler. 11. 4980. Little Boy Biue. Field. 19. 9091.                                                                                             |
| LESSING, GOTTHOLD EPHRAIM.Sultan Saladin and Nathan the Wisc. 9, 4178.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Little Boy Biue, Field. 19, 9091. Little Lask. 14, 6360.                                                                                               |
| The Limitations of Pictorial Art. 9, 4170.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Little Tack. 14. 6360.Little Orphant Allio. Rlley. 19. 9103.                                                                                       |
| Lest men suspect your tale untrue, 8. 8483.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | I Little Periment The Crons 12 2550                                                                                                                    |
| Let a stoic with tearless eyes. 10. 4619.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Little thinks, in the field. 16. 7510.                                                                                                                 |
| Let swabs with their wows. 10.4530.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Little Women's Experiment in Honse.                                                                                                                    |
| Letters. Bismarck. 19. 9130.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | keeping, The. Alcott. 20. 9483.                                                                                                                        |
| Letters, Junius. 9. 4250.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Living in the Country. Cozzens, 15. 7233.                                                                                                              |
| Letters.       Montagu.       8, 8489.         Lotters.       Sévigaé.       7, 8109.         Lotters.       Walpole.       9, 3897.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Living in the Country. Cozzens. 15. 7233.LIVIUS, TITUS.Hannibal as Strategist and Soldier. 2. 791.                                             |
| Lotters. Walpole. 9. 3897.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | The Stery of Lucretia. 1. 469.                                                                                                                         |
| Letters of Lord Chesterfield to his Son.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Linchial's Whening Churchall 14 6670                                                                                                                   |
| Stanhepe. 8. 3339.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Lochinyar, Scott. 11. 5046.                                                                                                                            |
| Letters on the Study and Uso of History, Bolingbroke. 8, 8791,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ties for a Puter                                                                                                                                       |
| tory. Bolingbroko. 8. 8791.Letter to a Friend concerning Ten, A.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | LOCKE JOHN. The Proper Qualities for a Tutor.  LOCKINART, JOHN, GIBSON, Connt  LOCKINART, JOHN GIBSON, Connt  Alexandre and the Arbeits Sales.         |
| Waster 9 4071                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                        |
| LETTSON, W. N., Trans. From                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Lodging for the Night, A. Stevenson. 5. 2164.                                                                                                          |
| the recent them are the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Lodore, The Cataract of Southey. 12. 5584.                                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Lombard Street. Bagehot 6, 2918.London, A Ballad of Gallienne. 18, 8710,London, The Pingue of. Defoe. 6, 2802.                                 |
| TOTAL CONTROL TAXING CAME                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | London, A Ballad of Gallienne. 18, 8710,London, The Pingue of. Defoe. 6, 2802.                                                                     |
| Cregan's Legacy. Levistann, The. Hobbes. LEWES, GEORGE HENRY. and Betting. The State of Market Control of State | l Lond kheen Afar                                                                                                                                      |
| Leviathan, The. Hobbes. 7. 8389.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Long and Short. Anonymous. 2. 543.                                                                                                                     |
| LEWES, GEORGE HENRY. Goethe                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Long and Short. Anonymous. 2. 543.LONGFELLOW, HENRY WADS-WORTH.                                                                                |
| and Bettina. 11. 5027.Leyden, The Rellof of. Motley. 6. 2654.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Evangelino: A Talo of Acadie. 15, 6848.                                                                                                                |
| Tabouts Gaurison 19 9396                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Evangeline: A Tale of Acadic. 15, 6848. Maidenhood. 17, 7991.                                                                                          |
| Liberty, On. Mill. 16, 7631. Liberty, True. Coornhert. 6, 2635. Liberty of Printing. Milton. 7, 82515. Liberty of Subjects, On the. Hobbes. 7, 8388. Libraries, On the Value and Uso of.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | The Launching of the Shin. 18, 6146.                                                                                                                   |
| Liberty, True. Coornhert. 6. 2635.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | The Old Cleck on the Stairs. 14, 6725.                                                                                                                 |
| Liberty of Printing. Milton. 1. 8215. Liberty of Subjects, On the. Hobbes. 7. 8388.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | The Rainy Day. 14. 6457The Skeleton in Armor. 12, 5784.                                                                                            |
| Theories On the Value and Uso of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | LONGFELLOW, HENRY WADS-                                                                                                                                |
| Baldwin, 16, 7481.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | WORTH, Trans.                                                                                                                                          |
| Ttheser Hones in n. Stephen. 9, 3918.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Beware 1 14, 6499.                                                                                                                                     |
| Lie heavy on him, earth. 2. 553.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Coplas Do Manrique. 4, 1927.The Good Shepherd. 7, 8078.                                                                                            |
| Life heavy on him, earth. 2 559. Life, A Lover of. Lande. 5, 2185. Life. Balley. 16, 7585. Life. Barband. 17, 8111.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | To-morrow. 1. 3078.                                                                                                                                    |
| Life. Barbanid. 17, 8111.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Looking-glass, The Lady's, Prior, 8, 3591,                                                                                                             |
| Life and Lotters of Lord Macadiay.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Look on this cast. 19, 8885.                                                                                                                           |
| Trevelvan. 16, 7487, 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Look once more, ere we leave this                                                                                                                      |
| Life, Aphorisms on. Bacon. 1. 116.Life, Death, and Immortality, On.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | specular mount. 2. 951.Look round the habitable world. 3. 1120.                                                                                    |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Look round the habitable world. S. 1120.Lord Bacon. Spedding. 6, 2629.                                                                             |
| T 1.5. T 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Lord Ullin's Daughter. Compbell. 17, 8234.                                                                                                             |
| Life is a Dream. Calderon. 7. 2998.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Lord, what am I. 7, 2078.                                                                                                                              |
| Life of Christ, Tho. Farrar. 16. 7797.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Lorna Doone Blackmore. 8, 3629.                                                                                                                        |
| Life is a Dream. Calderon. 7, 2998. Life of Christ, Tho. Farrar. 16, 7797. Life of Jesus, Tho. Renan. 18,6472. Life of Mr. George Herbert, The. Walton. 16, 479                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Lorn Light, The Story of. Hood. 19 6094.                                                                                                               |
| Walton. 7. 8361.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Lost Children, To the. 19, 9219.Lost Days. Rossetti. 17, 7847.                                                                                     |
| Life of Nelson. Mahan. 10. 4742.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Lost Days. Rossetti. 17. 7847.Lost Hatchet, The. Rabelais. 5 2210.                                                                                 |
| Life, The Investigation of. Huxley. 18. 8459.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Lost Lamb, The. Steddard. 18, 8603.                                                                                                                    |
| Light. Beurdillon. 18. 8581.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Lost Leader, The. Browning. 13. 5883.                                                                                                                  |
| Light lie the earth. 2. 553. Ught of Asia The. Arnold. 1. 19.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                        |
| Light of Asis, The. Arnold. 1. 19.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | LOTI, PIERRE. An Ancient Marlner. 18 6434 Lot 'its a gala night. 15. 7122.                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 20 - 20 o garde tright. 15, 4122.                                                                                                                      |

| TOL PAGE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Lotus Farm. Mistral. 18 8457                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | MACAULAY, THOMAS BABING-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Louis XIV. and the Regence, Memoirs of the Duke of Saint-Simon on the Reign of. Saint-Simon. 7.3120.                                                                                                                                                                                          | TON,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| of the Dake of Saint-Simon on the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Virginia. 1. 456.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Reign of. Saint-Simon. 7. 3120.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MICHETHY DEVIS FLOPENCE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Love. Archias. 2, 549                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | MACCARTHY, DENIS FLORENCE,Trans. Sigismund. 7. 2993.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MACDONALD, GEORGE. Tom's                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Love and Honor. Patmore. 11, 5342 Love a Virtue Patmore. 11, 5342 Love a Virtue Patmore. 11, 5342                                                                                                                                                                                             | MACDONALD, GEORGE. Tom's                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Love and Honor. Patmore. 11. 5342                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Effrontery. 19, 8844. MACE, JEAN. The Heart. 18, 8453.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Love a Virtue Patmore. 11, 5332                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MACE, JEAN. The Heart. 18, 8453.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MACHIAVELLI, NICCOLO. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Love Ceremonious. Patmore. 11, 5340Love in Idleness. Patmore. 11, 5341LOVELACE, BICHARD. The Grass.hopper. 7, 3307                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Love in Idleness. Patmore. 11.6341.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | MACKAY, CHARLES. Tubal Cain. 1. 49.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| LOVELACE, EICHARD. The Grass.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | MAUKELLAR, THOMAS, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| hopper. 7. 3407. Love Letters of a Worldly Woman. Clifford. 17. 7559.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Dies Irm. 4. 1611.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Love Letters of a Worldly Woman.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MACKENZIE, HENRY. The Man of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Clifford. 17, 7882.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Feeling. 9, 4296,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| LOVER, SAMUEL.  Rory O'More's Present to the Priest, 12, 2519.  The Gridiron.  13, 6037.  Lover of Man. Lendo.                                                                                                                                                                                | Feeling. 9, 4296. MACKIE, PAULINE BRADFORD. Trial of Deliverance Wentworth. 11, 4882.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Rory O'More. 12, 5519.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | MACLAREN, IAN. InMarret's Garden, 19, 9009.MACMASTER, JOHN BACH. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Bory O'More's Present to the Priest, 12, 2544.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | MACMASTER, JOHN BACH, The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| The Gridiron. 13, 6037. Lover of Lies, A. Lando. 5, 2135. Love's Appeal. Wysit. 6, 2478.                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Ehip Duels and the Privateers. 10, 4715.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Lover of Lies, A. Lando. 5. 2125. Love's Appeal. Wysit. 6. 2478. Lovers of Kandahar, The. Gobinean. 20, 155. Lovers The. Andersen. 44 609                                                                                                                                                     | MACPHERSON, JAMES. A Poem of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Love's Anneal Wystt 6 2478                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Oction 0 4160                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Lovers of Kandahar, The. Gobinean. 20, 9151.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Ossian. 9, 4162. Madame D'Arblav, Diary of. Burney, 10, 4299. MADISON, JAMES. Incoherence of the Objections to the Constitution, 11, 4946. Mæcens, To. Horace. 2, 965.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Toters The Anderson 34 Coop                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | HADEON TANES trackers of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Lorers The Freeze of the Goldman On Occa                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | MADISON, MARIES. Inconstruct of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Lover The Patroce 12 For                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | the Objections to the Constitution, 11, 4946.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Lover The Married Detroops 44 Ford                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Mæcens, To. Horace. 2. 965. Maeldane, The Voyege of. Tennyson, 3. 1340. MAETERLINCE, MAURICE. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Toro Sange Old Comman Matter 0 2440                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Maeldane, The Voyege of. Tennyson. 3. 1340.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Torre's Thelian Drouter Corre                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | MAETERLINCE, MAURICE. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Lovers, The Andresen. Cobinesa. 20, 1951. Lovers, The Andresen. Gobinesa. 20, 9454. Lover, The Patmore. 11, 2032. Lover, The Married, Patmore. 11, 2032. Lover, The Married, Patmore. 3, 1443. Love's Vitsility. Drayton. 4, 2014. Love's Vitsility. Drayton. 12, 5463. LOWELL JAMES PRESELL. | Sigl.tless. 18, 8559.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| LOTTER TARREST DESCRIPT                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | The Modern Drama. Intro. to Vol xvi.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Blagico Prodicios». Calderon. 7. 3005.BIAGINN, WILLIAM.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| A Parable. 14. 6397. From "The Biglow Papers." 15. 7255.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | I Maginn, William.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| From "The Biglow Papers." 15. 7255.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | A Vision of Purgatory. 12, 5510                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| On a Portrait of Dante by Glotto. 4, 1702.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | The Man in the Bell. 16. 7405                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| The Courtin'. 17. 7837.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | I MAGNUSSON, A. Tr. The Grettin Same, 10 4515.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| The Shepherd of King Admetus. 2. 711.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Maguiro, The. Roy, Trans. 3, 1015. Mahabharata, The. Roy, Trans. 1, 51-111. MAHAFFT JOHN PENTIAND. Alexander the Great. 1, 12 769.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| The Vision of Sir Launfal.  Lo, there the roey-bosomed hours. Low Tide on Grand Pré. Carmen. Loyalists, Character of the Tyler.  Loyalists, Character of the System.                                                                                                                          | Mahabharain, The. Roy, Trans. 1, 51-111.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Lo, where the rosy-bosomed hours. 17. 8050.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | MAHAFFY JOHN PENTLAND.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Low Tide on Grand Pré. Carmen. 18. 8635.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Alexander the Great. 2. 768.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Loyalists, Character of the. Tyler. 11. 4930.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | The Literature of History Intro. to Volv.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Loyola and the Educational System of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | The Literature of History, Intro. to Volx.MAHAN, CAPTAIN ALPRED T.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Loyalists, Character of the Tyler. 11. 4980. Loyalists, Character of the Tyler. 11. 4980. Loyalists, Haghes. LUCIAN OF SAMOSATIA. An Ancient Gulliver. 2. 578.                                                                                                                                | Trafalgar-The Death of Neison. 10. 4742.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| LUCIAN OF SAMOSATA.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Mahogany Tree, The. Thackeray. 16, 7630.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| An Ancient Gulliver. 2. 578.Encomlum on Files. 2. 950.Lucile. Lytton. 16, 7765.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Mahogany Tree, The. Thackeray. 16, 7600.MAHONY, FRANCIS. The Bells of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Shandon. 12 5632.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Lucile. Lytton. 16, 1765.Lucile. Lytton. 18, 8412.Lucretis, The Story of Lity. 1, 463.                                                                                                                                                                                                | Maidenhood, Longfellow. 17, 7991.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Lucile. Lytton. 18.8412.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Maidenhood. Longfellow. 17. 7991. Maiden 1 with the ricek, brown eyes. 17. 7991.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Lucretia, The Story of Livy. 1. 463.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Maid Merian Passacle   4 1665                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MAINE, HENRY SUMNER. Arrest                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Poem. 2. 932                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | of Progress by Democracy. 19. 8894.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Poem. 2. 932LUDLOW, FITZ-HUGH. Too Lste. 13. 8629.Lusted. Camoens. 5. 9257.LUTHER, MARTIN. Table Telk. 5. 2319.                                                                                                                                                                   | of Progress by Democracy. 19. ES94. Makers of Yenice. Oliphant. 4. 1595.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Lusiad. Camoens. 5. 2257.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Makers of Venice. Oliphant. 4. 1595.Ma'ay Archipelago, The. Wallace. 16. 7621.MALCOLM, SIR JOHN. Persian                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| LUTHER, MARTIN. Table Talk. 5.2319.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | MATCOTAL CIP YOUR Design                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | SIALCOLM, SIR JOHA. Persian                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| An Arab Cynic. 8, 1941.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Forms and Fables. 12. 6186. MALLOCK, WILLIAM HURRELL.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| An Ideal Arab Heroine. 3, 1240.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | A Country Party. 16. 7544.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Arabian Postre 9 1000                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| A Typical Arab Hero. 3. 1209.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | MALLOCK, W. H., Tr. From Lucretius. 2. 932.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| The Common Lot. 8. 1239.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | MALORY, THOMAS. The Historie of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| A Typical Arab Hero. 2. 1220. The Common Lot. 8. 1239. LYLY, JOHN. The Ladies of England. 6. 2732. LYTLE, GENERAL. Antony and                                                                                                                                                                 | King Artuur.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| LYTLE, GENERAL. Antony and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Maltese Millionaire, A. Marlowe 6, 2:91.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| (Repretue                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 2. 913.1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Mamma Coupeau's Fineral. Zola. 19.9008                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| LYTTON-BULWER, see Bulwer-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Mamma Coupeau's Fineral. Zola. 19.9008                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.9008 Man and the Adder, The Pilpay. 4.1771.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| LYTTON EARL ROBERT EDWARD                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.9008 Man and the Adder, The Pilpay. 4.1771.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| LYTTON, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD ("Owen Meredith"). Dinners. 16 7765                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.9008 Man and the Adder, The Pilpay. 4.1771.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Owen Meredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765.                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.903 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4. 1771. MANDEVILLE, JÖHN. Travels. 4. 1805. Man falbil his own Task. Epictetus. 3. 1821. MANGAN, JAMES CHARENCE, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD ("Owen Mcredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.                                                                                                                                                                                              | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.903 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4. 1771. MANDEVILLE, JÖHN. Travels. 4. 1805. Man falbil his own Task. Epictetus. 3. 1821. MANGAN, JAMES CHARENCE, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Owen Meredith"). Dinners. 16, 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18, 8412.  MAARTENS, MAARTEN. The Trial                                                                                                                                                               | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.903 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4. 1771. MANDEVILLE, JÖHN. Travels. 4. 1805. Man falbil his own Task. Epictetus. 3. 1821. MANGAN, JAMES CHARENCE, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Owen Mcredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.  MAAPTENS, MAAPTEN. The Trial                                                                                                                                                               | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.903 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4. 1771. MANDEVILLE, JÖHN. Travels. 4. 1805. Man falbil his own Task. Epictetus. 3. 1821. MANGAN, JAMES CHARENCE, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Owen Mcredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.  MAAPTENS, MAAPTEN. The Trial                                                                                                                                                               | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.903 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4. 1771. MANDEVILLE, JÖHN. Travels. 4. 1805. Man falbil his own Task. Epictetus. 3. 1821. MANGAN, JAMES CHARENCE, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Owen Mcredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.  MAAPTENS, MAAPTEN. The Trial                                                                                                                                                               | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.903 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4. 1771. MANDEVILLE, JÖHN. Travels. 4. 1805. Man falbil his own Task. Epictetus. 3. 1821. MANGAN, JAMES CHARENCE, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Owen Mcredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.  MAAPTENS, MAAPTEN. The Trial                                                                                                                                                               | Mamma Coupeau's Fineral. Zola.   19.9003                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Owen Mcredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.  MAABTENS, MAABTEN. The Trial and the Verdiet.  Macaulay, Life and Letters of Lord. Trevelyan.  MACAULAY, THOMAS BABING.  16. 7487.  TON.                                                   | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.9003 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4. 1771. MANDEVILLE, JOHN. Travels. 4. 1805. Man fallöll his own Task. Epictetus. 5. 1821. MANGAN, JAMES CLARENCE, Trans. King Dathy's Death. 3. 1013. The Specier Caravan. 19. 9123. Man in the Bell, The. Maginn. 16. 7405. Man in the Iron Mask, The. Dumas. 7. 2264. Men it born on a battlefield. 18. 8412. Minnawyddan, The Son of Llyr. Guest. 3. 1098. Manly Heart, The. Wither. Man may Act his Part but not Choose                                                                                           |
| LYTION-BULWER, see Bulwer- Lytton. LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD ("Owen Micredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412. MAAPTENS, MAAPTEN. The Trial and the Verdict. 19. 9269. Trevelyan. 16. 7487. TON. HOTATION. 11. 433.                                                     | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19,9003 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4, 1771. MANDEVILLE, JOHN. Travels. 4, 1805. Man falbil his own Task. Epictetus. 8, 1821. MANGAN, JAMES CLARENCE, Trans. King Dathy's Death. 3, 1012. The Specier Caravan. 19, 9128. Man in the Bell, The. Maginn. 16, 7405. Man in the Iron Mask, The. Dumas. 7, 2264. Man in the Iron Mask, The. Dumas. 18, 8412. Mannay Addan, The Son of Lilyr. Guest. 3, 1098. Manly Heart, The. Wither. 18, 1912. Man may Act his Part but not Choose it. Epictetus. 3, 1220.                                                    |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Oven Mcredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.  MAARTENS, MAARTEN. The Trial and the Verdict. 19. 9200. Trevelyan.  MACAULAY, THOMAS BABING- TON. HOratius. Pitto and Bacon. Shafter and Life. 2. 664.                                     | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.9003 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4.1771. MANDEVILLE, JOHN. Travels. 4.1805. Man falloll his own Task. Epictetus. 5.1821. MANGAN, JAMES CLARENCE, Trans. King Dathy's Death. 3.1013. The Specter Caravan. 19.9123. Man in the Bell, The. Maginn. 16.7403. Man in the Bell, The. Maginn. 17.2964. Man in the Iron Mask, The. Dumas. 7.2964. Man in the Iron on a battlefield. 18.8412. Minnawyddan, The Son of Llyr. Guest. 3.1095. Manly Heart, The. Wither. 7.3220. Man may Act his Part but not Choose it. Epictetus. Mann Sy Horace. Letter from Wal- |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Oven Mcredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.  MAARTENS, MAARTEN. The Trial and the Verdict. 19. 9200. Trevelyan.  MACAULAY, THOMAS BABING- TON. HOratius. Pitto and Bacon. Shafter and Life. 2. 664.                                     | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19,9003 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4, 1771. MANDEVILLE, JOHN. Travels. 4, 1805. Man fallill his own Task. Epictetus. 3, 1821. MANGAN, JAMES GLARENCE, Trans. King Dathy's Death. 19,9123. Man in the Bell, The. Maginn. 16, 7405. Man in the Bell, The. Maginn. 16, 7405. Man in the Iron Mask, The. Dumas. 7, 2964. Man in the Iron Mask, The. Dumas. 18, 8412. Mannawyddan, The Son of Llyr. Guest. 3, 1093. Manly Heart, The. Wither. 7, 3220. Manly Heart, The. Wither. 3, 1220. Mannay Act his Part but not Choose it. Epictetus. 13, 6296.          |
| LYTION, EARL, ROBERT EDWARD  ("Owen Meredith"). Dinners. 16. 7765. The Warfare of Life. 18. 8412.  MAARTENS, MAARTEN. The Trial and the Verdict. Macaulay, Life and Letters of Lord. Trevelyan.  MACAULAY, THOMAS BABING- TON. Horatius. Plate and Bscon. Shot and Bscon. 2. 664.             | Mamma Coupeau's Fnneral. Zola. 19.9003 Man and the Adder, The. Pilpay. 4.1771. MANDEVILLE, JOHN. Travels. 4.1805. Man falloll his own Task. Epictetus. 5.1821. MANGAN, JAMES CLARENCE, Trans. King Dathy's Death. 3.1013. The Specter Caravan. 19.9123. Man in the Bell, The. Maginn. 16.7403. Man in the Bell, The. Maginn. 17.2964. Man in the Iron Mask, The. Dumas. 7.2964. Man in the Iron on a battlefield. 18.8412. Minnawyddan, The Son of Llyr. Guest. 3.1095. Manly Heart, The. Wither. 7.3220. Man may Act his Part but not Choose it. Epictetus. Mann Sy Horace. Letter from Wal- |

| JOL PAGE                                                                                                                                                       | .1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| plan of recting, The. Alackenzie. 9, 4296.                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Man of Great Projects, A. Turcenief, 18, 8712.                                                                                                                 | THE STATE OF THE S |
| Manon Lescaut, Prévost. 8. 3608.                                                                                                                               | MELVILLE, G. J. WHYTE. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Manon Lescaut, Prévost. 8. 3608. MANNIQUE, JORGE. Coplas do                                                                                                    | 1 1+1nuiniors. 2 1070                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Manrique. 4, 1927.                                                                                                                                             | MELVILLE, HERMAN, On the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Man should be one Man. Epictetus. 8. 1323.                                                                                                                     | Track of the White Whele to some                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Man, The Descent of. Darwin.  18, 5981. Mau, Tho Seven Ages of. Shakespeare. 18, 5945. Man, The Wants of. Adams.  11, 4990. Man, The Weskness, Unrest, and De- | Memoira of the Duke of Saint-Simon                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Man, The Seven Ages of. Shakespeare. 18. 5945.                                                                                                                 | on the Reign of Louis XIV, and the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Man, The Wants of. Adams. 11. 4990.                                                                                                                            | Regency. Saint-Simon. 7. 8120.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Man, The Weskness, Unrest, and De-                                                                                                                             | Memoirs of the Lord Viscount Dundee.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 10005 OI. FRICKI, 11. 0140.                                                                                                                                    | I Graham. S gron                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Man wants but little. 11. 4990.                                                                                                                                | Memnirs of the Margravine of Bay-reuth. Wilhelmine. 10. 4405.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Man with the Broken Ear, The. About. 20, 9382.                                                                                                                 | reuth. Wilhelmine, 10. 4405.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Many there are who.  MANZONI, ALESSANDRO. Scenes of the Milan Plague of 1630. 5, 2398.                                                                         | I reminies and Studies of Mar and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Scenes of the Milan Plague of 1630. 5, 2898.                                                                                                                   | Peace. Forbes. 14. 6712,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Tricked out of Herself. 17. 7847.                                                                                                                              | Meninries and Studies of War and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Marco Rozzaria Hallack 17 7911                                                                                                                                 | Peace. Forbes. 18. 8879.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Margaret goes to Meeting. Judd. 11. 5293. MARGARET OF NAVARRE. Stories from the "Heptamoron." 5. 2189.                                                         | Memnry of Shakespeare, To that Jonson. 6. 2616.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| MARGARET OF NAVARRE. Sto-                                                                                                                                      | Memnry, Tha Pleasures of. Rogers. 10. 4544.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| ries from the "Heptamoron." 5. 2189.                                                                                                                           | Men die uchen the night raven sings. 2. 514.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Maria's Resono from the Stake. Mein-                                                                                                                           | Menelans and Helen at Troy. Landor. 1. 229.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| hold 11, 5330.                                                                                                                                                 | Menelans and Helen at Troy. Landor. 1. 229. Mental Traveler, The. Blake. 10. 4453, Merchant of Venice, The. Shakespeara. 6. 2595. MEREDITH, GEORGE. From                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Marian's Death and Wallage's Ven-                                                                                                                              | Merchant of Venice, The. Shakespeara, 6, 2595.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| geance. Porter. 12, 5428.                                                                                                                                      | MEREDITH, GEORGE. From                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| geance. Porter. 12.5428. Marius the Epicurean. Pator. 8. 1293.                                                                                                 | l " Beanchamn's Career." 18 8399                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Marjone Figuring. Brown. 12, 5463.                                                                                                                             | " MEREDITH, OWEN," see Lytinn.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Mark of Effort, The. Epictetus. 8, 1817.                                                                                                                       | I Lord. 10 7765                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| MARLOWE, CHRISTOPHER.                                                                                                                                          | MERIMEE, PROSPER, A Coralcan                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| A Maltese Millionaire. 6, 2491.                                                                                                                                | Vendetta. 11. 5248.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Barabas and his Daughter. 6, 2495.                                                                                                                             | MERIVALE, CHARLES. The Roman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Faustus. 6, 2481,                                                                                                                                              | Empira on the Edga of Deciine. 10. 4776. MERIVALE, CHARLES, Trans. A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Marlow takes Mr. Hardcastle's Honse for an Inn. Goldsmith. 9. 4186.                                                                                            | MERIVALE, CHARLES, Trans. A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Marmion. Scott. 14. 6616.                                                                                                                                      | Happy Life 1, 110,Merlin and Vivien. Tennyson. 8, 1193.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Maronis, Epitaph on. 2. 548.                                                                                                                                   | Messianic Eclogue, The. Virgil. 3. 1105.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Margnis of Penalta. Valdes. 19. 9002.                                                                                                                          | MERIVALE, CHARLES, Trans. A Happy Life 1. 110. Merlin and Virien. Tenny2on. 8. 1193. Messianic Ectogue, The. Virgil. 3. 1105. Metamorphoses. Ovid. 1. 835.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Marmion. Scott. 14. 5515. Maronis, Epitaph on. 2. 548. Marquis of Ponalta. Valds. MARRYAT, FREDERICK. Death of Control and Process of the Sec.                 | Minch Charles Davis 8 Seek                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                                                                | Mice and Martyrdom. Higginson. 16, 7514.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| orayo ( 19 5789 )                                                                                                                                              | MICHELEI, JULES, ITH HILL                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Marsellaise, The. De L'Isle. 19, 8919.                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Marshes of Glynn, The. Lanier. 20, 9553.                                                                                                                       | Mighty Magician, The. Calderon. 7. 3005.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| MARSTON, PHILIP BOURKE. To-                                                                                                                                    | Milan Planne of 1630. Manzoni. 5. 2303.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| morrow. 18, 8(24, 6                                                                                                                                            | Milkmaid's Mother's Answer, The. 0, 2002.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Marta y Maria. Valdés. 19. 9002. MARTIAL. A Happy Life. 1. 110. Martin Chuzzlaydt Dickons 15. 7177                                                             | Milkmaid's Song, The. 6. 2901.MILL, JOHN STUART. The Despo-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| MARTIAL. A Happy Life. 1. 110.                                                                                                                                 | MILL, JOHN STUART. The Despo-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| idatem contratti picacio. 20. 11.11                                                                                                                            | tism of Custom. 16. 7581. MILLER, HUGH. Legend of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| MARTIN, THEODORE, Trans.                                                                                                                                       | MILLER, HUGH. Legend of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Alphius. 2, 962. 1Horace nn Charitable Judgments. 2, 967.                                                                                                  | Dropping Well11. 5169.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|                                                                                                                                                                | MILNES, RICHARD, LORD HOUGH-TON. Lady Moon. 16. 7749.MILTON, JOHN. 11 Penseroso. 6. 2378.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| MARVEL, IK.From "Dream Life." 14, 6457.                                                                                                                    | MILTON, JOHN. 11 Penseroso. 6. 2378.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| From "The Reveries of a Bachelor." 17, 8256, 1                                                                                                                 | L'Allegro. 6. 2574.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Introduction to Vol. ii.                                                                                                                                       | Liberty of Printing. 7. 8275.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| MARVELL, ANDREW. Horatian Ode. 6. 2850                                                                                                                         | Sonnet to Syriac Skinner. 6. 2882.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Introduction to Vol. ii.  MARVELL, ANDREW. Horatian Odo. 6, 2850  Mary of Scots' Departure from France.                                                        | The Debate in Pandemonium. 7, 3226.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Brantôme 5, 2219.                                                                                                                                              | The Glory of Athens 2. 951.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Mary's Escapo Folled. Scott. 6. 2532.Masano of the Red Death, The. Pos. 6. 2518.                                                                           | Mind's Scenrity, The. Epictetus. 8. 1822.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Masquo of the Red Death, The. Pos. 6. 2818. MASSILLON, JEAN BAFTISTE.                                                                                          | Mine ayes have seen the glory. 15.7807.Minstel's Curse, The. Uhland. 11.5805.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| MASSILLON, JEAN BAPTISTE. Sermon on Penitence. 7. 8163.                                                                                                        | Mine a pes have seen the glory.  Mine apes have seen the glory.  Minstrel's Curse, The. Uhland.  Mirage in Egypt, Tho. Dunton.  1. 69.  18. 8457.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Sermon on Penitence. 7. 8183.  MASSINGER, PHILIP. Overreach                                                                                                    | Mirage in Egypt, 100. Dunton. 18. 8457.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Overreached 6, 2790.                                                                                                                                           | Mirelo. Mistral. 18. 8457.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Mosterman Ready, Marryat, 12, 5739.                                                                                                                            | Mirza-Schaffy, Tha Wise Man of Gjänd-sha. Bodenstedt. 19, 9122.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Master of Ballantrac, The. Stovenson. 3. 2032.                                                                                                                 | Mischlerous Ape, Tho. Bandelin. 5. 2180.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Mand. Tennyson. 17. 7968.                                                                                                                                      | Mischlevous Ape, Tho. Bandelin. 5. 2180. Miss Flora M'Flimsey, of Madison                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| MATIPASSANT, GUI DE. 110                                                                                                                                       | Sauare. 14. 9192.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Necklace, 15. 000-11                                                                                                                                           | Messestan Rubbie, The. Thiers. 10. 4:50.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Max Havelaar, Dekker,                                                                                                                                          | Miss Pratt: A Unaracter Decicil. Fet-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Marins, Enicieties, 0, 1010.                                                                                                                                   | V0V±,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Marine Rocheigh Callill. 4. 0210-1                                                                                                                             | Mistakes, Methods, and Crimes of theFrench Revolution. Barks. 10. 4642.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Mazeppa's Ride. Byron. S. 3749. McCarthy, JUSTIN. Afglian War. 20. 9686.                                                                                       | French nevelution, Duray. 10, 2012.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Mazeppa's Ride. Byron. McCARTHY, JUSTIN. Afghan War. 20, 9686. McCREERY, J. L. There is No Death. 14, 6414.                                                    | Friend. Jerrold. 12. 5661.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Readow Hrass Brown. 11. 0104. 1                                                                                                                                | Mr. Collins' Courtship. Ansten. 12, 5555.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Meanigule the bark had diffed                                                                                                                                  | Mr. Pickwick's Adventure with the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Medea, Enripides, 2. 626.                                                                                                                                      | Mr. Pickwick's Adventure with the Middlo-sged Lady in Yellow Curl                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Medici, The. Symonds. 6. 2470.                                                                                                                                 | Paners. Dickens. 12. 5515.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Medea. Enripides. 2. 626. Medici, The. Symonds. 6. 2470. Meditations. Hafiz. 5. 2154.                                                                          | Mr. Punch's Tribute to Lincoln. Brooks, 15. 7307.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |

| VOL. PAGF.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | VOL, PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MISTRAL, FRÉDÉRIC. Lotus Farm. 18. 8157.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Mosses from an Old Manse. Haw-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| DISTRAD, FREDERIC. 120th Fatur. 10. 0101.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Aleman 14 COL                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Mrs. Candle's Umbreila Leetnre. Jer-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | thorne. 14. 6424.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| rold. 13, 6051.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Most people dine but once. 2. 552. Mother, The. Borrow, Trans. 1. 64. Mother and mistress of the Roman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Mrs. Prondie's Reception. Trollope. 19, 8777.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Mother, The. Borrow, Trans. 1. 64.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Mrs. Prondie's Reception, Trollope. 19, 8777.MITCHELL, DONALD GRANT.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Mother and mistress of the Roman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| From "Dream Life" 14. 6457.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | race. 2. 932.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| From "Dream Life." 14. 6457. From "The Reverses of a Bachelor." 17. 6236.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Mother Country. Rossetti. 18. 8491.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| rion inchester of a backetor. It. 6200.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Mother, the Nurse, and the Fairy, Tho.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| MITCHELL, SILAS WEIK. A Drait                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| on the Bank of Spain. 20. 9651.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Gay. 9. 3481.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| on the Bank of Spain. 20, 9651.MITFORD, MARY RUSSELL. Han-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MOTHERWELL, WILLIAM. Tho                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| nah Bint. 11. 6343.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Cavaller's Song. 19, 9073.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Moby Dick. Melville. 12, 5306.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MOTLEY, JOHN LOTHROP. Charles the Fifth. 6. 2665.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| MOHAMMED. Iron. 8. 1221.Last Speech. 3. 1224.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Charles the Fifth. 6. 2665.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Tank Course 0, 1991.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | The Relief of Leyden. 6. 2654.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Last Speech. 3. 1224.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | The Relief of Leyden. 6. 2654.  MOULTON, LOUISE CHANDLER.  At Tintern Abbey. 18. 8665.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Of Charley.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | MOULTON, LOUISE CHANDLER.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Of Death. 8, 1230.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | At Tintern Abbey. 18. 8665.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Of Drinb Animals. 3. 1223.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Of Fasting. 3, 1226.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Mouse, To A. Burns, 18. 8315.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Of Fighting for the Faith. 8, 1227.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Mughy, The Boy at, Dickens. 17, 8055.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Of Fighting for the Faith. 8, 1227.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Mouse, To A. Burns. 18. 8316. Mughy, The Boy at, Dickens. 17. 8055. MUHLBACH, LOUISE. From "Frederick the Great and his Court." 9. 4099. MULLER, FRIEDRICH MAX. Old German Love Songs. 8. 1448. MULLER, FRIEDRICH MAX, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Of Government. 8. 1229.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | MUNICIPAL CONTRACT TO COMMANDE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Of Judgments. 8. 1929.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | erick the Great and his Court." 9. 4009.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Of Labor and Profit. 3, 1226.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | MULLER, FRIEDRICH MAA. OR                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Of Vanities and Sundry Matters. 3, 1230.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | German Lovo Songs. 8. 1448.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Of Women and Slares 2 1093                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | MULLER FRIEDRICH MAX, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Of Women and Slaves, 8, 1223.Support. 8, 1217.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Old Büsnm. 8. 1455.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Support. 8, 1217. Table_Talk. 3, 1224.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | The Old Woman of Echieswig-Holstein, 13, 5554. MÜLLER, WILHELM. Vineta. 3, 1456. MÜLOCK, DINAH MARIA. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Table Talk. 3, 1224.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 1 no Old to Oman of Schieswig-Holstein, 10, 5551-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| The Chargers. 3, 1217.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | MULLER, WILHELM. Viners. 3, 1406.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| The Kingdom. 3. 1219.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | MULOCK, DINAH MARIA. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| The Moon. 8. 1219.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | MULOCK, DINAH MARIA. The Bread Riet. 16. 7735.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| The Moon. 8, 1219.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Monahaman Daran Advantures of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| The One Guide.  MOLIÈRE. The Affected Ladies.  7. 8055.  7. 8055.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Munchansen. Baron, Adventures of.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| MOLIERE. The Affected Ladies. 7, 8055.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Raspe 11. 5047.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| The Hypocrite Unmasked. 7, 3172.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Murder of Abel, The. Alfferi. 9, 4372.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| MOMMSEN THEODOR The Regin-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Murder of Abel, The. Alfieri. 9.4372.Murder of the Due D'Enghien, Tho.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| The Hypocrite Unmasked. 7, 3172.  MOMMSEN, THEODOR. The Beginnings of Rome. 10, 4769.  Monarchy of Spain, The. Howell. 8, 3781.  MONIER-WILLIAMS, SIE MONIER. 4, 10, 4769.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Lanfrey. 10. 4701.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Mings of Londo.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Lanfrey. 10. 4701. Murder will out. Simms. 19. 8702.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Monarchy of Spain, The. Howell. 8. 3781.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Murder will out. Simms. 19, 8792.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| MONIER-WILLIAMS, SIR MONIER.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | MURFREE, MARY N. The Poker                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 1 PATEV. 18, 8018.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Trans. The Clay Cart. 1. 31.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Music. Luther. 5, 2322,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| The Death of a Son. 1. 117.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Music. Luther. 5, 2322.Musical Adventure, A. Sand. 11, 5222.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Monte and the Climate Phy Theore 2 4402                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Musical Attempt. Nicarchus. 2, 544.Musical Doctor, The. Ammianus. 2, 545.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Monks and the Giants, The. Frere. 3. 1163                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Resident Programmes Americans                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Monsienr Viple's Brother. Bourget. 18. 6755.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Musical Doctor, The. Ammianus. 2. 045.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Monks and the Giants, The. Frere. 3, 1163 Monsieur Viple's Brother. Bourget. 18, 6755. MONTAGU. LADY MARY WORT-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Musical Adventure, A. Sand. 11, 5222.  Musical Attempt. Nicarchus. 2, 544.  Musical Doctor, The. Ammianus. 2, 545.  Musica and Morals. Haweis. 18, 8319.  MUSSET. ALFRED DE. Sainte-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| LEY. Letters. 8. 3489.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Letter from Alex. Pope. 12, 6291.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Beuve. 11. 5218. To Pépa. 18. 6778.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| MONTAIGNE, MICHEL EYQUEM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | To Pépa. 18. 8773.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| MONTAIGNE, MICHEL EYQUEM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Mutineers of the "Bounty," Tho. Bar-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| DE. Escars. 5. 2222.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | I man 10 4505                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| MONTESQUIEU, BARON. Persian                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | row. 10. 4505.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Letters. 7. 3197.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | My book and taper. 6, 2554.  My Country 'tis of thes. 19. 5917.  My Dear and Only Love. Montrose. 8, 8777.  MYERS, FREDERICK W. H. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| MONTGOMERY, JEMIMA. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | My Country 'tis of thee. 19. 8917.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Struggle. 11. 5169.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | My Dear and Only Love. Montrose. 8. 8777.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| MONTROSE, MARQUIS OF. My                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | MYERS, FREDERICK W. H. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Done and Only Laws 0 2777                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Dear and Only Love. 6. 577.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | MYERS, FREDERICK W. H., Trans. An Oracle concerning the Eternal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Moonstone, The. Collins. 12. 5700.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | An Oncela concerning the Pterral                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| MOORE, THOMAS. Paradised the Peri 12, 5486.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | God. 2. 540.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Dear and Only Love. 8. 3777.  Moonstone, The. Collins. 12. 5766.  MOORE, THOMAS, Paradise of the Peri 12. 5486.  MOORE, THOMAS, Trans. An Ode of                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | God. 2. 510.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Anaereon 11. 5076.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | To Amelins, who inquired, "Where is now Plotinns' Soul?" 2. 540.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Letter from Byron. 13. 6300.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | is now Plotinns' Soni?" 2. 540.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| MODE SID THOMAS THE AND HE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | My golden spurs now bring to me. 3. 1306.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| MORE, SIR THOMAS. Utopia and its                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | My hair is aray. 14, 6806.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Customs. 6. 2749 Moral Education. Spencer. 16. 7573.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | My hair is gray. 14, 6806. My Last Walk with the Schoolmistress.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Moral Education. Spencer. 16. 7573.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Training 14 for                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| plorality Independent of Hillity, Leeky, 18, 8462.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Holmes. 14, 6362.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Morgante Maggiore, The. Pulci. 5, 1956                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Troit in a second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | My Lord Tomnoddy. Barham. 12, 5225.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | My Lore in her attire doth shore her                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Stoler Manual Hajji Baba and the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | My Lore in her attire doth shore her                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Morgante Maggiore, The. Pulci. 5. 1956MORIER, JAMES Hajji Baba and theStolen Money. 11. 5100.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | My Love in her attire doth show her wift. 17. 7930.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | My Love in her attire doth show her wift. 17. 7930.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | My Lore in her attiro doth show her roit.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  11. 5904.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | My Lore in her attire doth show her voit.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 15, 7238 Morning Hymn. Wesley. 11, 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1, 410.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | My Lore in her attire doth show her voit.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 15, 7238 Morning Hymn. Wesley. 11, 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1, 410.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Aly Lore in her attire doth show her toti.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation. The. Monier-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 15, 7238 Morning Hymn. Wesley. 11, 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1, 410.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | My Lore in her attire doth show her voit.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellieo.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The.  Monier-Williams.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 15, 7238 Morning Hymn. Wesley. 11, 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1, 410.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | vit.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  Ny Prisons. Pellico.  My Strions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mysterions Of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 15. 7233 Morning Hymn, Wesley. 11. 5002 MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1. 410. MORRIS, WILLIAM. The Golden Apples. 13. 5916. Trans. The Grettis Saga. 10. 4816. MORRISON, ARTHUR. The Red Cow                                                                                                                                                           | My Lore in her attire doth show her voit.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellieo.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The.                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 15, 7238 Morning Hymn, Wesley. 11, 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1, 410. MORRIS, WILLIAM. The Golden Apples. 13, 5916. Trans. The Grettis Saga. 10, 4816. MORRISON, ARTHUR. The Red Cow Group. 20, 9641.                                                                                                                                         | My Lore in her attire doth show her voit.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellieo.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The.  Monier-Williams.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 15. 7238 Morning Hymn, Wesley. 11. 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1. 410. MORRIS, WILLIAM. The Golden Apples. 13. 5916. Tians. The Grettis Saga. 10. 4816. MORRISON, ARTHUR. The Red Cow. Group.                                                                                                                                                  | If Lore in her attire doth show her voit.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballad of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The.  Enssell.  12. 6182.                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 15. 7238 Morning Hymn, Wesley. 11. 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1. 410. MORRIS, WILLIAM. The Golden Apples. 13. 5916. Tians. The Grettis Saga. 10. 4816. MORRISON, ARTHUR. The Red Cow. Group.                                                                                                                                                  | Aly Lore in her attire doth show her toti.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The. Enssell.  NAHUYS BARON Trans. The Story.                                                                                                                                                                |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward.   15. 7238                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Aly Lore in her attire doth show her toti.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The. Enssell.  NAHUYS BARON Trans. The Story.                                                                                                                                                                |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward.   15. 7238                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Aly Lore in her attire doth show her toti.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The. Enssell.  NAHUYS BARON Trans. The Story.                                                                                                                                                                |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward.   15. 7238                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Aly Lore in her attire doth show her toti.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The. Enssell.  NAHUYS BARON Trans. The Story.                                                                                                                                                                |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 11. 5103. Morning Hymn. Wesley. 11. 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1. 410. MORRIS, WILLIAM. The Golden Apples. 13. 5016. Trans. The Grettis Saga. 10. 4816. MORRISON, ARTHUR. The Red Cow Group. Morigage, The. Carleton. 11. 9025. Moses, Tho Burial of. Alexander. 1. 85. Moses, Tho Burial of. Alexander. 1. 85. Moses from an Old Marse, Haw- | Ty Lore in her attire doth show her vit.  Ity Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  My Strions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The.  Rnssell.  NAHUYS, BABON, Trans. The Story of Saidjah and Adinda.  NAIRNE, BARONESS. Tammy.  The Lass o' Gowrie.  "Nancy Rell."  The Varn of the:  "Nancy Rell."  The Varn of the:  "The Cass o' Gowrie. |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward.   15. 7238                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Ally Lore in her attire doth show her tott.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The. Enssell.  NAHUYS, BARON, Trans. The Story of Saldjah and Adinda.  NAIRNE, BARONESS. Tammy.  The Lass o' Gowrie.  "Nancy Bell," The Yern of the.  Gilbert.  15, 739.                                    |
| Mormon Romance, A. Ward. 11. 5103. Morning Hymn. Wesley. 11. 5002. MORRIS, SIR LEWIS. Athene. 1. 410. MORRIS, WILLIAM. The Golden Apples. 13. 5016. Trans. The Grettis Saga. 10. 4816. MORRISON, ARTHUR. The Red Cow Group. Morigage, The. Carleton. 11. 9025. Moses, Tho Burial of. Alexander. 1. 85. Moses, Tho Burial of. Alexander. 1. 85. Moses from an Old Marse, Haw- | Aly Lore in her attire doth show her toti.  My Lore, this is the bitterest.  My Prisons. Pellico.  Mysterions Hosts of the Forest, Ballade of the. De Banville.  Mystery of Creation, The. Monier-Williams.  Mystery of the "Ocean Star," The. Enssell.  NAHUYS BARON Trans. The Story.                                                                                                                                                                |

| TOT Dien                                                                                                                                | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Nanoleon Buonnorte Historia Doubta                                                                                                      | Vol. PAGI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Napoleon Buonaparte, Historic Doubtsrelative to. Whately. 20 9400.                                                                  | Not to counterfeit being sick. Mon-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Napoleon, The History of. Lanfrey. 10 4701.                                                                                             | taigne. 5. 222                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Napoleon, The History of Lanfrey. 10 4701.Napoleon's Sangaree. Garnett. 18. 8312.                                                   | Tallotte Transfer trees trees to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Narcissus, A Counterpart to. Lucilius. 2 543.                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Narrative of Cook's Voyages. Kippis. 9. 4359.                                                                                           | Now glory to the Lord of Hosts. 5. 231                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Narrative of Cook's Voyages. Kippis. 9. 4859.Nathan Hale. Finch. 11. 4934.                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Nathan the Wise. Lessing. 9. 4178.                                                                                                      | Now swarms the village. 8. 855                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| National Forces, New Constitution                                                                                                       | Now What is love? Palaigh                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| National Forces, New Constitution and Hamilton. 11, 4936.                                                                               | Now the Graces are four. 2. 54Now, What is love? Raleigh. 6. 2510Now when our Lord was come to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| and Hamilton. 11. 4936.Nation Making, Imitation as a Factor                                                                         | eighteen years. 1. 19                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|                                                                                                                                         | Nun, A. Hunt. 14, 6377                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Nations, The Wealth of Smith. 9. 4340. Natural History. De Buffon. 11. 5183.                                                            | Nurture of Noble Impulse. Beecher. 11. 5286                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Natural History. De Buffon. 11, 5183.                                                                                                   | Nymphs. Wade. 1. 479                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Natural History of Selborne. White. 10. 4531.                                                                                           | 1. 415                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Natural History of Selborne. White, 10. 4531.Naturalism and Ethics. Balfour. 16. 7631.                                              | O a new song, a free song. 19. 8826                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Natural Law in the Spiritual World.                                                                                                     | O blessed vision, happy child. 12. 5468                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Drummond, 13, 5883.                                                                                                                     | O Captain i My Captain ! Whitman. 15, 7304                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Nature and Nancy. Dibdin. 10. 4530.                                                                                                     | O Captain i My Captain i Whitman. 15, 7804 "Ocean Star," The Mystery of the.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Naught are all noomen. 7. 8358.                                                                                                         | I Russell. 13.6189                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Naught is there under heaven's toide                                                                                                    | O Cupberer! All up the gobiet 5. 2154.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| hollowness. 6. 2739.                                                                                                                    | O'CURRY, EUGENE. Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Nay do not dream. 18, 8392.                                                                                                             | 1 110 Pillow Conversation of King                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Nay I prithes tell me, Love. 5. 2051.NEALE, JOHN MASON, Trans.                                                                      | Affill and Queen Maey 8, 1023.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| NEALE, JOHN MASON, Trans.                                                                                                               | The Fight of Cuchullin and Ferdiah 2 1031                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Art thou weary. 4. 1618.                                                                                                                | Ode for Music, An. Coilias. 8. 8536.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Art thou weary.  The Rhythm of Bernard De Morlaix.  4. 1618. 4. 1614.                                                                   | Ode for Music, An. Collins. 8, 8536, Odo of Anacreou, An. Moore, Trans. 11, 5076, Ode on a Distant Prospect of Eton                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| NEAVES, LUED, Trans. Wit and                                                                                                            | Ode on a Distant Prospect of Eton                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Satire of the Greek Anthology. 2. 541.                                                                                                  | I Conege, Grav. 13 cms                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Necklaco, The. Manpassant. 14, 6797.                                                                                                    | 1 Udo on a Greciaa Urn. Keats. 2. 744.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Nelson, Life of. Mahan. 10. 4742.                                                                                                       | 1 Odd on a sar of Pickles. Taylor. 19, 8963.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Nelson, The Death of Southey. 14 6665.Net of Death, The. Doyle. 17. 8169.                                                           | Ode on St. Cecilia's Day, An. Drydon, 2, 764.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Net of Death, The. Doyle. 17. 8169.                                                                                                     | Ode on the Spring. Gray. 17, 8089.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Never, O craven England. 13. 2121.                                                                                                      | Ode on the Spring.       Gray.       17, 5059.         Odes.       Horace.       2, 955.         Ode to Duty.       Wordsworth.       17, 5030.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Newcomes, The. Thackerny. 12. 5664.                                                                                                     | Ode to Duty. Wordsworth. 17, 8030.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| New England Romance, Three Hero-                                                                                                        | Odo to Napoleon Buonaparte. Byron. 10, 4727.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| ines of. Spofford. 20. 9567.  NEWMAN, JOHN HENRY. Newman and his Companions. 11, 5154.                                                  | Odyssens and Calypso, the Parting of.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| NEWMAN, JUHN HENRI.                                                                                                                     | Homer. 1, 264.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Newman and his Companions. 11. 5154.                                                                                                    | Odysseus and the Princess Nausican.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| The Pillar of the Cloud, 11. 5161.New Republic, The. Mallock. 16. 7544.                                                             | Homer. 1. 277.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| New Ropublic, The. Mallock. 16. 7544.New Uso of a Human Face, A. Tra-                                                               | Odysseus describes his Adventure with                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| jan. 2. 542.                                                                                                                            | Odysseus describes his Adventure with the Cyclops. Homer. 1, 313. Odyssey, The. Homer. 1, 264. Odyssey, The. Homer. 1, 277. Odyssey, The. Homer. 1, 313. Odyssey, The. Labg. 1, 313. Œdipus, the Downfall and Death of King. Eophocles. 2, 613. Oehlenschlöger, Adam Gottlob. Lines on leaving Italy. 18, 8317.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| New Way to pay Old Debts, A. Mns-                                                                                                       | Odyssey, The. Homer. 1. 264.Odyssey, The. Homer. 1. 277.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| singer. 6, 2799.                                                                                                                        | Odyssey, The. Homer. 1. 277. Odyssey, The. Homer. 1. 313.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Now York After Paris. Brownell. 16. 7688.                                                                                               | Odyssey, The. Homer. 1. 313.Odyssey, The. Lang. 1. 313.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Nibelungenited, From the. W. N. Lett-                                                                                                   | Edines the Downfall and Death of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| som, Trans. 4. 1540.                                                                                                                    | King. Sophocles. 2. 618.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| som, Trans. 4. 1540.Nicholas Nickleby. Dickens. 13. 5977.                                                                           | Ochlenschläger, Adam Gottleb, Lines                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Nicias a doctor and musician, 2, 545.                                                                                                   | Ochlenschläger, Adam Gottlob. Lineson leaving Italy. 18. 8517.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Nicolete as ye heard tell. 4. 1567.                                                                                                     | Of all life's plagues. 2, 647.Of all the girls that are so smart. 17, 8152.Of all the thoughts of God. 17, 7872.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Vicency has doubless reached has                                                                                                        | Of all the girls that are so smart. 2, 547.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| prime. 2, 517, 1                                                                                                                        | Of all the thoughts of God. 17. 7872.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Nicel's Doom. Aguilar. 11, 5319.                                                                                                        | Of Christ, who, by His Passion, deliv-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Night A Ladging for the Stevenson 5 2164.                                                                                               | l cred us from Heli ১. 1165.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Night, Hymn to. Monier-Williams. J. 18.                                                                                                 | Of Graces four, of Muses ten. 2. 516. Of Nelson and the North. 10. 4657.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Nights with lincia Kamus. Harris. 15, 5(5), 1                                                                                           | Of Nelson and the North. 10, 4657.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Night Thoughts. Young. 8. 3707.                                                                                                         | Ofor a lodge in a garden of cucum-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Niniusi Circles in Kussia. Draudes. 10, e020, i                                                                                         | bers. 15, 7157.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Ninety-Nine in the Shade. Johnson. 15, 7157.                                                                                            | Of summer I am very fond. 12, 5475.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Ninety-Three. Hugo. 13, 5549. Noël, A Story of. Ouida. 16, 7765. No man so callous. 16, 7364.                                           | Of the kies heard Augussin. Of the Sies heard Augussin. Of no Tars 'tis reported. Of God, inefalls eternal Sire. O good painter, tell me true. O'GRADY, STANDISH, Trans. Cuchullin's Woolng of Limer. The Death of Cuchullin. 3, 1033.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Nocl, A Story of. Ouida. 16. 7765.                                                                                                      | O God, ineffable eternal Sire. 2, 510.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| No man so callour. 16. 7864.                                                                                                            | O good painter, tell me true. 20, 9430.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| No more I hall the morning's golden                                                                                                     | O'GRADY, STANDISH, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| gleam. 9. 42/2.                                                                                                                         | Cuchullin's Wooing of Limer. 3. 1030.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| gleam. 9, 4272. Nora's Resolve. Ibsen. 16, 7777. North and South. Perry. 15, 8523.                                                      | The Death of Cuchullin. 8, 1033.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| North and South. Perry. 15. 8023.Northern Vigil, A. Carman. 18. 8655.                                                               | The Death of Cuchullin.  O'HAGAN, JOHN, Trans. The Horn                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Northern Vigil, A. Carman. 18, 8655.NORTON, CAROLINE.                                                                               | of Roland. 3, 1410.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Ringen on the Khine. 45. 5044-4                                                                                                         | Oh. let him scho mants for glory's                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| The King of Denmark's Ride. 16, 7699.                                                                                                   | guerdon. S. 13.9.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Notable Men and Savines of England.                                                                                                     | Ohour of all hours. 16 7765.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Fuller, 1. 5295.                                                                                                                        | Oh, say can you see. 19, 8919. Oh, that I had been nourished in                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Not a deum tras heard. 10, 2112-1                                                                                                       | On, that I had been nouristed in                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Not far advanced was morning day. 14. 0010.                                                                                             | $f_{i}(x) = f_{i}(x) f_{i}(x) \qquad \qquad f_{i}(x) f_{i$ |
| Nothing to Wear. Batler. 14. 6792.                                                                                                      | Ohumid ere of April. 11, 5202.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| No I those days are gone areay.  No Tidings. Chamberlain, Trans.  14. 6319.  16. 7851.                                                  | On traditation les ounirs les ounirs                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| No I those days are gone away. 14. 6319.No Tidings. Chamberlain, Trans. 16. 7864.Notre Dame, The Bell Ringer of. Hugo. 5, 2059. | Oh, schere is the knight. Oh, World God, give me Wealth. 19. 1919.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Notre Plame, The Bell Linger of. Hugo. 5, 2008.                                                                                         | ve, north don't dere me nemmer 12, 5322                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

| νο:                                                                                                                              | L. PAOE.                         | VOL. PAG                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 6Z.         |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| Oh, yet we trust that somehow good.                                                                                              | 17. 7815.                        | Ordeal by Fire, The. Villari. 5, 20                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |             |
| Old Age, A Sermon of. Parker.Old Age, On. Ciccro.                                                                            | 11. 5277.                        | Order for a Picture, An. Cary. 20.94O'REILLY, JOHN BOYLE. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | ου.         |
| Old Apple Women The Crench                                                                                                       | 2. 943.19. 9053.             | Order for a Picture, An. Cary. O'BEILLY, JOHN, BOYLE. The White Rose. O'BEILLY AND BOYLE. The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 50          |
| Old Apple Woman, The. Cranch.Old Bushm.                                                                                      | 8. 1455.                         | O'RELL, MAX. From "John Bull                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | ٠           |
| Old Clock on the Stairs, The. Long-                                                                                              | 0. 1100.                         | and his Island." 14. 65                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 00.         |
| fellow.                                                                                                                          | 14. G725.                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |             |
| Oldest Story in the World, The.                                                                                                  | 1. 69.17. 8203.19. 9246. | l England Barchot. 6, 29.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 18.         |
| Old Familiar Faces, The. Lamb.                                                                                                   | 17. 8203.                        | Orlando Furioso. Ariosto. 5. 20                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 78.         |
|                                                                                                                                  |                                  | Orlando Furioso. Arlosto. 5. 20ORMSBY, JOHN, Trans.Don Quixote and Sancho. 5. 22                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 60          |
| Old Kensingston Pitchie                                                                                                          | 8. 1443.20. 9710.            | The Poem of my Cid. 3. 123                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 31.         |
| Old Kensingston, Ritchie.                                                                                                        | 18. 8518.                        | O Rome my country. 2. 80                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 08.         |
|                                                                                                                                  | 10. 4795.                        | O saw uz not fair Ines. 18. 626                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 63.         |
| Old St. Panl's. Ainsworth.                                                                                                       | 6. 2519.                         | O sleep I it is a gentle thing. 12.589                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 59.         |
| Old bcottish Cavaller, The. Aytonn.                                                                                              | 11. 5117.                        | Ossian. A Poem of. Macpherson. 9, 416                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 52.         |
| Old Scottish Domestic Servant, The.                                                                                              | -0 -100                          | Ossian. A Poem of. Macpherson. 9, 416 Other Wise Man, The. Van Dyke. 20, 963 Other Worlds than Ours. Proctor. 16, 763                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 51.         |
| Ramsay,                                                                                                                          | 12. 5138.                        | Other Worlds than Ours. Proctor. 16.765 O thou Macenas who canst trace. 2.96                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |             |
| Old Street Lamp, The. Andersen.Old Time Lords, Ballads of. Villon.Old Tramp, The. Béranger.Old Tubal Cain was a Man. | 14. 6415.5. 2159.            | O thou mat swing'st upon the waring                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | ٠٠٠.        |
| Old Tramp. The. Béranger.                                                                                                        | 10. 4741.                        | ear. 7.840                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 77.         |
| Old Tubal Cain was a Man.                                                                                                        | 1. 49.                           | Otterhourne The Rattle of Frois-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |             |
| Uld Woman of Echleswiz-Holstein, The.                                                                                            |                                  | eart. 4.173OTWAY, THOMAS. The Betrayal. 7.233                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 35.         |
| Anonymous.                                                                                                                       | 13. 5554.                        | ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ### 1. ## | 15.         |
| O let the soul her slumbers break.                                                                                               | 4. 1927                          | OUIDA. A Dog of Flanders. 16, 776Our bugles sand truct. 12, 583                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | м.25    |
| O let the sout her slumbers break. OLIPHANT, LAUPENCE. Adventures in Central America.                                            | 16. 7597.                        | Our Doga. Brown. 14. 653                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 33.         |
| OLIPHANT, MRS. Fourth Crusade                                                                                                    | 4. 1595.                         | Our Parish Murderer, Forbes 14, 671                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 2.          |
| Olive Boughs, The. Adams.                                                                                                        | 17. 8196.                        | O William Milder 11 534                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 13.         |
| O lively. O most charming rate.                                                                                                  | 12 5478.                         | Ond and snake Sir Indoldsby Bray. 4, 100                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 96.         |
| Oliver Cromwell. Carlyle.Olympic Games, The. Ebers.OMAN, CHARLES W. Warwick the                                          | 6. 2853.                         | Outcasts of Poker Flat, The. Harte. 20, 920                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ω.10    |
| Olympic Games, The. Ebers.                                                                                                       | 2. 504.                          | Out of my way! Off! 1. 22 Out of the city far away. 20. 933                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |             |
| Vicemeter W. Warwick the                                                                                                         | 5, 1945.                         | Ont of the Fast Hearn 18 S51                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | íi.         |
| O Mary I go and call.                                                                                                            | 18, 6225                         | Onto the anner sea. Addice.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 3.          |
| うとくとび だまじん ママ んとく こっちとしょく                                                                                                        | 3. 969.16. 7783.             | Out! out alas! what a scandal! 2, 64 Over his keys the musing organist. 3, 120                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 14.         |
| O memory, that echich I gave thee. O mice, if here you come for food. On a Wet Day. Sacchetti.                                   | 16, 7783.                        | Over his keys the musing organist. 3. 180                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | )4.         |
| O mice, if here you come for food.                                                                                               |                                  | Overreach Overreached. Massinger. 6. 279                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 7 0. |
| On a Wet Day, Sacchetti.                                                                                                         | 4, 1734.18, 8429.            | OVID. The Story of Acis, Polyphemns,and Galatea. 1. 33                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 35.         |
| On heing hard up. Jerome.On Both Sides. Baylor.                                                                              | 19. 9209.                        | and Galatea. 1. 83Owl, The. Wilson. 12. 560                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ю.          |
| Once in Persia ruled a king.                                                                                                     | 18. 6184.                        | Owl, The. Wilson.       12.560         O young Lochinvar.       11.501                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 6.          |
| Once more among the old gigantic                                                                                                 |                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |             |
| hills.                                                                                                                           | 15. 6517.                        | Pack Clouds away. Heywood. 6. 271 Page of the Duke of Savoy, The.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 1.          |
| Once more unto the breach.                                                                                                       | 6. 2606.12. 5786.            | PAGET, VIOLET. Essays from 17. 8278                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 5.          |
| Once upon a midnight dreary. One day when rains refreshed the                                                                    | 14. 0100.                        | PAGET, VIOLET. Essays from                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | ••          |
| earth.                                                                                                                           | 1. 117.                          | "Belcaro." 17. 827                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 5.          |
| One dazzling mass of solid snow.                                                                                                 | 2. 955.                          | PAINE, THOMAS. Thoughts on the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |             |
| One God, The. Monier-Williams.                                                                                                   | 1. 17.                           | Present State of the American Affairs. 11. 491                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 0           |
| One great clime. One-hoss Shay, Holmes.                                                                                          | 15. 7260.20. 9302.           | Affairs. 11. 491. Painter, The. Gay. 8. 845                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 3.          |
| One morn a Peri at the gate.                                                                                                     | 12. 5456.                        | Painting, Invention or Composition in.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -           |
| One more unfortunate.                                                                                                            | 12. 5572.                        | Painting, Invention or Composition in. Da Vinci. 5. 2055                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 2.          |
| On First Looking into Chapman's                                                                                                  |                                  | Palestine and West Kent, A Legend of.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | c           |
| Homer Kests                                                                                                                      | 1. 224.                          | Barham. 4.1500                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ٠.          |
| On Hell-Fer-Sartain Creek. Fox.On Parting with his Books. Roscoe.                                                            | 18. 8763.20. 9752.           | PALMER, E. H. Trans. Meditations of Hafiz. 5. 215                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 1.          |
| On Parting with his Books. Roscoe.On the Conversation of Authors.                                                            |                                  | P.nstem and Akwan Dev. 4. 1077                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 2.          |
| Hazlitt.                                                                                                                         | 11. 5055.                        | PALMER, G. H. The Biory of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | _           |
| On the Crown. Demosthenes.                                                                                                       | 2. 730.                          | Imperfect. 17. 8197 Palmyra, The Fall of Ware. 3. 1846                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |             |
| On the Crown. Demosthenes. On the Death of the Rev. Elijah W. Batey. Taylor.                                                     | 19. 6962.                        | Demains on Vietra Descripted Rich.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |             |
| Un the heights. Anerbach.                                                                                                        | 19. 9152.                        | ardson. 9. 8945 Panchatantra. Pilpay. 4. 1765 Pap's got his patent right. 19. 9104                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 3.          |
| On the Prospect of Planting Arts and                                                                                             |                                  | Panchatantra. Pilpay. 4. 1765                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 5.          |
| Learning in America. Berkeley.                                                                                                   | 8. 8483.                         | Par's got his patent right.  Parabasis. Aristophanes.  Parable, A. Loweil.  19.9104  19.9104  19.9104  19.9104                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | }.>     |
| On the sea and at the Hogue. On the Track of the White Whale.                                                                    | 7.8320.                          | Parable, A. Lowell. 14. 6397                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | ï.          |
| merrine.                                                                                                                         | 12. 5506.                        | Paradise and the Peri. Moore. 12, 5450 Paradise Lost. Milton. 7, 8228                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |             |
| On the Wane: A Sentimental Corre-epondence, Clifford.                                                                        |                                  | Paradise Lost. Milton. 7. 8226                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |             |
| epondence, Clifford.                                                                                                             | 17. 7859.                        | Paradise and the Peri. Moore. 12, 5455 Paradise Lost. Milton. 7, 3226 Paradox, A. Patmore. 11, 5341 Parasite, The Self Analysis of a.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | L.          |
|                                                                                                                                  | 11. 5065.                        | Parasite, The Self Analysis of a. Diderot. 9. 4027                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ī.          |
| De Quincey.                                                                                                                      | 14. 6727                         | DIDEED CHIDEDT The Fight with                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |             |
| De Quincey. Oppression of Grenhidwy The Peacock. O gwen, awake to the renown.                                                    | 3. 1001.                         | the Bear. 20, 2473                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ١,          |
| O queen, awake to thy renown.                                                                                                    | 11 6341.2. 540.              | the Bear. 29, 2473 PARKER, THEODORE. A Sermon of Old Age. 11, 5277                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ,           |
| Oracles of Greece, The Last TwoOrang-Utan, The. Wallace.                                                                     | 2. 540.16 7621.              | of Old Age. 11. 5277 PARKES, BESSIE R. The Campagna                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | •           |
| Ora ory, Jecular. Quintilian                                                                                                     | 2 (15.                           | of Rome. 2. 840                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ).   |
| •                                                                                                                                |                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |             |

| PARKMAN, FRANCIS. Canadian                                                                                                                                                                                            | Pled Dipon of Warrelly (Illes Beautier of Onco                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Absolutism. 18, 8518                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Pied Piper of Hamelin, The. Browning. 5, 2360Pilato and the Crncifixion. Farrar. 16, 7797                                                              |
| PARNELL, THOMAS. The Hermit. 8, 8501.                                                                                                                                                                                 | Pilgrim Fathers in New England, The                                                                                                                        |
| Tarting of Odyssons and Calypso.                                                                                                                                                                                      | Landlog of the Hemans. 15, 6525Pilgrim's Piogress, The. Bunyan. 8, 8409                                                                                |
| Partridge and the Falcon, The. Pilpay. 4. 1769.PASCAL, BLAISE. The Weakness,                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                            |
| PASCAL, BLAISE. The Weakness,                                                                                                                                                                                         | Pillar of the Clend, The. Newman. 11. 5161                                                                                                                 |
| Unrest, and Defects of Man. 11.5140.Passages from a Sentimental Journey.                                                                                                                                          | Pillow Conversation of King Ailill and Queon Maey that caused the War,                                                                                     |
| Sterne. 9. 4218                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 1 The 0 1000                                                                                                                                               |
| Passion in the Desert. A. Raizac. 12, 6836.                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                            |
| Page of Whom and Who Warms 4 416                                                                                                                                                                                      | IPINDAR Jahh 1 159                                                                                                                                         |
| Pastels of Mcn. Bourget. 18. 8755.                                                                                                                                                                                    | PINKNEY, EDWARD COATE. A                                                                                                                                   |
| Pastel's of Men. Bourget. 16. 470. Pastel's of Men. Bourget. 16. 6758. Pastor's Lovo, A. Rod. 16. 7769. PATER, WAITER HORATIO. Marcus Aurelins at Homo. 3. 1293. PATMORE, GOVENTRY. The Angel in the House. 11. 6338. | Health. 11. 4954. Pioneer Life in America. Tocqueville. 15. 7257.                                                                                          |
| cus Aurelins at Homo. 3. 1293.                                                                                                                                                                                        | 113sidice. Lang. 1 861                                                                                                                                     |
| PATMORE, COVENTRY. The Angel in the Heuse. 11, 5388.                                                                                                                                                                  | Pity would be no more. 10, 4486.                                                                                                                           |
| Patrins. Guincy. 18. 8697.                                                                                                                                                                                            | liace where Man should die The                                                                                                                             |
| Paul and Virginia, Pierre, 10, 4488.                                                                                                                                                                                  | Barry. 15, 7812.                                                                                                                                           |
| PAUSANIAS. The Defeat of the Galatians. 2. 779.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                            |
| PAYNE, JOHN, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Plato and Bacon. Macaulay. 2, 664.                                                                                                                         |
| Ballad of Villen in Prison. 5. 2162.                                                                                                                                                                                  | PLATO. The Trial of Secrets. 2. 678.Pleasure is Vanity. Prior. 8. 8588.                                                                                |
| Baliads of Old Timo Lords. 5, 2159.Seemly Lesson of Villen to the Good-                                                                                                                                           | Pleasure is Vanity. Prier. 8. 3588.Pleasures of Repe. The. Campbell. 12. 5400.                                                                         |
| for-naughts. 5, 2161.                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 1 Picashres of Memory The. Rogers 10 4544                                                                                                                  |
| Peacock Complaining to June, The. Fontaine. 7.8106.                                                                                                                                                                   | PLINY, THE YOUNGER. The Great Eruption of Vesuvius. 3, 1039.                                                                                               |
| PEACOCK, THOMAS LOVE.                                                                                                                                                                                                 | PLUMPTRE, E. H. The Emperor and                                                                                                                            |
| Headleng Hall. 12. 5575.Robin Hood and Maid Marian. 4. 1665.                                                                                                                                                      | the Pede. 8. 1189. PLUTAROH.                                                                                                                               |
| The Oppression of Gwenhidwy. 8, 1001.                                                                                                                                                                                 | Alexander of his Best and Worst. 2. 746.                                                                                                                   |
| Peg Wollington. Readc. 8, 8607.                                                                                                                                                                                       | Antony and Cleopatra, 2, 879. Solon. 2, 558.                                                                                                               |
| PELLICO, BILVIO. His Imprison-ment. 11.5004.                                                                                                                                                                      | Plymonth, The Wild Rose of Very, 11, 4972.                                                                                                                 |
| Penelope cocs to Court. Goodwin. 11. 4978.                                                                                                                                                                            | POE, EDGAR ALLAN. The Bells. 16,7411.                                                                                                                      |
| Penitenco. Massilion. 7. 8183. Penseroso, Il. Milton. 6. 2578. Plog 4 solve the gight has some 18 8774                                                                                                                | The Fall of the House of Usher. 12,5789.                                                                                                                   |
| Pena / when the night has come. 18. 8774.                                                                                                                                                                             | The Gold Bug. 15, 7123. The Haunted Palaco. 15, 7122. The Masque of the Red Death. 6, 2818.                                                                |
| Popita Ximenez. Vaiera. 19. 9191.                                                                                                                                                                                     | The Masque of the Red Death. 6, 2818. The Raven. 12, 5785.                                                                                                 |
| PEPYS, SAMUEL. Leavos from 7.8824.                                                                                                                                                                                    | 1 Willism Wilson. 17, 7944.                                                                                                                                |
| PERCY. The Ballad of Chery Chase, 4, 1759.                                                                                                                                                                            | Poem of my Cld, The. Ormsby, Trans. 8. 1231.                                                                                                               |
| Percy's Reliques. 4. 1758.Pericles, Frineral Speech of. Thu-                                                                                                                                                      | Poem of Ossian, A. Mscphersen. 9. 4162.Poems. Dante. 4. 1698.                                                                                          |
| cydides. 1. 412.                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Poems. Ronsard. 5. 2216.                                                                                                                                   |
| Periods of Greek History after the Coo-quest of Greeco. Finlay. 10, 4767.                                                                                                                                         | Poems and Will. Chatterton. 9. 4269.Poetry as a Mistress. Cowley. 6. 2582.                                                                             |
| PERRY, NORA, North and South, 18, 8523.                                                                                                                                                                               | Poetry as a Mistress. Cowiey. 6. 2582. Poker Party, The. Murfreo. 18. 8518. Polloy of Great Britain toward her American Colonies, Tho True. Burka 15 6919. |
| Persia by Caravan, Through. Arneld. 18. 6209.                                                                                                                                                                         | Polloy of Great Britain toward her                                                                                                                         |
| Persian Forms and Fables. Malcolm. 18. 6186.Persian Governor, A. Arnold. 18. 6209.                                                                                                                                | Burka. 15. 6919.                                                                                                                                           |
| Persian Letters. Montesquieu. 7. 8197.                                                                                                                                                                                | Political Episode, A. Boyesen. 19. 8906.                                                                                                                   |
| Ainsworth. 6, 2819.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Political Episode, A. Boyesen. 19. 3306. "Polllo," A Sacred Eclogue in initation of Virgil's. Pope. 3. 1107. POLWHELE, Trans. The War Soogs                |
| Alnsworth.  Peter Ibbetsen. Du Maurier. Peter Schlennidi. Chamisso.  16. 7852. 16. 7852.                                                                                                                              | POLWHELE, Trans. The War Soogs of Tyrteus. 1. 473.                                                                                                         |
| PETRARCH. Damsel of the Laurel. 4, 1723.                                                                                                                                                                              | Pompeli and Herculaneum. Schiller. 8. 1042.                                                                                                                |
| Petrilled Fern, The. Dranen. 10, 03vi.                                                                                                                                                                                | Pompell, The Destroction of. Bulwer-                                                                                                                       |
| Phracia, The Song of. Lang. 1. 277.Phantom of Delight, She was a. Words-                                                                                                                                          | Lytton.  Poinp of the Lavilettes, The. Parker.  8. 1044. 20. 9473.                                                                                         |
| worth 17. 6219.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Poor Diophon of envy died. 2. 552.                                                                                                                         |
| PHELPS, ELIZABETH STUART The Voyage of the "America." 19, 8924.                                                                                                                                                       | POOLE, STANLEY LANE, Trans. Mehammed's Writings.  8. 1217.                                                                                                 |
| Philaster. Beaumont and Fletcher.                                                                                                                                                                                     | Peer Jack. Dibdin. 10. 4525.                                                                                                                               |
| PHILLIPS, WENDELL. Toussaint 20 9572                                                                                                                                                                                  | Poor Jenny wer her Roberd's bride. 19. 8945.Poor lone Hannah. 19. 9066.                                                                                |
| L'Ouverture. 20. 9572. Physical Basis of Life, The. Huxley. 18. 8489.                                                                                                                                                 | Poor Scholar's Admonition to the Mice.                                                                                                                     |
| Physical Basis of Life, The. Huxley. 18. 8489. Physics and Politics. Bagehot. 19. 8899. Physiology of Laughter, Tho. Speecer. 16. 7861.                                                                               | The. Aristo. 2. 549.                                                                                                                                       |
| a man Rellet-                                                                                                                                                                                                         | The. Aristo. 2. 549. Poor Young Man, Remsoes of s. Fuillet. 16. 7444.                                                                                      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Pope, A Dialogue to the Memery of Mr. Alexander. Debson. 8, 3469,                                                                                          |
| Picciola, the Rescue of Balotine. 10, 4732.Pickwick Papers. Dickons. 12, 5615.                                                                                                                                    | PUPE, ADEAANDER.                                                                                                                                           |
| Pletorial Art, The Limitations of.                                                                                                                                                                                    | A Spered Eclorue in Imitation of Vir-                                                                                                                      |
| Lessing. 9.4170.Picture, An Order for a. Cary. 20.9430.                                                                                                                                                           | gil's ''Pellio.'' 8. 1107.Essay on Man. 8. 3462.                                                                                                       |
| Licente, wit order for an omit.                                                                                                                                                                                       | •                                                                                                                                                          |

| VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| POPE, ALEXANDER, Trans The                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Prue and I. Curtis. 15. 7064.                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Contention of Ashition and Ace                                                                                                                                                                                               | DITT OF THEOR OF A Manager Manager 16.                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Contention of Achilles and Aga-                                                                                                                                                                                              | PULCI, LUIGI. The Morganie Mag-                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| memnon, From the Hiad of Homer. 1. 193.                                                                                                                                                                                      | giore. 5. 1986.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Letter to Lady Montagu. 13. 6271.                                                                                                                                                                                            | Puppy, The: A Portrait. Guincy. 18. 8697.                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Dung and all among a man                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Pope Gregory sits in St. Peter's                                                                                                                                                                                             | Pure epirit, once a man. 2. 540.Purgatory, A Vision of. Maginn. 12. 6516.                                                                                                                                                         |
| chair. 4. 1509.                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Purgatory, A Vision of. Maginn. 12. 0516.                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Popular Government. Maine. 19. 8334. 1                                                                                                                                                                                       | Purgatory, A Vision of. Maginn. 12, 6516.Purple East, The. Watson. 19, 9121.PUSHKIN, ALEXANDER SERGE                                                                                                                          |
| POQUELIN, JEAN BAPTISTE. The Affected Ladies. 7.8035                                                                                                                                                                         | DUCKERY ALTYANDED SERGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| A ST. A. S. T. ST P. O.O.E.                                                                                                                                                                                                  | TOSHKIN, ABBARADIN BLIGH.                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Affected Ladies. 7. 8085                                                                                                                                                                                                     | JEVICH. The Undertaker. 19. 9159.                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| "Porson Jone." Cable. 19. 9227.                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| PORTER, JANE. Marion's Death                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Qualities of the Right Balm, Of the.                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| and Wallace's Vengoance. 12, 5123.                                                                                                                                                                                           | Mandeville. 4. 1808.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Portrait of Danta by Clatta On a                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Portrait of Danto by Giotto, On a.                                                                                                                                                                                           | Queen Mary was much loved. 12. 5478.                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Lowell. 4. 1702.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Queen of the Air, The. Ruskin. 1. 430.                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Portraits of Men. Esinte-Benve. 11, 5218.                                                                                                                                                                                    | Queen's Necklace, The. Dumas. 10. 4610.                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Portnenese. The Conspiracy against                                                                                                                                                                                           | Queen of the Air, The. Raskin. 1. 430.Queen's Neeklace, The. Dumas. 10. 4610.Quentin Darward's Initiation. Scott. 4. 1871.                                                                                                    |
| the Camoons 5, 2257                                                                                                                                                                                                          | OTHER PROPERTY APPEND                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Pot of Basil, The. Boccaccio. 4. 1716. Poverty, Praise of. Appleins. 2. 930. Powers conferred by New Constitution in Regard to National Forces.                                                                              | QUILLER-COUCH, ARTHUR THOMAS. The Battle of Stamford                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Pot of Bash, The. Boccaccio. 4. 1110.                                                                                                                                                                                        | THOMAS. The Battle of Stamford                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Poverty, Praise of. Apuleins. 2. 930.                                                                                                                                                                                        | Heath. 7. 3286.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Powers conferred by New Constitution                                                                                                                                                                                         | QUINTILIANUS, M. FABIUS.                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| in Recard to National Forces.                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Hamilton. 11. 4236.                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Hamilton. 11. 4936.                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Qno Vadis.? Sienkiewicz. 3. 1245.                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Power of the Wild Ass' Skin, The. De                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Balzac. 17. 8201.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | DADEL LIE CRANCOIG                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Power of Time, The. Hamerton. 14. 6770.                                                                                                                                                                                      | RABELAIS, FRANÇOIS.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PRAED, WINTHROP MACK-WORTH. The Belle of the Ball. 12. 5013.                                                                                                                                                             | Astrological Predictions 5. 2214.                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| WORTH. The Belle of the Ball. 12. 5613.                                                                                                                                                                                      | The Lost Hatchet, 5. 2210.                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| W T T T T T T T T T T T T T T T T T T T                                                                                                                                                                                      | RACINE, JEAN BAPTISTE. Scenes                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| The Red Fisherman; or, the Devil's                                                                                                                                                                                           | Com 64 4 45 a 14 a 14 a 17                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Decoy. 16. 7437.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | TOTAL TOTAL OF CONTRACTOR OF COOP                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Praise of Poverty, Appleins. 2. 930.                                                                                                                                                                                         | Radzivili, Death of. Sienkiewicz. 8. 2683.                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Pratt, Miss. Ferrier. 12. 5604.                                                                                                                                                                                              | Rainbow, The. Patmore. 11. 5310.                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Description of the Colors to Circa The                                                                                                                                                                                       | Rain God. To the Monier-Williams, 1, 12,                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| riayer of the awine to once, the.                                                                                                                                                                                            | Radzivili, Death of. Sienkiewicz. Rainbow, The. Patmore. Rain God, To the. Monier-Williams. 1. 12. Painy Day, The. Longfellow. 14. 6457                                                                                               |
| Praise of Poverty. Appleins. 2. 930. Pratt, Miss. Ferrier. 12. 5604. Prayer of the Swine to Circe, The. Dobson. 2. 501. Prayers before Battle. Fletcher. 6. 2773.                                                            | Rainy Day, The Close of a. Dole. 19. 9208                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | TATELON CON WATER ROOM                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Prechristian Irish Literature. 3. 1017.                                                                                                                                                                                      | Rainy Day, The. Longfellow. 14, 6457Rainy Day, The Close of a. Dole. 19, 9203RALEIGH, SIR WALTER. Now,What is Love? 6, 2510                                                                                               |
| Predictions, Astrological. Rabelals. 5. 2214. Prefatory Address to the "Institutes of the Christian Religion." Calvin. 5. 2383.                                                                                              | What is Love? 6. 2510                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Profetory Address to the "Institutes                                                                                                                                                                                         | Fight about the Azeres. 0. 2012                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| of the Christian Religion." Calvin. 5, 2383.                                                                                                                                                                                 | Ralph Ray, The Trial of. Caine. 17. 8064                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| of the Christian Lengton. Cavin. 0. 2033.                                                                                                                                                                                    | Rāmāyana. 1. 117                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Prescience. Aldrich. 19. 8744. PRESCOTT, WILLIAM HICKLING.                                                                                                                                                                   | Ramean's Nephew. Diderot. 9. 4027.                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| PRESCOTT, WILLIAM HICKLING.                                                                                                                                                                                                  | RAMEE, LOUISE DE LA. A Dog                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | RAMEE, LOUISE DE LA. A DOS                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| PRESTON, HARRIET W., Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                  | of Flanders. 10. 1160                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Lotus Farm. 18. 8457.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Rameses, The Temples of. 1. 87.                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| PPEVOET ARRE Manon Toront 8 3803                                                                                                                                                                                             | PAMSAY, DEAN. The Old Scottish                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| PRÉVOST, ABBE. Manon Lescant. 8, 3803.Pride and Prejndice. Austen. 12, 5364.                                                                                                                                             | Domestic Servant. 12. 5493.                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Pride and Prejudice. Austen. 12. 5001.                                                                                                                                                                                       | RANKE, LEOPOLD VON. The Ar-                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| PRESTON, HARRIET W., Trans. Lotus Farm. PREVOST, ABBE. Manon Lescant. Pride and Prejndice. Austen. Pride and Prejndice. Anstea. Prince Imperiol. Death of the. Forbes. 18, 3379. Prince Siddartha's Marriage. Arnold. 1, 19. | mada 6. 2673.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Prince Imperial, Death of the. Forbes. 18. 8379.                                                                                                                                                                             | mada 6. 2673.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Prince Siddartha's Marriage. Arnold. 1. 19.                                                                                                                                                                                  | Rape of Lucrece, The. Heywood. 6. 2711.                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Princess of the Madras, The. From tho                                                                                                                                                                                        | Rash author, 'tis a vain, presumptu-                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Mahabbarata. 1. 51.                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 1 0018 CT1171 1 1. 6140.                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Princes, what grief hath set the jaun-                                                                                                                                                                                       | RASPE, RUDOLPH ERIC. Adven-                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Trinces, what gives mane see me your                                                                                                                                                                                         | tures of Baron Munchausen. 11. 5047.                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| dice. 1. 170. 5. 2052. Prince William's Death and the An-                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Prince, The. Machiavelli. 5. 2032.                                                                                                                                                                                           | Rasselss. Johnson. 9.4154.                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Prince William's Death and the An-                                                                                                                                                                                           | Ravaged Country, The. Doyle. 4. 1814.Raven, The. Poe. 12. 5785.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| archy. Hume, 3. 1430.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Raven, The. Poe. 12.0155.                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| PRINGLE, THOMAS. Afar in the                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Raven, The. Poe. 12. 5785. Ravenous Cat, The. Pilpay. 4. 1780. Raven, the Rat, and the Pigeons, The. Pilpay. 4. 1766.                                                                                                                 |
| Desert. 8.3545.                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Raven, the Rat, and the Pigeons, The.                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| DDIOD MARTHETTE                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Pilpay. 4. 1766.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| PRIOR, MATTHEW.                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| An Ode. 8. 8592.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | The leaves becomes a man.                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| An Ode. 8. 3592. Pleasure is Vanity. 8. 3588.                                                                                                                                                                                | Thackeray. 14. 6315.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| The Lady's Looking Glass. 8, 3591.                                                                                                                                                                                           | READE, CHAPLES.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Priscilla. Spofford. 20. 9567.                                                                                                                                                                                               | Thackeray.  The Cloister and the Hearth.'' 5. 2235.  The Restoration of a Husband.  8. 2607.                                                                                                                                          |
| Prisoner of Chillon The Person 14 6805                                                                                                                                                                                       | The Restoration of a Husband. 8. 3607.                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Prithee send me back my Use-                                                                                                                                                                                                 | The Restoration of a Husband. 8. 3607. READ, THOMAS BUCHANAN.                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Timbee, send me back my Heart.                                                                                                                                                                                               | Sheridan's Ride. 15. 7805.                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Prithee, send me back my Heart. Snckling. 6.2905. PROCTEP, ADELAIDE ANNE. A                                                                                                                                                  | Position and Pooks On Schopenhanov, 16, 7537                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| PROUTER, ADELAIDE ANNE. A                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Reading and Books, On. Schopenhauer. 16, 7537.  Read in these roses. 6, 2906.                                                                                                                                                         |
| PROCTER, ADELAIDE ANNE. A Woman's Questioning. PROCTOR, PICHARD A. Super-                                                                                                                                                    | Read in these roses.  Rebellion and Civil Wars in England, History of the. Hyde.  Recessional. Kipling.  Recollections. D'Azeglio.  Parellections of Early Childhood.                                                                 |
| PEOCTOR, PICHARD A. Super-                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Repellion and Civil Wars in England,                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | History of the. Hyde. 6. 2831.                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Professor who had a Small Class, On a.                                                                                                                                                                                       | Recessional. Kipling. 19, 8922.                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Lucilins. 2. 543                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Recollections. D'Azeglio. 20. 9505.                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Recollections of Early Childhood.                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Progress of the Pestilence, The. Ains-                                                                                                                                                                                       | Transmosth 1 70 King                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| worth. 6. 2319.                                                                                                                                                                                                              | The state of the state of order                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Prologue to the Canterbury Tales, The.                                                                                                                                                                                       | Recollections of Early Childhood. Wordsworth. Reconciliation, The. Black. Recruit at Christmas, A. Davis. Red and White Boses. Carew. Red Gow Group, The. Morrison. Red Fisherman; or, The Devil's Decoy. Pracd.  12. 5423. 20. 9644. |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Recruit at Christmas, A. Davis. 20. 9444.                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| E10102UBTOTHE Rection day Historica do                                                                                                                                                                                       | Red and White Boses. Carew. 6. 2706.                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Troye. Carton. 4. 1940.                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Red Cow Group, The. Morrison. 20. 9641.                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Proper Qualities for a Tutor Tooks 7 2280                                                                                                                                                                                    | Red Fisherman ; or. The Devil's Decov.                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Proposals, The Peacock. 12.5578.                                                                                                                                                                                             | Pracd. 16 7427.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 12, 55(8,                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 10, (49)                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |

| TOT DIOT                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| REEVES, ARTHUR MIDDLETON,                                                                                                                                                                                    | ROLLIN, CHARLES.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Trans. The Finding of Wineland                                                                                                                                                                               | Bahrion.   1 406.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| the Good. 10. 4803.                                                                                                                                                                                          | Manners and Customs of the Egyp-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Reflections on the Moslem Domina-tion in Spain. Irving. 8. 1236.Reflections on the Revolution in France.                                                                                             | tains. 1. 65.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Tion in Spain. 1171115. 8. 1230. Padections on the Revolution in France                                                                                                                                      | I zate of memore and the thing of 13).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                              | corgus Roman and Provincial Life in the Fifth                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Reichensu, Tho Huns at. You Scheffel. S. 1877.                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Relapse, The. Vanbrugh. 6, 2910.                                                                                                                                                                             | (Romance, A Mornon, Word). 15 7988                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Relief of Leyden, The. Motley. 6. 2654.Religio Medict. Browne. 6. 2883.                                                                                                                                  | Romanco of Certain Old Clothes.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Religion and Large Galdon. 20, 934b.                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Remarkable History of Sir Thomas                                                                                                                                                                             | Femillet. 16, 7444.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Upmore, Bart., M.P. Blackmore. 14. 6521.                                                                                                                                                                     | Roman Empire, History of the.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Reminiscences of Dr. Johnson. Bos-well. 9, 4227.                                                                                                                                                         | Gibbon. 10. 4603.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| well. 9, 4227.  Remote, unfriended, melancholy, eloco. 13, 6169.                                                                                                                                             | The state of the s |
| sloic. 13. 6169,                                                                                                                                                                                             | The. Mericale. 10. 4776. Rome, The Beginnings of. Mommsen. 10. 4769. Rome, The Campagna of. Parkes. 2 840. Rome, The Runs of. Byron. 3. 1372. Rome The Sack of Livithe Constable of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| RENAN, ERNEST. 100 Last Jour-                                                                                                                                                                                | Rome, The Campagna of. Parkes. 2 840.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| ney to derosalem. 18. 8472.                                                                                                                                                                                  | Rome, The Ruins of Byron. 3, 1372.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Reply to Hayne. Webster. 15, 7260. Rescue of Picelola, The, Esintine. 10, 4732 Restoration of a Husband, The, Reade. 8, 8307. Return of the Golden Age, The. Virgil, 3, 1105. REUTER, FRITZ. Miller Voss and | 1 Itomo, Inc Dack of by the Constante of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Restoration of a Husband, The, Reade, 8, 8307.                                                                                                                                                               | Bourbon. Byron. 5. 2183.Rome, To. Byron. 2. 80%.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Return of the Golden Age, The. Virgil. 8, 1105.                                                                                                                                                              | Rome, To. Byron. 2. 80%. Romeo and Juliet. Shakespeare. 5. 2095.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| REUTER, FRITZ. Muter Yoss and                                                                                                                                                                                | ) Rondia. Endt. 5, 2024.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| the Amtshauptmann. 11, 5013, "Rovenge," The, Tennyson. 6, 2521.                                                                                                                                              | RONSARD, PIERRE DE. The Rose. 5. 2217.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Reveries of a Bachelor, The. Mitchell. 17. 6256.                                                                                                                                                             | To his Young Mistress. 5, 2216. To the Hawthern 5, 2218.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Review of John Foster Kirk's "Charles                                                                                                                                                                        | Welcome to Spring 5, 2217.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| the Beld." Freeman. 4. 1858. Review of Schools, A. Cowper. 9. 4857.                                                                                                                                          | Rockwood. Alosworth. 8. 3714.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Review of Schools, A. Cowper. 9, 4357.Rhelins, The Jackday of. Barham. 16, 7517.                                                                                                                         | ROOSEVELT, THEODORE. The In-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Rhymo of the Rail. Saxe. 20, 2316.                                                                                                                                                                           | 1 PATT 11'MATA LATE 19 55.19                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Richard and Saladin. Scott. 4. 1452.                                                                                                                                                                         | Rory O'More's Present to the Priest.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Yisit. 9. 8949.                                                                                                                                                                                              | Lover. 12, 5544.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Riches, Bacon, 6, 2625.                                                                                                                                                                                      | ROSCOE, THOMAS, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                              | A Lover of Lies. 5. 2135. The Mischievous Ape. 5. 2130.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| in the Lute.  Rienti, The Death of. Lytton.  Rife in the Lute, The. Richter.  16. 7834.                                                                                                                      | ROSCOE, WILDIAM. On Parting                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Pitt in the Late The Richter. 16, 7834.                                                                                                                                                                      | with his Books. 20, 9752                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| RILEY, JAMES WHITCOMB.                                                                                                                                                                                       | Rose, The. Ronsard, 5. 2217.Rose Aylmer. Landor, 17. 8274.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Rienzi, The Death of. Lytton. Rift in the Lute, The. Richter. RILEY, JAMES WHITCOMB. Griggsby's Station. 19, 1012.                                                                                           | Rose Aylmer. Lander. 17, 8274,Roses. Moulton. 18, 8665.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Little Orphant Allie. 19. 9103. Rime of the Ancient Mariner, The.                                                                                                                                            | ROSSETTI, CHRISTINA G. Mother                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Coleridge. 12. 5361.                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Rise of the Dutch Republic. Moticy. 6. 2654.Rise of the Dutch Republic. Motley. 6. 2665.                                                                                                                 | ROSSETTI, GABRIEL CHARLES  DANTE. Lost Days. 17, 7847. Sister Holen. 12, 5593.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Rise of the Dutch Republic. Motley. C. 2665.RITCHIE, ANNE THACKERAY.                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Old Kensington, 20, 9710.                                                                                                                                                                                    | The King's Trugedy. 4, 1836.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Rivals, The. Sheridan. 9. 4316.Rosst Pig, A Dissertation upon. Lamb. 12. 5537.                                                                                                                           | Vnin Virtues. 17, 7846. ROSSETTI. GABRIEL CHARLES                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Robort and Catherine. Ward. 19. 2034.                                                                                                                                                                        | ROSSETTI, GABRIEL CHARLESDANTE. Trans. Beauty. 17, 7930.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Robert Elsmere, Ward. 19. 9034.                                                                                                                                                                              | His Mother's Service to Our Lady. 5, 2158.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Robert Elsmere, Ward. 19. 9034.ROBERTSON, WILLIAM. Colum-                                                                                                                                                | On n Wet Day. 4. 1734. Poems by Dante. 4. 1698.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| bus' Voyago to America. 5, 2003.                                                                                                                                                                             | The Rolled of Dead Tables 5 9157                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Renaming. Peacock. 4. 1665.                                                                                                                                                                                  | To Death, of his Lady. 5, 2158. ROUSSEAU, JEAN JACQUES. Confessions                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| hus Yoyngo to America.  Robin Hood and Maid Marian before Renaming. Peacock. Robin Hood. Reats. ROBINS, E. P., Trans. The Demoralization after Waterloo. Robinson Crusoa. Defoc.  8 3512.                    | fessions. 9. 4046.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| alization after Waterloo. 20. 9386                                                                                                                                                                           | ROY, PROTAP CHANDRA, Trans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Robinson Crusoo. Defoc. 8. 8512.                                                                                                                                                                             | THE COMMISSION LINE. 1, 411,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| DODINGON MARY The Wise Was 1                                                                                                                                                                                 | The Priocess of the Madras. 1. 51. Rublivat. Khayyam. 3. 969.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| man.ROOHE, JAMES JEFFREY. The                                                                                                                                                                            | RUCKERT, FRIEDRICH, Gone in                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| V-n-s-c. 14.6559.                                                                                                                                                                                            | the Wind. 11, 5246.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Rudin. Turgenief. 18, 8712.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Ruins of Rome, The. Byron. 3. 1372. Rules for Conduct in Life. Sa'di. 4. 1585.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| DUC DE LA. Maxims. 7. 8210.                                                                                                                                                                                  | RUNEBERG, JOHANN LUDWIG.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| DUC DE LA. Maxims. 7. 8210. ROD, EDOUARD. A Pastor's Love. 16. 7789. ROE. EDWARD PAYSON. Chris-                                                                                                              | Coming Home. 11, 5318.Ruose that Decked her Breast, The.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 19 X015                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| tine's Escape. 20. 0627. Roger Malvin's Burial. Hawthorne. 12. 5767.                                                                                                                                         | Rural Ride Through Hampshire,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| ROGERS, SAMUEL. The Pleasures                                                                                                                                                                                | Rnral Ride Through Hampshire,Snesex, Snrrey, &c. Cobbett. 18, 5576,RUSKIN, JOHN. Greek Myths. 1, 430.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| of Memory. 10. 4544. Reland. The Horn of 8. 1410.                                                                                                                                                            | RUSKIN, JOHN. Greek Myths. 1, 430.RUSSELL, WILLIAM CLARK.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| DALLESTON T W. Maxims of Enic-                                                                                                                                                                               | The Mystery of the "Ocean Star. 13, 6132.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| tetus. 8. 1318.                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| •                                                                                                                                                                                                            | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |

| Tot Dien                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|
| TOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                          | SCOTT SID TEATTED                                                                                                                                                                              | OL PACE.                                       |
| RUSSELL, WILLIAM CLARK. The Spinish Armada.  6. 2656.                                                                                                                                                               | ECOTT, SIR WALTER. Tre Battle of Flodden.                                                                                                                                                      | 11 0210                                        |
| Russia, Nihilist Circles in. Brandes. 18 6526.                                                                                                                                                                      | The Tournament.                                                                                                                                                                                | 14, 6416.4, 1518.                          |
| Russia, Nihilist Circles in. Brandes. 18 8526.Rustam and Akwan Dev. Ferdausi. 4, 1592.                                                                                                                          | The Wild Huntsman.                                                                                                                                                                             | 9. 4007.                                       |
| Rustic Life in France. Theuriet. 18. 8658.                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                | 11. 5117.                                      |
| resucting in France. Themself 15, 6000.                                                                                                                                                                             | Scottish Chiefs. The Porter                                                                                                                                                                    | 12. 5423.                                      |
| SACCHETTI, FRANCO. On a Wet Day. 4. 1721.                                                                                                                                                                           | Scottish Caraller, The Old. Aytoun.Scottish Chiefs, The. Porter.Sealed Orders. Phelps.                                                                                                 | 19, 8924                                       |
| Each of Pome he the Constable of                                                                                                                                                                                    | rea comen. Dingin.                                                                                                                                                                             | 10, 4525,                                      |
| Bourbon, The. Byron. 5. 2153.                                                                                                                                                                                       | Seasons, The, Chamberlain, Trans.                                                                                                                                                              | 16, 7364                                       |
| Sack of Rome by the Constable of Bourbon, The. Byron. Screed Eclogue in Imitation of Virgil's "Pollio," A. Pope. "Pollio," A. Pope. 3.1107.                                                                         | Seasons, The. Chamberlain, Trans.Seasons, The. Thomson.                                                                                                                                    | 8, 8551.                                       |
| "Polito." A. Pope. 3.1107.                                                                                                                                                                                          | iSecond inangural Address - Lincoln.                                                                                                                                                           | 15, 7258.                                      |
| SA'DI (SHAIKH MUSLIH AL DIN).                                                                                                                                                                                       | See the Pay Spring from afar.Seed Sowing. Blake.Seek a more profitable job.Seek not for thou shall not find.                                                                       | 11, 5002,                                      |
| From "The Gullstan." 4. 1574.                                                                                                                                                                                       | Seed Sowing. Binke.                                                                                                                                                                            | 10, 4457,                                      |
| Saidjah and Adinda, The Story of.                                                                                                                                                                                   | Seek a more profitable job.                                                                                                                                                                    | 9 519                                          |
| Dekker. 20. 9493.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Seek not for thou shall not find.                                                                                                                                                              | 2, 956,                                        |
| Sallors' Maxim, The. Dibdin. 10, 4527.                                                                                                                                                                              | I SEA MEGNONNE I NAIM NOT THE TORE.                                                                                                                                                            | 5. 2217.                                       |
| Sallors' Maxim, The. Dibdin. 10. 427.  SAINTE-BEUVE, CHARLES AU- GUSTIN. Alfred De Musset, 11. 5218.  SAINTINE, XAVIER BONIFACE.                                                                                    | Seemly Lesson of Villon to the Goodfor-Naughts. Villon,Selborne, Natural History of. White.                                                                                            | l -                                     |
| GUSTIN. Alfred De Musset, 11. 5213.                                                                                                                                                                                 | fer-Naughts. Villon,                                                                                                                                                                           | 5. 2161.                                       |
| SAINTINE, XAVIER BONIFACE.                                                                                                                                                                                          | Selborne, Natural History of. White.                                                                                                                                                           | 10. 4531.                                      |
| The Refere of Parciols . By 4484                                                                                                                                                                                    | Self-Analysis of a Parasite, The. Did                                                                                                                                                          | -                                              |
| SAINT-PIERRE, BERNADINE DE.                                                                                                                                                                                         | erot.                                                                                                                                                                                          | 9, 4027.11, 5278.                          |
| Pauland Virginis. 10. 5425.                                                                                                                                                                                         | Self-Culture. Channing.SENECA, LUCIUS ANNÆUS. O                                                                                                                                            |                                                |
| SAINT-SIMON, DUC DE. Memoirs, 7, 3120.                                                                                                                                                                              | SENECA, LUCIUS ANNÆUS. O                                                                                                                                                                       | D                                              |
| Salammbo. Flanbert. 19. 9151.                                                                                                                                                                                       | Anger.                                                                                                                                                                                         | 3. 1324.                                       |
| Salammbo. Flanbert. 19.9151.SALLUST. The Conspiracy of Cati-                                                                                                                                                    | Sentimental Jonrney, Sterne.                                                                                                                                                                   | 9. 4218.7. 3221.                           |
| line. 2. 810.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Sentiments. Bruyere,                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                |
| Sally in our Alley. Carey. 17, 8152.Sam Shek and the Nova Scottans. Hall-                                                                                                                                       | Separatism and the Scrooby Ciurch,                                                                                                                                                             | 11. 4953.                                      |
| ham blick and the Nova Scottans. Hall-                                                                                                                                                                              | Eggleston.                                                                                                                                                                                     | 12. 5700.                                      |
| burton. 15, 7158.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Seringapatam, Storming of. Collins.                                                                                                                                                            | 11 5077                                        |
| EAND, GEORGE. A Musical Adventure. 11, 5222.                                                                                                                                                                        | Sermon of Old Age, A. Parker.                                                                                                                                                                  | 11, 5277.15, 7291.                         |
| ture. 11. 5222.                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Sermon on Lincoln. Brooks.SERRANO, MARY J., Traus. Th                                                                                                                                      |                                                |
| Sandplper, The. Tharter. 19, 9245.                                                                                                                                                                                  | Confession.                                                                                                                                                                                    | 19. 9191.                                      |
| Sands of Dec, The. Kingsler. 13. 6255.Sands of Time, The. Garnett. 18. 8290.                                                                                                                                    | Setanta if bird nesting in the woods.                                                                                                                                                          | 3. 1026.                                       |
| SAPPHO. Bunty. 17. 7930.                                                                                                                                                                                            | Setanta if bird nesting in the woods.Seven Ages of Man, The. Shake                                                                                                                         | -                                              |
| Eavagery of Classic Times, The. Trol-                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                |
| lone. 3. 1110.                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Seventh Plague of Egypt, The. Croly.                                                                                                                                                           | 1. 82.                                         |
| Sayed from the Quicksands. Allen. 16, 7750.                                                                                                                                                                         | SEVIGNÉ, MARQUISE DE. Letter                                                                                                                                                                   | s. 7. 8109.                                    |
| Saved from the Quicksands. Allen. 16, 7750. Savonarola. Villari. 5, 2010. SAXE, JOHN GODFREY. Rhyme of                                                                                                              | Seventh Plague of Egypt, The. Croly, SEVIGNE, MARQUISE DE. Letter: SEWELL, ANNA. The Early Home of "Black Beauty." SEWELL, GEORGE. The Dying Man in his Garden.                                |                                                |
| SAXE, JOHN GODFREY. Rhyme of                                                                                                                                                                                        | of "Black Beauty."                                                                                                                                                                             | 19, 9049.                                      |
| the Hell.                                                                                                                                                                                                           | SEWELL, GEORGE. The Dying Max                                                                                                                                                                  | 2 0.00                                         |
| Scarlet Letter, The. Hawthorne. 15, 7053.Scenery and Life in Ceylon. Haeckel. 20, 9299.                                                                                                                         | in his Garden.                                                                                                                                                                                 | 6. 3427.16. 7252.                          |
| Scenery and Life in Ceylon, Hiseckel. 20, 90%.                                                                                                                                                                      | Shadowiess Man, The. Chamisso.                                                                                                                                                                 | 17 5561                                        |
| Scenes from "Cousin Pons." Balzac. 17. 7817.                                                                                                                                                                        | Shaftashner Derdan                                                                                                                                                                             | 17. 5064.7. 2376                           |
| Scariet Letter, The. Hawthorne. 15, 7653. Scenery and Life in Caylon. Haeckel. 20, 2079. Sceners from "Athallah." Racine. 7, 2959. Scenes from "Cousin Pons." Balzac. 17, 7517. Scenes of the Milau Plague of 1630. | Shadowless Man, The. Chamisso. Shadow of a Crimo. Caine. Shaftesbury. Dryden. Shaftesbury and Hallfax. Macaulay. Shah-Nameh. Ferdaust. Shakespere. Goethe. Shakespeare, To the Memory of. Jon- | 7. 2376.7. 8369.                           |
| Manzoni. 5. 2298.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Shah-Nameh. Ferdansi.                                                                                                                                                                          | 4. 1592.                                       |
| Scheffel, Joseph Victor von.                                                                                                                                                                                        | Shakespeare, Goethe,                                                                                                                                                                           | 6. 2556.                                       |
| The Huns at Reichenau. 3. 1877.                                                                                                                                                                                     | Shakespeare, To the Memory of Jon-                                                                                                                                                             | -                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 50D.                                                                                                                                                                                           | 6. 2616.                                       |
| VON. Pompeli and Herculaneum. 3. 1042.                                                                                                                                                                              | SHAKESPEARE, WILLIAM.                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                |
| The Diver. 4. 1650. The Invincible Armada. 6. 2572.                                                                                                                                                                 | SHAKESPEARE, WILLIAM. Caliban and the Sallors. Felstaf and the Prince. From "Romeo and Juliet."                                                                                                | 6. 2591.                                       |
| The invincible Armada. 6, 2572.                                                                                                                                                                                     | Faistan and the Prince.                                                                                                                                                                        | 6. 2607.                                       |
| The Song of the Bell. 16, 7324.                                                                                                                                                                                     | Hamlet in the Churchyard.                                                                                                                                                                      | 5. 2095.6. 2575.                           |
| Schleswig-Holstein, The Old Woman of. Anonymous. 12. 5534.                                                                                                                                                          | Into the Bresch.                                                                                                                                                                               | 6. 2506.                                       |
| Anonymous. 13, 5534, ECHNECKENBURGER, MAX. The                                                                                                                                                                      | Julius Cosse                                                                                                                                                                                   | 2. 849.                                        |
| Watch on the Rhine. 19. 8923.                                                                                                                                                                                       | The Death of King Lear.                                                                                                                                                                        | 6. 2572.                                       |
| School Days, In. Whittier. 16, 7775                                                                                                                                                                                 | The Heroes at Trov.                                                                                                                                                                            | 1. 170.                                        |
| Watch on the Rhine. 19, 8923.School Days, In. Whittier. 16, 7775.School Days, Tom Brown's. Hnghes. 13, 5055.                                                                                                | The Heroes at Troy.The Seven Ages of Man.                                                                                                                                                  | 12 50 15                                       |
| School for Scandal, The. Sheridan. 10, 4429, Schoolmaster, The. Ascham. 6, 2759. Schoolmaster who had a Gay Wife, On                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                | 6. 2595.7. 3229.12. 5692.17. 8111. |
| Schoolmaster, The. Ascham. 6. 2752.                                                                                                                                                                                 | Shall I wasting in derpair. Shandon, The Bells of. Mahony. She Haggard                                                                                                                         | 7. 8223.                                       |
| Echoolinaster who had a Gay Wife, On                                                                                                                                                                                | Shandon, The Bells of. Mahony.                                                                                                                                                                 | 12.5652.                                       |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | She. Hzggard.                                                                                                                                                                                  | 14. 5111.                                      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | SHEARMAN, MONTAGU. History                                                                                                                                                                     | 13. 5223.                                      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | She. Haggard.SHEARMAN, MONTAGU. Historyof Football in Eccland.SHELLEY, PERCY BYSSHE.                                                                                               | .0. 0220.                                      |
| SCHEEINER, OLIVE. The Story of                                                                                                                                                                                      | Arethusz.                                                                                                                                                                                      | 2. 576.                                        |
| an African Farm. 17. 7965.                                                                                                                                                                                          | Greece and Rome.                                                                                                                                                                               | 2, 790.                                        |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Homer's Hymn to Mercury.                                                                                                                                                                       | 1. 88.                                         |
| Cringle's Log.  SCOTT, SIR WALTER.  Elizabeth and Amy Echaett.  Fitz James and Eoderick Dhu.  Lochingra.                                                                                                            | Hymn of Apollo.                                                                                                                                                                                | 18. 8312.                                      |
| COULT, SIR WALTER.                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Impressions of Pompeii.                                                                                                                                                                        | 12. 6301.17. 8218.                         |
| Elizabeth and Amy Robsart. 6.2497.                                                                                                                                                                                  | Lines to an Indian Air.                                                                                                                                                                        | 17. 8218.                                      |
| Fitz-James and Roderick Dhu. 12,5450.                                                                                                                                                                               | To a Skylark. SHELLEY, PERCY BYSSHE, Trans. Alcibiades' Account of Socrates.                                                                                                                   | 12. 5553.                                      |
| Marrie December 17-21-2                                                                                                                                                                                             | Meibirdes Account of Same                                                                                                                                                                      | 2. 693.                                        |
| Quentin Durward's Initiation. 4. 1871.                                                                                                                                                                              | Homer's Hymn To The Moon.                                                                                                                                                                      | 15. 8313.                                      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | The Mighty Magician.                                                                                                                                                                           | 7. 2005.                                       |
| Sketches of Eighteenth Century Life. 10, 4520.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                |

| TUL, PAGE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Shepherd of King Admetus, The. Lowell. 2. 711.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | SMITH, GEORGE. The Adventures                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Shepherd, that with thine amorous. 7.8078. SHEPPARD, ELIZABETH SARA.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | SMITH, SYDNEY. On Wit. 11, 5068                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| SHERIDAN, RICHARD BRINSLEY.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ncy against Clinker. 9. 3984SOAME, Trans. Boileau's Art of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| The Duel. 9. 4916. The School for Scandal. 10. 4480.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Poetry. 7. 3144 Sober Eubulus, friends, lies here below. 2 550                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| SHERIDAN, THOMAS. Britanniarules the Waves. 14.6643.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Socrates, Account of. Alcibiades. 2, 698.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Sheridan's Ride. Read. 15.7805.  She sits by the side of a turbulent                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Solven and Rustim Arnold 1 100                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| stream. 19. 9053.She stoops to conquer. Goldsmith. 9. 4186.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Soil from which the War of the Roses grew. Oman. 5. 1945.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| She was a Phantom of Delight. Words-worth. 17. 8219.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Soldier's Dream, The. Campbell. 12, 5885.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Shimei, whose youth did early. 7. 8378. Ship Duels and the Privateers, The. MacMaster. 10. 4715.                                                                                                                                                                           | Solomon and the Hoopoes, The Legendof King. Curzon. 8, 1241.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Ship, The Launching of the. Long-fellow. 18. 6146.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Solon. Plutarch. 2, 553.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Shipwreck and Virginia's Death, The. Pierre. 10. 4483.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Some of their chiefs were princes. 7.8878. Something. Andersen. 13.6814.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Short History of the English People.  Green. 15. 6926.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Something. Andersen. 13, 6314.Somewhat back from the village street. 14, 6725.Song from "Maud." Tennyson. 17, 7968.                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Short Sixes. Bunner. 19. 9111.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Whitman. 19.8826.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Luther, 5. 2822.Siddartha's Marriage, Prince. Arnold. 1. 19,                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Song of the Bell. Schiller. 16. 7894.Song of the Camp, The. Taylor. 20. 9385.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| SIDONIUS, APOLLINARIS. Romanand Provincial Life in the Fifth                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Song of the Sell. Schiller. 16, 7894. Song of the Camp, The. Taylor. 20, 9385. Song of Phracia, The. Lang. 1. 277. Song Poem of the Twelith Century, A. 4, 1564. Song of Roland, The. 3, 1410. Song of Rorek, The. Weidemeyer. 10, 4829. Songs of Seven. Ingelow. 16, 7644. Sones of Sion. Garnett. 18, 8290. |
| Century. 3. 1163. SIENKIEWICZ, HENRYK. From "Quo Vadis!" 8. 1245.                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Song of Roland, The. Song of Rorek, The. Weldemeyer. Songs of Seven. Ingelow. 3. 1410. 10. 4529. 16. 7644.                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| TTL - Th - All - A Th - I - I - I - I - I - I - I - I - I -                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| With Fire and Sword. 7. 8238.Sighs, The Bridge of. Hood. 12, 5572.                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Songs of Tyrtæns. 1. 473. Sonnets. Angelo. 5. 2051. SOPHOGLES. The Downtan and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| With Fire and Sword.  With Fire and Sword.  Sighs, The Bridge of. Hood.  Sightless, The. Maeterlinck.  Sightless, The. Maeterlinck.  Sightmund. Calderon.  7. 2938  Silence is Golden. Sa'dl.  Silence of Dean Matidand, The.  Gray. 16. 7714.  Silk Dress Story of Skirk. | SOPHOGLES. The Downian and Death of King Edipus. 2. 613. So that of thus much that return was                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Silence is Golden. Sa'di. 4. 1585.Silence of Dean Maitland, The. Gray. 16. 7714.                                                                                                                                                                                       | SOUTHEY ROBERT. 6 2491.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| SIMMS, WILLIAM GILMORE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | The Cataract of Lodore. 12, 5584, The Death of Nelson. 14, 6665.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| "Murder will Out."  Since there's no hope, come, let us kiss.  Sing, Muse, the Son of Maia and of Jore.  68.                                                                                                                                                               | SOUVESTRE, ÉMILE. The AtticPhilosopher. 16, 7674.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Singing through the forests. :0, 9316.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Spain, A Draft on the Bank of, Mitchell. 20, 9651.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Sin of Joost Avelingh, The. Maartens. 19, 9200.Sin, The Escence of. Coleridge. 17, 7846.Sir Charles Danyers. Cholmondeley. 14, 6475.                                                                                                                               | Spain, Moslem Dominstion in. Irving. 3, 1236,Spain, The Monarchy of. Howell. 8, 3781,Spain, The Wer of the Succession in.                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Sir John Moore, The Burlat of. Wolfe, 10, 4714.Sir Roger de Coverley. Addison. 8, 8695.                                                                                                                                                                                | Macaulay, 8, 3489.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Sir Thomas Upmore, Blackmore, 14, 6521.Sister Helen. Rossetti. 12, 5693.                                                                                                                                                                                               | Epanish Armada, The. Russell. 6, 2686.  Spanking Jack was so comely. 10, 4528.  Eparrowgrass Papers. Cozzens. 15, 7233.                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Sisterly Visit, A. Richardson, 9, 3948.  Sister Philomène De Goncourt 18, 8724                                                                                                                                                                                             | Sportage and the Laws of Lyenrons.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Skeleton in Armor, The. Longfellow. 12. 5734. Skeleton in the Closet, The. Hale. 20. 9291. Skeptic, The. Hume. 8. $$67.                                                                                                                                                  | SPAULDING, SUSAN MARR. Fate. 19, 8812.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Sketches of Eighteenth Century Life.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Specter Carayan, The. Freiligrath. 19, 9128, SPEDDING, JAMES. Bacon. 6, 2629. Speech of Henry V. to his Army.                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Scott. Sketches of Persia. Malcolm. SK1DELSKY, S. S., Trans. The                                                                                                                                                                                                           | bhakespeare. 6.2006.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Undertaker. 19. 9159.Skull. The. Pencock. 12. 5575.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Speech on Catiline's Conspiracy. Cicero. 2. 828.Speech on the "Trent" Affair. Bright. 20, 9723.SPENCER, HERBERT.                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Skylark, To a. Shelley. 12. 5558.Slander. 13. 6320.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Morel Education 16 7573                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Slingsby Bethel. Dryden. 7. 3378.  Slow sinks, more lovely ere his race de                                                                                                                                                                                                 | SPENSER, EDMUND. Una and the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| SMART, HELEN HAMILTON GAR-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Spider and the Fly The Howlit 11, 5097.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| DENER. The Union Guide. 20, 9671,SMITH, ADAM. Wealth of Nations. 9, 4340.                                                                                                                                                                                              | Spinning of the Fates, The. Catulius. 2. 921.Spiritual World, Natural Law in the.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Drummond. 18, 5888. Splendid Spur, The. Quiller-Conch. 7, 3286. Splendio 70 Greek, The. Myers. 1, 329. SPOFFORD, HARRIET ELIZABETH                                                                                                                                                                            |
| America. SMITH, F. HOPKINSON. An Old Family Servant.  19. 8917. 19. 9246.                                                                                                                                                                                                  | SPOFFORD, HARRIET ELIZABETHPRESCOTT. Priscills. 20, 9567.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| a same j protonos                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Spring. Chamberlain, Trans. 16, 7364.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

| TOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | TOL PAGE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Spring, Ode on the. Gray. 17 5550.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Street Music. Hawe's. TOL. PAGE. 18 5319.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Severe Thomson 5, 2501.                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Strangth of American Democracy, The.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Spr. The. Cooper. 15 6394                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 10.51T.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Equire's Pew, The Taylor 12.009.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Stenling Dieners ('rethat III 4'CT                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Equire's Pew, The Taylor 12, 229. STAEL, MADAME DE Italan Lit-                                                                                                                                                                                    | Elrong passions mean weak will. 11. 1329.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Struggla, The Tautpheus 11, 51:59.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Stag seeing Himself in the Water, The. Fontaine 7. 3107.                                                                                                                                                                                          | Etrong passions mean triak will.  Strongly, The Tanth' mus.  St. STEPHEN, THE SABAITE.  "Art Thou Weary?"  ST. THOMAS OF CELANO. D'es                                                                                                                                                         |
| Fontaine 7. 3107.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | "Art Thou Weary?" 4 1613.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Stamton Heath, The Battle of Quinti-                                                                                                                                                                                                              | ST. THOMAS OF CELANO. D'es                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Couch. 7.82-6.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 172.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Standing Toust. The Dild.n. 10 4520.                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| STANHOPE, LADY HESTER. King-like. 11. 5125                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Successful Experiment in Descention.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| STANHOPE, SIP CHESTERFIELD. 9 2-20                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Substitute for Wine. Johan. 2. 600. Successful Experiment in Designation, The About. 20 9202.                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| STANHOPE, SIE CHESTERFIELD. 9 2-79                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ISHCKUING, SHE JOHN, I Primee.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Star Grandled Ranger The, Ear. 19, 5019                                                                                                                                                                                                           | sand me back my Heart 6 2005                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| STANLEY, THOMAS, Trans. Bestly. 1. 17. Star Spanged Banney, The. Kep. 19. 5918 Star of Prefer John, The. Manderlie 4. 1-2 ST. AUGUSTINE. "Confessions" 3 1142.                                                                                    | send me back my Heart 6 2005SUDRAKA, KING The Cay Cart. 1, 21,SUE, EUGENE The Fatal Aupth's, 16, 1414.                                                                                                                                                                                |
| ST. AUGUSTINE. "Con'ess ove " 3 1145.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | SUE, EUGENE The Fatal Naptia's. 16.7414.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| STEDMAN, EDMUND CLARENCE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | belian balidin sed Azinah Lie Wila.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Lessing. 9.4178                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| STEELE, SIR RICHARD.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Summer. Chamberlain, Trans. 16 708t.Summer. Thomson. 8.2-WSun, Hymn to the. Monler-Williams. 1. 14.                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| The Good-Humored Clab. 8 2002. Alexander Selkirk 8. 2007. STEPHEN, LESLIE. Horso Walpole 9, 201. Stern Daughter of the toles of God. 17, School Stephen Laudensce. Passages                                                                       | Summer. Tromson. S. 2-25                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Alexander Selkirk. E. 2307.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Sun, Hymn to the. Monler-Williams. 1. 14.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| STEPHEN, LESLIE. Ho-so Walton 9.201.                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Sunken Cites 3.14%.Suncet and evening star. 16.7306.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Stern Daughter of Vie tolce of God. 11. Sw                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Suncet and evening star. 15.70%,Supervision and Control of Other                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| from a Senumerial Journey. 2, 4218.                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Supervision and Control of Other Worlds, Proctor, 16 7622.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| STERNE, LAURENGE Passers from a Sentimertal Journey. STEVENSON, ROBERT LOUIS. Account of all that passed on the Night of February 27, 1557. A Lodging for the night. An Inland Voyage. 12, 629. STEWART, AUBREY, Trans. Seneon, on Amer. 2, 1224. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Second of an that rested on the                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Webt of February 27, 1757. 9, 4c2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Cowner S 2510                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Night of February 27, 1757. 9, 49-2. A Lodning for the night. 5 2164.                                                                                                                                                                             | Supremiers of Luck, The. Sz'di. 4 1578.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| An Inland Voyage. 13.629                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Swallow Building under the Eaves at                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| From "Kidnepped." 14. 65-7.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Craigenputtock, To a Jame Carlyle, 16, 70%.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| STEWART. AUBREY, Trais. Ecoco.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | SWEDENBORG, EMANUEL The                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Various Delights and Pleasures of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Stickit Minister. Orockett. 13. 8414.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | SUPPOSE Lines of Alexander Schiff.  Compet S. 2510 Supremary of Luck, The. Sa'di. 4 1178. Swallow Buildry under the Eaves at Crairenputicok, Tor. Jane Carlyla. 16. 70%. SWEDEN BORG, ENANUEL. The Various Delights and Pleasures of the Bodily Sener, Useful for Men- tal Recranon. 9. 4567. |
| Still sing the mocking fairies. 12.821:                                                                                                                                                                                                           | tal Recreation. 9. 4557.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Still eits the schoolhouse by the road. 16 THO                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Sxeef Auburn ! loveliest village. 9, 429.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| St Katherina's Entire Toward Resert 5 : 511                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Sweet maid, if thou would charm my                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Stingings in Horpitality, Pales. 2. 602St. Katherine's by the Tower. Besset. 2.1 Coll.St. Lener's Advance upon Fort Stanwin.                                                                                                              | H24. 5. 2153                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Firke. 11. 4373.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | lautel memory, scatted by the gentle                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| STOCKTON, FRANK RICHARD.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | gal'Sweet William's Farewell to Black-ere! Scien. Gay. 8 00%SWIIT, JONATHAN (DEAN).                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| The Cave of Lizht. 19.9105.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Sweet William's Farewell to Black-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| STODDAED, EICHAED HENRY.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ered Sasan, Gay, 8 00%                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| The Jewe'ed Drinking Cup. 12. 8833.                                                                                                                                                                                                               | DULEI, SUNATHAN (DEAN).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| The Lost Lamb                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | A Voyage to Inputs 8 2547. Thoughts and Aphorems. 8.2493.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Stolen Money, Haji Bala and the.Morie-                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Thorriss and Aphorems. 8. 2493.  SWINBURNE, ALGERNON CHARLES.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| STONE, CHAPLES W., Trans. Dies                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Erechibeus. 13. 5570.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 172. 4 16.9                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 1 100 bit metric 37 Evil                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Stone Face, The Great Hawthorne. 13 5-7-                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Switz Family Bobinson. The.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Stones by Alphonse Danden 17, Sec.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Wyris 12, 6149.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Stories from the "Decrimental", Boc-                                                                                                                                                                                                              | SWOOD OF Bunker Hill, The. Wallace, 11, 4915.SYKES, ARTHUR. Trans. An In-                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| ezocio. 4. 1703.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | STRES, ARTHUR. Trans. An In-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Stories from the Heptameron. Margaret of Navarre. 5. 2120.                                                                                                                                                                                        | volcatory Impostor 19. 9165.SYMONDS, JOHN ADDINGTON.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| garet of Navarre. 5, 2129.Size as of Uncle Remus Harris. 18, 8763.                                                                                                                                                                            | The Cend. 6. 24%                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Eterming of Semngapatam, The.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | The Crushing of Italian President. 6 2462.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| College. 12 5760                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | The Median 6, 9270.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Store of a Red Roy The Aldright In with                                                                                                                                                                                                           | SYMONDS, J. A., Trais.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Story of Acis, Polyphemus, and Galatea.                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Benvenuto Cellini's Enriy Life. 5. 2186.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Story of Acts, Polyphemus, and Galaten,The. Ord. Story of All-Bey, the Persian Ferebon, 7.201.Story of an African Farm, The.                                                                                                              | Ecurets of Michael Angelo. 5. 2751.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Story of All-Bey, the Persian. Fereion. 7.2074.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Syra, The Departure for. Laborde. 19, 8320.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Story of an African Farm, The. Story of a Sik Dress, The. Kirk. 20 951                                                                                                                                                                            | m-11- m-11- x-4 F 0/10                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Talle Talk. Luther. 5.2212. TACITUS. CAIUS CORNELIUS.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Story of a Six Dress, The. Kirk. 20 9512proy of Comentine, The. France. 21, 647.                                                                                                                                                              | TACITUS, CAIUS CORNELIUS. Therius and the Senate 2.1112                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | TAINE, HIPPOLYTE ADDLPHE,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 7 of Low Light, The Hood. 13.604                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | The Old Planne in France 10 4755.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| SCO's of Incretia, The. Hary. 1, 469.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Tale it not ill that Cadrus. 2. 543                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| SCOTT, SI CTERRI, 11° HEROMES. 2. 516 SCO of Lucreta, The. Lity. 1. 452. Cl. Noel A. Ordiz. SCOTT, Salight and Addres. Derker. 20, 443. Elimber. VILLIAM WETMORE.                                                                                 | Tale of Two Cities, A. D ckens. 19, 450.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| SCOTT, Sallish and Adunda. Dekker. 29, 9423.                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Tales from the Fjeld. Asbjörnen. 16 7221.Teles of Mean Streets. Morrison. 27. 1341.                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| ENDS'L WILLIAM WETMORE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Taler of Mean Streets. Morrison. 27.1.31.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| F.E.James. 19,9147. LONG TR. JAPPIET BEECHER.                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Tel. sman, The.       Scott.       4.14-2.         Temmy.       Nairre.       16 7921.         Tem O Shanter.       Burns.       12, 5711.                                                                                                                                                    |
| Mary's Escaperate 19. SS13.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Ten O Stanier, Burns. 12 5511.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Der bath wert Venue. 2 551                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Tartarin of Tarascon. Dandet. 20, 9511.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Overtim Derkie bath went Venus. 2. 151. Richard and Salme. Arnold. 1. 257.                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| First Villiam WETMORE. 19,9147. Lockets. Varreit Beecher. 19,9147. Lockets. Varreit Beecher. 19,5313. Questin Derries bath west Venus. 2,551. Richard and Sainte. Arnold. 1, 207. Sketcherof E. htt.                                              | •                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

| TAT DARK                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                   |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Tartuffe. Molière. 7. 8172                                                                                       | The harper Simylus the whole night                                                                                                |
| TASSO, TORQUATO, Godfrey of                                                                                      | through. 9 545.                                                                                                                   |
| Boulogne. 4. 1469                                                                                                | ATT Y TO A CO                                                                                                                     |
| Taste, The Physiology of. Savarin. 19. 9260TAUTPHŒUS, BARONESS. The                                          | The Isles of Greece. 2. 555. The Jackdaw sat on the Cardinal's                                                                    |
| Struggle. 11. 5189                                                                                               | . 1 cnair . 16.7517                                                                                                        |
| Taxation, General Power of National,                                                                             | The Jeweled Drinking Cup. Stoddard, 19, 8853.                                                                                     |
| Hamilton. 11. 4941                                                                                               | . The just man's single-purposed                                                                                                  |
| TAYLOR, BAYARD.The Echo Club. 19. 8959                                                                       | mind. 2. 959. The land where Iwas born. 4. 1694.                                                                                  |
| The Song of the Camp. 20, 9385                                                                                   | .   The languia sunset, mother of roses 1, 277                                                                                    |
| Taylor, Bayard, To. Boker. 19. 8971TAYLOR, JANE. The Squire's Pew. 12. 5659TAYLOR, JEREMY. Contentedness | . I The fion and an enterprise in hand 7 2107                                                                                     |
| TAYLOR, JANE. The Squire's Pew. 12.5659 TAYLOR, JEREMY. Contentedness                                            | The little Tartar maiden. 3. 1021. The little Tartar maiden. 18. 8603.                                                            |
| in all Estates and Accidents. 7. SISI                                                                            | A The little tov dog is covered. 19 9091                                                                                          |
| TAYLOR, SIR HENRY, Van Arte-                                                                                     | The tost days of my tife. 17, 7847.                                                                                               |
| velde and his Companions. 11. 5144                                                                               | The Lover's Appeal. Wyatt. 6. 2478.                                                                                               |
| TEGNER, ESAIAS. Frithiof and Ingeborg. 11.5186                                                                   | The melancholy days are come. 15, 6993. The merchant to secure his treasure. 8, 8592.                                             |
| Tell me now in schot hidden way is. 5. 2157.                                                                     | . I A RE MIGRIU I AFUNA TERO PULER ADORE. 1. 12.                                                                                  |
| Tempest, The. Shakespeare. 0. 2591                                                                               | The Miller was a stout carl. 4. 1800.                                                                                             |
| Temples of Rameses, The. 1. 67. TEMPLE, WILLIAM. Beautiful                                                       | The moon on the ocean was dimmed. 10. 4530. The Muse disgusted at an age. 8. 8438.                                                |
| 0019 9 maken D                                                                                                   | .1 I nonce in his closed cloak. 4. 1559.                                                                                          |
| Ten Great Religions. Clarke. 11. 5264 TENNYSON, ALFRED. Behind the Vell. 17. 7816                                | A Then distant darkening on the sky. 1. 825.                                                                                      |
| TENNYSON, ALFRED.                                                                                                | The new moon nung in the sky, 18. 5144.                                                                                           |
| Behind the Yell. 17. 7815Crossing the Bar. 16. 7596                                                          | The night has a thousand eyes. 18.8581. The nodding promontories. 2. 790.                                                         |
| Merlin and Vivien. 8, 1193                                                                                       | THEOCRITUS. The Cyclops in Love. 1. 838.                                                                                          |
| On Translations of Homer. 1. 224 Song from "Mand." 17. 7963 The "Revenge." 6. 2521.                              | The old mayor climbed the belfry tower. 17, 5008,                                                                                 |
| The "Revenge." 6. 2521.                                                                                          | The Peacock to the queen of heaven. 7. 8106.                                                                                      |
| The Voyage of Macloune, 8, 1840.                                                                                 | The Phatton the drove a load of hav 7 2103                                                                                        |
| Ulyases. 1. 806.                                                                                                 | There came a youth upon the earth. 2. 711.                                                                                        |
| Ten Thousand a Year. Warren. 12. 5634. Tenth Satire. Juvenal. 8. 1120.                                           | There came a youth upon the earth. 2, 111, The red Rose whispers of passion. 20, 9450, There is a thing that I do want. 12, 5480. |
| Ten Thousand a Year. Warren. 12. 5634.Tenth Satire. Juvenal. 8. 1120.Thackeray. Fields. 19. 8046.        | There is mist on the mountain. 10, 4597.                                                                                          |
| THACKERAI, WILLIAM MAKE                                                                                          | There is No Death. 14, 6414.                                                                                                      |
| PEACE. At the Church Gate. 14. 6474.Esmond's Friends and Foes. 8. 8444.                                      | There sat an old man. 18, 8629.                                                                                                   |
| Payedon Crayley becomes a Man. 14, 6816.                                                                         | There sat an out. 12,5600.                                                                                                        |
| The Cane-Bottomed Chair. 18, 8360. The Mahogany Tree. 16, 7630. The Newcomes. 12, 5664.                          | There's no dew left. 16. 7645. There stood in times of story a castle. 11. 5805.                                                  |
| The Mahogany Tree. 16, 7630. The Newcomes. 12, 5664.                                                             | The Revenue a slendre colerik man. 4. 1801.                                                                                       |
| Washington. 15. 6876.                                                                                            | There was a Ling. 5. 2155.                                                                                                        |
| Thallarchus, To. Horace, 2, 955.                                                                                 | There was also a Nonne. 4. 1789.                                                                                                  |
| Thanatopsis. Bryant. 15. 6873. THANET, OCTAVE. His Duty. 20, 9450. Than old George Fletcher, on the              | There was a time when meadow. 12. 5423. There was never a leaf. 8. 1810.                                                          |
| Than old George Fletcher, on the                                                                                 | Thermopylæ, The Pass of. Yonge. 1. 416.                                                                                           |
| British Coast. 10. 4496.                                                                                         | The series calm to-night. 17. 7931. The seal is set. 2. 778.                                                                      |
| That Gentleman. Everatt. 15. 7225. THAXTER, CELIA. The Sandplper. 19. 9245.                                      | These lame hexameters. 1. 224.                                                                                                    |
| The Abbot arose and closed his                                                                                   | The shades of eve come slowly. 12, 5450. The shadows lay along Broadway. 15, 1104.                                                |
| book. 16. 7497.                                                                                                  | The shadows lay along Broadway. 15, 1104. The sky is a drinking cup. 19, 8853.                                                    |
| The boatswain calls, the wind is fair. 10.4526.                                                                  | The sky reas dark and aloomy. 19, 9203.                                                                                           |
| The boy stood on the burning deck. 10. 4700.                                                                     | The sun now rose. 12, 5363.                                                                                                       |
| The breaking waves dashed high. 15. 6825.                                                                        | The story of Lorn Light. 18, 6094. The fraveler, he, whom sea or moun-                                                            |
| The bride she is winsome and bonny 11.5065.                                                                      | tain sunder _ 5, 2073.                                                                                                            |
| The curier tolls the knell of parting                                                                            | THEURIET, ANDRE. Woodcutting, 18, 8659.                                                                                           |
| day. 9. 3941                                                                                                     | The Wildgrave winds his bugle horn, 9. 4007.The wind one morning sprang up. 18. 6384.                                         |
| The daughter of the Leebian King. 1. 261. The day is cold and dark and                                           |                                                                                                                                   |
| The day is cold and dark and to dreary. 14.6457.                                                                 | The world is very evil.  The world must now two Venuses adore.  2. 545.                                                           |
| The days were evil. 3. 1142.                                                                                     | adore. 2. 545. They bear the hero from the fight. 17. 8196.                                                                       |
| The Devil returned to hell. 19. 5869.                                                                            | They come from mansions far up-                                                                                                   |
| The eyes that weep for pity of the heart. 4. 1700.                                                               | town. 19, 5969. The year has come. 16, 7864,                                                                                      |
| The forward wouth that would ap-                                                                                 | The year has come. 16, 7864, THIERS, ADOLPHE. The Missis-                                                                         |
| pear. 0. 2550.                                                                                                   | sippi Bubble. 10. 4790.                                                                                                           |
| The goddess Night arrives in all her alory 1. 18.                                                                | Thinking for Oneself. Schopenhauer, 16, 7529.                                                                                     |
| The gray day's ending followed. 18. 8663.                                                                        | Think not, my friend, I mourn de-parted wealth. 1. 31.                                                                        |
| The Great King Arthur made a                                                                                     | mile hath entit hadet the Gudree' atra                                                                                            |
| sumptuous Feast. S. 1163. The groves were God's first                                                            | to be. 2. 551.  This here's what I does. 10. 4529.                                                                                |
|                                                                                                                  | This Hermit good lives in that wood. 12, 5375.                                                                                    |
| •                                                                                                                | •                                                                                                                                 |

| VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | VOL PAGE.                                                                                        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| This is the forest primeral. 15, 6844.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | To him who in the love of Nature                                                                 |
| This plot, which failed. 7. 8376.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | holds. 15. 6874. To his Young Mistress. Ronsard. 5. 2216. To Keep a True Lent. Herrick. 7. 3357. |
| This rudely sculptured Cup will show. 2. 549. This world is full of shadow chasers. 7. 3108.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | To his Young Mistress. Ronsard. 5. 2216.Yo Keeps True Lent. Herrick. 7. 3357.                |
| THOMPSON, DANIEL PIERCE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | TIDISTOL COUNT LIVER MINU-                                                                       |
| From "The Green Mountain Boys " 15, 6965.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | LAIEVICH. A Fatal Step. 19. 9137.                                                                |
| THOMSON, JAMES. Autumn. 8. 2958.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Tom Brown's First Fight. Highes. 18, 5955,Tom Brown's Last Match. Hughes. 13, 5969,          |
| Seasons. 8. 3351. The Castle of Indolence. 8. 3506.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Tom Brown's School Days. Hughes. 13, 5955.                                                       |
| THOMSON, JAMES ("B. V.").                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Tombs of the Kings, The. Blind. 18. 8507.Tom Cringle's Log. Scott. 14. 6634.                 |
| Insomnia. 20. 9254. THOREAU, HENRY DAVID. Wat-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Tom Jones, Adventures of. Fielding. 9, 4119.                                                     |
| den Pond in Winter. 11. 51.2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Tomnoddy, My Lord, Barham, 12, 5523.                                                             |
| Though private prayer be a brate                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                  |
| design. 7.8360. Though rudely blows the wintry                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Tom's Effrontery. Macdonald. 19, 8344,                                                           |
| blast. 19, 9259.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Too Late. Ludlow. 18, 8629.                                                                      |
| Thoughts. Aurelius. 3.1128. Thoughts. Pascal. 11.5140.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | TOPELIUS, ZACHRIS. The Times of Gustavus Adolphus. 7. 8024.                                      |
| Thoughts and Aphorisms. Swift. 8. 8495.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | To Pepa. De Minsset. 18. 8778.                                                                   |
| Thoughts in the Cloister and the Crowd.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                  |
| Helps. 17. 7801.Thoughts on Education. Locke. 7. 3380.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | To the Memory of Shakespeare. Jonson. 6, 2616.                                                   |
| Thoughts on the Present State of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | To the Muses said Venus. 2. 519.                                                                 |
| American August. Paine. 11.4919.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | To thy loved haunt return. 8. 9563. To tryst Love blindfold goes. 11. 5341.                      |
| Thou hast a lapful of seed. 10. 4457. Thousand and One Days in the East, A. 19. 9122.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | TOURGEE, ALBION W. The Great                                                                     |
| Thou still unravished bride of quiet-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Captain. 0. 2:03.                                                                                |
| ness. 2. 744. Thou, too, hast traveled. 16. 7507.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Tonr in Ireland, A. Young. 9, 4030. Tournament, The, Scott. 4, 1518.                             |
| Thrasymedes and Ennoe. Landor. 2. 723.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | (Toussaint L'Onvertois, Limips, 29. 20. 2.                                                       |
| inree English Politicians. Dryden. 1. 5340.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                  |
| Three Fishers, The. Kingsiey. 18. 6131. Three fishers went sailing out. 18. 6131.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Trafafour - The Death of Kelson                                                                  |
| Three Heroines of New England 110-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Mahan. 10, 4742.                                                                                 |
| mance. Spofford. 29, 9567. Three Musketeers, The. Dumas. 7, 2921.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Transfiguration of Beauty, The. Angelo. 5. 2051.                                                 |
| Three Phases of English History.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Translations of Homer. Butcher and                                                               |
| Green. 6. 2545. Three Rings, The. Boccaccio. 4. 1714.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                  |
| Three turkeys fair their last have                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Traveler; or, A Prospect of Society, The.                                                        |
| breathed. 12.5477                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 14Tweetal Distance Mains 11 5307                                                                 |
| Thrice has the spring belold thy faded fame. 8.8533                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Teorete Mandarillato Mandarilla 4 1906                                                           |
| Through haughly Rome's imperial                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Treatise on Painting, A. Vinci. 5. 2052.                                                         |
| Through Persia ov Caravan Arnoid 13, 6209                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | and Letters of Lord Macaulay. 16. 7457.                                                          |
| Through Persia oy Caravan Arnoid 13, 6209 Thrums, A Window in. Barrio. 14, 6369 THUCYDIDES.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Trial and Death of Joan of Arc.                                                                  |
| The Destruction of the Atherens at                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Michelet. 7. 3153.Trial and the Verdict, The. Maartens, 19. 9200.                            |
| 3 V 7 2 C 11 5 P 1 C 1 C 1 C 1 C 1 C 1 C 1 C 1 C 1 C 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Trial of Deliverance Wentworth, The.                                                             |
| The Greatness of Amens.  Thule, A Princess of Black.  1. 412                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Mackle. 11. 4882.Trial of Eugene Aram, The. Bulwer-                                          |
| Thus like the and announce to other                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 1 Lytton. 14. 6672.                                                                              |
| ADERTIS ROO The Senate Gentles of 3119                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | TITISI OF EXIDE EXT. THE. USING.                                                                 |
| Tizer, The. Blake. 10. 1457                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Trial of the Knave of Hearts, The.                                                               |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Carroll. 12. 5755.                                                                               |
| Timber. Jonson. 6. 2724Time, The Power of. Hamerton. 14. 6776Times of Gustavus Adolphus, The.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | LITTINDER THE LAST OF THE DINWER                                                                 |
| Times of Gustavus Adolphus, The.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Lytton. 4, 1/25.                                                                                 |
| Tired nature's exceed restorer. 8. 8707                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 13 Shirley Brights. 19, 4004.                                                                    |
| 118aone - outvesteraauaKina. In Aros                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | "lar-icked out of Herself, Manzoni, 17, 7847.                                                    |
| Tis cestary languishing. 18. 6732Tis God who pours the living glow. 7. 8223                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Trinity, Hymn for Fourth Sunday after.                                                           |
| A 18 ODTING, and the mist comes steal-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                  |
| ing. 16. 7862                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Troilus and Cressida. Shakespeare. 1. 170.                                                       |
| 148 Me morn. 5 9169                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | W- paydie's Recention. 19, 8777.                                                                 |
| To a Similaria Challer Burns, 14 6312                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | The Sava very of Classic Times. 3. 1110.                                                         |
| To a Skylark. Shelley. 12, 5553To bear, to nurse, to rear. 16, 7649                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Dorothy in the Garret. 10. 4869.                                                                 |
| TOCQUEVILLE, ALEXIS DE.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Jack Hazard and the Chatfords 20. 9422                                                           |
| 10 bear, fo nurse, to rear.  10 course, fo nurse, to rear.  10 course, and Women.  10 course, and Women.  11 course, for the form of the f | The Charcoal Mard.                                                                               |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Troye, Prologue to the Recneil des                                                               |
| To draw no entry. Shakespeare. 6. 2516To drum beat and heart beat. 11. 4934                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Histoires de. Gaxton. 4. 1940.                                                                   |
| 41. 4331                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ••                                                                                               |

| Wol. PAGE                                                                                                                   | VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                                                                                       |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| True History, The. Lucian. 2, 578                                                                                           | Valediction, Forbidding Mourning.                                                                                                                                                |
| True Liberty, Coornhert. 6, 2683                                                                                            | Donne. 6, 2830.                                                                                                                                                                  |
| True love we know is blind. 2. 967 True Policy of Great Britain foward her                                                  | VALERA, JUAN. The Confession. 10. 9191.                                                                                                                                          |
| American Colonics, The. Burke. 15, 6919                                                                                     | ) I Intro. to Vol. iii.                                                                                                                                                          |
| Trust thy Last Reigned against the                                                                                          | Valley of the Shadow of Death. Bunyan. 8, 3409.                                                                                                                                  |
| mora. Johnings, Trans. 11, 526                                                                                              | Valor Misdirected. Patmore. 11. 5342.                                                                                                                                            |
| TURGENIEF. IVAN SERGYEVICH.                                                                                                 | Value and Use of Libraries. Baldwin. 16. 7481.Van Artevelde and his Companions.                                                                                              |
| A Man of Great Projects, 18, 8712Turkey and the Ant, The. Gay. 6, 8487                                                  | Taylor. 11. 5144.                                                                                                                                                                |
| Turkey and the Ant, The. Gay. 8. 8487                                                                                       | Van Bibber and Others. Davis. 20. 9444.                                                                                                                                          |
| Turn back, you vanion fyer. 6. 2790 TWAIN, MARK. The Jumping Frog. 14. 6558 'Treas at the royal feast. 2. 764               | NANBRUGH, SIR JOHN. The Two                                                                                                                                                      |
| Treas at the royal feast. 2. 764                                                                                            | Brothers 6. 2010. VAN DYKE, HENRY. The Other Wise Man                                                                                                                            |
| Ticas pul a oreain. 13, 6320                                                                                                | Wise Man. 20. 9681                                                                                                                                                               |
| Twas in the prime of summer time. 14, 6707Twas midnight in the desert. 19, 9129                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Twas morn, the rising splendor                                                                                              | Vanity of Fortune's Gifts. Boethins 3 1337                                                                                                                                       |
| · Fouea. 1. 62                                                                                                              | Various Delights and Pleasures of the                                                                                                                                            |
| 'Twas on a summer's afternoon. 16. 7320. 'Twas on the night of Michaelmas. 10. 4829                                         | Bodily Senses, Useful and Mental                                                                                                                                                 |
| Troas on the shores that round the                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| coast. 13, 6119.                                                                                                            | Vathek, History of the Caliph. Beck-                                                                                                                                             |
| 'Twas the body of Judas. 5. 2428 Twenty Years After, Dumas, 7. 2944.                                                        | . 1 ford. 10. 4461.                                                                                                                                                              |
| Two Brothers, The. Vanbrugh. 6. 2910.                                                                                       | VAUGHAN, HENRY. The Bird. 7.8369.                                                                                                                                                |
| Two Friends, The. Pilpay. 4, 1781.                                                                                          | The Good Shepherd. 7, 3078.                                                                                                                                                      |
| Two Ladies to the summit of my mind. 4, 1699.Two Lovers. Eliot. 14, 6868.                                               | To-morrow, 1. 5018.                                                                                                                                                              |
| Two Noble Kinsmen, The. Fletcher. 6. 2778.                                                                                  | Venice. Byron. 5. 2057.Venice Preserved. Otway. 7. 3898.                                                                                                                     |
| Tree shall be born the whole wide                                                                                           | I Venns and the Muses. 2. 249.                                                                                                                                                   |
| world apart. 19. 8812.Two Women. Willis. 15. 7103.                                                                      | Verdant Green, The Adventures of Mr.Bede. 13. 6017.                                                                                                                          |
| TOTO YEARS DELOTE THE ALEST. HARR. 18.6122.                                                                                 | Bede. 18. 6017.                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TYLER, MOSES COIT. Character of                                                                                             | VERLAINE, PAUL. Forgotten Airs, 18, 8782,VERNE, JULES. From "Aroundthe World in Elghty Days." 18, 6220,VERY, JONES. The Wild Rose of                                 |
| the Loyalists. 11. 4980. TYNDALL, JOHN. The Weisshorn. 16. 7609.                                                            | the World in Eighty Days." 18. 6220.                                                                                                                                             |
| TYNDALL, JOHN. The Weisshorn. 16, 7609. Typical Arab Hero, A. 8, 1239.                                                      | Plymonth. 11. 4972.                                                                                                                                                              |
| TYRTÆUS. War Songs. 1. 478.                                                                                                 | Tools Townsell                                                                                                                                                                   |
| THE AND THE PERSONS THE SECOND                                                                                              | Vesuvins, the Great Eruption of, Pliny. 3, 1039. Veteran, The. Crane. 18, 8650. VIAUD, LOUIS MARIE JULIEN. An Ancient Mariner. 18, 8434. Vicar of Wakefield and his Family, The. |
| UHLAND, LUDWIG. The Minstrel's Curse. 11. 5305.                                                                             | Veteran, The. Urane.                                                                                                                                                             |
| Ulysses. Tennyson. 1. 806.                                                                                                  | An Ancient Mariner. 16. 8434.                                                                                                                                                    |
| Ulysses and the Siren. Daniel. 6. 2701.                                                                                     | Vicar of Wakefield and his Family, The.                                                                                                                                          |
| Umbrella Lecture, Mrs. Caudle's. Jer-rold. 13, 6054.                                                                    | Goldsmith. 9. 4188. Village Life in England Six Hondred                                                                                                                          |
| Una and the Lion. Spenser. 6, 2789.                                                                                         | Years Ago. Jessopp. 4. 1624.                                                                                                                                                     |
| Uncle Tom's Cabin. Stowe. 19. 8813                                                                                          | Years Ago. Jessopp. 4. 1624. Village Notary, The. Eotvös. 11. 5203. VILLARI, PASQUALE. Savonarola. 5. 2010.                                                                      |
| Undergraduate's Aunt, An. Austey. 18. 6048.Undertaker, The. Pushkin. 19. 9159.                                          | VILLARI, PASQUALE. Savonarola. 5. 2010.                                                                                                                                          |
| Undertaking, The. Donne. 6. 2830.                                                                                           | The Italian Renaissance. Intro.to Vol.v. VILLON, FRANÇOIS. Ballad of Villon in Prison. 5, 2162.                                                                                  |
| Under the Greenwood Tree. Hardy. 14. 6378.Underworld as described by Eness, The.                                        | Ballad of Villon in Prison. 5. 2162.  Ballads of Old-time Lords. 5. 2159.                                                                                                        |
| Virgil. 8, 1076                                                                                                             | Ballads of Old-time Lords. 5. 2159. His Mother's Service to Our Lady. 5. 2158.                                                                                                   |
| Union Guide, The. Gardener 20. 9671. United States, History of the. Bancroft. 11. 4902. United States. History of the. Mac- | His Mother's Service to Our Lady.  Seemly Lesson of Villou to the Good- for purposes  5. 2151.                                                                                   |
| United States, History of the Mac-                                                                                          | The Palled of Dood Ladles. 5, 2157.                                                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| United States, The. Byron. 15. 7260.                                                                                        | The Epitaph. 5. 2168. 5. 2169. VINCI, LEONARDO DA. Invention                                                                                                                     |
| United States, The. Byron. 15. 7260. Unreasonable Claims in Social Affections and Relations. Helps. 16. 7521.               | or Composition in Painting. 5. 2052.                                                                                                                                             |
| tions and Relations. Helps. Unsuccessful Painter. Lucilius. Unthrift. Patmore.  16. 7521. 2. 545. 11. 5339.                 | Vineta. Müller. 3. 1456.                                                                                                                                                         |
| Unthrift. Patmore. 11. 6339.                                                                                                | VIRGIL. The Cyclons 1. 825.                                                                                                                                                      |
| Up from the South at break of day. 15, 7305. Upon Oliver Cromwell's Return from Light 1550 Newroll 6 2850                   | The Return of the Golden Ago. 8, 1105.                                                                                                                                           |
|                                                                                                                             | The Underworld as Described by a take                                                                                                                                            |
| Upon the Gardens of Epicurus. Temple. 8. 8422.  Upon the Plumouth shore. 11. 4972.                                          | Æneas. 1. 860.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Upon the Plymouth shore. 11.4972. Upper Berth, The. Crawford. 20.9265.                                                      | Virgin's Dido. Landor. 1. 350.Virginia, Macaulay. 1. 456.Virginians, The. Thackeray. 15. 6576.                                                                           |
| Upper Berth, The. Crawford. 20, 9265.Useful Diversions. Swedenborg. 9, 4067.                                            | Virginia, Macaulay.  Virginians, The. Thackeray.  Virgin Martyr, The. Dekker.  On the dekter.  On the dekter.  On the dekter.                                                    |
| Usher, The Fall of the House of. Pos. 12.5789. Utopia and its Customs. More. 6, 2749.                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Vacation for Saints. Higginson. 16, 7512.                                                                                   | Virtues of the Lower Animais. Mon-                                                                                                                                               |
| WALDES ARMANDO PALACIO.                                                                                                     | taigne. The Dumas 7. 2364. Vision of Mirra, The Addison. 8. 2472.                                                                                                                |
|                                                                                                                             | Vision of Mirza, The. Addison. 8. 3472.                                                                                                                                          |
| The Decadence of Modern Interactive.                                                                                        | Viscount of Bragelonne, The. Dumas. 7, 2964.Vision of Mirza, The. Addison. 8, 3472.Vision of Purgatory, A. Maginn. 12, 5516.                                             |
| Intro. to Vol. xx.                                                                                                          | C                                                                                                                                                                                |

|                                                                                                                                                                | mor make                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Times of a Yangin) on a Yangin                                                                                                                                 | WATEON, WILLIAM. The Armenia:                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Vision of S.t Laupful, The. Lowell 3 1201.Vocation and Calling Latter 5, 2323.                                                                             | Horrors 19, 2121.                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| VOLTAIRE.                                                                                                                                                      | WATTE-DUNION. THEODORE 1. Co.                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Charles XII at Bender E. 2759. Extended to the total terms of Cundille 9, 4612                                                                                 | Weaker , Garest, and Defects of Man,                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Expenses of Candile 9, 4010 VONDEL, JOOST VAN DEN. Clo-                                                                                                        | Weaker's, Ukrest, and Defects of Man, The, Paseal, Wedth of Nations, The, Smith, Webster, DANIEL, From "Rept to Hayne," On the Constitution, Webster, Land of the Briefs, 15, 7259, Webster, Louis, The Briefs |
| This of Aner to The Property                                                                                                                                   | Wealth of Nations, The. Smith. 9, 440, WEBSTER, DANIEL.                                                                                                                                                        |
| VON RANKE, LEOPOLD. The Ar-                                                                                                                                    | From "Reply to Hayne," 15, 7260.                                                                                                                                                                               |
| VON SCHEFFEL, JOSEPH VICTOR.                                                                                                                                   | On the Constitution. 19, 2011.WEBSTER, JOHN. The Diches                                                                                                                                                    |
| The Buse of We sharen                                                                                                                                          | Woolng. C 2772                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Voyage of Lift, Time. Epicietus. 2, 1916Voyage of Maeldune, The. Tennyson. 2, 1919.Voyage of the "America," Tha. Phelps. 14, 1923.                     | WEIDNEYLE, JOHN WILLIAM.                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Voyage of the "America," The Phelps. 19 1923.                                                                                                                  | The bond of Rotel. 10. 4520.                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| VOYZEP to America, Column 18. 1801-                                                                                                                            | Weirel orn, The. Typiall. 16. 70%.                                                                                                                                                                             |
| ertsen 5. 2002.Voyage to Laputa, A. Swift. 8. 3547.                                                                                                        | When the transfer the transfer of 1600                                                                                                                                                                         |
| • •                                                                                                                                                            | WESLEY, CHARLES, Merring Hymn. 11. 2021.In Temptation. 11. 2022.WESLEY, JOHN, A Letter to aFriend concenting Tea. 9, 4071.                                                                         |
| WADE, THOMAS. Nymple. 1. 473. Wakefield, The Victor of Goldsmith 9 415.                                                                                        | In Temptation. 11, 5+3.                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Wakefield, The Victor of Goldsmith of 41%.Walden, Thorean, 11, 5172.                                                                                       | Friend concerning Tea. 9. 4071.                                                                                                                                                                                |
| walden rong in winter. Thorean, 11. 51. Z.                                                                                                                     | i wegian. Lari di Tormani. Titur. (. 2004                                                                                                                                                                      |
| WALLACE, ALFRED RUSSEL. The Orang Utar. 16 7671.                                                                                                               | Westward, Hol Linguist, 1, 2:12.                                                                                                                                                                               |
| WALLACE, LEWIS. The Charlet                                                                                                                                    | Wet Day, On a. Excelettl. 4, 1791.                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Rece at Antioch. WALLACE, WILLIAM ROSS. The                                                                                                                    | We realched her breathing. 17, 2014.                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Spord of Bond of Hill. 11, 4915.                                                                                                                               | We scorled Grough spring and winter. 10,925. Whan that Aprille with his elouits. 3, 17-5.                                                                                                                      |
| WALL, CHARLES HERON, Trans                                                                                                                                     | Whan that Aprille with his elouits. 4. 17-5.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| The Affected Lodies. WALLER, EDMUND. Go, lovely                                                                                                                | What changes of our natures. 19, 2211.                                                                                                                                                                         |
| More S 5055                                                                                                                                                    | What changer of our natures. 19, 9971. WHATELY, MICHAED, Historie double relative to Napokou Buone-                                                                                                            |
| Wall, no. I can't tell what he lites. WALPOLE, HORACE. Letters. Welpols, Horace, Siepten. Letter to Sir Horace, Mann. Walteria Mah.                            | 1 50-576 20 20 M                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Welpols, Horace. Stellen. 9 2914.                                                                                                                              | What, fly from love. 2. 543. What girl shall are adore. 1. 17. What has this bug! ear death. 2. 502.                                                                                                           |
| Letter to Sir Horaco Marm. 12, 625. Walterries Night. Grethe. 11, 5022.                                                                                        | What has this bug! ear death. 2. GE.W7 at, is Arbonio here! 6. 225.                                                                                                                                        |
| Waltorris Meht. Goethe. 11. 5022.WALTON, IZAAC.                                                                                                            | What is the corriest thing that enters                                                                                                                                                                         |
|                                                                                                                                                                | hell. 17, 7516.                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| The Use of Mr. George Herlert. 6. 17-26, Wandering Jew, The. Suc. Wante Good Matchdon. Julian. 2. 546. Warts of Men. Tr. Admis. WAFD APARELIA Trans. Th. 4500. | What joy hall you g'ad erreals of forcers. 5.2051.                                                                                                                                                             |
| Went's Good Watchdon, Julian. 2 549.                                                                                                                           | What makes the happiet life Lelow. 1, 110.                                                                                                                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                                                                | What might have been expected. Bur-                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Story of Clamentine. 29, 9447.                                                                                                                                 | pett. 19. 8987.                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| marce. 15.723.                                                                                                                                                 | What strange wonder is this. 3. 1042. What she Swallows say. Gautter. 15. 8775.                                                                                                                                |
| WARD, ARTENUS, A MORMON 15, 723, WARD, MRS. HUMPHRY, Bokert and Catherine, 19, 9-64, WARD, MRS. HUMPHRY, Trans. Amiel's Journal VARE, WILLIAM The Fall of Pal- | What the Swallows exy. Gautler. 15, 8775. B'hac's the world's liberty to him. 6, 2005.                                                                                                                         |
| WARD, MRS. HUMPHRY, Trass.                                                                                                                                     | What Printed thou of him who calleth, 3, 1217. When chapman billies leave the street, 12, 5511.                                                                                                                |
| Amiel's Journal 16 7664.                                                                                                                                       | When civil fury first grew high. 7.2339.                                                                                                                                                                       |
| WARE, WILLIAM The Fall of Palmyra. 2. 1246.                                                                                                                    | When day declining sheds a milder gleam. 10, 4540.                                                                                                                                                             |
| Warfare of Life, The. Meredith. 18, 8412.                                                                                                                      | When east winds blow unceasingly. 11, 5262.                                                                                                                                                                    |
| WARNER, CHARLES DUDLEY. Father Damon and Buth Leigh 12 9796                                                                                                    | When Ere had led her lord away. 14. 6345.When Freedom from her mountain                                                                                                                                    |
| Father Damon and Buth Leigh. 10, 9725,WARNER, SUSAN. Ellen at the Farm. 15, 7022.Warning, Lochiel's. Campbell. 14, 0579.                               | ! height. 11.4201.                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                | When from the skier. 16, 7365. When legislators keep the law. 14, 632.                                                                                                                                         |
| Macraley. 8. 2420. WARREN, SAMUEL. From "Ten Thousand's Year." 12. 5734. Wars of the Boses grew, The Soil from                                                 | When music, heatenly maid, was                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| WARREN, SAMUEL. From "TenThousand a Year." 12.5734.                                                                                                        | young. 8. 2536. We no Percy wi' the Douglas riet. 4. 1754.                                                                                                                                                     |
| Wars of the Hoses grew, The Soil from                                                                                                                          | i When cound the lovely at ore 11 1464.                                                                                                                                                                        |
| which the Omen. 5. 1945. War bongs. Tyris us. 1. 473. Warwick the Kingmaker. Omen. 5. 1945.                                                                    | When slies are starless. 21, 1234. When the Count Garin doth know. 4, 1573. When the hounds of Epring. 2, 951.                                                                                                 |
| War bongs, Tyrtons, 1. 473.Warwick the Kingmaker, Oman, 5, 1945.                                                                                           | When the Count Garin doth know. 4. 1573.When the hounds of Spring. 2. 951.                                                                                                                                 |
| Washerwomen, The. Howard, 18, 856. WASHINGTON, GEORGE, Farewell                                                                                                | Wherds in eills my Julia goes. 11.7500.Wherefore these flowers. 10.4740.                                                                                                                                   |
| Address to the People of the United                                                                                                                            | Where is Calirius. 5. 2159.                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| States Sent 37 3506 35 F318                                                                                                                                    | Where is Calirius. 5, 219. Where is my chief, my master. 3, 1015. Where is the German e fatherland. 10, 4795.                                                                                                  |
| Washington, The Character of Jeffer-                                                                                                                           | Where the Battle was fought. Murfree 18, 8518.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| watch on the Phine The Schneeben-                                                                                                                              | Where the Battle was fought. Murfree 12, 8518. Where the mummied kings of Loypt. 18, 865. Where the guiet-colored and of even-                                                                                 |
| Watch on the Phine, The. Schnecken-barger. 19, 8323.                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| burger. 19, 6923.Waterloo, The Demoralization after.Berlo. 20, 6356.                                                                                   | Brich I seish in remark. 16, 7365.                                                                                                                                                                             |
| WATSON, JOHN. In Marget's Garden. 12, 9053.                                                                                                                    | While gray was the summer evening. 18 8006. While I stood. 1. 410.                                                                                                                                             |
|                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                |

| VOL. PAGE.                                                                                                             | f FOI DACE                                                                                                                                                               |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| While others tippled. 2. 550.                                                                                          | WINTHROP, THEODORE. Cocil                                                                                                                                                |
| While others tippled. 2. 550. White Aprons. Goodwin. 11. 4873.                                                         | Dreomo his own Interpreter. 20, 9787                                                                                                                                     |
| White Aprons, Goodwin. 11, 4873. White Company, The. Doyle. 4, 1814. WHITE, GILBERT. The Natural His-                  | Wise Woman, The. Robinson. 11, 4597 WISTER, OWEN. The Dragon in his                                                                                                      |
| WHITE, GILBERT. The Natural His-                                                                                       | WISTER, OWEN. The Dragon in his                                                                                                                                          |
| tory of Selborne. 10. 4531.                                                                                            | 1 Den. 20. 9567                                                                                                                                                          |
| WHITE, RICHARD GRANT. The                                                                                              | Wit and Satire of the Greek Anthology. 2, 541                                                                                                                            |
| Heart of England. 19. S937.                                                                                            | 1 Will deen affection 19. K639                                                                                                                                           |
| White Rocks, The. Rod. 16, 7789.                                                                                       | WITHER, GEORGE. The Manly                                                                                                                                                |
| White Rose, The. O'Reilly. 20. 9450.                                                                                   | Heart. 7, 3220                                                                                                                                                           |
| White Whale, On the Track of the.                                                                                      | With Fire and Sword. Sienklowicz. 7. 3288                                                                                                                                |
| Melvitie. 12. 5506.                                                                                                    | With him ther rode. 4.1802                                                                                                                                               |
| White Wolf of Kostopchin, The.                                                                                         | With him ther was his sone. 4. 1787                                                                                                                                      |
| Campbell. 13. 6064.                                                                                                    | With him ther was a plowman. 4. 1799                                                                                                                                     |
| WHITMAN, WALT. Death's Valley, 18, 8392.                                                                               | With nose so long and mouth so wide. 2. 542                                                                                                                              |
| O Captain! My Captain! 15. 7304.                                                                                       | With their accustomed shouts. 6. 2461                                                                                                                                    |
| Song of the Banner at Daybreak. 19, 8826.                                                                              | With us ther was a Doctour. 4. 1797.                                                                                                                                     |
| WHITTIER, JOHN GREENLEAF.                                                                                              | Wit, On. Smith. 11. 5063                                                                                                                                                 |
| WHITTIER, JOHN GREENLEAF.Barclay of Ury. 15. 7083.                                                                 | WOLFE, CHARLES. The Burisi of                                                                                                                                            |
| 1chabod. 13, 5882.                                                                                                     | Sir John Moore. 10, 4714. Woman Scornful in Youth playing the                                                                                                            |
| In School Days. 16, 7775.                                                                                              | Connecte when Old One Profing 9 545                                                                                                                                      |
| Who calls the broad Campagna drear. 2. 840.                                                                            | Coquette when Old, On a. Rufinns, 2, 547,Woman's Questioning, A. Proeter, 16, 7450.                                                                                  |
| Who here has formed with faultless hand. 2. 552.                                                                       | Woman's Questioning, A. Procter. 16, 7450, Women and Men. Higginson. 16, 7511.                                                                                           |
| Who is it in the press that calls on me. 2 849.                                                                        | Woodcutting. Theuriet. 18. 8653.                                                                                                                                         |
| Who is your lady of love. 13. 6218.                                                                                    | Wooed and Married and A'. Bailtie. 11. 5065.                                                                                                                             |
| Who reads this measure. 1. 140.                                                                                        | WORDSWORTH, WILLIAM.                                                                                                                                                     |
| Who shall escape from before thy                                                                                       | Intimations of Immortality. 12. 5423.                                                                                                                                    |
| power. 1. 65. Who sits above heaven's heights. 7. 3225.                                                                | 1 Odnic Duty 17 9090                                                                                                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                        | She was a Phantom of Delight. 17, 8219.                                                                                                                                  |
|                                                                                                                        | She was a Phantom of Delight. 17. S219. World was a Phantom of Delight. 17. S219. Worldly Prudence. Ea'dl. 4.1575. Worldly Woman, Love Letters of a. Clifford. 17. 7889. |
|                                                                                                                        | Worldly Prudence. Ea'dl. 4. 1575.                                                                                                                                        |
| Who will away to Athens. 2. 728. Who would list to the good lay. 4 1565.                                               | Worldly Woman, Love Letters of a.                                                                                                                                        |
| Who would list to the good lay. 4 1565. Why are those tears. 8.8486.                                                   | Clifford. 17, 7859.                                                                                                                                                      |
| Why Damon with the forward day. 8.8429.                                                                                | in druce trice for the merid by forth,                                                                                                                                   |
| Why did you melt your waxen man. 12.503.                                                                               | The. Epictetus. 8. 1322. WORMELEY, KATHARINE PRES-                                                                                                                       |
| Why having scon her do I wood. 11, 5342.                                                                               | COTT, Trans. Monsieur Vipie's                                                                                                                                            |
| TOUTTE-VELTUITE GEORGE                                                                                                 | Drother 15 and 10 cres                                                                                                                                                   |
|                                                                                                                        | Brother. 18. 5755. Worn and footsore seas the Prophet. 14. 6397. Worthies of England, The. Fuller. 7. 8295.                                                              |
| Why tremble, O youth. 9, 4372. Wide, Wide World, The. Warner. 15, 7022. WIGGIN, RATE DOUGLAS. Huldah                   | Worn and footsore stas the Prophet. 14, 6397,Worthies of England, The. Fuller. 7, 3295,WOTTON, HENRY, A Happy Life. 6, 2859.                                     |
| Wide, Wide World, The. Warner. 15, 7022.                                                                               | WOTTON, HENRY. A Happy Life. 6. 2859.                                                                                                                                    |
| WIGGIN, KATE DOUGLAS. Haldah                                                                                           | Would you not like a Broomstick.                                                                                                                                         |
| the Prophetess. 20, 9538. Wild and Weird Tales of Imagination                                                          | Goethe. 11. 5022.                                                                                                                                                        |
| Wild and Weird Tales of Imagination                                                                                    | Wounded Sentinel, The. Amiels. 20, 9377.                                                                                                                                 |
| and Mystery. Campbell. 18. 6064. Wild Ass' Skin, The Power of the.                                                     | Wouter Van Twiller, The Golden Reign                                                                                                                                     |
| Balzac. 17. 6204.                                                                                                      | Wouter Van Twiller, The Golden Reignof, Irving. 15, 6826.                                                                                                            |
| Balzac. 17. 8204.                                                                                                      | WIATE THUMAS. The Lover's                                                                                                                                                |
| Wild Huntsman, Tho. Scott. 9, 4007. Wild Rose of Allowny. Halleck. 15, 7018.                                           | Appeni                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Wild Rose of Allowny. Halleck. 15, 7018. Wild Rose of Plymouth, The. Very. 11, 4972. Wilhelm and the Dramatle Company. | Wynken, Blynken, and Nod one                                                                                                                                             |
| Wilhelm and the Dramatic Company.                                                                                      | night. 19, 2002.                                                                                                                                                         |
| Goethe. 10. 4567.                                                                                                      | WYES, JOHANN RUDOLF. From "The Swiss Family Robinson." 13, 6145.                                                                                                         |
| Wilhelm heeing his Annrenticeship.                                                                                     | The Bwiss Family Libburson. 15. 0145.                                                                                                                                    |
| Goethe. 10, 4001.                                                                                                      | XENOPHON. The Expedition of Cyrus. 2. 712.                                                                                                                               |
| WILHELMINE OF BATREUTH.                                                                                                | LEMIOTATOR, The maje dition of Office, 20 112,                                                                                                                           |
| Diary. 10. 4403. Wilhelm · Meister's Apprenticeship. Goethe. 10. 4551.                                                 | Yarn of the "Nancy Beli," The. Gilbert. 13. 6119                                                                                                                         |
| Wilhelm · Meister's Apprenticeship.                                                                                    | Teors, years ago. 12 5613.                                                                                                                                               |
| Goethe. 10. 4551. WILKINS, MARY E. A Gatherer of                                                                       | Yea, take thy fill of joy. 3. 1211.                                                                                                                                      |
|                                                                                                                        | Ye distant spires. 13, 6015                                                                                                                                              |
| William Wilson, Poe. 17, 7944.                                                                                         | 1 reappd men of the Commons.                                                                                                                                             |
| WILLIAMS, HENRY SMITH. The                                                                                             | 1 C Lyttle Balein Maide. Maekis 11. 4552.                                                                                                                                |
| Interature of Science. Intro. to                                                                                       | Ye Nymphs of Solyma. 3. 1167.                                                                                                                                            |
| Vol. xi.i.                                                                                                             | Ye sons of freedom wake to plory. 19, 8919.Ye swains now hasten. 8, 3858.                                                                                            |
| WILLIS, NATHANIEL PARKER.                                                                                              | Yesterdays with Authors. Fields 19, 5216.                                                                                                                                |
| Two Women. 15. 7103.                                                                                                   | Yes, you may dye your hair. 2. 316.                                                                                                                                      |
| Will of Thomas Chatterton. V. 12(0)                                                                                    | Let ore thy slice as blue, thy crays as                                                                                                                                  |
| Will, The Freedom of the Edwards. 11, 4999. WILSON, JOHN. The Owl. 12, 5599.                                           | wild. 2. 952                                                                                                                                                             |
| WILSON, JOHN. TROUML. 12, 570V.                                                                                        | ve . vv. e 31(1 t)- 30 4/30                                                                                                                                              |
| WILSON, JOHN. The Owl. 12, 5702. Wind in a Frolie, The. Howitt. 18, 8231. Window in Thrums, A. Barrie. 14, 6272.       | YONGE, CHARLOTTE M.                                                                                                                                                      |
| Window in Thrums, A. Barrie. 11. 653. Wine and the bath and landest lare. 2. 651.                                      | TONGE, CHARLOTTE M. Faithful unto Death. The Cap of Water. The Proof Temporals 1416                                                                                      |
| Wine and the bath and laichest lore. 2, 551. Wineland the Good, The Finding of                                         | The Cup of Water. 1. 27.                                                                                                                                                 |
| Reetes, Trans. 10, 4803.                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Titte to the mant to a security steed 9 550                                                                            | The Story of Damon and Priblis. 1. 141.                                                                                                                                  |
| Winning of the West, The. Roosevelt. 11. 4955.                                                                         | The Story of Damon and Pythlas. 1. 141.  Fon bells in the steepls. 16,7646.  You don't know Frotzari now. 4, 1716.                                                       |
| Winning of the West, The. Roosevelt. 11, 4255. Winter. Chamberlain, Trans. 16, 7353.                                   | You don't know Frotuart now, 4. 1716, Fou have beheld a smiling rose, 7. 2355.                                                                                           |
| Winter. Thomson. S. 2:63.                                                                                              | gen made printer a society part. 1, 1000,                                                                                                                                |
|                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                          |

| ro                                   | L PAGE.     | 70                                  | L PAGE    |
|--------------------------------------|-------------|-------------------------------------|-----------|
| You lay a ureath on murdered Lin-    |             | You that from the mother's side.    | 2. 5/23.  |
| coln's bier.                         | 5, 7203.    | You rationt and strong-hearted ene- |           |
| You love!                            | 1. 5319. 1  | mies.                               | C. 2778.  |
| YOUNG, ARTHUR, A Tour in Ire-        | 1           |                                     |           |
| land.                                | 9, 4309.    | ZANGWILL, ISRAEL. Chesting the      |           |
|                                      |             |                                     | 23. 9314. |
| YOUNG, EDWARD. On Life, Death,       |             |                                     | 17. 7657. |
|                                      |             | Zenotia. Ware.                      | 3. 1345.  |
|                                      |             | ZOLA, EMILE. Mamma Coupesu's        |           |
| Young was the dantel under the green |             | Foneral.                            | 19, 9003. |
| laureL                               | 4, 1753.    | The Naturalist School of Fiction in |           |
| You now salute me graciously.        |             | France. Intro. to Vol. xil.         |           |
| You saw gourself as you wieted you   |             | Zelalkha, Jami.                     | S. 2155.  |
| were.                                | 17. 819S. , | Shours and a manner                 |           |
|                                      |             |                                     |           |

TOPICAL INDEX.

ABBÉ FLEURY: see FLEURY. ABBEY, EDWIN A.; xvl. 7690. ABELARD, FIERRE; v. 2156; Max Müller on, ill. 1449.

on, iii. 1445.
ABOLITION: see SLAVERY.
ABRAHAM: lii. 1163.
ACADEMY OF FRANCE: electoral methods in Arago's time, xl. 5111 sq.
ACHILLES: meeting with Helen of Troy, i. 225, with Deldama, i. 841; birth predicted by ACHILLES: meeting with mein of 1707, 1, 223, with Deldama, 1, 841; birth predicted by the Fates, ii, 922.

ACTIUM, BATTILE OF: ii, 003-4.

ACTIONS AND THE STAGE: (see also THESPIS, and "Bir Roger do Coverley at the Play," vill. 8701), superannuated netors, ii, 662 sq.; in early Greece, ii, 762; performing dogs, v. 2233; in Shakespearo's time, vi. 2563 sq.; Montesquien on, vil. 8197-8; theaters closed by the Purlians, vi. 2569; Impersonation of Socrates, ii, 633, 696; Walpolo on the degeneracy of, ix, 8905; Lessing on dramatic representation of auffering, x. 4471, 4176, 4178; Johnson on contemporary plays, ix, 4223; the Roman drama injured by gladitatorial shows, ix, 4176; Wilhelm Melster's illusions regarding, x. 4502-4; strolling players, x. 4571 sq.; adaptability of Do Musset's works to the stage, xl. 5219, of Dante's, xil. 5122; Helmo on dramatic versismilitude, xi. 5312-4; faults of the Italians, xil. 5415 sq.; Italy the birthplace of comedy, xil. 5417; Bpanish dramatic talent, xil. 5423; the English pantomime, xiv. 5311.

ADAM: iii, 1103. ADAM: III. 1103.

ADAISON, JOSEPH: his acquaintance with football, xili. 6009-10; a London street named for, xiv. 6502; dislike of neologism, xiv. 6517 (sse niso General Index)

ADRIAN: 500 HADRIAN.
ADULTERATION AND SUBSTITUTION: of beer, necession and SUBSTITUTION: of beer, necessions in medieval England, iv.
1639; In baim, iv. 1808; dobssement of unstamped currency, iv. 4833.
ENEAS: see MYTHOLOGY.
ENEID: see VIRGIL.
ESOHINES: anecdote of, i. 808; attacked by Demostbenes, il. 782.
ESOP: anecdote of x 4705.

ASOP: anecdoto of, x. 4795, AFGHANS, the (see also "The Afghan War," xx. 9687): as fighters, xviii. 8306 sq. AGESILAUS: anecdote of, i. 309; lameness of, vi. 2620. AGINCOURT, Battle of: iv. 1811; date of, xvi.

AGNOSTICISM (see also MATERIALISM, SKEPTICISM): ns volced by Huxiey, xviii. 8493-8501.

GUITURE (see also CORVÉE, HORTI-GRIGULTURE, IRRIGATION, and "The Nat-ural History of Selborno," x. 4631; dignity of, 1, 67-9; in medieval England, iv. 1645, vi. 2436 eq.; in Moro's Utopla, vi. 2751, 2752, 2754; in Spain in 17th century, viil, 3765; Bncon on, vi. 2626, Adam Smith on, ix. 4842-3; warfare disastrous to, iv. 1919; Solon's laws concerning, il. 572; left to slaves in Sparta, i. 428; decay in Italy under Spanish rule, vi. 2465, growth in England under Roman, 2503; mediaval tillers of the soil, iv. 1626; a starving oc-capation in 17th-century France, x. 4796 sq.; mainstay of colonial South Carolina, xi. 4905; decline during Romo's last days a cause of decline during Romo's last days a eauso of pauperizing the people, x. 4777; Moors as inustantimen, vid. 3755.

AINGER, ALFRED; his edition of Lamb's works, xii. 5597.

ALADDIN, The American, xix. 8900.

ALOHEMY: vid. 331-12; Elistr of Life, see "Dr. Heldegger's Experiment," xvil. 7932.

ALCIBIADES: Frederick II. compared to, tv. 1551; Gapulshoas, of xiv. 6854; feep else. 1651; foppishness of, xiv. 6854 Index I.). (see nlso

ALCINOUS: see MYTHOLOGY.
ALCOTT, A. BRONSON: on libraries, xvi.

ALDEN, JOHN: see "Betty Alden and her Companions," x. 4857, and "Priscills," xx. 9567.

ALEXANDER: anecdotes of, i. 29-80, 808-9, vi. 2647, 2648, 2738; Demosthenes on, ii. 784-9; compared to Cromwell, ii. 776; Grots on, ii. 776; eompared to Cromwell, 1.716; Grote on, il. 776; Droysen on, il. 776; Juvenni on, ill. 1126; Gnuls repulsed by, il. 750 (see also General Index).

ALEXIUS: alded by Crusaders to recover the Byzantine throne, iv. 1601 sq.
ALFIERI, VITTORIO: exaggerations of his style, xil. 6419-21, its resomblance to the French, xil. 6421; as a lyricist, xil. 6422 (see also General Index).
ALLEN, CAPTAIN ETHAN: eeo "The Green Wantin Roys" yv. 1965.

Mountain Boys," xv. 0965.

ALPS, the (see also "Climbing the Welsaborn," xvi. 7609): tree-felling in, xviii, 8662-3.

ALTE VESTE, BATTLE OF: vii. 8024-6.

ALVA, DUKE of: on Charles V.'s military

ALVA, DUKE of: on Charles v.'s inilitary genius, v. 2663.

AMERICA (see also COLONIES, INDIANS, UNITED STATES): discovery of, by Columbus, v. 2009 sq., by Norsemen, x. 4503 eq.; Bancroft on the colonization of, xx. 9729, at the center of the proper political configuration. eq.; Bancroft on the colonization of, xx. 9729, on the cate of its colonies, political and social, xd. 4902 sq.; its hostility to monarchy and prolacy, ix. 4291; colonial newspapers of, xv. 6917; Rurke on Britain's true policy toward, xv. 6919 sq., on the leve of liberty in, xv. 6920-5; its loss to England felt keanly by Stevenson, xill. 6105; Hume on, xi. 4902-8.

MERICA, CENTRAL: revolutions in, xvi. 7001-7

7601-7

MERICA, SOUTH: see PERU.

AMERICA, SOUTH: see FERU.
AMIENS: pence of, xix, 5841.
AMPHIOTYONIC COUNCIL: see GOVERNING BODIES.
AMUSEMENTS: see ACTORS, DOLLS AND TOYS, GAMES, GLADIATORIAL SHOWS.
ANAROHY: see LAW AND ORDER, abscnee of.

ANAXAGORAS: auecdotes of, vl. 2647, 2648, [ARISTARCHUS; 1.155.

ANGEVINS, the (see also PLANTAGENETS): Norman animosity to, iii 1435, John of England the worst and ablest of, vi 2554, 2555, 2553; evil traits of, vi 2554-5, conflict with the 2505; evil traits 0., vi 2555; unwritten law too weak to hold, vi 2556; Matilda of England married to Dake Geoffrey, iii. 1431; Eleanor of Poitou, iii 1454

NIMALS, THE LOWER (see also BIRDS, DOGS, THE HORSE, MONKEYS): Darwin on man's co-descent with, xhl. 5932, 5934, 5935, on man's co-descent with, xil, 5932, 6934, 5935, on his difference from xil, 5935, on social Instinction and selection among, xil, 5935, on exual attraction and selection among, xili, 5938-41, on distinctions between the sexes, xili, 5939-41; the senso of beauty in, xili, 5939, 5931-2; the bartering instinct lacking in, ix, 4347; the law of compensation in their physical construction, xv. 7107; the duty of kindness to, xviii, 8470-2; interdependence among, x, 4599, between plants and, xviii, 8492; Montaigne on intelligence in, v. 2222 sq; ante, xvi 7634, files, Homer on, it, 953; Luther on, v. 2325, see also "Encomium on Files," ii, 953, ANNE, QUEEN; visit to the Forest of Wolnner, x, 4535. mer, x. 4535.

ANTHOLOGIES, The Use and Value of. Garnett, Intro. Vol 1.

NTHROPOLOGY (see also HEREDITY, PHYSIOLOGY, SOCIETY, Darwin's "Descent of Man," and Man, and Manley's "Invest gation of life," xviii, 84-9); Solon's estimate of the duration of luman life, is. ANTHROPOLOGY 523; influence of min I on bodliy structure, xiii. 5913; man's imitative lustinet, Bagehot on, mx. 8903 sq.; man as viewed b, science, xvi. 7643; Holmes on the physical characteristics of genins, xiv. 6340 I; marriage regulated by of gening, xiv. 5349 1; marriage regulated by natural laws, xx. 93.657.

ANTIOCH (see also "The Chariot-Race at Antioch," xix. 9365): s ege of iv. 1455 sq.

ANTIPATER. it. 754, 761, 774, 780.

ANTONY, MARK. roppishness of, xiv. 6334 (see also General Index).

APELLES · il. 552, 778. APOLLONIUS RHODIUS: his epic, l. 230. APPIUS CLAUDIUS: migration to Rome, x. 4910; and Virginia, I. 460 sq. APPRENTICESHIP: in England, vii. 3297. AQUEDUCTS see WATER SUPPLY.

AQUINAS, ST. THOMAS. on works of charitr, ir. 2392.

ARCHIDAMUS, anecdote of, i. 309.

ARCHIMEDES: on geometry, it. 656; anec-

ARCHIMEDES; on geometry, il. 656; anecdote of, xvi. 7570.

ARCHITECTURE: Babylonian, i. 406 sq; Moorish, in. 1237; early English, fv. 1633; Peruvian, v. 2247, 2249, 2250; Gothio, Froude on, vi 2434; Walpole's interest in, ix. 3940; Hangarian, xi 5200; of New York, xvi. 7653-9. Parisian, xvi. 7622; Japanese, xviii. 8511; Elizibethan, xiz. 8941; hidden, hundright in early Ropey. bridge-building important in early Rome, x 4774; doors nucommon in Persian houses, xiii. 6212; nmity of plan indispensable in. xiv. 6778-0

ARCTIC EXPLORATIONS: Franklin's pro-motion of, xi. 4910. AREUPAGUS, the: see GOVERNING BOD-

ARGUMENT: Alecaulay's love of, xvi. 7494-5, Johnson's, ix. 4234, 4255-6; Christ drawn into, by the Jeas, xviii. 8473 sg.; Franklin on, xv. 6592-6.

ARIOSTO, LUDOVICO: Maraulay's admiration for, x11. 7505 (see also General Index). ARIOVISTUS: iii, 1110

ARISTARUHUS 1.100.
ARISTOPHS: a necdote of, i. 169.
ARISTOPHACY | more favorable to progress than democracy, xix. 8899; of America, the, Holmes on, xiv. 6390-5; of wealth, ancient Rome ruled by, i. 457; its moral effect contrasted with democracy's, xx. 7242-53
ARISTOPHS: autorable of Alexander il 769.

Trained with democracy of Alexander, il. 769, ARISTOTLE: thioriship of Alexander, il. 769, 773, 776-7; his defense of anger, ill. 1826; on the love of learning, vi. 2760-7; Pascal on, xi. 5143; on the soul, xi. 5271; dandyism of, xiv.

ARITIMETIC: see MATHEMATICS.
ARMIES: see WAR.
ARMS AND ARMOR: lv. 1873; v. 2262;
combrous, x. 4755; of the ancient Persians,
if. 721; of Alexander, II. 750; of the early English, vi. 2251; the Afghan knife, xviii. 8303;
Holmes on the weapons of consuring vaces Holmes on the weapons of conquering 1 ces, xir. 6319; origin of the trade of armore; ix. 4343-9

ABNOLD, BENEDICT (see also "The Green Monatain Boys," xv. 6963): stratagem of, xi. 4970-80; limits of his unpopularity, xi. 4978; raid on the British in Canada, xv. 6933. ARNOLD, MATTHEW: impersonation of, see note, xvi 7544 (see also General Index)

Index)
RT (see also ARTS AND SCIENCES,
RT) (see also ARTS AND SCIENCES,
PAINTING, SCULPTURE): Browning discriminates between Greek et Christ an, xvi.
8193; Lessing on the limitations of, ix.
AND; Northedd's tangentation of, xvi.
8288; the park played by imagination in, xvii. 8279 sq.; European inferior to the autique, xii. 6/82; Ptolem, Philadelphus as autron of it. 777. ART

autique, min. 6;82; Prolem; Piniadelphus as patron of, ii, 777.

RTS AND SCIENCES, the (see Also ARCHITECTURE, MUSIC, MECHANICS, PAINTING, PRINTING, SCULPTURE, TRADES AND HANDICRAFTS): 11 Egypt, 1. 66; 11 Myonsh Spain, 11 123; 11 mediaval Gerrany, v. 2340, 2341; 11 P.ru, v. 2249; banished from Sparta by Lycurgus, i. 424, 427; Mume on the softening rad lumanizang infinence of, vil. 3376, 2377; Greeks and Romuns behindhand in applied sciences, v. 4780.

ARYAN LEGENDS (see MYTHOLOGY) ASCETICISM: see BUDDHISM, CELIBACY. STOICISM.

ASSIGNATS: compared with Law's system, x. 4792; design of, x. 4793; forced into circulation, x. 4791; depreciation of, x.

SFROLOGY (5°c also AUGURS AND OMENS, WITCHCRAFT AND MAGIC): in 1663, iv. 1.60, v. 2320, vi. 2355; satires on, v. 2214 sq., vii 3359; Swift on, viii. 3500; practisers in Rome, iii. ASTROLOGY

AHD.

ATRONOVY (cee also LAPLACE, MATH-EMATICS, and "Sapervision and Control of Other Woylds," xvi. 7529): Socrates On, n. 567.8; Ptolemaic, ni. 337; its study destructive to ambition, vii 3880; no instructive to for, invented by the aucients, x. 4780

4750
ATHEISM (see also MATERIALISM): of Marshal Strozz, v. 2121; of Marlowe, vi. 2570; Socrates accused of, il 675 seq; Franklin accused of, vv. 6569; Bacon on, vi. 2623-5; thoughtless, Johnson on, ir. 4244.
ATHENE: see MYTHOLOGY.
ATHENS AND THE ATHENIANS, (see also ALEXANDER, DEMOSTHENES, OLYMPIC GAMES, SOCRATES, SOLOM, PISISTRATUS, and "The Greatness of Athens," i. 412): Socrates on. ii. 679; schools of, closed by Justinian, ii. 674; defeated at Syracuse, ii. 693; ten generals requisite for an army of, xi. 494f; loyalty to its leaders, xix. 889f; its democracy a widened aristocracy, xix. 6899.

ATTILA (ETZEL): ancedotes of, ili. 1835, 1390

AUGURS AND OMENS (see also ASTROLOGY, DELPHI, DODONA, DREAMS, WITOHOLAFT, and "Cagliostro," x. 4630): ii. 562, 761, 523, 849, 897, 900, 906, iii. 188, 1219, 1420, v. 2016, 2219, 2221, vii. 2977, x. 4504; prophecies, ii. 720, 722, iii. 1018, 1017, 1019, 1029, 1047, 1069, 1075; LTzel and the cat, iii. 1885; charms, iii. 1403, iv. 1619; riding "widdersias," iv. 1492; visions, iv. 1841 sq., v. 2829, ii. 860, x. 4806; the evil eye, v. 2837, 2830; ji. 860, x. 4806; the evil eye, v. 2837, absurdity of trusting in, viii. 3486; an Oriental diviner, xl. 5104 sq.; kiling of an albatross, xii. 5863 sq.; gamblers' snporsitions, xvi. 7370 sq., fishermen's, xviii, 8455.
AUGUSTINE, ST.: war on Manicheans and Pelagians, xi. 4914; on the social evil, xviii. S617 (see also General Index).

AUGUSTUS, THE EMPEROR: III, 1117, vi. 2641, 2643, 2646; decline of Roman population arrested under, x. 4781. AURELIUS, THE EMPEROR MARCUS: his empire threatened by the barbarians, x. 4776-7 (see also General Index),

(see also General Index).

AUSTRALASIA (see also "Captain Cook's Death," ix. 4859); settlement of, xv. 6942; present population of, xv. 6943.

AUSTRIA (see also ANNE OF AUSTRIA, MARIE-LOUISE, MAXIMILIAN); the least dangerous of medieval powers, iv. 1871; discordant elements of the modern empire, iv. 1870; bergingings of xiii 8753; mediators 1870; beginnings of, vill. 3763; anecdoto of Rodolph of Hapsburgh, i. 180; Bismarck on political relations between Germany and, xix. 9130-4; the fortress of Spielberg, xi. 5006-7. AUTHORS (see also CRITICISM, LITERARY

AUTHORS (see also CRITICISM, LITERARY, and GRUB STREET): concilied, vi. 2649, viii, 3499, 5579 sq. of the Georgian era, ix. 3936; Walpole on the degeneracy of ix. 8908; Johnson as critic of, ix. 4220-30, 4250, 4264-5; Birrellon "the art of chafting," ix. 4263; Hazlitt on the conversation of, xi. 5055 sq., on employment of aunanuenses, xi. 5061; Holmes on literary methods of, xiv. 6347-5, on the encouragement of unripe literary talent in America, xiv. 6365; handlenps of, xiv. 6790; severt motives of, xvi. 7807; common independ to general motives of, xxix. 8959-80; Gibbon's pleasure in the Greek, xix. 6959; characteristics of the Persian, xiii. x. 4608; characteristics of the Persian, xiii. 6200 sq.; honored in Persia, xiii. 6100-1; Montesquieu on their hard fate, vii. 3207-3; Milton on their wrongs under State censorship, vii. on their wrongs under State censorship, via. 3253; Gibbon on the writing of his History. x. 5027-8; loss of their Mss. in the pillage of Wennar, xi. 5027-8; Spanish soldier authors, viil. 3412; their need of a fixed purpose, xii. 5414; national traits desirable in interature, xi. 5414-5; dramatists, faults of the Italian, xii. 5413, 5416, 5418-9; taleat of the Spanish, xii. 5423; Birrell on the obligations of their cilitors, vii. 5502.3; character of the first Iranglab play-5433; Eurrell on the congations of their cultors, xii. 5597-5; character of the first English playwrights, vi. 2569-71; Franklin's literary training, xv. 6562-4, 6567-5; the child Macanlay's literary fertility, xvi. 7491-2; style not to be acquired by reading, xvi. 7559; back writers described by Schonyphage, xvi. 7569-40; value nequired by reading, xvi. 7559; back writers de-nounced by Schopenhauer, xvi. 7559-40; value of their biographies, xvil. 7566-7; Wordsworth on style, xix. 5905; Thackersy's literary habits, xix. 6948-9; Dante's genius adapted to tha stage, xii. 5422; Johnson driven to authorship by poverty, vi. 2564; a writer's education, xvi. 7558-9.

AZTECS, the: compared with Pernylans under the conquerors, v. 2255.

BABYLON: architecture of, i. 406 sq.; hanging gardens of, viii. 3430-1.

BACON, LORD: on the Jesuits, v. 2385; on "the God of the dog," xiv. 6533; on control over the mind, xvii. 7503; bis philosophy compared with Plato's, ii. 654 sq.; Ben Jonson on, vi. 2788-9; Dr. Johnson on, ix. 4146 (see also Vi. 2182-9; D., General Index).

BAGEHOT, WALTER: preference of Hazlitt above Lamb, xii. 5595 (see also General Index).

AND TRANSPORTED TO AND TR

BAOVE LAMED, XII. 20070 (See also General Index)
BAGPIPES: see MUSIC.
BALLADS (see also MINSTRELS AND TROUBADOURS). a Homeric creation, i. 145; points of difference from Homer, i. 152; its form adapted to inferior genius, i. 147; Nibelingswilled an illustration of i. 146; Scotting lungeniled an illustration of, i. 146; Scott's pre-eminence in, i. 149; characteristies of, i. 310-11; a factorin Roman politics, 1, 459; Max Muller on the Minnesanger, m. 1452 sq.: popu-Junier on the Minnesanger, in: 1422 sq.; popular, of the 16th century, vi. 29.0; chsplaced in Spain by more artificial forms, vin. 5441; of American Indians, vin. 3792. Percy Reliques, i. 146, 150, 439. dismal spirit of French patriotic, xiii. 6108-9; feebleness of the modern English, xviii. 6330-1; ballad of Hardylmute, Johnson, on, ix. 4212; on the siege of Lerida, vii. 3191 (see also Gaperal Index). vil. 3191 (see also General Index).

BALTIMORE, LORD: proprietary rights of,

xi. 4908.

BANCROFT, GEORGE: on the colonization BANCROFT, GEORGE: on the colonization of America, xx. 0729 (see also General Index).

BANK OF ENGLAND: origin of, vi. 2918 sq.; compared with Law's system, x. 4792-4; flettious eredit of, x. 4792-5.

BANKS (see also BANK OF ENGLAND, CURRENCY, FINANCE) Vestal Virgins repositories of public funds, ii. 884; John Law's, x. 4790 sq.; of deposit, Adam Smith, on, ix. 4355 sq.; bought up by the Eric Railway ring, xix. 8892-9.

BANNOCKBURN, BATTLE OF: iv. 1752.

BANOCKBURN, BATTLE OF: iv. 1752.

BANQUETS (see also FOOD): English public, xi. 6512-4; Oriental, iv. 1499-1500; political, Brillat-Savarın on their origin, xix. 9264; the Prince Imperial at the Newspaper Press Fund

Prince Imperial at the Monago, and Money, will, 8933
BARBARIANA, the (see also ARIOVISTUS, GAULS, HUNS, TARTARS, VERCINGET, ORIX): Rome harassed by x. 4770; triumph of, vi 2553-1; Theodone and his court, ni.

BARBAROSSA, FREDERICK: , see FRED-ERICK BARBAROSSA.

BARETTI, SIGNOR: Johnson on, ix. 4233;

tral of, ix. 4243-5.
BARNET, BATTLE OF: v. 1951 sq.
BATUS: public, Greek inscriptions for, ii. 551, found in all Russian villages, xia. 60:5; medi-found in fill Russian villages, xia. 60:5; medicated, Johnson on, ix. 4216.

BATTLES (see also WAR): of Thermopyles, first, i. 411-23, second, il. 750 sq.; of Leuctra, i. 429, x. 4761 sq.; of Canne, il. 808 sq.; of Actium, ii. 903; of Marathoa, ii. 753; of Roncesvalles, iii. 1411; of Hastings, iii. 1422 sq.; of the Standard, iii. 1435; of Bannockburn, iv. 1762; of Agineonri, iv. 1811, xvi. 7487; of Barnet, v. 1951 sq.; of the Three Kings, v. 2292; of Ivry, v. 2317; of AlteVeste, vii. 3924-6; of Lutzen, vii. 5927-50; of Neerwinden, vii. 3121-2; of Stanford Heath, vii. 3256 sq.; of Oréey, x. 4620; of 2021-50; of Neerwinden, vii. 3121-2; of Stamford Heath, vii. 3256 sq.; of Creep, x. 4620; of St. Gothard, x. 4620; of the Balic, x. 4637-9; of Trafsigar, x. 4743; of Rotenton, x. 4832; of Flodden, xiv. 6506; of Bunker Hill, xv. 6934; of Long Island, xv. 6934; of Bonvines, vi. 2562; of the War of 1812, x. 4716 sq.; of Cape St. Vincent, 27. 6941.

BEAL, SAMUEL: on Buddhism, xl. 5270.
BEATRICE OF BATTENBERG, PRINCESS: projected marriago with the Prince Imperial, xviil. 8382. EEAUTY: Humo ou the relativity of, viii. 8871; Sydney Smith ou its incompatibility with wit, xi. 5970 sq.; its appreciation a source of happiness, xi. 5278-5; the sense of, among animals, xiii. 5939, 5941-2; Homer's sense of, xx. 9360-1.

BECKET, THOMAS A: murder of, iii.

1448

BECKY SHARP: see SHARP, BECKY.

BEDFORD, Duke of: xiii. 6297.
BEECHER, HENRY WARD: on books as a means of culture, xvi. 7483 (see also General Index)

Index).

BECTHOVEN, LUDWIG VON: contrasted with Mozart, xvi. 7669.

BEGGARS AND BEGGARY (see also PARASITES, SOCIAL): religions, i. 42 sq.; in the Middle Ages, iv. 1573, v. 2256; Spanish politeness to, viii. 3766; French peasants driven by famine to heg, x. 4793-9, 4801.

BELIEF: see RELIGION.

BERNARD ST. on the priesthood, vi. 2624.

BERNARD, ST.: ou the priesthood, vi. 2624; on misfortune, xv. 7120 (see also General Index)

BERSERRS: see PIRACY. BETTINA VON ARNIM: and Goethe, zi. 5028 sq.

BIAS: anecdotes of, i. 170.

BIAS: anecdotes of, i. 170.

BIBLE, the (see also ABRAHAM, ADAM, DAVID, JOB, JONATHAN, MOSES): its English analogous to cpic Greek, i. 313; Luther on Bible Reading, v. 2326; Goethe on Luther's translation of, vi. 2585; Gaelic translation of, vi. 2585; Gaelic translation of, vi. 4267; universal circulation in the American colonies, xi. 4914.

BIOGRAPHY: of suthors, their work explained by, xxii. 7508-7.

BIEDGI, HARVEY: xv. 6994xq.

BIBDS: 105-3; Luther on ravens and sparrows, v. 2325; Johnson an observer of, ix. 4232; forest willd flowly, x 4434-5; the senso of heanty in, xiii. 5931-2.

BISMARACK, PRINCE: on Freach-speaking, Eaglishmen, xiv. 6516; his power confirmed by universal suffrage, xix. 8595 (see also General Index).

by universal suffrage, xix. 8595 (see also General Index).

BOARDS OF HEALTH AND SANITARY MEASURES (see also CHARITIES, MEDICINE AND HYGIENE, PESTILENCES): v. 2993 sq.; bills of health required of travelers in Italy, v. 254; daring Loudon Plague, vi. 2519 sq.; semilarinums, Ootacamand, xvi. 7502-3.

BOCCACCIO, GIOVANNI: his "Fiammetta," xii. 5420 (see also General Index).

BONAPARTES, the (see also FRANCE, JOSEPHINE, NAPOLEON BONAPARTE, NAPOLEON HIL): nnpopularity in France after 1870, xix. 8593.

POLEON 111.); 1870, xix, 8393; BOOKS (see also AUTHOPS, LIBRARIES, PRINTING): the true Elyslan fields, xiv. PHINTING): the true Elyslan fields, xiv. 7452; not extremely rare in mediaval England, iv. 1646; the lovers of, iv. 1703; Luther on, v. 3222, 2226; Bacon on, vl. 2623; Militon on, vl. 2275; eq.; Swiff on, vili. 2499; as instruments of knowledge, Johnson on, ix. 4146 sq.; as tools, Carlyle on, xili. 2743-7, on the two classes of, xili. 5249-50; Comlace on the value of, iv. 1909; Holmes on early familiarity with, xiv. 6231; Franklin's love of, xv. 6291-2. Eonssean's, ix. 4050, Johnson's, ix. 4259; Attilla's scorn of, tili. 1390; Johnson's careless handling of, ix. 4257; a rascal's use of, ix. 4026-7; character of the scholar, xi. 5063, xvi. 7537-8, of the oookworm, xi. 5665; not the only source of culture, xi. 5237; the satisfaction of ownership in, xvi. 7452; their scarcity in middle-class England, xvi. 7455; Schopenhaner on ephemeral literature, xvi. 7539-40.

BORGIAS, tho: Alexander, v. 2011; Casar, v.

2083-91.

BOSSUET, JACQUES BENIGNE: as a stylist, wil. 634 (see also General Index).

BOSTON: Holmes on its pletaresque spots, xiv. 6364; its remonstrance against British trade laws, xi. 4913; General Gago on the number of lawyers in, xv. 6924; occupied by British soldiers, xv. 6925; Boston Tea Party, British soldiera, xv. 692S; Boston Tea Party, xv. 6930; its port closed to commerce, xv. 6931. BOSWELL, JAMES: Waipole on, ix. 6931. BOSWELL, JAMES: Waipole on, ix. 6931. S016 (see also General Index). BOTANX (see also HORTHOULTURE): its study a help to landscape psinters, xv. 6775. BOUBBON, HOUSE OF (see also HENEY IV., LOUIS XIV., LOUIS XVI., and "Murder of the Dnc d'Enghlen," x. 4701): eumity to England, xv. 6935 sq. Bliance with America scalast, xv. 6935 sq. BOUVINES, BATTLE OF: vl. 2502. BRADFORD, WILLIAM, printer: xv. 6870. BILAHMA AND BRAHMANISM: derivation of the name, i. 8, 9; doctrine of, xi. 5269.

BRAMMA AND BRAMMANISM: derivation of the name, i. 8, 9; doctrine of, xi. 5229. BRANDON, ST.: iii. 1345; xii. 5523. BRANDVWINC, BATTLE OF THE: xv. 6934. BRENNUS: ii. 751 sq.; invasion of Rome, iii. 1256, v. 2156. BREWSTER, ELDER WILLIAM (see also "Betty Alden and her Companions," x. 4557); feature of his work, xvii. 5135 (see man General Index).

xi. 4970-1.

BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION (see also POL-BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION (see also POL-ITICS): v1.2670; in Rome, v1.2645; Alexander and Phocton, v1.2647; Bacon charged with, v1. 2623 sq.; vii. 3326 (Pepys); in Charles V.'e court, v1. 2617; Francesco Cenci's employment of, v1.2466-7; at a Hungarisn election, x1. 5204 sq., at a Scotch, xii. 5540. BRIGHT, JOHN: on libraries, xv1. 7485 (see also General Index). BROWNING, ROBERT: on Greek vs. Christian art, xvii. 8193; love of progress the distinctive feature of his work, xvii. 8193 (see also General index).

BRUGSCH, HEINRICH KARL: i, 52.
BRUNHILD: see EPICS, the Nibelangenlied.
BRUTUS, L. JUNIUS (see also "Jalins Cessar," ii. 549): 1, 471 sq.; enicide of, iii. 1111.
BRUYERE, JEAN DE LA: as a stylist, xii.
5414 (see siso General Index).
RIGCPPHALIS: ii. 750.

BUCEPHALUS: il. 750. BUCKINGHAM, VILLIERS, DUKE OF: VI.

BUDDHA (Siddartha): marriage of, 1. 19. BUDDHISM: ascetic doctrine of, xi. 5263-70. BUFFON: as a stylist, xii. 5414 (see also General Index). BUFORD'S MASSACRE: UNITED STATES, Revolutionary War.

BULWER-LYTTON, SIR EDWARD: American dismemberment predicted by, xx, 9727 can dismemberment predicted by, xx, 9727 (see also General Index).

BUNKER HILL, BATTLE OF: xx. 6933.

BUNYAN, JOHN: Franklia on his literary style, xx. 6930 (see also General Index).

BURGLARY (see also CRIME): old Indian method of, i. 86, Turkish, xi. 5185; common in mediarsal England, iv. 1644; detectives' methods of tracking, xiv. 6572 sq.

BURGUNDY AND THE BURGUNDIANS (see also EPICS, Nibelaogeniled, and "Charles the Bold," iv. 1863; Sidonias on, ill. 1162; vanishes as a kingdom after Frederick II., Iv. 1653; important historical position of its dakes, Iv. 1866; history of, iv. 1857; desirability as a modern kingdom, iv. 1571.

BURIAL CUSTOMS (see also MUMMIES): in Macedonia, ii. 737; in Greece, modified by Epimenides, il. 562, by Solon, il 571; in Ireland, ili 1022, xil 5577; in Venice, v. 2357; in Italy during a plague, v. 2409; in Greenland, x 4807; of a king of, ix. 3899 sq; of the Huns, il. 1933; of a suicido, see "Hamlet," vi 2579-89; il. 10dex)

Universal visition for the checking il. 1007. The Christian Irish Laterature, iii. 1017, Irish North Arterial visition for the checking il. Mark Antony's directions for his obsequies, it MARK Antony's directions for his obsequies, il $96; Greek belief regarding, i 413, of the Jows, xxi 1342; at sea, xxiii $456; rights of interment under Cicero's consulate, it 680 BURKE, EDMUND, Walpole on his pamphlet on the French Revolution, ix 3917; and Johnson, ix 4258-9; his proposed bill conclinating America, xx. 6382; on pride, xx 7114 (see also Index I.)

BURNEY, FANNY (MME D'ARBLAY):
Johnson on, 1x 4263 (see also Index I).
BUTE, LORD: ix 4291, 4290; result of his treachery, xx 6036
BYRON, ADMIRAL: xii 5403
BYRON, LORD De Musset compared to, xi 5214; his letter to Moore on the murder of the compared at Resemble xiii, 6300 (see the commandant at Ravenna, xiii. 6300 (see elso General Index)

the CMPIRE, BYZANTINE (see ALEXIUS) an instructive lesson in mouarchical institutions, x. 4707-9

CADMUS see MYTHOLOGY.
CÆSAR, JULIUS. vi 2645; character of, in 1110; given charge of a conspirator, if 623; his wish for sudden death, vi 2537; his horse, vil 8346; his commentaries translated into Turkish, vili 8196 (see also General Index) CALVINISM (see also IUGUENOTS, PRESBYTERIANISM, Calvin's "Institutes," > 2988, Edwards' "Freedom of the Will." xi 4996); of New England, xi 4914-5; attached in the Church of Lugland, vil 3325; Mill on, xxi 7358. IVI 7585 CALYPSO see MYTHOLOGY. CAMBACERES. his attempt to save the Duc

CAMBACERLES his attempt to save the Duc d'Enghien, x 4703, 4705 CAMBYSES: if 519 CAMBLUS. i 440 461.
CANALS (see also likiGATION): in Ceylon under D tich rule, xx 4.99 CANNÆ, BATTLE OF 11 803 sq.

CANNEA, BATTLE UF II 503 SQ.
CANNEALISM (see also ClCLOFS). IV.
1804, viii 3579 Sq., impossibility among sinpwrecked Englishmen, x. 4522, of the Giacui m "Valuek," x. 4478 Sq.
OANUTE, KING. See KNUT.
CAPITAL PHYSICHMENT (see also Electrical)

ANUTE, KING See KNOT.
APITAL PUNISHMENT (see also TAR-PEIAN ROCK): Draco on, ii 567; ovii effects of, iv. 1634; for counterfelting, iv. 1634, 1644, Machiarelli on, v. 2034, of women, v. 2333, vii 3188, 3134; in medieval France, England, and Geometry, v. 238; vii America, v. 2506. CAPITAL vii S188, S134; in medieval France, England, and Germany, v 2323; in America, xv. 7526; first example of a king's decapitation, il S90 OARLYLE, THOMAS: on early German poetry, il 1428; on Johnson, ix 4255; compared with Johnson, ix 4252, Birrell on, t220; sq. xil 5596-7; on Land, xil 5595; on langship, xx 9576 (see also General Index) (CASTIL IN 1997).

CASTI: in India, first allided to, 1 10; in Egypt, i 65 sq., struggies between priests and soldiers, mil. 6160; in Rome, i 457; in Venice,

CASTOR AND POLLUX. see MYTHOLOGY CATHOLICISM. see CHURCH, ROMAN

CATHOLIC
CATILINE: St Augustine on, ili 1152-3 (see also General Index)

asso General ander)
OATO: opposes Antony in the senate, if 8°3, death of, ii 1111, v 2234
OELIBAGY of the clergy, Europe's stock im povershed by, xviii 8503, 8504; enjoined by the canon law, iv, 1630-1.

Pre Christian Irish Literature, uf. 1017, Irish Poems, ui 1013-6; "The Voyage of Meel-dune," un. 1340 CELTS, the: see CELTIC LITERATURE und

GAULS

CENTAURS, the see MYTHOLOGY. CENTRAL AMERICA see AMERICA, CEN-TRAL

CETEWAYO, KING war with England, xviii 8379 sq . the Prince Imperial's sword restored by, xviii 8391.

restored by, xviii 8891.

CHAVILLART honesty of, vii $130.

CHAPMAN, GLORGE: his translation of Homer, 146-52, 310

CHARRITICS (see also BEGGARY) Lovola an organizer of, v 2382, early England's lack of, iv. 1642, Lecky on the utrificarian theory of, xviii $864, American liberality in, xix, $883; of London, De Quincey on, xiv 6742, schools, v 2307. Christs Hospital, xv 7319, asplums, v 2366, Leicester Hospital, xv 3408, during London Plague, vi 2803-26, v 2408, during London Plague, vi 2803-26, v 2408, during London Plague, 11 2803-26, 2809; situsgiving, 1v 1638, x 4797, workhouses, x 4801. "Fresh-Ant. Societies, xvi 7512-3; Society of the Red Cross, xviil

CHARLEVAGNE · and Roland, iii 1410 sq; quick decay of bis institutions, vi 2570 CHARLEROY capture of, vii 3122 CHARLES THE BALD · anecdote of, vi 2553 CHARLES I (see also REVOLUTIONS, English): Carlyle on, vi 2835; delivered up by the Scotch, 1x 4292, Scotch, ix 4292.

CHARLES II (see also Pepys' Diary, vii 8224; Lvelyn's Diary, vii 8325, and "Penelope Goes to Conrt." d 4973) Exchequer of England closed by, vi 2918, a patron of athletics, xiii 6009 CHARLES V.: vi 2644, bis descent on Italy, Addington Symonds on, vi 2463; Byron on, x. 4729-80 (see elso General Index).
CHARON: see MYTHOLOGY.

CHARON: See MYTHOLOGY.

CHATEAUBRUN: Lessing on his "Philoctetes," ix 4172, 4178, 4174, 4177

CHATHAM: See PITT

CHEVISTRY (See also ALCHEMY and NATURAL PHILOSOPHY) of food, the, NATURAL PHILOSOPHY) of food, the, xviii 8490-2, the ancients ignorant of, x 4760; components of protoplasm, xviii 8490-5, of water, xviii 8493

CHICAGO. a greater contrast to Paris than New York, xvi 7690
CHILDHOOD (see also DOLLS AND TOYS, EDUCATION, PRECOCITY, and "Marjorie Fleming," xii 5463); Macaulay's, xvi 7467.5q; Walpole's memorcos of, x 893; and libraries, Holmes on, xiv. 6351; the duty of disciplining, see "Recollections of Massimo d'Aregilo," xx. 9506 so, 1ts delight in vistime, tiv 6460 xx. 9:06 sq , its delight in visiting, vir 6:50 sq , in street minsic, xviii 8828; its impressions of death, viv 6:65, xx 9722; irony of its questions, xvii 7806, Johnson on the rearing of children, ix. 4246-7, exposure of infants cancifored in Greece, i 426, xviii $470, in Rome, x 4779; Mme d'Arblay's little boy at cont. x 479; Mme d'Arbisy's little doy at court, x 4399 eq; Herbert Spencer on its natural immorality, xxi 7573, on its proper punish ment, xxi 7574-7, on training for self-govern ment, xxi 7575-80; chief canses of its suf-fering, xxii 7965, Coleridge on baby talk, xi. 2864

CHILTON, MARY: of the Plymouth Colony, xx 4569

CHINA AND THE CHINESE: self satisfaction of, vin. 3793-9, poems of, i. 64, xi 5261-2; impation of their gardens, xvi. 7837; as a warning example to Europe, xvi. 782-4

CHIRON: see MYTHOLOGY
CHIVALEY (*ee also CRI SADES, FEUDAL-ISY, HERALDEY, BATTLE OF AGIN-COURT, BATTLE OF OTTERBOURNE, COUPT. BATTLE OF OTTERBOURNE, "The White Company," it 1815 sq., Ballad of Chery Chace in 1755 sq., "Richard and Saladin," it 18-2. The Tournament," it, 1518): in 1467 1549 1555 sq., 1805, iin 1019, 1022; catife on see "Don Quirote and Sancho," to 2253 "The Monks and the Giants," if 163, Mooneh Spain, a school of, in 1229, eccentre manifestation of, to 2229; the passing of, it 1622-3, to 2245; Charles V. Incking it the spirit of, to 1679, a typical Emplity Source and groom (Charlest), it, 1765 sq. respect paid to the horse, v 18si, 2233-9; one condition of knightfood, in Spain, viii.

CHOATE, BUFUS: impressive precence of, zix. 895

CHOISEUL, DUC DE: fore 12ht of xv. 6235-6 CHOPIN, FEEDLEIC FRANÇOIS: Polsh

CHOPIN, FREDERIC FRANÇOIS: FOLSH musle reprodeed by, xviii. 1211
CHRIEMHILD: tee KRIEMHILD.
CHEISTIANITY (see also BIBLE, CHURCH, CEUEADES, GOD, REFORMATION, RELIGIOUS PERSECUTIONS, "Institute," v 2163, Calvin's "Institute," v 2163; Penan's "Last Journey to Jerusalem," xvii. 5472, and "The O.htr Wi e Man," xx 25312 expected of human nature sudduel he supported of human nature sudduel he supported of human nature sudduel he This. Said. Said "The Unit? Wile Man," XI. 25-11: assurery of human nature subdued by, iii. 1112; Gibbon on his History's treatment of, X. 45-7-1; prociaimed in Greenland by Left Encason, X. 4503, 4-04, 4504, 4504, 4510-11, in the New World by the Spanish, v. 255-6; Goethe on, xiii. X. 32-1; improfectors of our modern, y. 2511 distractors of lease of 1501 acx, 951; divine character of Jesus, xi. 251; q; the Chri. han, his difference from the moralist, xm. 5-1; dr. Drummond on his personal vork, xm. 5-25-6 the Christian, his difference from the moralist, rm. 5-6-5. Brummond on his personal work, rit 5-65-6.

CHUECH OF ENGLAND, THE (wo die PROTESTANTISM and REFORMATION) impersonared as Joan Bull's morber, vir 200, set; proposed re'rm in, vi. 2002-7. Paritian ism within, rit 4964-5; in colonial America, rit 404-10; Burke on, ra. 602; portion of its deepy in 16th century, ri. 402, see also "Genial Joacs of the Finteenth Century," in 201, "The View of Washield," if 4124; proceedings of Noiconfurmits, vi. 2013, ri. 5024, ri. 402, rr 600, promoters of the Tracture Movement, ri. 5134 sq. De Quincey on the pride of bishops, riv. 672-4.

CHURCH, THE GREEK: importance restored to Greece by, ri. 507, its subjection to Rome Fromised by Alemas, iv. 102, 195.

CHURCH, MEDIEVAL (we cl.o. CHRISTIANITA, HOLY ROMAN EMPIRE, MISSIONS, POPES, RELIGIOUS ORDERS, and EFLIGIOUS PERSICUTIONS, 15m devel by sovereign, fr. 1602, vi. 2014, vi. 202, provinges of churchmen, iv. 1603, fr. 1614, of 17, vi. 202, its release in 10th century, iv. 1111, 1126, 1226; the forestanty, iv. 1114, vi. 1266, related in 17, vi. 1115, related in 1804, riv. 1805, of Queen Flimbth, ri. 1716; deadless in 19th century, iv. 1111 sq. vi. 123, related in 1804, riv. 1805, vi. 2023, riv. 1807, vi. 1807, traries," iv. 1711 sq., celibacy of, its evil results, xviii 85/3-4; pover and wealth in Spain, viii. 27:84-5, 27:6, 27:27 CHURCH, THE ROMAN CATHOLIC (see also RELIGIOUS PERSECUTIONS and TRACTARIAN MOVEMENT): a beneficent influence in colonial Canada, xviu 85:2; maxims of, xix. 8235; movements in Switzer-land, xix. 8235; political interests in Hondura, xiv. 7036-6; degentacy in Italy, xi. 5157; Protestants muchol to comprehend its standpoints, xiii, 6115 CIBBER, COLLEY (*ee also "Peg Woffington," xii 2612): Walpo's on his writings, ix. 3203;

Dr. Johnson on. xx 4242

CICERO: on Socrates' diction, il. 657; de-INCERO: on Socrates' diction, in. 667; dechared consul, if S14; conspired against, it S15; grounds of Antony's dillke for, ii. 89; as a humorous speaker, ii. 915 sq; on the retreat of Fabricus, ii. 292; his end, ii. 1110; Juvenal on, iii. 1124; on Roman piety, vi. 2624-5; on britery, vi. 2645; immorbity of his fame, vii. 260; his con obtain for deriness, vii. 279; Leying on his Sto c philosophy, ix. 4175 (see also General Index). also General Index)

CIRCE: see MYTHOLOGY.
CIVILIZATION (see also ARTS AND SCIENCES, CULTURE, GOVERNMENT):
character of the ancient xi 47:0, xiz 617-50, carreter of the ancest, x, 4:50, xi, 6:13-50, of the European, xi, 6:17-50, of the Chinece, 7:63-4; inquiry into the lairs of, xi, 4:-0; Guizot on, xxi, 7:26 sq; Gellon on the lied, xxu, 6:20; not promoted by universal suffice, xix, 6:505; imperfection of our modern,

CLASES: "se DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENT.

CLEARCHUS: anecdote of, vi 2500 CLEMENS, S L.: 250 TWAIN, MARK. CLEOMBROTUS: see LEUCTRA, BATTLE

CLEOPATRA: and Antony, if $79 sq (see also General Index)

General Index)
CLIFFOED, PEOF. W. E: 11712-ronation of,
200 note, xvl. 7544
CLODIUS: vl. 2545
CLUES AND SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS
(cee also CHARITIES and GUILDS); for bell ringing, xvl. 7365; the Good Humored
Cub, vil. 2562 sq.; Mark Antony's Inlimitable
Livers, il 853, the Royal Sport Nautique, xiii 6166-1

COCK LANE GHOST, the: ix 4.22 COLERIDGE, SAMUEL TAYLOR and Horre Touce, xi Soil; a needolp of, xi. doil; conversation of, xi. 55°2; B rell on, xii 55°5, on the instinct for expression, vi. 15°4 (see also ration of, in 597; B rell on, in 599, on the instinct for express on, in 594 (see allo General Ind a)

COLLINS, W. P., "negro" ministral: xviil 823-COLLINS, W. P., "negro" ministral: xviil 823-COLONIES AVD COLONIZATION (see also EMIGRATION): in the New World, of Spanisals, v 224, v 224, of other nation, vi. 2505. Araban, in Span, ill 1207; of Virginis belief, by the state of the America, of Britain by Rome, vi. 1233; of the America, of Britain by Rome, vi. 1233; of the America, of the White; vi. 4 455; national relief drawn off br, xviil 505; in till inmanapect of mericans, vi. xviil 505; in till inmanapect of mericans, vi. xviil 505; in till inmanapect of mericans of the Britain vi. xviil 800; of America, John Bright on, xx. 920-20; see also "Colonial America," xii 4 53, Macan late of the formish America in the Promonto Colony, see "Priedla" xx. 197, and "B tty AMerican de her Companion, vi. x 457, and "B tty AMerican de her Companion, vi. x 457, and "B tty AMerican de her Companion, vi. x 457, and "B tty AMerican de her Companion, vi. x 457, and "B tty AMerican de her Companion, vi. x 457, and "B tty AMerican de her Companion, vi. x 457, and "B tty AMerican de her Companion, vi. x 457, and which is the polytoward, x 6919 sq.; difficulty of governing from a dis-

ORUSADES, the: Hume on, iii 1425 sq.; DEBT (see also USUBY); of the Crusaders, iv. effects of, iv. 1451, 1518; the Fourth, iv. 1425 sq., x. 4768; Frederick II 's connection with, iv. 1655 sq.; Eastern takes brought into Europe through, xill, 5193, capture of Antioch and Jerusalem, iv. 1487 sq., of Constantinople, in 1556 sq. Crusaders, as a propalate them can be supported by the sq. of Constantinople, in 1556 sq. Crusaders as a propalate them can be supported by the sq. of the sq iv. 1005 sq: Cruraders, war ngainst them considered serilege, vi 2561, Latin empire of Romania founded by, v. 4763, the cause of Alexius ehemploued by, iv. 1601 sq., motives of, vi 1605-6; the Spanlard nlways a Crusader, of, vi 1655-6; the Spanlard nilways a Crasader, v. 2233.

CULTURE (see also ARTS AND SOIENGES, BOOKS, EDUCATION, UNIVERSITIES): a preservative against frivelity, xiv. 6777; needed by all classes, xi. 5273; liamerton on thoroughness of, xi. 6772-3, 6792; books a means of, xvi. 7733; Geethe's edvice to seekers of, xvi. 7693-1; New York's lack of, xvi. 7693-7; primitive German music disappearing before, xviii. 8321.

CHIRRAN. JOHN P.: conversation of, xi.

OURRAN, JOHN P.: conversation of, xL 5062.

5069.

OURRENOY (aco also ASSIGNATS): iron. of Sparta, i. 424; mediavni, iv. 1703, v. 2212; paper, worthless, of the French Revolution period, x. 4613, perpetual apperation as to, x. 4791, during and after Civil War, xix. 8836-7; coined by feudal barons, iii. 1497; scarcity in mediaval England, iv. 1641; invariable effect of change in, vill 3444; of 17th century supplied by Spain, vill. 3785; Adam Smith on the origin of, ix. 4350 sq.; withdrawn from circulation by the Eric Reliwny ring, xix. 8391; Cinghalese, xx. 9601; pryment of revenues in, introduced by Williem the Conqueror, ix. 4735; counterfeiting punished by death, iv. 1634, 1644;

counterfeiting punished by death, iv. 1634, 1644; early use of specie in Rome, v. 4774, gradual diminution in the amount of gold and sliver in circulation, x. 4777-5.
CUSTOMS: see TAXATION.
CUZCO: the metropolis of a great empire, v.

2249 sq.
OYCLOPS, tho: see MYTHOLOGY.
OYNICISM: see PHILOSOPHY.
CYRUS: i. 80, 406; ii. 528 sq; v. 2091 (see also General Index).

DAMOCLES: the sword of, i, 142-3.

DANDIE DINMONT: x. 4551 eq.

DANTE unque chracter of his "Inferno," i, 151; compared with Virgil and Honer, i, 151; compared with Milton, Homer, end Sinkespeare, xvi, 7505. Voltaire and Walpole on, ix. 2937; adaptability of his genus to the stage, xii, 5422 (see also General Index).

DARIUS: end Alexender, ii, 746 eq.; death of, ii, 757.

DARK AGES that their departies leasthand.

DARK AGES, the: their duration lengthened by celibate clergy, xviil, 8503.
DAVID, KING: i. 27-9; ili 1193.
DAVIDS, RHYS: on Buddhist doctrine of the soul, xi. 5268-9.
DAVY, SIR HUMPHRY: dendylsm of, xiv.

G356

DEATH (see also BURIAL CUSTOMS, CAPITAL PUNISHMENT, and IMMORTALITY): Cæsar's wish for a sudden, vl. 2557; a child's impressions of, vlv. 6465-6, xx 9722; the fear of, Johnson on, ix. 4242-3, 4259, wealth conductve to, xiv. 6759; the best blographies written after, xvll. 7806-7; Walt Whitmen on, xviii. 8392; Mnmo on, xt. 4293, Mohammed on, ili. 1230, 1239; Epletetus on, ii. 1816; Bacon on, vl. 2552; Stevenson on, xiii 6104; Sir Thomas Browne on, vl. 2583 sq; the Stoic view of, ili. 1800; the philosophy of, ii, 936-43, 946, iii. 1184; in folk-lore, see "Deeth and the Doctor," xviii. 7826 sq.; extinction of the universe, xvii. 7643-4; picture of a bereaved household, xvii. 8262-73.

DEBT (see also USURY); of the Cruxalers, lv. 1293; to Jour, linglish repudiation of, lv. 1617; national, the English, vi. 2919, a necessary vii, xi. 4914; instance of intuitence toward, ill 1156-8; slavery for, in early Rome, I. 157, 462, in Greece, il. 563; cancellation under Solonis laws, ii. 565; pleasantries on, vi. 2643, 2451, 2633; Johnson's forgetfulness of, ix. 4265; description of a lunted debtor, xiv. 6339, of a typical apongling-house, xiv. 6359, of a typical apongling-house, xiv. 6369, of Bunyan, xv. 6370 (see also General Inc. x)
DILANII, JOHN, of the London Times: Off-

xv. 6-70 (see also General Inc. v)
DILANI, JOHN, of the London Times: Ollphant on, xvl. 7/97-9
DILPHI, the oracle of: 1.448, ll. 528 sq., 538 sq., v. 616; defended by Solon, ll. 551; declares Socrates the wisest of men, il. 681; threatened by Brennus, il. 787-8.
DEMOCRACY (see also DEMOCRATIO MOVEMENT, REPUBLICS, and "Arrest of Progress by Democracy," xix. 5291; the Athenlan, xix. 5-97, 5-99; Switzerland's experiments in forms of, xix. 5-57; Grole's views of,
xix. 5-597; Maine on the future government xix. 8597; Maine on the future government

xix. 5597; Maine on the future government of, xix. 5-95; democratic opinion opposed to science, xix. 5-95-6; majority rule necessary to its stability, xix. 5579; practical infinds produced by, xv. 7271.

DEMOCITATIC MOVEMENT, the (see elso DOSTOVEVSRI, LIBERTY, REVOLUTIONS): in ancient Rome, 1, 457 sq.; in Fineland, against George III., xv. 6226-7; its effect on women, xv. 7242 sq., on public morals, xv. 7241-53; its effects in Europe and America compared, xv. 7513-7; see quality a result of xv. 1241-03; its effects in Europe and America compared, xv. 7551-3; sex equality a result of, xv. 7253; individualism lost in, xvi 7558-9, 7595; inseendency of the people in colonial Prema-sylvania, xvi. 4769; inb-cnce of clars feeling in America, xvi. 8581; the Church as champion of the people, vi. 2561 sq., xv. 4797-4500; sonso of responsibility among American employers, xvx. 5583; passing of villetinage in England, vi. 2410.

2410. DEMOCRATS: see POLITICAL PARTIES. DEMOCRITUS: iii 1121-3; on tranquility, iii. 1830; on truth, iii. 2621; philosophy of, vi.

2623.

DEMOSTHENTS: 1. 805; on Philip, ii. 785-9; on Alexander, ii. 734-9, 746, 759-76; as a humorous speaker, ii. 915; Juvenel en, ill. 1124-5; aneedote of, vi. 2649; Phoeton end, xiii. 5951.

DEROULEDE, PAUL: Slevenson on his war songs, xii. 6109.

DESMOULINS, CAMILLE: his remorsa over the Girondists' inte, x. 4651.

DE SOTO, HERNANDO: in Peru, v. 2242 aq.

DESPOTISM (ecc also TYRANTS): of the Julian end Flaylan emperors, i. 460; of Crom-

DESPOTISM (see also TYRANTS): of the Julian end Flavian emperors, i. 460; of Cromwell, Carlyle on, vi. 2873; of custom, J. 8. Mill on, xvi. 7581; the Lastern sociel system based on, xini. 6192; of George III, xv. 6926-40; party spirit a cause of, xv. 6925; the worst effects of, xvi. 7586; Milton on censorship of books, vii 8275 sq.

DEVIL, the (see also Milton's "Debate in Fandemonium," vii 3226); Luther on, v. 2319 sq.; Marjorie Fleming or, xii. 6471; Cromwell's visions of, vi 2838; in folk-lore, xvi. 7237; Jenyns' demonology ridiculed by Johnson, tx. 4263.

DE VOGUE, COMTE: on Russian Interature, Introduction to Vol. xix.

DICKEN's, CHARLES. high spirits of, xix. 8953; on Threkeray in death, xix. 8555 (see also General Index).

DIDO AND ENERAS: see MYTHOLOGY.

DINOCRATES. h. 778. DIOGENES needotes of, 1. 308, vi. 2649. Phocion and, xni, 5951.

DIONYSIUS, tyrant of Syracuse: anecdotes of, i. 142-S, 169, 425, vii. 8277; as a pedagogue in Corinth, x. 4731.

DREW, DANIEL: connection with the Eric Railway ring, xix. 8888-9.

DROYSEN: on Alexander, ii. 776.

DIPLOMACY: of a Persian scribe, xiii. 6205; of a tyrant's favorites, see "Quo Vadis," iii. of a tyrant's latorites, see "Quo yaus," in 1245; of Siephen in angling for the English crown, iil. 1433-1; of Solon, Il. 563 sq.; of Ulysses, I. 282-318; of Charles V., vi. 2667-8, 2660-1; Eastern fable the language of, xiii. 6192; Count Gondomar famed for, viii. 8441; Pepys on its indispensability at court, vii. 3336; a warning to diplomatists, xvi. 7805. ISCOVERIES: seo INVENTIONS

DISCOVERIES: VOYAGES.

DIVORCE: see MARRIAGE.

DOBBS, ARTHUR, royal governor of North Carolina: xi. 4905.

DODONA, the oracle of: i. 832 sq.

DOG, the: Dr. John Brown on, xiv. 6538 eq.; Scott nn, xiv. 6548; Bacon nn, xiv. 6553. DOLBY, Mmc. Sainton: her service to music, xviil. 8331.

DOLLS AND TOYS: in ancient India, 1.56; in early Rome, iii. 1809; the child Macaulay's indifference to, xrl. 7459.

DOMESTIC RELATIONS (see also MAR-RIAGE): Jean Paul on courtesy in, xvi. 7842; their sacredness in Greek mythology, xx. 9359-60, in America, De Tocqueville on, xv.

DOMESTIC SERVICE: 500 SERVICE, DO MESTIC.

DOMITIAN, the Emperor: iii. 1120-7; fly-caiching a pastime of. vil. 3577.
DOST MAHOMED: see "Tho Afghan War," xx. 9656.

DOSTOYEVSKI: social philosophy of, xviii.

DOUBT: see AGNOSTICISM, SKEPTICISM.
DOUBT: see AGNOSTICISM, SKEPTICISM.
DRACO: laws of, it. 567, 569, 573; unlimited authority of, xl. 4947.
DRAKE, SIR FRANCIS (see also THE IN-VINCIBLE ARMADA): 71. 2674 sq., 2715 sq.

(see also General Index).

DRAMA, the Modern Ameterinck on. Iniroduction to Vol. xvi. See ACTORS.

DREAMS: day-dreams, see IMAGINATION: warnings given in, iv. 1472, 1717; fullilinent of, v. 2230; Marcus Aurellus on, iii. 1136; Du Mantier on, xvi. 7555; of Decius and Manlius, if co: memory a factor in, x. 4547.

RESS: mediaval, iv. 1641, v. 2201, 2336, 2348, 2850, 2858, vil. 8229, 8300; of Cleopatra, il. 856, of Hercules, affected by Mark Antony, il. 852: of Nibelnaron heroes, iv. 1545 sa.: of the DRESS: 589: of Nibelangon heroes, iv. 1515 sq.; of the Scottish Archers, iv. 1573; of the ancient Per-sians, ii. 714; of Nelson at the battle of Trafalgar, Tartars, x. 4539; of the American Indians, x. 4542-4; of an anthor and wit, Hazilitton, xi. 6055; 4842-8; of an anthor and wit, Hazinton, XI. 0805; of a Persian dignitary, Ail. 621; of working people in Paris and New York, contrasted, XVI. 6691, 7692-8; of the Thruclans and Phrygians XVII. 8251; Japanese experiments in Western, XVIII. 8514 sq.; Don Quixote on the art of, X. 2804; Herrick on disorder in, VII. 8859; Chesterfield on the importance of, VIII. 8851; Entire on extravagance in, see "Nothing to Wear," on extravagance in, see "Nothing to Wear," xiv. 6:72; military, disiked by Napoleon and Tonessint, xx. 9:73; sumptuary laws, ii. 571, vi. 2442, viii. 8:765; Joan of Arc's masculine garb. vii. 3:69, 3:61, 3:64; fashlon, hum spread, xix. 8:001, France the leader in, vii. 8:299; 18th-century finery, x. 48:62; importance of fidelity in stage costume, xi. 5:612-3; Thackersy on liveries, xi. 6:656; crinolines worn by taxages, xir. 6:349; Holmes on dandylsm, xiv. 6:358-xir. 8:49; Holmes on dandylsm, xiv. 6:358-xir. 8:49; modern uniformity of, xvi. 7:593; headgear rarely worn by Indians, v. 2250.

on Alexander, ii. 776. DRYDEN, JOHN: Johnson on, ix. 4240 (see also General Index).

DUCKING-STOOL, the: xix. S342.
DU DEFFAND, MME.: Walpole on, ix. 3301-2,

8906, 8907.
DUELLING (see also Sheridan's "Rivals," ix. DUELLING (see also Sheridan's "Rivais," ix. 4316); iii, 1031 sq., v. 2139; in disfavor among Spaniards, vili. 3766; Macsulay's upportunities for, xvi. 7496; duel between Soulé and the Duke of Alva. xvi. 7601.

DU GUESCLIN, BERTRAND: see "The White Company," iv. 1814.

DUKE OF SAXE-WEIMAR-EISENACH:

submits to Napoleon, xl. 5023, UMOURIEZ, CHARLES FRANÇOIS: in DUMOURIEZ, CHARLE exile, x. 4659. DUTIES: see TAXATION.

"EARTHLY PARADISE," Morris' (see General Index)

EAST, the: see ORIENT, EAST INDIA COMPANY, the: viil 8439; resigration of Lord Pigot, ix. 8914. CHOES: formation of x. 4541; terrors of ECHOES: formation of, restoration of Lord Physic, IX, 5214.

ECHOES: formation of x. 4541; terrors of battle increased by x. 4765.

EDDAS, tho: see EPICS.

EDICT OF NANTES: see REFORMATION.

EDINBURGH REVIEW: Jeffrey succeeded as editor by Napier, xxi. 7495.

EDUCATION (see also CHILDHOOD, CULTURE, JESUITS, UNIVERSITIES, and Herbort Spencer's "Moral Education," xxi. 7573): in Sparta, i. 425 sq.; in Persia, ii. 724, v. 2231, xiii. 6192-5; in Rome, v. 2231; in colontal America, xi. 4906, xv. 6965; legal, xv. 6292; in England in the early 19th century, see "Gopperield at School," xvii. 7997; satires on, see "Dotheboys Hall," xxii. 5991; in Japan, millitary character of, xviii. 8516; in the Russlan army, xviii. 8333; of Moses in Egypt, i. 82; of children, entrasted to all classes, xi. 5276-7; Alexander, il. 769; of Demosthenes, il. 781; of children, entrusted to all classes, xl. 5276-7; of Franklin by himself, xr. 6855; of American girls, De Tocquevillo on, xv. 7242-5, of French, av. 7248-4; of the child Macaulay, xvi. 7490-1; of Mrs. Carlyle, xvi. 7509; of awriter, Schopenhauer on, xvi. 7535-0; limitations of Washington's, xv. on, xt. 103-0; innitations of washington's, xx. 803-5; Scientes on, it. 634 og.; Riger Ascham on, xt. 2759-72; Locke on, xii. 8380 og.; Carlyle on, xiii. 5346 og.; the Chinese gentas for, xxt. 7524; by shop windows, xxt. 7630; Goothe's scheme of a slient, xiii. 5652-4; the part played by libraries in, xxt. 6351, xxt. 7451-2; individuality destroyed by universal, xxt. 7595, xxx. 8396; bad effects of teachers knowing less than their strike for the control of the contro pad enects of teachers knowing less than ther pupils, xiv. 6725-9; a necessary basis of free government, xv. 6957; the village school-master (Goldsmith), ix. 4213; Johnson on child-rearing, ix. 4246-7; excellence of schools in colonial New England, xi. 4918; teaching geography by disjointed mary, xi. 670; Latin the indispensable vehicle of all learn-inc. v. 2374.

EDWARD II.: his proclamation forbidding football, xill. 6200-1.

EDWARD III.: his objections to football, xill.

6001. EDWAED IV.: see BABNET, BATTLE OF, and "Warwick the Kingmaker," v. 1945. EGYPT (see also CLEOPATRA, EGYPTIAN LITERATURE, PTOLEMIES, RAMESES, and "The Mirage in Expt." I. 621: life and manners in, i. 65, 67; caste in, i. 65 sq., xul. 6180; Persun allunce with, ii. 523; re-6180; Persian alliance with, it. 553; re-licion of, viil. 3502; theocratic government of, xiii. 6179; stagnation of its civilization, war with America discussed in, x. 4605-6, her friends in, xi. 4990, see hiso "The Independence of America," xv 6926; supremacy over Insh Parhament renounced by, xv. 6940; Laurence Oliphant on, xvi. 7001-5, 7667; results unrelations of district values. 7607; popular impatience of debates in, xix. 8893.

ENAIUS: 1 330. EPAMINONDAS (see also LEUCTRA, BAT-TLE OF) 11 774.

EPICS (see also DANTE, HOMER, SAGAS, VIRGIL, and "The Kalevala," vil 3051) character of, 1, 310 sq.: the inguage of character of, 1. 310 sq.; the language of Apollonius Rhodius, 1. 350; Nibeluni, called, 1. 146-7, Max Muller on, 11, 1451 (see also General Index); song of Roland, 1. 310, 11 1410, sung at Eattle of Histings, 111 1453; Eddas, tragic spirit of, 111 1452; Findar's poetry lends new vitality to the Epic traduttor. 156 dition 1 168.

EPICTETUS. philosophy of, vi. 2649; on Hercules, in. 1319-20 (see also General Index)

EPICUREANISM (see also Po ms of Béranger, x. 4739): 11. 2623; cf Li cretins, ii 932-43; of Horace, ii 956-8, 966; of Waipele, ix 3932-3; its theory of the destruction of the world, in. 1072, the disciple of (Chaucer); it. 1794.

EPIGRAMS see SATIRES. EPISTOLARY WRITING: Birrell on, 12. 4267; of Mme. de Sevigné, Walpolo on, 1%. 3000

ERCILLA, ALONZO DE: soldiership of, viii.

$442 (see also General Index) ERICSSON, LEIF: discovery of America by,

ERICSSON, LLLI. MANAGEMENT AND SECTION OF SEMOND, BEATRIX (see also "Esmond's Friends and Foes," vin 3444): as Baroness de Bernstein, xr. 6295 sq ETHICS: see MORAL QUALITIES. ETHNOLOGY (see also CIVILIZATION, SOOIETY): Macaniay on, xr. 7505; primitive Tautons. vi 2545 sq; stock of the early SOCIETY): Macanisy on, xvi. 7505; primitive Teutons, vi. 2545 sq; stock of the early Romans, x. 2710-1; comparison of Teutomo and Celido traits, xviii 8520, of Teutomo cod English, xvi. 7575; hamility a Slavio trait, xvi 8580; Turgenicil's "Rudin" not a typical Russian, xvi. 8531.
EUPHRATES, THE RIVER: canals of, 1 407; innadation, 1 408
EUROPE (see also HOLT ROMAN EMPIRE): political parties in, xix. 8578; civilization of, Guizot on, xiii. 6179 sq., its diversity, xiii. 6161 sq., danger of its stagnation, xvi. 7593-5; Washington on America's attitude toward, xv. 6555-

sq, danger of its stagnation, xvi. 7593-5; Washington on America's attitude toward, xv. 658-62; womon's position in, xv. 7248-4, 7258, 7255, 7256; geographical and political conditions in 15th century, iv. 1806-71; its literature richer than that of antiquity, dii 6182; its possible combinations against America, xi 4933; impovershment of its stock by medieval celibacy, xviii 8503-4, by persecutions, xviii. 8504-5; armed neutrality in, xx. 9511. EURYDICE: see MYTHOLOGY. EVOLUTION, doctrine of: see Darwin's "Descent of Man," xiii, 5931. EXILE (see also EVIGRATION): Elberian, vii. 8206, xviii 8526-9, 8530; of the Jews from Epain, vii. 8443, from England, iv. 1641; of Lemmiokaloeo (the Kalevala), vii. 8052 sq.; of Monsignore Querro for conniving at the Cenci murder, vi. 2469; voluntary, of Solon, ii 621, of

Monsignore Querro for conniving at the Cenci munder, 1, 2469; voluntary, of Solon, if SZI, of Lycurgus, xi. 4947; of American logalists, xi 40-2; of magicians and astrologers from Rome, iii. 1114-5; Epictetus on, ii 1817-8; Flotarch on, viii 38-50; Domonries in, x. 4539; Lord Shaftesbury's death in, vii. 8376; San Domingo planters recalled by Toussaint, xx. 9575-6

Pilpay's, ir. 1765 sq., La Fontaine's, vii 310a sq., Gny's, viii. 3482, 3483, 3487, "The Way of the World," xvi 7329 sq., see also "Uncle Remns," xviii. S765, popularity in the East, xm. 6192.

FABRICIÚS: Cictro on the Retreat of, ii.

FAIRIES, the (see also FAIRY TALES and MYTHOLOGY): vi. 2577; vii. 34-12. FAIRY TALES (see also HANS ANDERSEN and MYTHOLOGY Norse, xvi. 7321 sq.; FAIRY

Norse, xvi. 7821 sq.;

"Frigolette," xiz 9093 sq. ;
"Frigolette," xiz 9093 sq. ;
FAITH: see RELIGION.
FAUE: immitations of the Roman, ii. 1338;
Rousseau on the drawbacks of, xvi 7677-8;
vanity of hoping for, iii 1338-9, xvii. 7803;
immortality of Cicero's, xiii 3802

FAMINE (see also "The Bread Riot," xvi 7735). among Crusaders, iv. 1460 sq ; during stege of Leyden, vi 2560; in France in 18th cectury, x 4795 sq; Cornwallis driven to surrender by, xv. 6939; pestilences produced by, vi 2660

FARGUES: vii. 3130 sq.

FATALISM: m. 1130, iv. 1590, xvi. 7639-40: New-England Calvinism free from, 4014-5.

PATES, the: see MYTHOLOGY.

FAVORITES: government under influence of,

Lx. 42S1. FERDINAND AND ISABELLA (see also SPAIN): viii 8763 FERSEN, COUNT: assists Louis XVI. and PERSEN, COUNT: assists Louis XVI. and his family to escape, x 4072 sq. FUDALISM (see also CHIVALRY and HERALDRY); iv. 1815; in Arthur's time, iii. 1163, in William the Conqueror's, it. 1418; in 16th-century England, vi 2438 sq.; Jossopp on, iv. 1625 sq.; forest rights under, xviii. 5603; conflict between sovereign and varsal, iii. 1437, iv. 1869, v. 1948-50, 2126, vi. 2557 sq.; its traditions violated by imprisonment of a surcerainer. 1851; oath of fealty, vi. 2449-1; passing of villeinage in England, vi. 2440; Lord Baltimore's rights in Maryland as princo palatine, vi. 4903; the steward (Chancer) iv. 1801; marriage of villeins controlled by their lord, iv. 1627. 1627.

1021.
PICTION (see also FAIRY TALES, IMAGI-NATION): the East the birthplace of, viii. 9192 sq.; denounced by Mohanmed, viii 6194; James on the fature of the navel, introduction to Vol. xx.; Beaut on novels that have made history, Introduction to Vol. xx.; Zola on Frene insturalism, letroduction to Vol. xxi EVELD DAYID DUDLEY; as legal adviser of EVELD. DAYID DUDLEY; as legal adviser of

FIELD, DAVID DUDLEY; as legal adviser of FIELD, DAVID DUDLEY: as legal adviser of the Eric Railway ring, xix, 8-02.

FIELDING, HENRY: Johnson's dislite of, ix 5916, 4223, Boswell's defense of, ix, 4228-0 (see also General Index)
FINANCE (see also BANKS, CREDIT, CUR-RENCY, PRICES, REVENUES, TRUSTS, WEALTH, and "The Lric Railway Scandal," xix 8866): little understood by the Romans, 43-0: troubled state to England to Penys' xix $560; into understood by Ind Romans, v. 4750; troubled state to England to Pepys time, vii $325, in 17th century spain, viii $441; history of the Back of England, vi. 2918 sq ; speculation coodemoed in medieval England, vi. 2418-0, 2451; 2450, 2451; Mississippi Butble, vi. 2430-0, vi. impressionability of the state in present the state in the state in the state in the state of the state in the state i

x. 4700 sq; impressionability of the stock market, xix. 8905 FINGAL: see "A Poem of Ossino," ix 4162 sq. FISK. JAMES: and the Eric Railway, xix.

FLODDEN, BATTLE OF: xiv. 6516 sq FLOOD, HENRY: repeal of Poyning's Act de-manded by, xv. 6939.

LOODS AND INUNDATIONS (see also IRRIGATION and "High Tide on the Coast IRRIGATION and "High Jide on the Coast of Lineoinshire," xvi 8003) in Norfolk, iv 1646 sq; geological changes wrongbt by, xi. 5167-9; the Oise in flood, xiii 6102 sq; the Ther prone to overflow x 4772

FLORENCE (see also BENVENUTO CELLINI, "Eavonaroia," v 2010, "Romola," v. 2021)

Meghiaralli, n. the graphic of the scale x

Machiavelli on the ernelty of its people, v 2023, Machiavelli on the ernelty of its people, v 2033, political parties in, Piagnoni, v. 2202, Arrabbati, v 2014 sq, Compagnacci, v. 2012 sq, Guelphs and Götheilines, v. 2039
FLOWERS: see BOTANY and HORTICUL—

OLK-LORE: see FAIRY TALES and MYTHOLOGY. FOLK-LORE:

MYTHOLOGY.

FOLKMOOT, the: see GOVERNING BODIES FOOD (see also BANQUETS, FAMINE, will lat-Savarin's "Physiology of Taste," xix, 9260, and Owen Meredith on "Dinners," xvi 7765): of the poor in medieval England, iv. 1639 sq., in 16th century France, x 4796, 4797, 4502, 501 the Turks and Tartars, x 4838-9; chemistry of, xviii 6490-1; Sancho Panza on the importance of, v 2283; Stevenson on, xiii 6112; prices of, in 16th-century England, vi. 2445-6; origin of saying grace before, xvi. 7318; modern English cook ery, xiv. 6512-5; the plum pudding, xiv. 6510-1; table manners in the Middle Ages, iv. 1759, v. 2207, 2354, in the 17th century, v. 4863-5, v. 2207, 2354, in the 17th century, v. 4863-5, v. 2207, 2354, in the 17th century, v. 4863-5. ery, xiv. 6512-5; the plum pudding, xiv. 6510-1; table manners in the Middle Ages, iv. 1729, v. 2207, 2254, in the 17th century, v. 4862-5, v. 2207, 2254, in the 17th century, v. 4862-5, 4868, of the Italians, v. 2243, of the Quakers, xiv. 7217; medizaval disintes, iv. 1796, 1816, v. 2255, Eastern, iv. 1500, Northern, vii. 3057, 3061; public tables in Sparta, i. 425 sq, sumptuary laws regulating, vi. 2441-2; glui tony in England, vii 3299, 3226, ix. 3922, of Charles V, vi 2671-2; indifference to food no virtue, xv. 7317; Lamb on his own appreciation of, xv. 7317, on reast pig, xii. 5200-3, on pine-raple, xii. 5291; the dysters of Ceylon, xx 9600; value of fresh fish to the ancients, vi 2203; tea, Persian metbod of serving, xiii. 6213, Wesley on the injurionsness of, ix. 4071 sq; Greeze the home of the currant, xiv. 6510; Sir William Temple on fruit, viii 2426-7
FOOLS, PROFESSIONAL: v. 2237, 2353, vi. 2573, 2644, 2650; Wamha, iv. 1623
FOOTE, SAMUEL: Johnson on his wit, ix. 4242, 4245 (see also General Index)
FOELSTRY (see also "Woodcutting," xviii 6553): game laws in France, xviii 6553 sq, in England, x 4325-7; the forest of Wolmer, x 4324 See

In England, x 4535-7; the forest of womer, x 453 so;
FRANCE (see also ACADEMY OF FRANCE, BOURBONS, ENCYCLOPÆDISTS, FRANCIS, I, HUGUENOTS, LOUIS XI, LOUIS XIV., NAPOLEON BONAPARTE, NORMANS, THE PRINOE IMPERIAL, "Adventures of Count Grammont," vii 3187; Letters of Montesquien, vii. 3197, of Mme de Stvigné, vii 3107; Morrors of St. Simon, vii 3120; "Toe Missisppi Bubble," x 4700; "Ton-saint L'Onverture," xx 9373; "New York after Pans," xvi 7638; MOLIÈRE'S plays, and DUMAS' novels):
Life and manners in during Middle Ages, v 2353 sq; education of women, xv 7244, their

Life and manners in during Middle Ages, v 2533 sq; education of women, xv 7244, their participation in commerce, ix 4221; Mime de btacl on Freoch narrowness, xii, 5414-5, on Freach literature, xii 5415; the 15th-century stage of, xii 5415; patriotic songs of, xiii 6103-9, xviii 6319; Goldemith on, xiii 6174-5; its hospitality compared with England's, xiv 5115; the Englishman an opicine in, xiv. 6512; Tetit Nocl, xiv. 6505; the French language, understood by most foreigners, xii 5415, English words horrowed by xiv. 6517; French impressions of England, xiv. 650 sq; comparison of pawnbrokera in France and England,

xiv. 6505, of parks and gardons in, xiv. 6501; French view of Sbakespeare, xil 5415, 5421; De Toequeville on moral conditions in, xv. 7251-3, on lack of individuality in, xvi. 7594; national music of, xviii 8319-21; hagpipes an institution of, xvui 8320; reliquary worn hy kings of, xviii. 8391; emigration from, xviii. 8505; French racial traits, xviii. 8520; woodentting and forest laws in, xvii 8659; universal suffrago in, xix. 8595, 8898 History of . conflict with John of Eagland,

vi. 2558 sq; capture of Charleroy, vii 2122; treaty of 1763 with England, ix. 4257, conspiracy with Ireland against, x. 4401; loss of spiracy with Ireland against, x. 4401; loss of Alsace-Lorration a severe blow to, xii 6103; allianee with America, xv 6935 sq., joined by Spain, xv. 6987; offended by English favors to the Princo Imperial, xviii 8385; colonial Canada under, xviii 8516-9, 8521, 8522; Bonapartes unpopular after 1870, xix. 8593; the Revolution (see also DESMOULINS, GI-RONDISTS, "Episodes of the French Revolution," x. 4671, and "A Tale of Two Cines," x 4659), Burke's pamphist against, x. 4642 sq. Walpole on, ix. 3917, effect of the Revolution on Walpole, ix 3921, 3931-2; creation of assignats, x. 4793-4; Revolution of 1848, xix 8898
FRANCIS I - v. 2129; Calvin's Institutes dedicated to, v. 2383; ancedoto of, vi. 2644
FRANKLIN, BEN IA VIIN (see also Tbuckeray's "Wasbington," xv 6877): the soul of the Pennsylvania Legislature, xi. 4099; promotion of Aretic expeditions, xi. 4910; American measures prepared by Pritt and, xv. 6032, on libellous jonnaism, referred to in "Mortin Chinzlewit," xv. 7198-9 (see also General Index) Alence-Lorraine a severe blow to, xill 6103;

General Index)

FREDERICK BARBAROSSA. drowning of

FREDERICK BARBAROSSA drowing of, in. 1448, the type of his age, iv 1657; support of the Holy Roman Empire, iv. 1660
FREDERICK THE GREAT. imprisonment when Crown Prince, x. 4405 sq; distrast of England, xv 6936 (see also General Index).
FREE TRADE (see also COMMERCE and TAXATION) in Europe and in San Domings. Xv. 8576

mingo, XX 9576
PRENCH LITERATURE, Leon Valice, Introanction to Vol 111

FRENCH REVOLUTION, the: see FRANCE FRIENDSHIP (see also DOMESTIC RELATIONS and HOSPITALITY); definition of, xvii. 7501; of Goethe and Betting, see GOETHE; of Marcas Aprelias and Fronto, ill. GOETHE; of Marchs Anrelins and Fronto, ill. 1300 sq; of Damon and Pytbins, i. 141 sq; of Finke Greville for Sir Philip Sidney, xix. 6341; 64 Augustine on, iii. 1152; Bacon on, i. 116; Ben Jonson on, vi. 2786; La Rochefoucauld on, vil. 2218, 2214; La Bruytre on, vil. 2221 sq; Emerson on, xvi. 7575 sq; Walpole on the fatuity of, ix. 2902-s; Machavelli on the weakness of, v. 2054; the preservation of, iv. 1559; advantages of, iv. 1766 sq. 1781-2, ix. 4172; poverty the test of, iv. 1778-84; the criticism of, Boilesn on, vil. 3149; unreason able demands in, xvi. 7521 sq. xvii. 7501; for giveness of wrongs in, xvii. 7504; conversion of emitty into, xv. 7117; making confidences, iv. 1556; rarity among Asiatics, vil. 3199; Horace on ridicine of friends, ix. 4238-9

FROUDE, Miss impersonation of, see note, XV1 7544

FROUDE, RICHARD HURRELL. Newman on, xi 5155-7, 5159 FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW, see SLAVERY.

GAGE, GENERAL THOMAS: on the num-ber of lawyers in Boston, xv. 6924; appointed governor of Massachusetts, xv. 6931.

GALBA, THE EMPEROL: v1. 2645.
GAMBETTA: attempt to restore the plebiscite, xix. 8898.

AM. 8898. GAMBLING (see also GAMES AND SPORTS, and "Gambler's Luck," xvi. 7867): In ancient India, i. 83 sq ; in the Middle Ages, v. 2294-5, prevalence in 17th-century Spain, viii. 3786; ancedote of Baron Newman, ix 4225; Cromwell's rejection of the gains of, vi 2854; spec ulation, see FINANCE.

GAMES AND SPORTS (see also GAMBLING, GLADIATORIAL SHOWS, OLYMPIC GAMES, PUGILISM, "The Charlot Race at Autoch," xx 9365, and "History of Football in England," xin 5995): Swedenborg on the in England," Min 5993; Swedenborg on the predictableness of in 4008, of rural England, in 4201, "India on the Olympic gimes, 1 153 sq. Puritan aversion to, vil 6005, Frightsh, Strutt the great historian of, vin 6010; becting, Stevenson on, xin 6100-1, an Oxford race, xr. 7204 sq.; beckgammon, in 1160; chess, iii 979, 1019-20, ir 1543; atthetics, Charles II a patron of, vil. 6009, Macaulay Indifferent to, vi. 7493; Italian game of "mora," xiv. 6346, wrestling, iv. 1575; archery, iv 1584; cards, v. 214, 2253; singlestick and quarterstaff, v. 1671; ball, iv. 1896, 1850, development of, xin. 5999, popularity in Greece and Rome, vii 1611; 0311, IV. 1830, 1830, development on and 5999, popularity in Greece and Rome, vii 5999; iootball prohibited in mediæval England and Scotland, vii 6001-2; morris-dancing, vii 8338, huntung, Louis XI 'slove of, iv. 1923-4, attitude of the Obesterfieldlan set toward, is. 3924, and the obesterfieldlan set toward, in 3924. 8383, huntung. Louis XI 'slove of, it. 1923-4, at titude of the Chesterfieldian set toward, it. 3924, duce, iv. 1591; billiards, vi. 3180; anging, Walton on the delights of, vi. 2930 sq., Leigh Hunt on the cruelty of, vi. 2930 sq., Leigh Hunt on the cruelty of, vi. 2930 sq., Leigh Hunt on the cruelty of, vi. 2930 sq., Leigh Hunt on the cruelty of, vi. 2930 sq., Leigh Hunt on the cruelty of, vi. 2930 sq., Leigh Hunt on the cruelty of, vi. 2930 sq., Leigh Hunt on the cruelty of, vi. 2930 sq., Leigh Hunt on the cruelty of, vi. 3630 sq.; salmon fishing, v. 4535-q; crue'ret, seo "Tom Brown's School Days," xii 5939; pedestrian games thought vulgur in medieval England, xii 6038, cock. and dog fighting forbidden in modern. xiv. 6506; John Bull a born sportsaman, xiv. 6508-9.

GARCILASO DE VEGA: death of, vii 8442.
GARRICK, DAVID: Walpole on, ix. 2908; parsimony of, ix. 4226; and Johnson, ix. 4238, 4239, 4249; his admiration for Shakespeare, ix. 3903, 4240-1; Reynolds' portrait of, xvi 7499.
GATES, GENERAL HORATIO: in Revolutionary War, vv. 6935
GAULS, tho (see also "Tho Defect of the Gastians," ii 779): invasion of Bome, ii 1850; ulliance with Sammite, il. 642-3 GENIUS (see also AUTHORS, IMAGINATION, MIND, PRECOCITY, "A Home for Genuses," xiv 6374, and "Cheeks to the Increase of Genius," xvii 553-9; Holmes on physical characteristics of, xiv 6310-1; tho world's neglect of, xvi 7523, 7527-8, 7513; freedom necessary to development of, vvi 7557-9; imittary and political, of Tonssaint L'Onverture, xv 9574-7, of Crom well, xv 9574, of Charles V. vv. 2668-9; of of Tonssaint L'Onverture, xx 9574-7, of Crom well, xx 9574, of Charles V. vi 2668-9; of Lucullus, viii 8796-7; dramatic, of the Spanish, xil 5423; the price of the gift, iv. 1762-8, xv. 7103

GEOLOGY:

EOLOGY: the soil of Schorne, x. 4533; Buffon on alluvial strata, xi 5185 sq EOMETRY (see also MATHEMATICS): GEOMETRY (see also MATHEMATICS): Archimedes on. in 666, his absorption in, vil

7570; Roger Aschau on, vi. 2762 GFORGE II (seo also HANOVER, HOUSE OF) funeral of, ix 8529

OF) Inneral of, ix 8-19 MANOVER, HOUSE GEORGE III. (see also HANOVER, HOUSE OF). Waipole on, ix 38-9, 30-23; letter of Junius to, ix. 42-4 sq; Paine on, it 40-23, despotic poher of, vx. 62-251, 69-10; Jefferson on his oppression of America, xx. 6945-7.

GEORGE IV. (see also HANOVER, HOUSE OF): incident of his Edinburgh visit, xii. 5172

GEORGIA: failure of its original political basis. xi. 4904

St. 4908
GERMANY (see also FREDERICK BARBAROSSA, GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS,
"Diary of Wilhelmine of Bayreuth," x 4405;
"Frederick the Great and his Gount," ix.
4099; and "Frederick II." iv. 1650): alliance with England against the Bourbons, xy, 6336;
Schengelagurge the philosophy of xy, 7511-9; with Engistal against the Bourboins, xy, 6366; Schopenhauer on the philosophy of, xu 7541-2; national music of, xym. 8319, 8320, 8321; uni-versal suffrage in, xix 8895; Bismarck on political relations with Austria, xix 9180-4; life and manners in medieval, v 2386 sq; impor-tance of tradesmen's guilds in, yi 1652, royal power shattered by the Great Interregnum, iv. 1638; Frederick II not a true German, iv. 1639; independence of medioval eutes in iv. 1839; and promised to John of England, vi. 1839; and vi. 1839; 1839; and promised to solute of Laginato, 2559; primitive Tentons, vi 2545 q, Helne on the German learneter of the Brocken, under the Signaphy of the Brocken, under the Signaphy of the Brocken, under the Signaphy of the Si 6784; submissiveness of the German nature, GERMAN LITERATURE; Brindl Intro Vol 1v. GHIBELLINES: 500 PARTIES, POLITICAL.

GIBBON, EDWARD corpulency of, xvl. 756 corpulency of, xvi. 7561 (see also General Index)

GHERALTAR: siege of, vv 6937, 6941.

GHPSIES: see GYPSIES

GHONDISTS, tho Carlyle on, v 4631 sq (see also General Index)

GLADIATORIAL SHOWS: iii 1048, 1257-73,

Byron on, iii 1375-6; character of the Roman drama injured by, ix. 4176
GLADSTONE, WILLIAM EWART: his influence on public thought, xix 8902 (see also General Index)

GLASS: medieval nso of, iv. 1638, v. 2338, 2340,

2351, 2353, 2355, vi. 8310-1 GLUCK, CHRISTOPHER W: his conception of operatic masse, vvi. 8357. GOD (see also RELIGION, THEOGRACY): GOD (see also RELIGION, belief in, Dorwin on its influence on man's actions, xill. 5937, on its supposed universality, xii 5938; Mareus Aurelius on the power of, ill 1187; Epictetius on onceres with, ill 1314, 1315, 1316, 1319, 1320; sovereignty of, see CALVINISM and "The Government of God in the World," vill 3831; the Christian idea of, vi 526t, see also CHRESTIANITY.

GODFREY OF BOUILLON: iv 1458 sq (see also General Index).

also General Index).
GODWIN, WILLIAM: conversation of, xl ronz

GOETHE, JOHANN WOLFGANG. Betting andoration of him, xi 5027 eq., I er letter to Goethe, xi 50.2; De Musect the antiti esis of. xi. 5217-5; versatill'y of, xiv. 6783, advice to culture seekers, xvi 7.13-4 (see also General

Index)
GOGOL, NIKOLAI V. on Bussia, xviii, 8335
(see also General Index)

GOLDONI, CARLO: Mmc de Statl on, xil.

GOLDS MITH, OLIVER: vanity of, ix 4239; on Johnson, ix, 4246 (see also General Index); on Johnson, ix, 4246 (see also General Index); GONDO WAI, COUNT: anecdoto of, vi. 2632; diplomatic fame of, vii. 3441.
GONS ALVO DE CORDOVA (see also "Tho Grat Capitain," vi 2703); greatness of, viil. 3441; on supersensitive horor, xiv 6767, "GOOD OLD TIMES" (see also SOCIETY); reality of ix, 1644 sq., 1815 sq., v. 2339, x. 4706 sq. vx. 2511.

eq. xx. 9511.
GOl:DON, "CHINESE": Sir William Pecl compared to, xvl. 7605.

ď

GOULD, JAY: connection with the Eric Rail-GREAT INTERREGNUM, the: Iv. 1653.

GOULD, JAI. Command way, Mr. 8535 Eq.

GOVERNING BODIES (see also ENGLISH PARLIAMENT, GOVERNMENT, and LEGISLATION): the folkmoot, vi. 2330-1;

1817 cm. ill. 1112 sq., consul-LEGISLATION): the folkmoot, vi. 2550-1; Boman, senate, il 517 sq., ili. 1112 sq., consnis, il. 503 sq., Amphictyonic Connell, xi. 4946; Florentino Signory, v. 2012 sq.; colonial American, of Georgia, xi. 4904, of Virginia and the Carolinas, xi. 4905-7, of Maryland, xi. 4907-8, of Pennsylvania, xi. 4909-10, of New York, xi. 4912, of Massachusetts, xi. 4913; of the U.S. Pelno's spressions on, xi. 4912, see 4912, of Massachusetta, xl. 4913; of the U.S., Painc's suggestions on, xl. 4931-2, sea also THE UNITED STATES, Congress of; Irish Parliament, its disabilities removed, xv. 6993-40. 6939-40; popular impatience of debates in, xix. 8397-8.

GOVERNMENT (see also DEMOCRACY, DES-POTISM, FEUDALISM, GOVERNING FEUDALISM, POTISM, FEUDADISM, WONAECHY, PARTIES, POLITICAL, REPUBLICS, SUFFRAGE, TAXATION, THEOCRACY, end TYPANTS): of Greece, I. 418, H. 735: of Moors in Spain, ili, 1237 sq.; of Spanish in Peru, v. 2235; of God in the world, Bnuler on, will color than the state of the square o viii. 2534 sq.; autonomic, of German cities, iv. 1559; oligarchical, of Venice, iv. 1555-6; of England, Burke on, x. 4642-4; of royal provinces in America, xt. 4306, 4926-39, 4934-99, provinces in America, xi. 4306, 4926-30, 4951-99, Burke on, xx. 6922; of Indian tribes, its weakness, xi. 4958-9; of non-conforming churches dominated by Separatism, xi. 4963; of colonial Canada, xviii. £515 sq.; of America, Bryce on, xix. £537; sq.; of democracies in future, Maine on, xix. £525; of old statesmen xs. young, il. 994; of colonial Georgia, failure of its original plan, xi. 4904; Machiavelli on the art of, v. 20-2 sq. 237; taration precessary to the support. 994; of colonial decomposition on the art of, v. 20-2 plan, xi. 4204; Machiavelli on the art of, v. 20-2 sq., 2357; taration necessary to the support of, xi. 4911-4; distance a weakener of, xv. 6924-5; Jefferson on the ends of, xv. 6914; popular, Washington on the maintenance of, xv. 690 sq.; Maine on the dangers of, xix. 8894 sq.; morality the foundation of, xv. 6957, 7242; by prime ministers, vi. 2573; by favourites, ix. 4281; sattre on, see "The Golden Reign of Wouter Van Twiller," xv. 6820 sq.; Burke on force vs. conciliation in, 6330 sq.; Burke on force rs. conciliation in, xv. 6919-20; the law of compensation in, xv. 7108-9; constitutional, see Webster's reply to Hayne, xv. 7200 sq.; individualism in modern democratic, xvi. 7583-0, 5; Tonssaint L'Ouverture's cenins for, 9375-7; foundation of the Roman, xi. lost 7595 : 24. 99.5-1; nonnation of the Roman, x. 4946; weakness of the Turkish, iv. 1464-5; its plan usually framed by an individual, xi. 4946-7; unity of principle in ancient civilizations, xiii. 6179-81; varied forms existing in Europe, xiii. 6181-2; quick decay of Charlemagne's institutions, vi. 2670, of Cromwell's, xx. 9575, GOZZI, COUNT CARLO: Mme. de Stavi on,

GRACES, the ; Pindar's invocation to, i. 165. GRACCHL the: Caius and Tiberius, death of,

ii. 829.
GRAFTON, DUKE.OF: Walpole on, ix. 8330: letter of Junius to, ix. 4280 sq.; the actual head of Pitt's second ministry, xv. 6928.
GRATTAN, HENRY: repeal of Poyning's Act demanded by, xv. 6339.
GRAY, THOMAS: Walpole on his position as poet, ix. 3909: Johnson's dislike for, ix. 8917; as critic, lx. 8941; quarrel with Walpole, ix. 8925 (see also General Index).
GREAT BRITAIN: com FYGLAND IRFLAND

GREAT BRITAIN: see ENGLAND, IRELAND, and SCOTLAND.

GREAT FIRE OF LONDON: see CONFLA-

GREEG (see also ALEXANDER, ATHENS, GREEK LANGUAGE, GREEK LITERA-TURE, HOMER, LEUCTRA, BATTLE OP, LYCURGUS, OLYMPIC GAMES, SPARTA, and THERMOPYLE): corruption of the Sophitta in, vii. 2309; religion of, see MYTH-OLOGY; wit of, l. 109 sq., 203 sq.; Matthew Arnold on Homer's ballari verse, l. 145; under foreign mie, x. 4767-9; order of battle in, x. 4761; great popularity of buil-playing in, xiii. 5999; exposure of infants practised in, xviii. 5997; exposure of manus practised in, xvin. 8170; analogy between Switzerland and the States of, xix 5507; method of water supply in, ii. 572; some results of its unity of spirit, xiii. 6180; its moral ideals, ix. 4173, see also "Ethics of the Herole Aye," xx. 9359; its language and the second of the Herole Aye," xx. 9359; its moral ideals, ix. 4173, see also backwardness in applied sciences, x. 4760; Gibbon's pleasure in Greek authors, x. 4003; influence of its geography on its history, x. 4756 sq. GREEK

CHURCH, the: see CHURCH, THE GREEK

GREEK LANGUAGE, the: character of, i. 230; epic Greek analogous to Biblical English, 1.318; Pindar's range of power and loftmess of in-spiration, i. 133; how disseminated in Mace-donia, ii. 772; be Quincey's early floency in, xiv. 6723; the marking of numbers in, xvi. 7503-4.

GREEK LITERATURE (see also HOMER and "The Splendor of Greek," I. 329); stercotyped character of, xiii. 6181.

GREEK MYTHOLOGY: see MYTHO. LOGY.

GREENBACKS: see CURRENCY, paper. GREENE, ROBERT: vi. 2570 sq. GREENLAND: Leif Ericsson's visit to, x.

4803 sq. GRENVILLE, GEORGE: Walpole on, ix. 2900; loss of office from opposition to the King, ix. 4231-2; author of the Stamp Act, xi. 4934; George 111. helpless in the hards of, xx. 6920; his deorge 111. neipiess in the hands of, xv. 0220; attitude on American taxation, xv. 6929; his death a blow to the Whigs, xv. 6929; anecdote of, told by Cowper, xiii. 6223 sq. GRENVILLE, SIR RICHARD: and the Invincible Armada, vi. 2014 sq. GREVILLE, FULKE: friendship for Sir Philip sq.: anecdote of, vi. 2:771. GROTE, GEORGE: on Alexander, il. 773, 776; his interest in Switzerland, xix. 8597; views of democracy, xix. 8897. GRUB-STREET: viii. 3469; Pope's hatred of, ix. 3936.

Sidney, xix. 8941-2. GREY, LADY JANE: execution of, vi. 2474

GUELPHS: see PARTIES, POLITICAL.

GUILDS (see also LABOR and TRADES): tradesmen's, v. 2200, 2319; importance in me-diaval Germany, iv. 1652; Hanseatic League, vi. 2679.

GUIZOT, FRANÇOIS: on civilization, xvi

7526 (see also General Index).

GURKHAS, the: as soldiers, xviii. 8305, 8311, 8316.

GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS: see "The Times of Gustavus Adolphus," vii. 2024. GYLLEMBOURG, MME.: her "Light Nights," xviii. 8526. GYPSIES, the: as character-readers, xvi. 7697; theory of their eastward migration, xi. 5132

HADRIAN, THE EMPEROR: vi. 2620, 2646. and the Jews, xvl. 7341. HAM: as ancestor of the Egyptians, i. 66.

HAND ORGANS: see MUSIC

HANNIBAL: self-protection in battle, in 776: Juvenal on, mi. 1125-6; as a disciplinarian, v. 2084 (see also General Index)

HANOVER, THE HOUSE OF (see also George II, III, and IV.) canses of English loyalty to, ix 4295-6, Scotland and, IX. 4286. HARCOURT, PRINCESSE DE. vi. 3185-9.

HAREM: see POLYGAMY.

HARMODIUS AND ARISTOGEITON: i 148

HARP, the: see MUSIC

HANT, the: see Music HASDRUBAL: u. 798, 605 HASTINGS, BATTLE OF: ul 1422 sq. HASTINGS, WARREN: English India's debt to, vr. 6938 HAWTREY, DR · as translator of Homer, 1.

312

tion, xi 5063, preferred to Lamb by Bagehot, xii 5504, Birrell on, xii 5504 (see also General Index)

Schopenhaner on

HFGEL, GEORG W. F. his philosophy, xvi. 7451-2. HELEN OF TROY imagin ELEN OF TROY magnary conversation with Mine. de Maintenon, 1 189; meeting with Achilles, 1 225, with Menelaus at Troy, 1. 230; appears to Fanstus, vi 24°5, 2487.

appears to Faustus, vi 24°S, 2487.
HENGEST AND HORSA vi. 2554
HENRY IV (of Navarre) v 2317 sq
HENRY V (see also AGINCOURT, BATTLE OF) v. 2171.
HENRY VI. England's most unselfish king, v 1946 sq HLNRY VIII.: viii 9902; legislation of, see "England in Henry VIII.'s Time," vi.

HERALDRY: designs of, 1. 31, ni. 1402, 1v. 1740, v. 1952, 1954, 1970, 2186, vn. 3312, 1x. 4278

HERCULES · labors of, 1 362, 430; as the type of heroism, 1 433; Antonys descended from, 11 882. Epictetus on, 111 1219, 1320; Lessing on Sophocles' presentation of, ix. 4177-8; temples of, xii. 6304 HERDER, JOHANN GOTTFRIED VON:

HERDER, JOHANN GOUTTRIED VON.
Schopenhuver on, xvi 7536,
HEREDITY. of variations in domestic animals, xvii 5935; of virtuous tendencies, Darwin on its possibility, xvii 5937, on its relations and the possibility and 5939, on its study as tions to evolutions xiii 5932, on its study as affecting marriage, xiii 5943; Jessopp on, ii 1624-5; effect of wealth on, xiv. 6355; ataxism, the Prince Impered an example of xvin. 8385; atavism, the Prince Impered an example of xvin. 8383; "stripculture," xin. 5948, see also "Checks to the Increase of Genus," xvin 8502; guestship hereditary in Honer's time, xx. 9380

HERODOTUS: on low caste of swineherds, i 67; Macanlay on translations of, xvi 7505 (see

also General Index)
HEROES (see also EPICS and HEROISM):
Carlyle on, vi 2856-7; modern decadence of hero-worship, xix, 8942

HEROISM (see also CHIVALRY, HUMAN SACRIFICES, RELIGIOUS PERSECU-TIONS, WAR and "Herorem in Honsekeep-TIONS, WAR and "Herosm in Honsekeeping," xvi 7508) of citizens during siege of Loyden, vi 2654 q. of Socrates in war, ii 606; of individuals at Thermopvile, i. 421; of women, xvi. 7515-7; of Lord Wolseley during in shipwreck, xvi. 7608; Heronles the type of, i 433; Job the supreme example of, vi 2837; incident of the war of 1650-97; viii. 3760 sq; Horatius at the bridge, i. 438 sq; Catherine Douglass, iv. 1838 sq.; Sir Richard Grenville and the Intyrichle Armada, v. 2514 sq.; Joan and the Invincible Armada, vi 2514 sq ; Joan of Arc, via $153 sq ; Johnson's endurance of suffering, ix. 4258-4; Casabianca, x 4700-1; Decins and Manlins, ii 689 sq; instances of conrage in monkers, xiii. 5944-5; the "White Tiger Band" of Japan, xviii. 8511; kgend of Marens Aurelius, iii. 1103. HESIOD 1, 2226.

HESPERIDES, GARDENS OF THE MYTHOLOGY.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY (see also "An Adven-ture with brigands," xv. 7469; "Dick Tur-pins Eccape," vn. 3714, "The Conspiracy aga ast Clinker," ix 3984) in modern London, aga has character, 12 3347 in modern London, circimstances of, xiv. 6564.

HINDU LITERATURE 1. 7, 31, 51, 111, 117;

Persian tales derived from, xiii. 6104 sq. Persian tales derived from xiii 6104 sq., stereotyped character of, xiii 6181, hymns "To the Investing Sk.," "To the Rain God," "To the Fire God," "To the Sun," "To the One God," and "To Kikit," 1 7 sq.; titles, x 14, 51, 103, see also Pilpays Falles, in 1765
Ilippocrates. on suitability of remedies,

Til 7154.
HISTORY (see also NATIONS) of England, not best learned from books, xin 1949, of the not best learned from books, xiii 1949, of the world, written by Macaulia at seven, xvi. 7491-2; Bossnet on the study of, vii. 3981, Bolingbroke on, vii 3791 sq., Tacitus on the office of, vii 3892; Carlyle on the errors of, vi. 2801-2, 2874, on Cromwell's place in, vi. 2874, Struss on, xix 8809, influence of individualism in, xix 5802-6. Scipio a student of, vii. 2766; influenced by recognitives of the control of the cont 8786; infloenced by geographical conditions, x. 4756, 4774, x. 9355; value of Scrtt's historical portraits by 1865-6; Mahaffy on the literature portraits iv 200-0, January, of Instory, Introduction to Vol. x
HMELNITSKI (SCHMIELNICKI), Cossack revolutionist vii 3243 sq

HOBBES, THOMAS. reasons for writing his "Leviathan," xvii 7507, on liberty, xix. 8899 (see also General Index)

HOLCROFT, THOMAS: and Coleradge, xi 5057-S

5053-5

HOLIDAYS AND FESTIVALS (see also BANQUETS and PAGEANTS AND PROCESSIONS) in England, ix 4100; Shrove Tuesday the football festival, xiii 6000, "The English Football Julilee," xiii 6000, "The Kosti in Rome, the Luperella, x 4772, the Arval Festivals, x 4774; the Northern Yule, x. 4508, 4017; the French Noel, xiv 6509; the Feast of Tabernacles, xviii 8473; negro Carmival at Jumilea, xiv 6634 sq. HOLLAND (see also THE NETHERLANDS and "The Relief of Leyden," vi 2634) life and manuers in medieval, v 239; Goldsmith on, xii 6175-6, Malvalar on the rise of, viil 3444; Charles the Dold's retirement to, iv 1926; the refuge of Linglish Separatists, xi 4967; assists

Charles the Bold's returement to, iv 1920; the refuge of English Separatists, xx 4967; assists France against Tonsannt, xx. 9350
HOLY ROMAN EMPIRE, tle: its practical end with Frederick II, in 1652-3; a disconrager of national unity, iv. 1658-9; position raised by Frederick Barbarossa, iv. 1660; Charles the Bold a prince of, iv. 1855, 1800, 1867; its death blow dealt by civic charters iv. 1652
HOMER identity of, L. 146, ethics of, xx. 9350-62; translations of, Newman's, L. 147, Chapman's, 148 sq; on prose translations of, vi. 2585; Macanlay or, xv. 7564; character of his pectry, i. 310, 329; compared with Scott, i. 160, with Virgil, Dante, and Milton, i. 151; with Dante, xvi. 7505, the lalled style, i. 142 sq., secret of his art, xvii. 8290; his sense of beauty, xx. 9350-1; on ffee, il 0-4; in the Shades, id. 1103 (see also General Index). also General Index).

HOPPER, ISAAO, philanthropist: old age of, xi. 5279.

HORACE: iii, 1170; in the Shades, iii, 1103; on human misfortunes, viii 8476, on ridiculing nnman misiortunes, viii 34(6, on ridictung friends, ix 4233-9 (see also General Index).

HORSE, tho (see also STOCKBREEDING and "Black Beauty," vix 9049); trentment in England and Spain, vii 3297, in the days of chivalry, v. 1981, 2333-9, trick horses, vii. 3233; pedigrees kept hy Angles and Saxons, vi. 2549; Cassar's, vi 2645; Alexander and Bneephalus, ii. 750: the Prince Imperial's control over. ii. 750; the Prince Imperial's control over, xvii $384; Homer's love of beauty in, xx. 9361

9361.

HORTICULTURE, (*ee also AGRICULTURE, BOTANY, NATURE, and "Beautiful Gardens," viii 3430): gardens, of Mary Wortley Montagu, viii. 3490 eq. of Alcinous, viii. 3431-2, hanging, of Babylon, viii. 3430-1, English and French compared, xiv. 6501; irrigation of Chinese, xvi. 7337; plants, food of, xviii $491-2, dependence of animals on, xviii $492; winter preservation of flowers, v. 2337-5.5

2337-55

HOSPITALITY: iv. 1721, 1794 sq; of Wnrwick OSPITALITY: 1v. 1721, 1704 sq; of Wnrwick the King 'Iaker, v 1955; public, of Greece, i 419, n. 572-3; of the Vicar of Wakefield, ix. 4183-9; of Alcinons, iu. 1162; of the 17th century, x. 4569, of colonial Virginia, xi. 4906; of England, compared with French, xiv. 6515; plum pudding the emblem of, xiv. 6510; of Western pioneers, xv. 7259; Jove the god of, in 527; Sonthern, xvi. 7559; Jove the god of, in 527; Sonthern, xvi. 6157, 6213-4; mediaval, vi. 2453-4; Goldsmith on, xii. 6169; Johnson on late dinner-guests, ix. 4229; Greek epigrams on, it. 552; greetung of guests in old Muscovy, vil. 3206; guestship hereditary in Homer's time, xx. 9360.

vii. 3206; mestship hereditary in Homer's time, xx. 9360.

HOWE, GENERAL (BICHARD, LORD): American campaign of, xv. 6733-5.

HOWELLS, WILLIAM DEAN: xvi. 7690; his "Mone-trap," xvi. 7515; realism of, xvi. 7697 (see also General Index).

HUGO, VICTOR: on libraries, xvi. 7434 (see also General Index).

HUGUENOTS, the (see also CALVINISM, EDICT OF NANTES, and REFORMATION): persecutions of, xviii. 8205, see also RELIGIOUS PERSECUTIONS, and "Athos, Porthos, and Aramis," vii. 2021; England's mannfactures the gainer hy, xviii. 8505; Samuel Smiles on, xviii. 8505

mannfactures the gainer by, xvill. 5505; Samuel Smiles on, xvill. 8505
HUMAN SACRIFICES: il. 638-9; Decins and Munlins, il. 639, 640-1; Polyxena, il. 922; Iphlgenia, ii 934; the youths devoured by the Gasour (Vothek), x 4478-89
HUMAN SYMPATHY: a source of moral growth, xvil 8201-2; a prevailing American trait, xix 8533; as n factor in man's development, Darvin on, xui. 5936, 5937; fiction destructive to, xvill. 8409; Johnson on its limitations, ix. 4243
HUME, DAVID: on death, ix. 4243; on America, xl. 4902-3; on Cromwell's hypography

Minimum, IX. 4243; on death, ix. 4243; on America, xl. 4902-3; on Cromwell's hypocrisy, vl. 2566; appreciation of Gihhon's "Rome," X. 4607; his doctrines falsely credited to Comte, xvii 8496-7; Huxley on, xviii 8496-7, 8493, 8499; Johnson on, ix. 4231, 4235 (see also General Ladar)

General Index)

General Index)

HUMOR (see also FOOLS, PROFESSIONAL, PRACTICALJOKES, RIDICULE, SATTRE, WIT, and "The Physiology of Langhter," xri 7551; Irish, ix 4224; incongraity the basis of, xri. 7551, 7577, 7570; mirthlessness of the Turks, vii 8193; jests at debt, ri. 2642, 2651, 2633; puns, Pintan Instred of, xiv. 6343, 2651, 2634, Holmes on, xiv. 6345, Johnson on, xiv. 6344, Holmes on, xiv. 6345, FOTENTON, BATTLE OF, and "A Hungarian Election," xi 6203): appearance of the honces in, xi, 5205.

HUNS, the (see also ATTILA, HUNGARY):
table customs, (ii. 1891; burial enstoms, iii.

1343; personal appearance, ili. 1331. HUNT, LEIGH: Hazlitt on his character and conversation, xl. 5055-9, 5062 (see also General Index) HUXLEY, PROF. T. H: impersonation of, see note, xvi 7511 (see also General Inde.).

HYMEN: see MYTHOLOGY, HYMNS, ANCIENT INDIAN: see HINDU LITERATURE.

IBRAHIM PASHA: xi, 5184-5 IMAGINATION, the (see also DREAMS, FIC-TION, GENIUS, and MIND): the East the land of, xiii 6192; sins of, xviii 8469; in nrt, the effect of, xvii. 8279-82; as a factor in moral development, Darwin on, xh. 5937; imaginary home life of Shakespeare, xix. 8935, day-dreams, Johnson on the cvil of, ix. 4151 sq, not indulged in by citizens of democracies, xv. 7251, see also "Reverles of a Bachelor," xvii.

S256 IMMORTALITY (see also DEATH, LIFE, MYTHOLOGY, THE SOUL, Wordsworth's "Intimations of Immortality," xil. 5423, and "The Goal of Life," xvi. 7559): Greek conception of, it. 1994; proofs of, x 4655-6; Sadducco denial of, xvill $427; Cicero on, il 949-59; Bossnet on, vil 3053; Botchins on, it. 1393; Thomson on, vill. 3856-7; Butler on, vul. 3854; Darwin on the hellef in, as affected by the doctrine of evolution, xul. 5938; savage peoples without a clear belief in, xill 5938; earthly, Swift on, vill 3558 sq. (cagliostro's pretentions to, x. 4620 sq. (ce also "Dr. Heddegger's Experiment," xil. 7932; of animals, ix. 4230, Dr. John Brown on, xiv 6552
IMPERIALISTS: see POLITICAL PARTIES INCA OF PERU, the: see "Pizarro in Peru," y. 2238.

v. 2233.
INCOMES (see also PENSIONS, REVENUES, and WAGES): of English nobles and gentry in 16th century, vi 2452-3; taxes on, in Bome, ii. 595 INCUBATORS: in sucient Egypt, i. 66-7; in

INCUBATORS: In ancient Egypt, 1, 00-1, 11
More's Utopla, vi 2752.
INDIA (see also ARYAN MYTHS, EAST INDIA COMPANY, HINDU LITERATURE, SEPOY REBELLION, and WARREN

A COMPANY OF THE SEPOY REPORT OF THE SEPOY REBELLION, and WARREN SEPOY REBELLION, and WARKEN HASTINGS): theocratic government of, xii. 6179; Walpole on English nequisition of, ix. 3909; foundations of English empire in, xx. 6339; caste in, i.10; gambleng in ancient, i. 33 eq; stagnation of its civilization, xii. 6179, 6181; Afghans as fighters, xviii. 8307 eq. Gurkhay as, xviii. 6305, 8011-6; Mahrattas, xx 6332. NY. 6333 INDIAN: sec HINDU. INDIAN HYMNS: see HINDU LITERA-INDIANS, THE NORTH AMERICAN (see also "An Encounter with Indians," xx 9550; courage of, v. 2245; religion of, vi 2624; cruelty of, vi. 4953, 4951; songs of, vill. 2792; headgest rarely worn by, v. 2250; horder wars between whites and, xi 4955 eq; efforts to Christianize, v. 2256; and the Norsemen, x. 4912-6; of Virginia, Capt. Smith on, x. 4341 sq; as alhes of the English in the Revolution, xi. 4973, 4975, 4979, 4950, xv. 6935, 6937, of the patriots, xx. 4974; their view of the English, vil. 3163; the Six Nations and the colonies, xx. 4971; their treatment of prisoners, x. 4600-3, xx. 9951; their nwe of linatics, xi. 4979, Thians, The South AMERICAN (see also AZTECS): Danens, xv. 7601; Pernylans, see "Pizarro in Peru," v. 2238.

TUPE

TURE

INDIVIDUALISM: the characteristic of Now | JACQUEMONT, VICTOR. York and of all America, xvi 7659 sq , its in fluence on history, xix 8902 6; necessary to a perfect character or society, xvi 7553 sq; commercial prosperit; injurious to, xvi 7595 INQUISITION, the . see RELIGIOUS PLE-

SECUTIONS

SECUTIONS
INSANITY: Indian awe of, xi 4979; satire on the "insane" theory of crimo, see "The Insanity of Cain," xi 9466
INTELLECT, the: see MIND
INTEMPERANCE (see also WINE): German and English contrasted, v 2351-2. Sa'di on, iv. 1556; epigrams on, ii 548 sq., commonness in 18th century, ix 3019-24, xv. 6580-1; Charles Lamb's, xu 5597; Birrell on innistee toward, xii 5597; in Great Britain, xiv 6503-4, Lamb on the difficulty of reforming from, xiv. toward, the 50%; in Great Britain, NY 5053-1, Lamb on the difficulty of reforming from, tw 6761 sq., on the punishments of, xiv. 6765 sq; Tolstoi's drama against, xvin. 8338 INTERREGNUM, THE GREAT: see GREAT INTERREGNUM

INTERRIBATION AND DISCOVERIES (see also "The Deacon'e Masterpiece," xix, 9802) laborsaving, Adam Smith on, ix 4815-6, nuiversal suffrage dangerous to, xix, 8595, their depend ency upon inspiration, xiv, 6789; in the times of Elizabeth and Anne, contrasted, xix. 8900, no astronomical instruments invented by the ancients, x. 4780; incubators, 1 66-7; the velocipede, ix 4246; the calculating machine, rıv. 6343

INVINCIBLE ARVADA, THE: vi 2512 sq, 2521, 2573 sq, 2686 sq, 2712 sq, vii 8300, viii.

3440
IPHIGENIA: see HUMAN SACRIFICES
IRELAND (see also CELTIC LITERATURE):
humor of, it. 4224; English government of, ix.
4290, vv. 6393; political disabilities removed,
vv. 6940; burial customs of, vii. 5517; sants of, xii. 5523; national music of, vviii. 8319-20;
the harp the national instrument of, xviii. 8319, ancient property rights of women in, iii. 1025, life and character in, vu. 6544 sq., intemperance in, viv. 6503; threatened revolt against England, xv. 6339-40, conspiracy with Frince against, x. 4401; Johnson'e championship of their rights, ix. 4207, Lake championship of against, x 4401; Johnson's champiooship of their rights, ix 4267, Lakes of Killarney, ix 4330 sq; ancient bellef in magic, iii 1021; mentioned in the "Grettis Saga," x 4816 IRRIGATION (see also CANALS and FLOODS AND INUNDATIONS) by Nile, i 67; by Euphrates, i 108-9, of Chinese gardens, xvi 73.0 in Peru, x 2242, 22.7, the fiber process to overflow, x 4172 ITALIAN RENAISSANCE, Viliari, I fro to ITALY (see also FLORENCE, ROME, VIN-ICE, "The Crushing of Italian Freedom," vI 2463; "The Cenel," vi 2466; and "The Mediel," vi 2470). vanishes as a kingdom after Frederick II, it 1653; Frederick the founder of its modern language and literature, founder of its modern language and literature, it 1633, Roman headship of it 459, iv 1634, exhorted by Machdevelli to throw off foreign tyranny, v 2001 sq; in media val times, v 2550 sq. Luly on the women of, vi 2733 sq; Mmc de Stad on the luterature of, xii, 5412 sq, its 15th century stage, xii 5415 sq; Goldsmith on, xiii 6171-2; religious deadness of, iv 1711 sq, xi, 5157, decay of its commerce under Spanish rule, vi 2405; rational masse of, xviii 8419, 8321; religious persecutions in, xviii 8505; Italian idea of liberty, xx 2505-7; the Milan plaque, v 2305 sq.

IVRY, BATTLE OF v 2317.

JACOBITFS (see also PRETENDERS and STUARTS): as anthors of civil wars ix 8910; their last struggle ended, x. 45.5 sq on intellectual lahors of Germans, my 6784

JACQUERIE, the: 1v 1815 sq JAMES I · anecdote of, vi 2652 JAMES I · anecdote of, vi 2052 JAMES V , of Seotland: anecdote aneedote of xil

OH42
JAMES, HENRY vi 7090; his "Lady Bar berina," xri 7698 (see also General Index)
JAPAN. architecture in, xviii 8511; tho art of julntsn, xviii 8511-1. experiments with Western dress, xviii 8514 sq; the "Whito Tiger Band," xviii 8511
JASON AND THE GOLDEN FLEECE: see

MYTHOLOGY.

JEFFERSON, THOMAS: early home of, vi 4907 (see also General Index) JEFFREYS, CHIEF JUSTICE: character of,

viii 3673 JENYNS, SOAME · his demonology ridiculed

by Johnson, ix 4263
"JERRY" CONSTRUCTION: the Prince Im-

perial's death cansed by shoddy saddlery, xviii £390

JERUSALEM. the New, iv 1614; Christ in, see Renan's "Last Journey to Jerusalem," xvii $478; in Mohammedan hands, in 1426; epture of, iv 1457-63; Frederick II the last Christian king of, iv 1650, 1655-6; the Temple, xvii $474, $475-6

xvin $474, $475-6
JESTS: see HUMOR, PRACTICAL JOKES, and WIT.
JESUITS, the (see also "Ignatins Lovols and His Work," v 2367): Bacon on, v 2385, Addington Symonds on, vi 2465-6
JEWS, the in Christ's time, xvii 5472 sq; the Endduces the true, xvii $477, Zenobla and, iii 1872; Wilham Rufus lentent toward, iii 1429; burlal customs of, xvi 7342; persecutions of, see RILIGIOUS PERSECUTIONS, iamoutations for their exile, xvi. 7341; th Ghetto, xvi 7-13; Josephus on the Siege of Jotapata, and the heroic defence made by the Jews, x 4782 sq
JOAN OF AEC (see also "Trail and Death of John of Arc," vii 3153): v 2153
JOB: Sir Thomas Browne on his fortitude, vi 2857

2887
JOHN OF ENGLAND (see also "The Tourns ment," iv 1518) character and achievements of, vi 2854 sq
JOHN OF GAUNT: iv 1752
JOHNSON, DR SAMUEL: Carlyle on, vi 2855, 263, 2465; Walpole on, vi 3916, Gold smith on, ix 4295, driven to authorship by poverty, vi 2-61, on Baxter's work, xii 1509; praiso of a good hater, xvi 1706; sayings of, xiv 6730, 6730 (see also General Index) JOKES: see HUMOR. PRACTICAL JOKES.

JOKES: see HUMOR, PRACTICAL JOKES. and WIT

JONES, SIR WILLIAM: on the Vedas, 1

JOETIN, DR : on laudatory dedications, xiv

JOSEPHINE, THE EMPRESS - ancolote of, dom of the press attained in Legislot, XY 1923; Blemarck on Abstrian influence on German, xix 2133; Dickers' artire on the American, xix 1735; a free press the foundation press, xix 1835; a free press the foundation of a free government, xix 1875, xix 1880, Copperhead press during American Civil War, xx. 9727-8

JOWETT, DR. BENJAMIN: impersonation! of, see note, xvi. 7544.

JUDAISM: see JEWS.

JULIAN, THE EMPEROR: v. 2231; on substitutes for wine, n. 559.

JUPITER: derivation of the name, i. 9-10; Emerson on the Greek conception of, xv. 7111-2; the god of hospitality, if 527; temple of, near the Forum, xiii, 6304.
JUSTINIAN, THE EMPEROR: Athenian

schools closed by, ii. 674.

KAMES, LORD: Johnson on, ix. 4231. KANT, EMMANUEL: on the moral law, Ivi. 7636.

KEATS, JOHN: survival of his spirit, xix. E331; paroly of, xix. E3324: poetic development of, xix. E336 (see also General Index). KEBLE, JOHN: Newman on, xi. 5155 (see also General Index).

KILLARNEY, LAKES OF: see Ireland.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR: see RELIGIOUS ORDER-

KNOX, JOHN: Milton on, vii. 2234: Iris dream of a theocracy, vi. 2505-G. KNUT: 1. 4916.

ROBAN, THE: iii. 1406; extracts from, iii. 1217 sq.: usur; forbidden by, xi. 5102-3 KRIEMHILD: see EPICS, the Nibelungen-

LABOR (see also AGRICULTURE, MANU-FACTURES, TRADES, and WAGES): conditions surrounding in mediaval England, vi. 2434, 2440, 2565, in More's Utopia, vi. 2766-2, in 15th-century France, x. 4766-550, in the north U. S., xix. 5335, in Ceylon, xx. 9601; Ben Jonson on, vi. 2755; Johnson on the irksomeness of, ix. 4245; Adam Smith on division of, ix. 4340 sq.; Marcus Aurelius on, iii. 1125; despised in Sparta, i. 423; respected in Athens, ii. 553, 571; brought into discredit by slavery. x. 4779; the need for culture among working people, x. 5276; free, its conditions compared with Energy, xix. 533; "law of compensation" in, x. 7115-6; sense of responsibility among American complovers, xix. 5535; low position of swineherds in Egypt, i. 67:

in Egypt, 1.67:
Intellectual: see also CULTURE and EDUCATION: time as a factor in, xiv. 6770 eq.; how wasted, xiv. 6711, 6712-5; the need for variety in, xiv. 6713, 6713-6715; the need for variety in, xiv. 6715, 6755, 6791; injurious effects of haste on, xiv. 6715-5, 6713-9, 6731-2; German habits of, xiv. 6755; evils of interrupting, xiv. 6755-5.

LABOUCHERE, HENRY: on debate re. con-LA BRUYERE, JEAN DE: see BRUYERE, LA BRUYERE, JEAN DE: see BRUYERE, LAFAYETTE, MARQUIS DE: in prison, x.

LAMBORN, JEAN BAPTISTE PIERRE: introduction to Napoleon, xi, 5112.

LAMB, CHARLES: at Oxford, xi, 503; anecdote of, xir. 559; Hazlitt on the conversation of xi 550; the litt on the conversation of xi 550; the litt of the conversation of xi, 550; the litt of the conversation of xi 550; the litt of the conversation of xi 550; the latter of the HOUSES of: tee EDWARD IV. HENEY V. 22d VI. JOHN OF GAUNT, 22d WAPS OF THE ROSES.

LANG, ANDREW, on literature of the 16th century, latto, to rol. xvii.

LANGUAGE (see also CONVERSATION, ORATORY, PHILOLOGY): of the London streets, xiv. COS; of common thics, Lecky on, xviii. S102-2; builed postry, i. 165; of Socrates, Cicero on, ii. 667; of the Bible analogous to epic Greek, i. 318; of the East, Socrates, cicero on, n. Co.; on the Labor analogous to epic Greek, i. 213: of the East, reason for its involved and florid character, xiii. 6191-3; Durwin on its infinence on men's development, xiii. 5935; Laconic speech, i. 47; Pindar's magnifucent gift of phrasing, i. 163; Channing on "the gift of utterance," xl. 5275; Coleridge on "the instinct for expression," vi. 2504.

LANGUAGES (see also ENGLISH LANGUAGE, GREEK LANGUAGE, LATIN LANGUAGE, NEOLOGISM, PHILOLOGY, and SANSKIIT AND PRAKRIT: Cleopatra's command of, ii. 823, Charles V.'s, vi. 2667, his epigram on, xii. 5415; Englishmen not finent in, xiv. 6315-2; women's superior facility in, xiv. 6317; finault on the study of, xiv. 6373; the old-fachioned ideal of perfection in, xiv. 6373, the old-fachioned ideal of perfection in the tonge, viii. 3322; the Italian, best adapted to objective poetry, xii. 5418, the modern consided by vesteries II. (1823 the French to objective poetry, xii. 5413, the modern founded by Frederick II., Iv. 1653; the French, "of Stratford-atte-Bowe," iv. 1755, its familimity to most foreigners, xii. 5415; little studied in countries able to provide for their children, zir. 6516.

LAPLACE, PIEBBE SIMON DE: in the French Academy, xi. 5115-7.
LATIN LANGUAGE, the: 1. 230 sq.; the vehicle of all learning, v. 2314: furnishes no proof of Sabellian element in Rome, x. 4771; how to of Sabellian element in Home, x. 4711; how to criticise Latin verses, it. 4262.

LAW (see also GOVERNMENT, LEGISLATION, NATURE, and SCIENCE): the man of (Chancer), iv. 1724, 1839; Johnson on the profession of, ix. 4227-5; Roman study of, x. 4750; unscruppilons practitioners of, xiv. 6740; the need and purpose of, xiv. 7534, 7535-6; the Jewish, xviii. 5476, 8477, 8480; the moral, agreement of all teachers upon, xvi. 7533, 7535-6; Kant on its sublimity, xvi. 7535; of science, xviii. 5476-9; satires on, xi. 2517, 2531, viii. 2530, 2537-5; Boman respect for. I. 456, Spanish, viii. 3786, American, xi. 4302-3, Bryce on, xix. 8570; American colonists versed in, xv. 5224; its maxims safe rules of conduct. in, xv. 6921; its maxims safe rules of conduct, Tyli. 7807.

LAW AND OEDER: absence of, in Rome under Galba, vl. 2515, in France during and under Gelba, vl. 2615, in France during and after the Revolution, v. 1615-9, in early Enrhand, iii. 1420 sq., iv. 1612-9, in early Enrhand, iii. 1420 sq., vi. 1612-9, v. 1911 sq., in 17th-century Spain, viii. 3144, during conquest of Peru, v. 2923, how maintained in mediarral times, iv. 1816, in Curco, v. 2250, among Angles and Saxons, vl. 2247, in San Domingo under Toussaint, xx. 2577; the struggle for, in colonial Canada, xriii. 8519; its gain from democracy, xir. 8579.

LAW, JOHN: see "The Mississippi Bubble," x. 4769.

LECONTE DE LISLE: as translator, i. 211.
LEGENDS: see MYTHOLOGY AND LEGENDS.

GENDS.
LEGISLATION (see also CONSTITUTIONS, GOVEPNMENTS, and LAW): of Lycuryuc.
i. 423 sq., il. 565, 571; of Solon, il. 565 sq.; of Draco, il. 557, 579; of Sancho Panza, v.
273 sq.; of Henry VIII., vl. 2436 sq., xiii.
6502; of Eric Hakozson zeninst Berserks, x.
451;; of Henry II., vl. 2505; Hindu suggestion on, xvl. 5565; concerning professions in Egypt, i. 66; reculating fendal succession to property. Il. 1432; forbidding marriage of priests, fv. 1604-1; regulating land tenure, vl.
2432 sq., 2402; regarding labor, in England, vi.
2443-51; against bribery in Bome, vl. 2645; against football in mediaval England and Scotland, xill. 6500-2; against lampooning in Bome,
i. 459; against stealing in England, viii. 6502;

Roman, touching servants' tostimony, iii. 1113-4; theories of, Bacon's and Plato's com-1113-4; theories of, Bacon's and Fiato's compared, il. 670-1; the right of, assured by fendal barons, ili. 1437; criminal, of the Middlo Ages, iv. 1634, 1642; force necessary to support, v. 1634, 1642; force necessary to support, v. 1634, 1642; force necessary to support, v. 2055; in medieval France, England, and Germany, v. 2333; the Canon Law, iv. 1630-1; sumptuary laws, ii. 571, iii. 1115, vi. 241-2, viii. 3786; the only sentence that ever punished the dead, x. 4652; forest and game laws in England, "The Black Act," x. 4536, in France, England, "The Block Act," x. 4336, in France, xviii. S663-4; royal ravision of the laws forbidden by the charter of Maryland, xi. 4999; evils of royal control over colonist, xi. 4923-9, xv. 6945; William III.'s sanction of liberal xv. 0343; Yilliam 111. a sanction of therat colonist laws, xl. 4918; frequently entrasted the sn individual, xl. 4946-7; Roman laws unjust to Picheians, i. 457; the Lienian laws, i. 458-9; the Scotch verdict "not proven," xiv. 6722; Poyning's Act, xv. 6939; Fugitive Slave Law, see Webster on "Compromises of the Constitution" xiv. 8621; contended actor (Clarific Constitution). see Webster on "Compromises of the Constitution," xix. 8531; quick decay of Charlemagne's institutious, vi. 2670, of Gromwell's, xx. 9575; elowness ni legislative machinery a benefit, xiv. 6778.

LEICESTER, ROBERT, EARL OF (see also "Kenliwurth," vi. 2497); founder nf Leicester Huspital, xix. 8940-1; tomb of, xix. 8941.

LEPROSY: In mediavai England, iv. 1640-1, 1700

LESCAUT, MANON: viii, 8503 8q. LETTERS: see EPISTOLARY WRITING, LITERATURE, and WRITING, THE ART

OF.

LEUCTRA, BATTLE OF: 1. 429, x. 4761 sq.
LIBERTY: xviii. $586; of enbjects, Hohhes on, vil. $888 sq.; of the press in England secured, xv. 6929; of women in the United States, xv. 7242 sq., in all Protestant countries, xv. 7242-8; Johnson on, ix. 4923, 4265; Burke on the American love of, xv. 6920-5; Hobbes on, xix. $898-9; the true, D'Azeglio on, xx. 9506-7; Toassalat on, xx. 9582; in England, Burko on, x. 4642-4; in Rome, rendered Impossible by slave system, x. 4781; in modern Enrope, causes of, xiii. 6183; coanection between political and religions, vi. 2666-7; its spirit fostered by conditions in colonial America, xi. 4904 sq.; transgressed by censorship of hooks, vii. 8276; the only source of improvement, xvi. 7592; transgressed by censorship of books, vii. 8216; the only source in improvement, xri. 7592. Stringgles for (see also PATRIOTISM, RELIGIOUS PERSECUTIONS, REVOLUTIONS, TYRANTS, "The Independence of America," xx. 6926; The Declaration of Independence, xx. 6944; "Thussaint L'Onverture," xx. 5572); in early Rome, i. 457; in Peru, x. 2243; in Zars, fr. 1601; incompatible in Middle Aces with the decripe of nationality, it, 558;

xx. 9572): in early Rome, i. 457; in Feru, v. 2233; in Zara, ir. 1601; incompatible in Middle Ages with the doctrine of nationality, iv. 1658; taxes the chief canse of, in England, xv. 6921; the Magna Charta, vi. 2354 sq.

LIBRARIES (see siso BOORS, and "The Valno and Uso of Libraries," xvi. 7451; of Ferganns, hestowed an Cleopatra, ii. 636; Luther an, v. 2326; Richter on, xv. 7455; Dawson on, xv. 7455; Raskin on, xv. 7455; Beccher on, xv. 7553; Anson on, xv. 7454; Dyer on, xv. 753; Alcott on, xv. 7454; Yietor Hugn on, xv. 7454; public, John Bright on, xv. 7455-6; as preservers of past errors, xvi. 7539.

LIFE (see also IMMORTALITY): phenomena and, xi. 6270; Elixir of, see "Dr. Heidegger's Experiment," xvii. 7852; human, Solon's estimate of its duration, iii. 523; old vs. modern theory of its formation, xviii. 8490-5.

LINCOLIN, ABRAHAM: see "The Union Guide," xx. 9571 (also General Index).

LITERATURE: see AUTHORS, BOOKS, CRITICISM—LITERARY, EGYPTIAN

LITERATURE, ELIZABETHAN, GREEK, HINDU, Greater Literature of the World, Donald G. Mitchell (IK Marvel), Intro. vol. ii. Decadence of Modern Literature, Valdes court of, iv. 1880.

LOUIS XIV. (see also "Letters of Mme. de Sévigné," vil. 8110; Memoirs nf Baint-Simon, vil. 8120; and "The Man in the Iron Mask," 2694): anecdote of, xi. 5072.

LOUIS XVI. (sco also FRANCE, the Revolution): Girondists buried beside, x. 4658; attion): Girondists buried beside, x. 4635; attempted escape of, x. 4674 sq.; return to Paris, x. 4678 sq.; burdens of the peasantry lightened by, x. 4801; aversaness to war, xr. 6986.
LOUISBURG: capture of, xriil, 8521-2.
LOWELL, JAMES RUSSELL: on Mme. Trassaud's royalties, xv. 7209 (see also General

Index)

LUCULLUS: Bolinghroke on his military capacity, viii. 3795-7.
LUTTRELL, COL.: appointed over Wilkes, ix.

4283, 4294.
LUTZEN, BATTLE OF: vii. 8027-80.
LYOURGUS: laws of, i. 423 sq., ii. 566, 571, his expedient to enforce them, xi. 4947; military institutions of, x. 4766.

LYSIPPUS: sculptor to Alexander, ii. 778.

MACENAS: ode to, ii. 965. MACAULAY, THOMAS BABINGTON: on Bacon, vi. 230; on Cromwell vs. Napoleon, xx. 9574; his dislike of Walpole, ix. 8920 (see aiso General Index).

MACAULAY, DR.: Johnson nn.ix. 4230.
MACEDONIA: 500 ALEXANDER and PHILIP.

MACHIAVELLI: an example of Italian sa-gacity, xii 5415; reasons for writing his "Prince," xvii. 7827 (see also General Index). MACMAHON, MARSHAL: applied to by the Prince Imperial for a military commission, aviii. 8385.

XVIII. 5855.

MADISON, JAMES: childhood of, xi. 4907.

MAGINN, DE. WILLIAM: his Homeric ballads, i. 148, 810 (see also General Index).

MAGNA CHARTA, the: vi. 2554 sq.

MAHRATTAS, the: see INDIA.

MAINTENON, MME. DE: vii. 8121 sq.; fmaginary conversation with Helen of Troy, i. 189.

MAN: see ANTHROPOLOGY.

MAN: see ANTHROPOLOGY.
MAN FRIDAY: viii, 3540 sq.
MANICHEANS: St. Augustine's hostility to,

MANNING, CARDINAL: at the Newspaper Press Fund dinner, xviii, 8883. EGYPTIAN MANU: laws of, i. 8, xi. 5269.

MILO OF CROTONA . it. 509; anecdote of, it.

915; death of, x 4729 MILTON, JOHN Ma ILTON, JOHN Macaulay on, avi. 7505; price prid for "Paradise Lost," xvi 7523; on price prid for "Paradise Lost," xri 7523; on reconciliation, vr. 4926; compared with Homer, 1, 146, 151; Lumb on "Paradise Regained," xvi, 7316-7 (see also General Index).

MIND (see also IMAGINATION, MEMORY, and PRECOCITY): evolution of, in man and animals, xhl 9534-5; in the lower animals, Darwin on, xiii 5941-2; the arithmetical, Holmes on, xiv. 6337, 6342; of the universe, Marcus Airelius on, ill 1183; Carlyle's definition of vi 2555; evil effects on, of interruption. Marcus Anreius on, in 1185; carjue's deministron of, vi 253; evil effects on, of interruption, xiv. 6786-7; modern need for independence of, see "The Despotism of Custom," vii 7581; Bacon on control of, vvii 7593, difference between the Oriental and the Occidental, vviii 8514; its entanglement with moral qualities, xt. 7.23; Schopeniumer on reading to thinking, xt 75.23 sq ; its inability to heal sorrow, xvi 7505; Bagelot on "intellectual persecution." vix. 6005; i's influence in modifying bodily structure, xm 5943

MINING INDUSTRIES: in Britain under Roman rule, vi 2553; in Thrace, Spain, and Germany, x. 4778; abandoned near Killarney,

nx. 4533; large mining possessions of the King of Spain, vili 3783 MINSTRELS AND TROUBADOURS: iv 1646, 1932; of ancient Rome, i 456, 459, 460; as spies, iv. 1737; minnesinger, iii. 1449, 1454; Welsh harpers, xviii. 8319; Piper Allan, ziv. 6551

MIRABEAU: his anxiety to be Prime Minister, vi 2564; Macaulay on his own article on, xvi

MISERS: see WEALTH
MISSIONS, FOREIGN (see also JESUITS):
Christiant, spread by Leff Ericsson in Greenland, v. 4843 sq., by Spain among the Indirus, v 2256; tract to convert the people of Malabar, written by Macanlay at 7, xvi. 7491.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER, the: opened to navigation, xv 6055

MOHAMMED (see also KORAN, MOHAM-MEDANISM): on kingship, xii 6206-7; fiction condemned by, xii 6194 (see also Generm index)

MOHAVIMEDANISM (see also KORAN, MOORS, and TURKS): in Spain, in, 1236-9, during Crusades, in 1495; Frederick II. snspected of, ir, 1651; faunticism of, vin 6269, 6212; prohibition of usury ramong behevers, xi
5102-3, of bells, xvi 7410; difficulties of Christians visiting mosques, viii 6214-6

MOHAWKS, the: see PUGILISM.
MONARCHY (see also FEUDALISM, GOVERNMENT, and Machiavelle's "Prince," v 2083): Greek view of, il 770, Maccdonian, il 772-3; American hostiliti to, ix 4921, Solon's, il 564; Byzantine Empire an object lesson in, x 4768; Paine on the absurdity of, vl 4929, Mohammed on kingship, xili 5206 7, Carlyle on, xx 9576, Comines on, ix 1598-1900; need that subjects should grant their own money, Tr. 6021; conflict between kings and russals, th 1487, iv. 1869, t. 1948, 2126, rr 2557 eq. see also DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENT; pecultar power of Pernylan Incas, v 2230, Calvin chilar power of Fernitain liness, 1235, Cathagain, v. 2301. English royal power strengthened by Henry II, vi 2507, Hobbes on the liberty of subjects, vii 3388 sq., royal titles, vii 3129; vrolent end of ninn kines, 12, 4025-6; the French Revolution a lesson to, x, 4047-8; c. research reference in American colonies. tent of roral influence in American colonies, x. 4904, 4903-7, 4909; flattering effect of peti-tions to kings, x. 4926; small islands the proper object of monarchical protection, x. 4027; essential restlessness of monarchical gov-eruments, xl. 1980 MONCK, GENERAL GEORGE: Fuller on, vii 3303.

MONKEYS (see also "The Orang-Utan," xvi 7621): zoōlogical relations to man, xul 5931, instances of moral qualities in, xul 5941-5

mstances of moral quanties in, xiii 5044-5
MONMOUTH, DUKE OF: vii 8327-8, 8334; marriage of, vii, 8331; rebellion of, viii 3656 sq
MONOPULES (see also TRUSTS); of Bank of England on issuing notes, vi 2920; Governmental, their absence in England, xiv. 6505; landed, vs. peasand proprietorship, vi 2441.
MONOTHEISM: i 11-12; Christianity the highest form of, xi 5265.

MONTAIGNE: Hamerton on his intellectual opportunities, xiv. 6792 (see also General In MONTECUCULLI: his victory at St. Gothard, x 4620 MONTESQUIEU: as a stylist, vii 5414 (see also General Index) MONTGOMERY, ROBERT: severely criticised by Macanlay, vvi 7493 MONTROSE, MARQUIS OF

Carlyle on, vi 2563

MOORS (see also "Poem of My Cid," ni. 1231-6, and "Moslem Domination in Spain," nil 1236; how brought into Spain, vii 8511-2; as husbandmen, vii. 3755, battle of Roncesvalle, bandinen, vill. 3780, battle of Roncesvalles, vill 1411.

MORAL QUALITIES (see also FRIENDSHIP, HEROISY, HUMAN SYMPATHY, and "Morahity Independent of Utility," xvill. 8642): memory the basis of, xill. 5937; the universe possessed of, xv 7109 sq; weakness of the modern method of developing, xvi 7591-2, 7593; agreement of all teachers upon, vv 7682; Greek ideals of, ix 4175, see also "Ethics of the Heroic Age," xx 9359; Hume on the effect of arts and sciences on. vill 8576. on the effect of arts and sciences on, vin 3876, on the effect of arts and sciences on, viii 8576, 2577; false standards of, among savages, xiii 5937; Darwin on the possible heredity of, xiii 5937; Sir Thomas Browne on the difficulty of practicing, vii 2558-9; their development in man, xiii 5937-7; infinenced by a belief in God, xiii 5937-xi 6957; the positive better than the negative, xiv. 6957; the positive by temptation (Liputetus), iii 1819, the necessary basis of government, xv. 6951; effect on analysis of a first over and denomination of a first over and denomination of a first over and denomination. morals compared, of anstocracy and democracy, xx. 7247 sq; their fusion with the intelect, xv. 7293; development in children, see Herbert Spencer's "Moral Education," xvi

MORE, MRS. HANNAH: on the child Ma canlay, xvi 74°3, 7492 MORE, SIR THOMAS. uncodotes of, vi. 2642-8, 2649 (see also General Index) MORNOMISM: see POLYGAMY MOREIS, WILLIAM: "The Earthly Paradise,"

MORRIS, WILLIAM: "Indeparting Paradise," I 96 (see also General Index)
MOSCOW: Bismarch on, xix, 9134-6
MOSES training of, 182, Michael Angelo's statue of, 147, Dante on the final salvation of, in 1103
MOZZART, contrasted with Beethoven, viv.

7667

MÜLLER, MAX. on the hibelungenlied and the "Munnesanger," in 1451 sq.; on the Romante School, in 1455 (see also General Index), MUMMIES (see also "The Tombs of the Kings," viu. 8807): Peruviu, v. 2251, 2254 MUSIO (see also MinSTRELS AND TROUBADOURS, and Collins' "Ode on the Passions," viil. 8830; delichts of, iii 1245; Kero's love for, ii 1245-7; Benvennto Cellini's talent batdistaste for, v. 2187-8, 2190, 2891-4; Luther's love for, v. 2327, George Herbert's, vii 3356, the negro's, xviii. 883; Roger Ascham on, vi.

dawn and sun myths, xvii 2275-6; Orpheus and Enrydice a type of, xvii 8275-6

NAVAL WARFARE (see also THE INVINCIBLE ARMADA and PIRACY); opened by Elizabeth, vi 2675; between England and the allied Powers, xv 6937 sq. Spanish, vi 2693; England the first to build fingates, vii 3553; fire England the first to build fingates, vii 3853; fire ships, vii 3854; slege of Lei den, vi 2654 eq; bittles of Actium, li 203-4; attack of the Crusaders on Constantinople, vi 1604-5, battle of the Baltic, x 4657-9, of Trafaigar, x 4743 sq., of Cape St Vincent, xx. 6641, of the War of 1812, x. 4716 sq; French fleet destroyed by John of England, vi. 2560; decay of Spanish navy, viii 3443, Hamilton on America's need for a navy, ix. 4940
NECKER, JACQUES: downfall of, vi 2864-5
NEERWINDEN, BATTLE OF: vii 3121-2
NEGRO RACE, the (see also SLAVERY and "Toussaint L'Onverture," xx 9572): their love of music, xviii 833; transportation of free of music, xmi 8333; transportation of free negroes proposed by Webster, xix 8336, 8542; negro population of colonial America, xi 4903—4; carnival among Jamaica negroes, xix.

4903-4; carnival among Jamaica negroes, xiv. 6634 sq
NELSON, ADMIRAL: x. 4743
NEMESIS, DOCTRINE OF see RELIGION
NEOLOGISM: Max O'Rell on the craze for, xiv. 6517-8; Addison's dislake of, xiv 6517.
NERO, THE EMPEROR: iii 1121, 1295 sq; on Seneca, vi 2650; Vespasian on, vi. 2645; Apollonius on, vi 2645; Apollonius on, vi 2645, NETHERLANDS, THE (see also HOLLAND, Early Dutch Poetry, iv 1603 sq, "The Rellef of Leyden," vi 2654, and "Charles V." vi 2665): assisted by England against Spain, vi 2654; assisted by England against Spain, vi 2674 sq; Louis XIV at war with, vii 3120-2; religious wars in, vi 2655; its mediaval cities compared with others, iv. 1859; assistance against the Invincible Armada, vi. 2698
NEW ENGLAND: personnel and government

new England: personnel and government of its colonies, xi 4913-4, xviii 8520-1; popula tion of, vi 4903, commerce of, xviii. 8521; the Calvinism of, xviii 4914-5
NEW JERSEY: as an English colony, xi 4910.
NEW MAN, FRANCIS W.: translation of

NEWMAN, FRANCIS W. translation of Homer, 1, 147. NEWMAN, JOHN HENRY: on personal influence in religious propagation, vix 8902 (see nlso General Index )

NEW ORLEANS: before and after the Civil

NEW ORLEANS: before and after the Civil War, xvi 7690-1
NEWSPAPERS: see JOURNALISM
NEWTON, SIR ISAAC: Pope on, vill. 8463;
Thomson on, vill 8534
NEW YORK CITY (see also "New York after Paris," xvi 7685): importance in colonial times, xi 4910-2: satire on Dutch colonial life in, see "The Golden Regn of Wonter Van Twiller," xv. 6826; shop windows of, xvi 7695; its colonial Assembly suspended by England, xv 6927-8; Wall Street speculations, see "The Erio Railway Scandal," xix 8385 sq; land controversy with Vermont, xv. 6955
NIBELUNGENLIED: see EPICS and General Index

eral Index

NICARAGUA: Walker's connection with, xvi 7001-1

NIEBUHR: on Roman history, i. 440, 460; on

NIEBUHR: on Roman history, i, 440, 460; on Roman balladists, i 460; on power of Macedonian kings, is a fill in the fill in the dawn and sun myths, xvil 5275; Orpheus and NORSEMEN, the: Yule among, x 4808, 4817; Enry dice a type of, xvil 5275-6 discovery of America by, see "The Finding of Wineland the Good," x. 4803; berserks, x 4S16 50

NORTH CAROLINA · in colonial times, xi 4905

NORTH, LORD: made Prime Minister, xv 6927; attitude toward America, xv 6930, 6939; resignation of, xv. 6936-7, 6939: his ministry n screen for George III's despotism, xv 6940, Gibbon on x 6615 Gibbon on, v. 4605

NORWAT · coast towns of, xviii. 8362; folk-tales of, see "Tales from the Field," xvi 1322. NULLIFICATION: see AMERICA, State

Rights

ODYSSEUS: and Circe, i 232; and Calypso, i 264; and Nansicas, i 277; and the Cyclops, i. 213

218
OLAF TRYGGVASON, KING: \(\tau \) 4803
OLD AGE: Walpole on, \(\tau \) 3903, 3914, 3918;
Farker's sermon on, \(\tau \) 5278-51, undesirability of attaining, \(\tau \) 2884-6, compensations of, if 943 sq.; transitory nature of its griefs, \(\tau \) 4109;
Shelley on its blighting effect, \(\tau \) 6137
OLYMPIC GAMES, the \(\tau \) 507-11, ii 743;
Alexander and, \(\tau \) 309, Bacon on, \(\tau \) 2633; the training for, ii 1823
OLYMPUS; see MYTHOLOGY.
ORATORY (see also LANGUAGE and Quintilian's "Jocular Oratory," ii 915) the Asiatic school of, ii S00; Demosthenes on, ii 735 sq; how to perfect oneself in, iv 1551; of Cromtilian's "Jocalar Oratory," ii 915) the Asiatic school of, ii 830; Demosthenes on, ii 735 sq; how to perfect oneself in, iv 1557; of Cromwell, Carlyle on, vi. 2559-60; of Shaftesbury and Habiax, Maccalas on, ril 3375; Carlyle on sincerity in, xlis 6950-2; of the Prince Imperial, xviii 8385; of Thackery, xix 8349-50; Da Vinci on its pictorial representation, v. 2055 sq; its unsatisfactory preservation for posterity, ix 8341; the English able after-dinner speakers, xiv. 6514; sermons seldom preached in early England, iv. 1637; able Parliamentary speakers on the Revolutionary War, x 4605-6 ORIENT, the: despotism of custom in, xvi 7592-3; mental characteristics of, xvii 6514; n magician of, xi 5104 sq; florid language of, xii 6191 sq; warm friendships rare in, vii 3199; marriage enstoms in, iii 1012; in-equality of commercial exchange between Roman emplro and, x 477; eveited by Sir Sydney Smith's achievements, xi 5131; influence of its superstitions on resident Europeans, xix 8704; Alexander's view of its nations, ii 71; theory of grypsies castward magration, xi 5132, an Fastern herem, viii 8405-7 ORMUZD (OROMASDES) (see also ZORO-ASTER): 1.9

ORPHEUS AND EURYDICE: see MY-THOLOGY.

THOLOGY.

OSSIAN: Cesarotti's translation of, xil. 5113

OSSIAN: Cession is translation of, the bild (see also General Index) OVID: In the shades, iii 1103; belief in metem-psychosis, at 5271 (see also General Index) OAFORD MOVEMENT, the; see TRACTA-RIAN MOVEMENT.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY: renown in 13th century, iv 1630; Johnson's praise of, ix 4230-1; Lumb's vielt to, xi 5063

PAGEANTS AND PROCESSIONS (see also AGEANTS AND PROCESSIONS (see also GLADIATORIAL SHOWE, OLTMPIC GAMES, and "The Tournament," iv 1515): triumphai, of Trajan, ili. 1139, of Aurelius, til 1866 eq.; penifertial. Iti 1142, doring the Milan plazue, v 2405; of Antony and Cleopatra, it 877, 593; of congenting Crusaders, iv. 1465; pilgrimages, iv. 1455 eq.; coronation of the Inca of Peru, v. 274; the Kenilworth rerels, xill. 6705; celebration of the Prince Imperial's majority, xviii, 8362-3. ili. 1323, Schopenhauer ou the true, xvi. 7536.

a Persian, xiii. 6198-6200.

PHOCION: Alexander's attempted bribery of, vi. 2647; on Philip and Demosthenes, xill.

PHENICIANS, the: ii. 509.
PHYSICS: see NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.
PHYSIOLOGY (see also "The Heart," xviii.
8482, "The Investigation of Life," xvii. 3681, and "The Physiology of Laughter," xvi. 7661, and
"The Successful Experiment in Desiccation," xx. 9382); coroponents of protoplesm, xx. 8490-5; the hypoglessis more pliant in woman than in mao, xiv. 6516; evolution, see Darwin's "Descent of Man," xiii. 5931.
PILGRIM FATHERS (see also COLONIZA-

FILGRIM FATHERS (see also COLONIZATION, PURITANS, SEPARATISTS; "Priscella," xx. 9567, and "Betty Alden and her Companions," x. 4857); birthplace and origin of, xi. 4963, 4963.

"PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, THE": Franklin

"PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, IA.": Francisin oo, xv. 6870 (see also General Index).
PINCKNEY, WILLIAM, the great pleader: anecdote of, xiv. 6341.
PINDAR: il. 787.
PINDAR: pETER: conversation of, xi. 5062.
PIP (in "Great Expectations"): xvii, 7992.
PISISTRATUS: i. 148; il. 505, 507-8, 501, 574; il. 1694.

iii. 1884.

m. 1834.
PITT, WILLIAM, the elder (Lord Chatham):
Walpole on, ix. 8929-28-34; incorruptibility of,
ix. 4281; friendship for America, xl. 4990; first ministry of, xr. 6926, helplessness in his second, xr. 6927-29-31; George III.'s opposisecond, xv. 0921-29-41; George 111. s opposi-tion to, xv. 0996; his proposed concessions to America, xv. 0932, 6936; corner-stone of his foreign policy, xv. 6936; his last public reap-pearance, xv. 6936-7. PITT, WILLIAM (the Younger): death of, xi.

5181

of so-called Persian tales from the Hindn, xiii. 6194-5. PLAGIARISM: Lucian and Martial, ii. 554;

PLAGUES: sec PESTILENCES. PLANTAGENETS, the (see also ANGEVINS): Richard I., vii. 8301, lv. 1483 sq.; John, vi.

Richard I., VII. 5301, IV. 1355 8Q.; 50nn, VI. 2551 8Q.
PLANTS: see HORTICULTURE.
PLATO: nneedote of. iii. 1835-6, vi. 2647; on tho soni, ii. 890, xi. 5271; Pasenl on, xi. 643; on Socrates, vi. 2647; on democracy, xix. 8579; on literary censorship, vii. 3277; his "Republic," i. 65; his system compared with Bacon's, ii. 664-fic; his doctrino of sin, iii. L293 (see also General Index).
PLEBULANS: see PARTIES.

PLEBEIANS: see PARTIES, POLITICAL,

Rome

PLEBISCITE: see SUFFRAGE.

PLINY: on inenbators, i. 67 (see also General Index).

PLUTARCH: 1, 425; best authority on Alexander, it. 768 (see also General Index).
POCAHONTAS: Smith's life saved by, x. 4845-

46-52.
POETRY (see also AUTHORS, BALLADS, EPICS. MINSTRELS AND TROUBA-DOURS, and SATIRES): el aracter of, I. 331; ballad verse, i. 145; Luther on affected writers of, v. 2324; Cowley on the love of, vi. 2582; Goethe on prosetranslations of, vi. 2587; Boilean on the art of, vi. 315-53; Walpole's taste In, ix, 2937; Solon's, ii, 538-9-6; Johnson's, Birrall on v. 4900 on: 10 Musset's, Et. Belve ix, 2937; Solon's, 11, 5:55-14-6; Johnson's, Mir-rell on, 1x. 4260 sq.; De Musset's, St.-Beuve on, xi. 6214 sq.; the "fermenting" stage of, xix, 8665-6; Findar the moster of Greek Tyric Pocity, 1. 153; of early Rome restricted to patrician solijects. i. 456; Franklin's early attempts, at, xv. 6862. Macanlay's, xvi. 7491-2; the independent of contemporary xvi. 839-20; the judgment of contemporary, xix. 5959-60; t'e ballad form of, i. 147; its different aspect to Goethe and De Musset, xi. 5217; Italian minor poets unknown to foreigners, xii. 5418; the most favorable channel of Southern genins, xii. 5414; French war songs, xiii. 6109-9 Holmes on the difficulty of the last stanza, xiv. 6317-S; old German love songs, iil. 1448-55; Lessing on its advantages over pictorial art, ix. 4170 sq. Gosse on the appreciation of, Intro. vol. vuil Brucetière on French, Ictro. vol. xviii, POISONING (see niso "The Medici," vi. 2470):

in mediavral Veolce, v. 2359; the Milan plague attributed to, v. 2399 sq; supernatural, of Philoctetes, ix. 4172; robe of Nessus, i. 366 POLAND (see also "Charles XII.," viii. 3753, "The Death of Rodzivill," viii. 3683, and "With Fire and Sword," vii. 3288); fall of, xii. 5405-6; its notive music remodeled by Chopin, xviii. 8821.

POLITICAL CORRUPTION (see also "Tho Eric Ratiway Scandal," xix. 8866): in the Germon press, Eismorck on, xix. 9123; one reason for American endurators of, xix, 5579, one reason for American endurators of, xix, 5579, POLITICS: see BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION, GOVERNMENT, PARTIES—POLITICAL, and POLITICAL CORRUPTION, POLYGAMY: in Mocedonia, ii, 772; description of an Eastern harem, viii, 3495-7; Morroscorian and the contraction of the contra monism, satire on, see "A Mormon Romance," xr. 7238

POLYTHEISM (see also MYTHOLOGY, Greek): the public religion of the pre-Christian world, xi. 5255; among the Tartars, x.

4839.
POLYXENA: see HUMAN SAGRIFICES.
POMPEY: ii. 632, 825 sq.; iii. 1110; Juvenal on, iii. 1124; anecdote of, vi. 2646.
POPE, ALEXANDER: his translation of Grubally and Story and Story are strong averagin to Grubally and Story are strong of the strong averaging averaging of the strong averaging of the strong averaging of the strong averaging of the strong averaging averaging

Homer, 310, 312; strong aversion to Grub-Street, ix. 3936; Johnson's estimate of, in "Boswell's Reminiscences," ix.4210; on Bacon, vi. 2030; contrast between his person and Thackeray's, xix. 8947 (see also General Index).

POPES, the (see also CHURCH—MEDIÆ-VAL): power in England under Henry III., iv. 1629; imprisonment by Charles V., vi. v. 1629; imprisonment by Charles V., vi. 2666; Frederick II. the grootest adversory of, iv. 1655; less powerful in Rome than elsewhere, v. 2850; Jesuits' consecrated to the service of, v. 2876-81; condition in 16th century, vi. 2864-8; Pins V. and Thomos Stuckley, vii. 2802-3; Pins VII., letter to Nopoleon, x. 4718; Sixtas V., sttempt to regain Papal authority over Lingland, vi. 2876, 2712; Gregory VII.'s plan of action against Turks, iii. 1425; Martin II.. Crusades organized by, iii. 1421; Innocent III., and John of England, vi. 2855; cq. Crusaders rebuked by, iv. 1599, 1600-7; Alexader VI. and Savonarola, v. 2011-15-17, 2044, 2055; Leo X., v. 2157.
POPULAR GOVERNMENT: see DEMOCRACY, GOVERNMENT: see DEMOCRACY, GOVERNMENT: see DEMOCRATIO MOVEMENT:

GRATIO MOVEMENT.

POPULATION: of 16th-century England, vi. 2434 sq.; of 17th-century Spain, viii. 3785; of carly Rome, x. 4775; of America in 1754, xi. 4903-4-9, in 1783 and at present, xv. 6942-3, slave, xx. 6725; of Australasia, xv. 6943; of Europe, drained by persecutions, xviii. 8504-5; the science of, rejected by the multitude, xix. 8596; its refuse drained off by emigration, xvi. 8506; Johnson on stationariness of, ir. 4247; degrees in 18th-centure France through former. decrease in 18th-century France through famine,

r. 4706, 4709, 4502.

POVERTY (see also "On Being Hord Up, rrill, 6429); fricodship tested by, fv. 1775-8 Johnson driven to authorship by, vi. 2504; marriage among French pearants decreased by, x. 4799; the handwald of philosophy, ii. 930-1; its terrors increased by marringo, xvii. 8628-9; universality in Middlo Ages, see GOOD OLD TIMES; misers, see WEALTH.
POWHATAN: and Captain Smith, x. 4845,

POWHATAN: and Capacitation of the Prince," vi. 2007, and "The Affected Ladies," vil. 803): v. 2226, of Cleopatra, ii. 639-90; Italian, iv. 1703; pinyed on the Princesse d'Hurcont, vil. 8185 sq., on Parson Adums, ix. 8976 sq.; Peg Woffington and the portrait, vill. 8098 sq.; Sanche Panza's government, v. 2278 sq.

PPAKEIT: see SANSKRIT AND PRAKBIT.

PRAKRIT: see SANSKRIT AND PRAKRIT.
PRECOCITY (see also "Murjorie Fleming," xil. 5463): moral, Herbert Spencer on its evils, xvl. 7578-4; Macaulay's, xvl. 7487 sq.; in crime, Francesco Cenel's, vl. 2467.
PRESBYTERIANISM (see also CALVINISM)

CALVINISM and PURITANISM; the party of, and Charles I., vi. 2855; Butler's satire on, vit. 3343-4; beginnings of, xi. 4964; unpopularity under Charles II., vii. 3825-33; Archhishop Williams on, vi. 2340; increase in colonial Williams on, vi. 2340; Increase in colonial Pennsylvania, zi. 4910. PRESS, the: see COURT JOURNALS and JOURNALISM.

PRESTER JOHN: see MYTHOLOGY.
PRESTER JOHN: see MYTHOLOGY.
PRETENDER, THE OLD (see also JACOBITES and STUARTS): viii. 3451 se.
PRETENDER, THE YOUNG (see also JACOBITES and STUARTS): sdvance to Derby, ix. 3923; last struggle for the crown, x. 4588 eq.

PRICES: of a villein's freedom, iv. 1627; of food in medieval England, vi. 2445-6; of blood, food in medieval England, vi. 2445-6; of blood, vi. 2347, 2640; of bread In colonial Boston and Philadelphia, compared, xv. 6372; of "Pnradise Lost," xvi. 7523; rise of, from giut of precions metals, v. 2223; lowered in Sparts by Lycnrgus, i. 424; landa sold for n song by Crusaders, ill. 1428; n king's ransom, vii. 3301. PRINGE IMPERIAL, the: in the Franco-Prusstan vur., xviii. 8380-1; military education and life in England, xviii. 8351-2; character and personal appearance of, xviii. 8352; et projected marriage between him and Priocess Beatrice, xviii. 8382; death of, xviii. 8379, 5098-01. PRINTING (see also BOOKS): v. 2340, 2341-2; Milton on freedom in, viii. 3275 sq; vulne of universities affected by its invention, xiii. 5948; William Bradford, xv. 6870. PRIOR, MATTHEW: Jobnson on, ix. 4238 (see also General Index).

(see also General Index).

PRISONS (see also "The Prisoner of Chillon," xiv. 6306, and "The Man in the Iron Mask." vii. 2604): of Dionysins, i. 142; of Lonis XI., vii. 2694): of Dionysins, i. 142; of Lonis XI., iv. 1920; mediawal, iv. 1696; in the Sonth dirighte Civil War, xv. 7300; Villon on, v. 2162 sq.; André Chenier on, x. 4650-1; Imprisonment of Nævins, i. 460, of free negroes in America, xix. 8538, of Tonssaint in the Castle of St. Joux, xx. 9552-3, of the Constable de Montmorency, v. 2117 sq., of Loyola, v. 2371, of Frederick the Great by his father, x. 4405 sq. of Mme. Roland, x. 4629, of Louis XI. by Chnifes the Bold, iv. 1900, of Joan of Arc, vii. 3159 sq., of La Fayette, x. 4629, of Browno the Separatist, xi. 4966, of Silvio Pellico in the fortress of Spielberg, xi. 5004 sq., of Richard Cœur-de-Lion, iv. 1518, of Archbishop Williams in London Tower, vi. 2857-90, forture of prisoners, iii. 1433, v. 1949, by Indians, x. 4609-3; xx. 9561.

4600-3, XX. SOIL.
PROGRESS (see also CIVILIZATION and
"Arrest of Progress by Democracy," xix.
SS94): liberty the only sonrce of, xxi. 7592.
PROPERTY (see also WEALTH): ancient rights of women in, ill. 1025, 1432; safety of, in Americs, xix. SSSI; of the mediaval Church exempt from taxation, iii. 1435, 1139; of the King of Spain in 16th century, vill. 3763; community of, in early society, vi. 2548; fendal succession to, iil. 1432; of Crusadera soid for a song, iil. 1428; division of, in Sparta, i. 423-4; Lord Baltimore's proprietary rights in Maryland, ix. 4908; landed monopoly vs. peasant proprietorship. vi. 2441: military hasis of land-land, ix. 4905; landed monopoly 78. peasant proprietorship, vi. 2441; military basis of land-hodding, vi. 2439 aq.

PROTESTANTISM (see niso REFORMATION) and RELIGIOUS PERSECUTIONS): the religion of colonial America, xv. 6922-3; liberty given to women by, xv. 7242-3; Cnryle on the culminating point of, vi. 2866; its inability to comprehend Cutholicism, xili, 6118; America a refuge for oppressed Protestants, xi. 4924; Philip II. a campaign a movement Catholic against Protestant Europe, vi. 2679.

PROTOPLASM: see LIFE. PROVERBS: "the literature of reason," xv.

7113

PSYCHOLOGY: sco MIND.
PTOLEMAIC ASTRONOMY: see ASTRON-OMY

PTOLEMIES, the: I. (Soter) and Thais, il. 752; (Philadelphus) as nrt patron, 717; XIII. (Auletes), il. 831; XV., ill. III1; Keraunos, slain by Gauls, il. 781.

PUGILISM: among Jamaica acgroes, xiv. 6642-3; decline of, in modern England, xiv. 6506; fighting n benithy human instinct, xiii. 5956-7, 5959; unusual nmong Rugby boys, xiil. 5956; the Mobawks, viii. 3701.

PURITANS, the (see also CROMWELL, PIL-GRIM FATHERS, PRESBYTERIANISM, REVOLUTIONS, ENGLISH, and SEPA-RATISTS): satire on ("Hudibras"), vii. 3339; conversion of Indians little attempted by, v. 2256; in America, life and manners among, v. 2256; in America, life and manners among, see "Betty Alden and ber Companions," x. 4857, and "The Trial of Deliverance Wentworth," xi. 4852; Separatists the advance guard of, xi. 4963; within the Church of Eugland, xi. 4964-5; the Scotch a nation of, vi. 2867; theaters closed by, vi. 2569; in moderu England, Max O'Rell on, xiv. 6511, 6512; the Puritan Parliament, vi. 2563, 2570-1; aversion to sports and games, xiii. 6005-6, snecess in suppressing them, xiii. 6008-9; hatred of pans, xiv. 6345; "Pride's Purges," vi. 2869.
PUSEY, DR. EDWARD B.: Newman on, xi. 5159-61.
PYRRHUS: ii. 916; vi. 2641; anecdote of, v.

PYRRHUS: ii. 916; vi. 2647; anecdote of, v. 2225-6.

PYTHAGORAS (see nlso METEMPSYCHO-SIS): i. 141 sq.; fi. 514; vl. 2599; xl. 527; nneedote of, iil. 333.

QUAKERS, the: persecutions of, see RELIG-IOUS PERSECUTIONS; at table, Lamb on, xvi. 7317; Bancroft on their infinence in colonial Pennsylvania, xi. 4910; John Wool-man, xi. 4910-1.

RABELAIS: anecdotes of, vi. 2639, 2644 (see also General Index). RACES: see ETHNOLOGY and NA-TIONS.

RALEIGH, SIR WALTER: anecdote of, vi. 264I : Fuller on, vii. 3305 sq.; coloniza-tion of Virginia by, vi. 2675 (see also General Index)

RAPHAEL: v. 2205; painting of his "Galatea," xvii. 8297.

READING (see also BOOKS and LIBRA-RIES): 7s. thinking, Schopenbaner on, xvi. 7529 sq.; as n laxury, xix. 8966.
REBELLION: Sepoy, see SEPOY REBELLION: War of the, see UNITED STATES, Civil War.

REFORNATION, the (see also PROTESTANT-ISM und RELIGIOUS PERSECUTIONS): Calvin's defense of, v. 2385 sq; occupations in Europe interrupted by, vi 2488; Abelard's soul revived in, iii 1448; spread in the Netherlands through Charles V.'s German allies, vi 2666-7; Charles V.'s attitude toward, vi 2666-7; Charles V.'s attitude toward, vi 2666-7; Charles V.'s attitude toward, vi 2695-7; Espi Edict of Nantes, xi 3982 REFUGEES: see EMIGRATION and EXVI.*

EXILE

EXILE
REGULUS: Bolingbroke on, vist $500-1
RELIGION (see also BUDDHISM, CHRISTIANITY, CHURCH, GOD, IMMORTALITY, KORAN, MONOTHEISM, MYTHOLOGY, PANTHEISM, POLYTHEISM, RELIGIOUS ORDERS, RELIGIOUS PERSECUTIONS, THE SOUL, THEOGRADY, ZOROASTER): of American Indians, vistable and Christian world at $505. 20ROASTER): of American American, 2624; of the pre Christian world, al 5265, of Tartars, their gods numerous, x 4839, of Tartars, their gods numerous, x 4839, of early Etruscans, in 640, of Sandwich Islanders, x 7118; Pomeranian gods, ii 1855-7; and philosophy, Bacon on, vi 2623; in America, xx. 7244-5; original heart of universities toward, xx. 7244-5; original heart of universities toward, xx. 7244-8; original toward, xx. 7274-75; original heart of universities toward, xx. 7244-75; original heart v. 2834, xviii 85034; Newmon on personal influence in propagating, xix 8902, Gicero on Roman puety, xi 2024-5, connection between political and religious liberty, v. 2666-7.

Formar on Religious Criticism, Irtro vol via RELIGIOUS ORDERS (see also JESUITS) and VESTAL VIRGINS): Thomas à Kempis on, v. 2114; cobbacy of, enforced by the canon law in 1620 Law and VESTAL VIRGINS). on, v. 2114; centacty of characters of the canada, in 1630-1, its evil results, xvm 8.03-4; St. Bernard's remark about the priesthood, vi 2624, ambiguous vi 2406, in Florence, Fratt Nerl, v. 2047, Minorites and Franciscans, see "Bayonarola," v. 2010, friars, reformations wrought by, iv. 1636 sq., described by Chaucer, and the control of the control see "Savonarola," v. 2010, frlars, reformations wrought by, iv. 1636 sq. described by Chaucer, iv. 1791; monks, as supporters of the poor, iv 1641-2, Chaucer's typical, iv 1790-1; Dominicans, v. 2010, in Cuzeo, v. 2255. Oratorians, Barnablies, Fathers of the Flous Schools, Brothers of the Christian Schools, v. 2385; Cordellers, v. 2146 sq.; Association of the Living Rosary, alii 6117. Knights Templar, iii 1037, iv 1493 sq., 1809, hostility to Richard I., iv. 1523; among the Jows, Hierosoly mites, v. vii $475, faddnees, Pharisees, "Boöthusim," viii $437, the Prioresa (Chaucer), iv 1759 sq; the Pardonet (Choucer), iv 1802-3

RELIGIOUS PERSICUTIONS (see also "The Armenian Horrors," xix 9121-2) iv 1463; of Jows, iv 1468, 1641, 1647, v. 2027, 2032, viii. $448; of Savonarola, v. 2011 sq; of Loyols, v. 2371 sq; of Protestante, Colvin on, v. 2392, 2395; Massocra of St. Bartholomew's Day, v. 2315; of English Nonconformists, vi 2639, 2863, vii 3324, xi 4963-65-66-67-70, of Joon of Arc, vii 3153 sq; of Thomas Godwin, vii 3301; of Christian and Faithfui at Vanity Fair, vii 3414; of Catolleis in Englond, vi 2333, vii 3824, in Irelond, xv 6939; of early Christions, iii. 1264 sq; of John Hnss, vi 2938; birerson on their solf-defeating character, v. 7118-9, Enrope's stock impoverished by, vxiii 8504-5, relicious wors in the Netherlands, vi 2655

1 he Inquisition police service of, v. 2274;

Sir Thomas Brownson, vi 2838; Emerson on their self-defaulty character, vv 7118-9, Europo's stock impoverished by, vvii 8504-5, religions wors in the Netherlands, vi 2655. The Inquisition police service of, v 2214, vi Addington Symonds on, vi 2464-5; in the Netherlands, vi 2665; in Spain, v 2214, vi 2709-11, vii 3191; Milton on, vii 8217, 3231; statistics of, xviii 8505. EMUS: see ROME, foundation of EPUBLICS (see also DEVIOCRATIC MOVE—MENT): commercial, of oncient Asia, viii 800NEY, ADMIRAL. hottle of Cape St. Vincent, xv. 6941. RODOLF OF HAPSBUEG anecdote of, i 80, xvi 7601; o free press the foundation of, xix.

REMUS: see ROME, foundation of REPUBLICS (see also DEMOCRATIC MOVE-

8836; Washington on the maintenance of, xx

SS36; Washington on the maintenance of the company of the king of Spanish hishoprics, vill 8784, of the king of Span from cards, vill, 3787, of Philip II, vill 3498; of faxon kings of England paid in kind, ix 4833; of William the Conqueror, ill 1429, payment in currency introduced by, ill 4853; permanent, to the king of England from Virginia, xi 4906, of Lord Boltimore from his Marylond settlement, Lord Boltimore from his Maryland settlement, xi 4903, xi 4908, disordered state in 17th century Spain, viil 8444, evil effects of their numin stration by the Crown, vii. 8804 sq., necessary to support of a government, xi. 4941 sq. REVOLUTIONARY WAR. see UNITED STATES REVOLUTIONS (see also LIBERTY, struggles for) reosons for revolutions in temperate characters, xv. 7250

English, of 1640, see CROMWELL and Clarendon's "History of the Rebellion," rt 2832; of 1688, Boling broke oo, viil 8804 sq. American, see UNITED STATES, ntionary War; Central American, olntionary XVI

7601 sq

French, of 1789, see FRANCE, Revolution, of 1848, viz. 8598.
REYNOLDS, SIR JOSHUA and Johnson, it 42-50-67, portrait of Garrick, xi 7499.
REINHART, C. S. viz. 7690

RHODE ISLAND support of slavery in col-nitions is land support of slavery in colonial times, xi 4914

RICHARD 1 (CEUR-DE-LION) and Saladia, iv 1483 sq., imprisoned by Duke of Austria, iv. 1518; Knight's Templars hostile to, iv 1523, ransom of, vil 3301
RICHARD III in the court of Burgundy, iv 1916

1916
RICHARDSON, SAMUEL. Mary Wortley Montagu on "Pamela," viii $495, Johnson'a admiration far, ix 4223-9, an imitator of Bunyan, xx 6576 (see olso General Index).
RICHELIEU, OARDINAL (see also DUMAS' historical novels, xx 2402): relations with Gaston d'Orleans, xx 17845
RICHTER, JEAN PAUL his melancholy in libraries, xx 17845 (see also General Index).
RIDICHIE (see also BUMOS SATIEE and

RIDICULE (see also HUMOR, SATIRE, and WIT) analysis of, ii 916 sq; of Jenyn's demonology by Johnson, ix 4263; true friendship superior to, ix. 4235-0, vii 7501; Johnson on Foote's talent for, ix 4245; Chesting of the same terfield on the meanness of mimicry, viii 8845; Birrell on "the art of chaffing anthors," ix 4263

RIENZI: Byron on, iti 1874; death of, iv

1725 sq ROBERT OF NORMANDY: anecdote of iv 1458 sq; sells his duchy to William, in anecdote of, 1429

ROBERTSON, DR WILLIAM: Johnson on, ix 4231; his oppreciation of Gibbon's "Rome, xi 4971-2; xx. ROBINSON, REV. JOHN

ROBSART, AMY (see plso "Kenilworth," vi

ROLAND, THE SONG OF: see EPICS.
ROMANTIC SOHOOL, the: Max Muller on,
iii. 1455; its debt to the "Castle of Otranto,"

1x. 8989.

ROME, ANCIENT (see also LATIN LAN-OME. ANOIENT (see also LATIN LANGUAGE): life and monners in: Inxury of, ill. 1115; Cicero on the piety of, vi. 2624-5; a general's triomph, iil. 1866-9; education of youth in, v. 2231; reverence for ancestors, viii. 3795; exposure of lofacts sanctioned in, x. 4779, the name of hall as pluyed by the youth of, xui. 5999, suiced frequent in, in. 1111, importance of bridges in, x. 4774; finance little undersood in, x. 478); Rhuman cruelty, in. 1110; Romans backy ord in apphed selences, III0; Romans backvord in applied sciences, x. 4780; decay of virtue in, ii. 819, lif 1122-7; Roman character, Bolirgbroke on, viii. 3301, resemblance to American, xiv. 6319; drama injored by gladiatoral st nes, ix 4176

drama injored by gladiatoral sin-s, ix 4176
History of: legendary foundation, ill 1005; beginolings of, x 4769 sq; decline of, x 4776 sq; Jewish Wor, x 4752 sq; foundation of its government, xi. 4946; Decius and Manlans, ii. 639 sq; wars with Gauls, ii 642-3; early political parties in, i 466 sq; consols, il. 817; tribnoes, i. 459; limitations of its fame, iii 1838; despotism of Julian and Flavian emperors, i 460; battle of Canner, ii. 803 sq; Greece under the rule of, x. 4767-9; conquest of Britain, vi 253 sq; hurning of, by Nero, iii. 251-60, of the Capitol by Gauls, iv. 1732-3.
ROME, CHURCH OF: see CHURCH, ROMAN GATHOLIC.

CATHOLIC

CATHOLIC.

ROME. MODERN (see also BORGIAS, CHURCH—VIEDLEVAL, HOLY ROMAN EMPIRE, and POPES): decay of virtue in, v. 2465; changed character in 15th ceothry, v. 2351; wickedness of mediaval clergy, iv. 1712 sq; the Cencl, vi 2465 sq. ROMULUS: see ROME, fonndation of. RONCESVALLES, BATTLE OF: iii. 1411. ROSE, HUGHI; and the Tractarian movement, xi bi57-9.

POSE, HUGH: ment, xi 5157-9

ROSEBERY, LORD: impersonation of, see note, xri 7544.

ROSES, WARS OF THE: see "Warwick the Klogmaher," v. 1945, and "The Battle of Barnet," v. 1961.

ROSSINI, GIOACHINO ANTONIO: on "the inspiration of necessity," riv. 6781

ROTENTON, BATTLE OF: x. 4532.

ROUGE, VICOMTE DE: i. 70

ROUSSEAU, JEAN JACQUES Johnson on, ix. 4255-6; and Dr Tronchin, xi 5062; nneedote of, xri 7576-9 (see also General Iodex)

RUSFUS, WILLIAM: see WILLIAM RUFUS.

RUSKIN, JOHN: impersonation of, see note, xri. 7544; on libraries, xri. 7483 (see also General Indox).

RUSSIA (see also Voltaire's "Charles XII," viii.

General Indox).

BUSSIA (see also Voltaire's "Charles XII," viii.

2753, and "Nihilist Circles in Enssia," xviii.

5526): Montesquieu on, vii. 205-6; public baths in the villages of, xiii. 6055; national mosle of, xviii. $319, $321; "sham" marriage in, xviii. $526; opposiog forces in, xviii. $322-5, Gogol on, xviii. $535; railway travel in, xix.

9180; green the favorite color 10, xix. 9134-5; ignorance of the peasants in, xviii $532-3; lack of education omong the soliders, xvii. $532-3; lack of education omong the soliders, xviii. $533; old Cosack iife, vii. 3238 sq; Siberian exile, xviii $526-20; character of the Rossiao yonth, xviii $238-32; hnmillity a Elavonic trait, xviii. $539; Moscow, Bismarek on, xix. 9134-0, b trace by order of the Car, xx. 95-6 Telerni ishchevski, xviii $533; Dostoyevshi, xvii $533, $535. De zvill E533; Dostoyevsin, xvirl E533, 8535. De Vogué on Russian Literature, Intro to vol. xix.

SA'DI immense infinence in Persia, xili 6193 (see also General Index)

SADLER, M. T.: scathed by Macaulay, xv?,

SAGAS (see also "The Suga of Eric the Red," x. 4803, and "The Grettis Suga," x. 4816): character of, i. 811.

BAINT-GOTHARD, victory of: x, 4620. SAINTE-BEUVE, O. A.: on the epics, i. 311 (see also General Index)

SALADIN, SULTAN: and Richard, iv. 1482 sq; nod the rlogs, iv. 1714 sq. SALISBURY, LORD: at the Press Fund din-ner, xviil 5383

SAND, GEORGE: nod the piper, vili. 8320 (see also General Index) SANSKRIT AND PRAKRIT: use of i. 26-11. SANTLEY, CHARLES: his service to music. xvin 8331

XVII 8-51.

SARACENS: see MOORS.

SATIRE: In Rome, n purely untive product, 1.

47. legislation against, 1. 459-60; Greek, II. 541 sq (notnology); on travelers' tales, ii 578 sq (Lucan); Sidonins on the Brigundians, iii.

1162; on medicino, II. 544-5, 559, vi. 2639 (olso

"Gil Blas," vii. 3560; on the Church, lv.

1711 sq. ("Decameron"), v. 1988 ("Morgande Moggioro"); on law and lawyers, vi 2647,

2651, viii 3500, 3297-8; on chivalry, iii 1163 sq.
("Monks and-Giants"), v. 2263 sq ("Don Qnixote"); on nstrology, v. 2214 sq (Rabelals); on pedantic science, vii. 3547 ("Golliver"), xvii 3494 ("Scriblerus"); on pigoon
French, iv. 1763; on Puritanism, vii 3393 sq;
on Monmonth's Rebellion, vi. 2376 sq. ("Abssalom and Achitophel"); on 15th century French society, ("Persian Letters"); on nn absurd religions theory, ix. 4263 sq; Scotch epigrams on Englind, vii. 3300; on Oriental instice, xi. 5100 sq. ("Hinjl Baba"); on English railroad restaurants, xvii 5055 sq ("Tho Boy at Mingby"); on English cheap boardingschools, xiii. 1917, ("Dothehoys Hail"); on historic skeptleism, xx. 9100 ("Historic Donhts relativo to Napoleon Bnonsparte"); on lascoity ns excuse for crime, xx. 9466 ("The losanity of Cain"); on Anglomania, xi 5205-7
("The Anglomaniacs"); French, on England, viii. 3293 sq ("John Bnil mad his Island"); on love of dress, xiv. 6792 ("Nothling to Wear"); on colonial New York, xv. 6826 ("Knickerbocker's History"); on America abont 1840, xv. 7177 ("Mortin Chuzzlewit"); on Mormonism, vv. 7238 ("A Mormon Romonee").
SOHOOLMEN, the (see olso PHILOSOPHY)
Bacon m, vi. 2623, 2653; Monte-quicn on SARACENS: see MOORS.
SATIRE: in Rome, n purely untive product,

SCHOOLMEN, the (see olso PHILOSOPHY)
Bacon on, vi. 2622, 2653; Monte-quien on, vil. 2201.

SCHOOLS: SCO UNIVERSITIES, EDUCA-

TION

GUENCE (see also ASTRONOMY, CHT VISTRY, ETHNOLOGY, EVOLUTION, GIOLOGY, GEOMETRY, MATHEMATICS, NATURAL PHILOSOPHY, PHISTOLOGY, Inxley's "Investigation of Life," xrill 64°2, and "The Successful Experience" in Desication " Life," xviii 84-9, ond "Inconcessini Experiment in Desiccation," xx. 9332): Montes quien on the man of, vii. 32.5-9 a knowledge of, not indispensable to culture, xi. 5277, false statements injurious to, xiii 5931, Goethe's attainments in, xiv. 6764; popular opinion opposed to, xix 8595-6; the law of, xviii 8497-9 its view of min, xvi 7643; Williams on the

its view of min, xri 7643; Williams on the Interture of, Intro to vol xm

SCIPIO, THE ELDER, Machiavelli, on, v. 2085.

SCIPIO, THE YOUNGER, ii 829

SCOTLAND (see also CELTIC LITERATURE, JOHN KNOX, MARY QULEN OF SCOTS. "The Britle of Otterbourne," iv. 1726, "Nigel's Doom," xi. 5319, and "Marion's Death and Wallace's Vengeance," xii 5428); life and manners in: a typical Border farmor, x, 4581 manners in: a typical Border intrinor, X. 4981 sq; privileged position of old servants in, xii 5499, marriage customs among "Auid Lichts," xii 5582 aq; Johnson's disilko of, ix 4281, 4286, 4288; sertrized in "History of John Bull," ix 3601-2; the Gaelic Bible, ix 4267; epigrani on the English, xii 3300; prohibition of games and sports 10, xii 6012; popularity offoot ball in, xii 6012; intermerance in xyi 6503 games and sports 10, Am towa; popularity of 100 ball in, vii 6012; intemperance in, viv. 6503, ascotic spirit in, viv. 6512; Frankhn on Scotch disputationsness, xr 6563; Scotchmen as sol diers, vviu. 8292, 8315, national music of, xvii 8319-20; purish burial a reproveh in, vrii 8415, the Scotch verdict "Not proven," vi. 6722

History of "House of Hanover and, ix 4236; treatment of Charles I is. 4992; Battle of the History of: House of Hanover and, ix 4236; treatment of Charles I, ix 4292; Battle of the Standard, in 1483; roll call of the clans, x 4596; nneedote of James V., xh 6474

SCOTT, SIR WALTER: mnd Pet Mnrjone, xh. 5463 sq; influenced by "Tho Castle of Otranto," ix 3989; n plnyer of football, xh 6012; on dogs, xh. 6548; Virgil compared to xvl. 7504; non Homeric character of his ballad poetry, i 149-52, value of his historical por traits, it. 1865-6, Mrs Ken's knes predicting his filture greatness, xh 5483-1; ancedete of traits, N. 1805-0, AIRS Kell 8 lines predicting his future greatness, xii 5483-1; ancedete of his childhood, xiv. 6512; Macaulay's youthful delight in his poems, xii 7491, returns to die in Scothard, xii 7499 (see also General Index) SCULPTURL (see also COLOSSUS OF RHODLS). Woolnier's statue of Macaulay, xii 7492 school of Barniel Schlopenhauge are xvi 7193; school of Bernini, Schopenhauer on, vi 7592; Max O'Rell on public monuments in London, xlv 6506; colossi of Rameses, i 57-5. EA, the (see also SHIPWRECKS, NAVAL SEA, the (see also SHIPWRECKS, NAVAL WARFARE): compared with the mountains, viv. 657-5, seet of England's power, vi 6941-2; burial at, vvii. 6476, New England colonitis' field of action, vviii 5521.

SECESSION: see UNITLD STAIFS, Civil War

SEJANUS: in 1122-8. SEMIRAMIS: 1 80, iv. 1698

SEVII: AMIS: 1 30, N. 1093
SUNEGA: on force of example, vid 8794; on anger, xiv. 6769, Nero on, vi 2059
SEPARATISM (see also PILGRIV FATHERS and PURITANISM): history of, xi 4963 sq; Robert Browne, xi 4965-6
SUPOY REBELLION, the great efforts of officers tn, viv 6788; Lord Elgin's action in, xi 7668

officers in, viv 6788; Lord Ligin's action in, xii 7698
SERVIOE, DOMESTIC (see niso APPREN TICESHIP and SLAVIRY). favorable conditions in England, vil 3291-8; privileged position of old Seotch servants, xii 5499 sq. corporal puni-liment of, vil 3133-9, 3331-2, pride of family shared by, xiv, 6734; English appreciation of faithfulness in, viv. 8742, testimony of servants, not admitted against masters in Rome in 1112-1; this abolished in Scotland. in Rome, id. 1113-4; tips abolished in Scotland ix. 4285, not customary in Spain, viii. 5756; Thackeray on liveres, xii 1666 SEVIGNE, MVE DE: Horace Walpole on, ix 5059 (see also General Index)

SEWALL, JUDGE SAMUEL: see "The Trial of Deliverance Wentworth," xi 482 SFORZA, FRANCESCO: Machiavelli on, v.

SFORZA, FRANCESCO.

2006.
SHAKESPEARE. Green on, vI. 2571-2; Ben JOSSO on, vi. 2788; Dr. Joluson and his cotone on, ix. 4210-2-1, 4221. Garrick's admiration for, ix. 3078, 4240-1; French view of, vii. 6115, 5421; on football, xin 6007; rated above Dante, vvi. 7505. Imeg nary home life of, xix. 8055 (see also General Intex)
SHARP, BFCK1. see "Rawdon Criwley Be

SHARP, BTCX1 see "Rardon Crisley Be comes a Man 'viv. 6815
SHF YRMAN, THOMAS G xix. 5832
SHELLEY, PERCY BYSSHE: en Lorlon

xiv 6500 · on tea parties, xiv 6515, on old ago, viv. 6787 (see also General Index)

viv. 5137 (see also General Index)

SHERIDAN, RICHARD BRINSLEY: Johnson on, ix 4241 (see also General Index)

SHIPWRICKS (see also "Swass Family Robin son," vin 6149, "Mutineers of the Bounty," v 4509): of the Winte Ship, in 1430, of Virgina, see "Paul and Virginia," x 4488; courage of women in, viv 7515-16; of Loid Wolseley's regiment in the Straits of Sunda, xvi 7508

SHORD STORY, the rise of Harte Intro to

SHORT STORY, the rise of, Harte, Intro, to vol xv

SIBERIAN EXILE SEE EXILE SIBYLIS the SEE MYTHOLOGY. SIDNEY, SIR PHILIP, Fulke Grevile's friendship for, xix 8941-2 ancedate of, 1 80

SIEGFRIED see CPICS, the Mibelungenhed SIGOURNEY, MRS.: parody and criticism of, VLX 8962-3

SIMONIDES: on herees of Thermopyle, i. 422

SIN (see also CRIME) Plato's dectrine of, in 1298; sophistry the basis of, xvi 7672, its na ture, xvi 7672-3 (see also "The Essence of 5m," xvii 7846, "Vain Virtues," xvii, 7846-7); of the imagination, Avin 8469 SINGLETON, MRS ("VIOLET

SINGLETON, MRS ("VIOLET FANE") impersonation of, see note vi 7544
SIRENS, the: see MYTHOLOGY
SKEPFICISM (see also AGNOSTICISM, ATHEISM, and PHILOSOPHY): of Walpole, vr 8931, of the Persian philosopher Barrooyeh, vii 6198-6290, of the first Linghen playwights, vi 2579-70; of the Badducees, viii 8417, self styled, of Hunge, Huxley on,
8499; Campbell on, vii 5408-9, Sir Thomas
Browne on, vi 2889, Hunno on, vii 2867 sq;
Christ's encounter with, xvii $479, vilis of a ration's descent into, vi 2856-7, sattre ou, see "Historic Doubts Relative to Mapoleon Buonmparte," xx 9400; heterodoxy of Frederick nation's descent into, vi 250-7, sattre on, see "Historie Doubles Relative to Napoleon Buonnarte," xx 9400; heterodoxy of Frederick II, is 161, 1567; irreligion of John of Lingland, vi 2555, of William Runis, ill 1429.

SLAVERY (see also "Toussaint L'Ouverture," xx 9512, nad "Elliar's Ereape," xviii 8518); in Sparts 1 428; among Angles and Saxons, vi 2549-10; in Venlee, vi 2528; in anc'ent Rome, x 477-9, the influence of, xv 7295-6 sq; conditions of free labor compared with, xix 8583; great works of natiquity produced by, xix 8590; Mohanmed on, ill 124, 1228-20; vilidangen form of, is 1627, vi 2440, Walpole opposed to, ix 372; Norso discoverers of America thrown into, x 4812; for debt, in early flome, i 457, in Greece, in 1114; pers ants sold into, ill 1438; captivity, iv, 1666, of Capt Smith, x.4826, his secape from, x 4840-1; Rogers on, x 4540; productive of pride in free classes, xx 6223; slave infe full of touching incidents, xvili 8233; slaves not allowed to witness against masters, iii 1114

In colonial America: In Virginia, xi 4006; in Rhode Island, extensively supported, xi 4616; evapoureted a legative New Merica and in Rhode Island, extensively supported, xi 4014; emancipation begun in New dertey and Pennsylvania, xi 4011; Woolman's crusado against, xi 490-11.

Pennsylvania, xi against, xi 4910-11.

In the United States: American government responsible for its sleves, xx 9725; their importation permitted by the Constitution for 20 years, xi 4952; Lincoln's attitude on, xx 725-10, 7295 eq.; prowth of anti-slave-fiching, xx 7295; Webster's 7th of Merch speech, xxii 85-3; Fugnitive Slave Law, Webster or, 5771-585; Fugnitive Slave Law, Webster or, وع الع

SMILES, SAMUFL: on the Huguenots, will.

SMITH, ADIM: Johnson and, ix. 4213 (see also General Index)

SULLIVAN, SIR ARTHUR: Avid. 8381, SUN MYTHS: $60 NATURE MYTHS. SWEDEN AND THE SWEDES: $60 "Times

SWEDEN AND THE SWEDES; sea "Times of Gustavus Adolphus," vil. 8024, and Voltaro's "Charles XII," vil. 3758.

SWLENLY, PETER B.: connection with Eria Railway, viv. 8570-1.

SWIFT, JONATHAN: Johnson's dishko of, ix. 8916, 4233; satricel proposal for disposal of Irish children, xviii. 8412; on how to gain reputation for wisdom, xix. 8905 (see also General Index). eral Index).

eral Index).

SWINBUINNE, A. C.: parody and criticism of, viv. 3964-6 (see also General Index).

SWINDHERDS: low casto in Egypt, i. 67.

SWITZERLAND (see also ALPS): Goldsmith on, xul. 6173-4; political history of, xix. 8897-8; the Constitution of, xix. 8895; Grote on the analogy of its States to the Greek, vix. 8897.

SYBARITES, tho: ii. 505, 509.

SYLLA: see SULLA.

TACITUS: on the office of annals, vili. 8802 (see also General Index).

TACITUS: on the office of annais, viii. 6292 (see also General Index).

TALLEYRAND: accused by Napoleon of suc gesting Duc d'Enghlen's mirder, \( \) 4707; drafter of Shite documents, \( \) 4.765-9-10.

TAMERIAND: see TIMOUR.

TAMMANY HALL: connection with the Eric Railway, aix. 8890-2.

TANCRID: iv. 1161; nobility of, iv. 1463.

TARPEIAN ROCK: il. 941, fil. 1114, 1371.

TARQUINS, the: i 469 sq
TARTARS: allianço with Cossacks, 17th century, vii. 3285 sq. (Sienklewicz); see also "Charles XIII." viii. 8158; John Smith on manners and customs of, \( \) 4.48-10.

TASO: Macaulay on "Jerusalem Delivered," vvi. 1505 (see also General Index)

TATE AND BRADY'S PSAIMS: motre compared with Nibclungeniled, i, 154

TAXATION: of Greeks by Cresus, il. 517, 521; Athens' splendor supported by, aix. 8509; in Rome under Cusar, ii. 895; in Asla under Antony, il. 885; Tiberias on, i, 69; destractive effects in Britain under Roman rule, vi. 2533; mediaval Church property exempt from, ii. 1915. 1439: fendal. iv. 1816-16; caforced. tive effects in Britain under Roman rule, vi 2553; mediaval Churcil property exempt from, in 1435, 1439; fendal, v. 1816-16; enforced collection of Tayes, vi 2457; Danegelli, vi. 2507; of vice in Venice, v. 2355; under Richard and John of Fingland, vi 2557; pryment in currency introduced by William the Conqueror, ix. 4553; limits of Sultan's right of, xi. 441; in Italy in 16th century, vi. 2445; excessive, in 18th-century France, v. 4791-3, cause of chief English contests for freedom, xi. 6921; colonial provided for in English Constitution. or ener Linguist contests for freedom, X. 1991; colonial, provided for in Enclish Constitution, 21, 4983-90; unport dires, laid on American colonies, X. 4901-5-9, XI. 6027-31, evisions of, Xviii. 8564; in early Rome, X. 4774 (see also FREE TRADE); Hamilton on, XI. 4941 sq. North, and American on XI. Washington on its place in popular government, vv. 6958.

TCHERNUISHEVSKI. social system

TEVAS: cession of territory by, six. 8811. THALLS OF MILETUS: anecdotes of, I 116, THESEUS: see MYTHOLOGY THESPIS: in. 574.

THOMAS AQUINAS: see AQUINAS, THOMAS

THRALE-PIOZZI, MRS: 1x. 4237. THREE KINGS, BATTLE OF THE:

TIBERUS, on taxation, i. 69; tyranny of, id. 1112.

THECK: on early Roman poetry, in. 1450; on "Lady Macbeth," xl. 5818.
TILLIER, CLAUDE: on the value of leisure hours, xiv. 6783.

TIME: method of rechoning in Greece, il. 573; how reckoned in Persia, xin. 6209, 6211; Solon's estimate of length of life, ii. 523; the great healer, xi. 5148, xix. 6769; thrift in, xiv. 6711 sq.; miscalculation of, xiv. 6777, 6778 sq.; procrastination may save, xiv. 6777-8; value of idle moments, any. 5783; evil of interruption xiv. 6786-7; infinity of, xvi. 7652-8 (see also OLD AGE); regrets for waste of, xvi. 7671. TIMOUR (TAMERLANE)- lameness of, vi. 2620, TOCQUEVILLE, ALEXIS DE. on modern French lack of individuality, xvi. 7594 (see also General Index).

TOLSTOI, COUNT LYOFF N : drama against Intemperance, Avil, 8533 (see also General Index)

TOOKE, JOHN HORNE: Harlitt on his paradores, ri 5061.

TÖPPPER: on the value of leisure hours, xiv.

TORIES: see POLITICAL PARTIES, American (see also General Index).

TORTURE: of debtors in ancient Rome, i. 457; ORTURE: of debtors in ancient Reme, i. 457; of witnesses, in. 1115-14; of prisoner., iii. 1438, a. 4600-1-2; in religious persecutions, v. 2398; rack and thumb scrow. iv. 1817; pillory, v. 2005 sq.; prevention of sleep, v. 2323 (cf. ii. 786); "Jung Frau," v. 2341; strappado, vi. 2612; to extort treasure, iii. 1438; iii Peru, v. 2231; of Svromrola, v. 2042-5-5; of the Cenci, vi. 2469; by King John, vi. 2555, 2557; Indian, x. 4600-3, xi. 4956, 4961-3, xx, 9561. 9561

TOURVILLE, COUNT DE: capture of Smyrna ficet, vo. 3122
TRACIARIAN MOVEMENT: Newman on

ficet, vi. 3122
TRACTABIAN MOVEMENT: Newman on inception of, xf 5155 eq.
TRADES AND HANDICRAFTS (see also GUILDS, ARTS AND SCIENOFS, APPRENTICESHIP): forbidden to the Spartans, 1 428; Athenian citizens turned to by Solon, ii. 571; list of, in Chancer, iv. 1795; stone-cutting in ancient Arabia, iv. 713; weaving, vi. 2437, of facesfor it 243; class-working in medical. inpestre, i 243; glass-working in medieval England, vu 3310; legislation of Magna Charta touching vt. 2565; in More's Utopia, vt. 2755; origin of, ix. 4348-9; a means and not an end, xi $276. TRAFALGAR, BATTLE OF: x. 4743 TRAJAN: vi. 2648; anecdote of, ili. 1130 TRANSLATIONS: principles of, i. 145 sq., 810 RANSLATIONS; principles of f. 145 sq. 310 sq; Matthew Arnold's lecture on Houser, see "Houser and his Translators," i. 145, "Translators and the Translators," i. 145, "Translators of Honer," i. 310; of German Minnesanger, in 1453; Caxton's, of the "Histor of Trov," iv. 1940; Lond Scales, of the "Sayings of Pholosophers," iv. 1943; Luther's, of the Scriptnes, v. 23.6; of poetry, Goethe on, vi. 2557-5; of Cr ar's Cormentation Internal State of the Publicate Garle, iz 467; of THAILS OF MILETUS: anecdotes 01, 1 10, 11, 158 sq.

11, 158 sq.

THEMISTOCLES: 1 508; his good memory, ii. 140, 158 sq.

141, talent of, ir. 1534; anecdote of, vi. 2640; great his gibt of, xvii 7514

THEOGRACY (see also CALVINISM, and "Government of God in the World," vid. 8531; Euritan ideal of, vi. 253-6, 2570, xi. 1914-15; Euritan ideal of, vi. 253-6, 570 (Tea "Soft of the Bible into Grain, in 155-62.

THECHOPYLE, BATTLES OF: first, between Greeks and Ganls, ii. 7-151

TREATIES: of Pans (1763), ix 4257; of Pruth, vin. 3759; of Brétagny aid Madrid, v. 2125; reace of ateau Cambres s, v. 2125-4; of 1778 letween France and Austrice, xv. 6026; 1778 fetreen fraice and Author, XX. 6925; erding the America Revolution, XX. 6921-2; of the U.S. with Spain, opening the America Costs, Janes of 1794, XX. 6933, peace of America XX. 6934, XX 6955
TRIBUNES, Roman. see GOVERNING BOD-

TROY, TROJAN: see HOMER.
TRUSTS (see also MONOPOLIES and "Tic The Railway Seardal" xix. 6886 sq.): agriction in America against, xix. 5881.
TUDORS, the. see ELIZABETH, HENRY

TURGENIEF, IVAN: treatment of "sham marriages," xviii. 8526; his "Rudin" not a typical Russian, xviii. 8531 (see also General typical Estesian, Xvii. 8331 (see also General Index).

TURKS, the (see also MOHAMMEDANISM, IBRAHIM PASHA, KORAN, "Charles XII." vin 3753 sq; "The Armenian Horrors," xix, 9121-2); as masters of Jerusalem, in 1421; at the time of the Crusades, iv. 1464 sq.; source of their military power, v. 2231; anecdotes of, vi. 2642, 2650; mithilestaness of, vii. 3195; music of, viii. 3497; translationascare among, viii. 5796; capture of Constantinople, x. 4765; Battle of Rotenton, x. 4332 sq; John Smith on life and manners among, x. 4533; Sultan cannot impose new taxes, xi 4941; Lady Hester Stanhope amonz, xi. 5123 sq; Burke on provincial government of, xv 6225; TWAIV, MARK: cause of his first popularity, xvii 7636 (see also General Index)

TWEED, WILLIAM M: connection with the Eure Railway Fing, xix. 5290-2.

"TWO BROTHERS, STORY OF THE ... 69 *90
TYNDALL, PROF. JOHN: Impersonation of, see note, xxx. 7544 (see also General Index)
TYRANTS AND TYRANNY (see also DESPOTISM, PRISONS): causes of, in ancient civilizations, xin. (618-3; Dr. Johnson on, ix. 4265-6; Epictetias on the helple sners of, in. 1313-14; in adversity, iv. 1550; a natural outgrowth of the slave system, x. 4731; popular control of the purse a protection against, xx. 6521. 6921.

ULYSSFS: see ODYSSEUS

UMBRELLAS: in ancient Greece, n. 869.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN": its effect on England, xviii. 833 (see also General Index).

UNTED STATES (see also AMERICA: "Declaration of Independence," xv. 624; "Washington's Farevell Address," xv. 635; 'Strength of American Democracy," xx. 8577): Painc's plan for a union, xi. 4237, vi. 4257, on reed for a recombination against, xi. 427, on reed for navy, xi. 434, and for its construction of the control of the control of the control of the great assimilating country, xiv 6242; a fanctuary for persecuted Protestants, xi. 4324; Ho'mes on its unwardikences, xiv, 6236 (see sanctuary for persecuted Protestants, xi 4924; Ho'mes on its unwarlikences, xiv, 62-5 (see Bryce on, it fra); a "market for Intellectual green fruit," xiv 62-56, xix 5364; main branch of the English race, xv, 624-2-3; population in 1733 and later, xv. 629-2-2; thes with English time, xv. 629-2-2; thes with English time, xv. 629-2-2; thes with English time, xv. 629-2-2; thes with English time through the xv. 1735 ag; De Torquerille on women's favored position in, xv. 7242 sq; e religious country, xv. 7244, 7245; marriage in, xv. 7245 sq; pioneer lie in the Vect, xv. 7245 sq; incompletures its greatest charm, xvii. 8163, 820; effects of political debates or its vernacular English, xix, 6326; Bryce on American political character, xix. 8577 sq ; on its patience under political corruption, xix. 8579; respect for law in, xix. 8579; absence of class feeling in, xix. 8531; absence of in, xix. 8531; aciety of property in, xix. 8531; universal suffrage in, xix 8581-81; great reserve force of government, xix. 8551-2; fraternal feeling in, xlv. 8582-4; hatred of war, vis. 8334.

Coretitution of: incol crence of objections to, xi 4946 s1; Washington on maintenance, xv. 6050-3-5-7; State Rights, Nullification, Secession, etc., see Webster, Reply to Hayne, Secersion, etc., see Nebster, Reply to Hayne, xv. 7200 eq. and on Compromises of the Con-stitution, xix SS31 sq., John Bright on Seces-sion, xx 9723 eq.; balance of power under, xx. SS32; sacredness in the eyes of the people, xx.

8571-9.

Revolutionary War (see also BENEDICT ABNOLD; Patrick Henry's rddress, xi. 4916 sq; "Green Mountain Boys," vv. 6925 sq; "Minder Will Out," xix. 852 sq); Stamp Act, Grenville the author of, xi. 4934, George III. rigrets repeal, xv. 692s; argumentaive side of, xi. 4933-5, discussed in Pariament, x. 4605-6, llorace Waipole's sympathy with cointies, xi. 2003 sq; Declaration of Independence adopted, xv. 6934; Continental Congress, xv. 6931; Battle of Bunker Hill, xv. 6936; of the Brandywine, xv. 6934; of Lorg Island, xv. 6934; St. Leger's campaign, xi. 4973; Buford's Massacre, xiv. 5792; character of the Loy alsits, Massacre, xiv. 5792; character of the Loy alists.

Massacre, xiv. 5792; character of the Loyalists, xi 4°59 sq.
Civil War, the (see also Lincoln's Second Inaugural and Gettysburg address, xv. 7255 sq; Phillips Brooks, sermon on Lincoln, xv. 7291 sq; "The Union Guide," xx. 9671 sq) the slavery question, xv. 7297 rq; involved by Buchran's election, xvi 7595-9; Constitution not affected by, xix. 5573; effects on finance, xix 585-7; Ergland's attitude toward, xx. 97.25 sq; state of the South following, xvi. 7509; compared with Franco Prussian War, xvi. 7599, 7500 university: See also OXFORD, 5CHOOLMEN, EDUCATION, PHILOSO-PHY); the student (Chaucer), vi. 1793 sq;

UNIVERSITIES (see also OXFORD, SCHOOLMEN, EDUCATION, PHILOSO-PHY): the student (Chaucer), iv 1793 sq; lav school of Giovannino de Medic, v. 2003. University of Alcala, v. 2570, of Salamanca, v. 2571, of Pring, v. 2571, 2375; original religious cast of, v. 2354; in Spain in 17th century, vin. 3755. American Tones largely griduates of, in 4952, genesis in Europe, xin. 5948; r. lica of monastics print, xvin 8503-4. USURY: in early Rome, i. 427; in Middle Ages, iv. 1519; Incl. rate caused by scarcity of legal tender, iv. 1651; practised by churching, iv. 1672-3, v. 2213; Bacon on, vi. 2026; forbidden in the Koran, xi. 5762-3; French and English pawnlrokers compared, xiv. 6595.

6505

UTILITARIANISM: xvm. 8462 sq UTOPIA (see also General Index) rt. 672.

VANDERBILT, COMMODORE assists Costa R.comsogningt Nicaragua, xvi. 7701; connection Vith the Erie Reilway Ring, x x. 8883. VANE SIR HARRY, xm 6295

VANITY FAIR . Constant and Faithful at, vu.

VARIATIONS see EVOLUTION. VASCO DE GAMA V 22.28 sq VALVHALL GARDENS: x 4235 sq VEGFTARIANISM: of Frankhip, xv. 6°65.

VENDTIA, it's: among Angles and Saxons, VL 2457; murder of Duc d'Englien an instance of, x. 470; VENICE regn of Pardolo, done of, iv, 1604, 1604, the Fourth Crusade," 1595 5q.; class distinctions in, i. 467; Guelphs and Ghibellines, see POLITICAL PARTIES; beanty of, v. 2350; position of women in, v. 2350; life and manners in, v. 2350 sq.; St. Mark's, v. 2356; wedding with the Adriatic, vi. 2885; culmination of art reached in, vill. 3873. VERCINGITORIX; iii. 1110. VERMONT; see "Green Mountain Boys," xv. 6965 sq.

6965 sq. VERNON, DIANA: x. 4600 sq. VESPASIAN: war with the Jews, v. 2230, x.

4782 sq. VIRGINS: as repositories of funds, ii. SS4, of Antony's will, ii. S95; as witnesses in conrt, iii, 1116.

VIGAR OF BRAY, the: vil. 8226.
VIRGIL: his Eneld, i. 882, 360; and Dante, iii.
1098 sq.; Voltaire on, xvi. 7505; compared with Scott, xvi. 7505; on Orphens and Eurydice, xvii. 8276-7 (see also General Index).
VIRGINIA: colonization by Raleigh, vi. 2675;
Indians of, Capt. Smith on, x. 484i sq.; colonial, slavery in, xi. 4906; Toryism of early, xv. 692981.-82

81-88. VIRTUES:

see MORAL QUALITIES.

VITELLIUS: III 1278-93. VOLTAIRE: ix. 3031; too orthodox for the Revolutionists, ix. 3931; on literary exect of epithels, xi. 5572; on Virgil, xvi. 7505 (see also General Index)

VOYAGES AND DISCOVERIES; Columbus's, v. 2003 sq.; Da Gama's, v. 2257 sq.; Norsemen's, to America, x. 4593; Arctic, from colonial America, xi. 4910; first ascent of the Weiss-horn, xrl. 7509 sq.

WAGES (see also LABOR, PRICES, INCOMES) of laborers in medicaral England, vi. 2447; professional men's fees in Elizabeth's time, vi.

resional men's fees in Linzsbeth's time, vi, 2637-8, 2643
WALES: national music of, xviii, 3319, 3320.
WALKER, WILLIAM: career of, xvi. 7601-4.
WALLACE, SIR WILLIAM: see "Marion's Death and Wallaeo's Vengeance," xii. 5442

WALLENSTEIN: vii. 3034 sq.
WALLER, EDMUND: Boileau on, vii. 3148
(see also General Index).
WALPOLE, HORACE: Leslic Stephen on, ix.
3910 sq.: Macaular on, ix. 3920-1; lettor to Sir
Horace Mann, xiii. 6296 (see also General

WALPOLE, SIR ROBERT: political system

WALPOLE, SIR ROBERT: political system of, ix. 4282.
WALTON, IZAAK: Leigh Hnut on, vi. 2908 (secalso General Index).
WAR (see also ARMS, BATTLES, CRUSADES, NAVAL WARFARE, REVOLUTIONS, TREATLES, special countries); the trade of the Lacedemonians, i. 429, and prassion of Early English, vi. 2551-2; spirit of, vi. 2606; songs of Tyrtesus, i. 473; mercenaries, of Cyrus, ii. 718 sq., iii. 435; Scottish archiers, iv. 1871-2, vi. 2560, 2563, Heasians in Revolution, xv. 6633; Philip discards clitren soldery, ii. 775 (see also CONDOTTIERI); Alexander's innovations, ii. 775, Gonsalvo's, vi. 2706; Athenian army, ten generals requisite for, xi. 4917; tactics, Hannibal's, ii. 776, medieval, v. 1957, 1959, Greek, x. 4761, Jewish, x. 4785; women sion system of Pisistratus, x. 576; women 1909, Greek, X. 4401, Jewish, X. 4462, 59, 5, 56n-sion system of Pisistratus, X. 576; women participants in, ii. 786, iv. 1024, 1367, 1406, X. 4815; produces pestilence, iv. 1468; interferes with agriculture, iv. 1514; engines and muni-tions of, v. 2314, armed chariots, ii. 643, early use of gunpowder, v. 1959, catapults, x. 4783, stratagems, 4786 battering rams, x.

Hannibal's, ii. 797, 800, Arnold's, xi. 4979-80, John Smith's, 4884; Leonardo Da Vinei on paintings of battle-scenes, v. 2053 sq.; Machiavelli on the art of, v. 2084; town defended by bees, v. 2225; a prince's duty to take part in, v. 2082, and the part of t paintings of battle-scenes, v. 2033 sq.; Machiavelli on the art of, v. 2034; town defended by bees, v. 2225; a prince's duty to take part in, v. 2220 sq.; relative national military strength, v. 1973, 2023, 2352, vi. 2144, vii. 3296, viii. 3499-41-43; military tenure of land, vi. 2339 sq.; heroic incident of, viii. 3759 sq.; soldier-anthors, viii. 4142; Buffon's plan for dismantling a fortress, xi. 5185; standing armies, Hamilton on, xi. 4936 sq., Washington on, xv. 6942, American feeling toward, xiv. 6355, xix. 8584; how discipline is acquired, xviii. 8290-4; causes of oecasional cowardice, xviii. 8290-6-1; causes of oecasional cowardice, xviii. 8290-8-2; Zulu methods, xviiii. 8370 sq.; Sandhurst and West Point compared, xviii. 831-2; Jinjutsu, xviii. 8511-4; only desired by a discontented people, xix. 9133.
WAR OF 1812, see UNITED STATES.
WARS, Napoleonic: see "A Successful Experiment in Desiccation," xx. 9332 sq.
WARWICK: town and castle of, see "Tho Ilcart of Lingland," xix. 5937 sq.; Earl of, see "Warwick the Kingmaker," v. 1945 sq., "The Battle of Barnet," v. 1961 sq.
WASHINGTON, GEORGE: Horace Walpole on his military polley, ix. 8913; carly support of the mother country, xv. 6220, 6930; greatness of, xv. 6732-3; retreat to Valley Forge, xv. 6734; Cornwallis besleged by, xv. 6938-9 (see also General Index).
WATER SUPPLY (see also CANALS, IRRIGATION): In ancient Greece, ii. 572; mediaval methods, v. 2533; wells of Selborne, x. 4533; deficient, in Rome, x. 4772, at slege of Jerucalem, x. 4734, in Arabia Petrza, xi. 5186-7. WEALTH (see also PROPERTY, INCOMES, FINANCE, REVINUES, and "Wealth of Nations," ix. 4340 sq.): division of, in Sparta, i. 423-4; revennes of Philip 11., viii. 3439; misers, viii. 3498, xi. 5278-9; of nations, not increased through commerce, ix. 4245; z factor in transforming a race, xiv. 6355; fear of death increased by, xiv. 6739; rapid growth in modern England, xv. 6722; precariousness of American fortunes, xv. 7216; destructive to individualism, xvi. 7352; degradation in the hands of t thority, xvi. 7524. WESLEY, JOHN:

Walpole on, ix. 3905 (see also General Index).
HIGS: see POLITICAL PARTIES.

WHIGS: see POLITICAL PARTIES.
WHITEFIELD, REV. GEORGE: iz. 4239.
WILKES, JOHN: vii. 2371; prosecution of, iz. 4282, 4258 sq., 4294; character and utterances of, ix, 4287. WILL, freedom of: Edwards on, xi. 4996 : Bal-

WHLL, freedom of: Edwards on, xi. 4996; Balfour on, xvi. 1531-40.
WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR: conquest of England, iii. 1416 sq.; introduces payment of taxes in entrency, ix. 4853.
WILLIAM RUFUS: purchase of Normandy, iii. 1428-9; irreligion of, iii. 1429; love of hunting, viii. 3517.
WILLIAM THE SILENT: visits the ficet at Lordon vi 2653.

WILLIAM III. of England; action toward Massachusetts, xi. 4916; defiance of Louis

NIV., XT. 9580.
WILLS AND TESTAMENTS: Solon's laws on, ii. 570; Bacon on legacy-hunters, vi. 2627; Chatterton's, ix. 4277 sq.; Mark Antony's, directing his manner of burial, ii. 896; Cæsar's,

Printed by BALLANTYNE, HANSON & Co.
Edinburgh